M. Grevy, in an interview with M. Rouvier on Sunday evening, said: "It will be a regrettable precedent to make the head of the state subordinate to the political incidents, and the ebb and flow of opinion in the Chambers." M. Grevy added: "It means a diminution of Governmental unity. There will yet remain a chief of the Executive power, but the presidency of the Republic disappears with me."

A Paris special to The Post says that the following is a true story of the forged Wilson letters:

"All the documents that were seized in Mme. Limouzin's house were shown to President Grevy, who destroyed two letters because they contained the words 'Grevy et mal.' When the parquette discovered the abstraction a scene occurred at the Elysee palace, and two letters were written to remedy the ruler' chief." In the Italian Chamber of Deputies the Government was interpellated with regard to the petitions asking for the restoration of the temporal power of the Pope.

Minister Zanardelli replied that the Crown lawyers were of the opinion that such petitions did not incriminate the signers. It was otherwise, perhaps, with regard to the letters of the Bishops who clearly demand that the temporal power of the Pope be restored. He considered it unwise, however, to take the action against them which they desired. No greater service could be rendered them than to bring them into prominence through a public trial. By ignoring them the Government shows the great liberty enjoyed by its enemies and caused their movement to be viewed with indifference.

Elections in France.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Elections were held yesterday in Auxerre, Arras and Lille to fill vacancies in the Chamber of Deputies. In Auxerre Hervier, Radical, was successful, polling 10,676 votes, against 10,773 for Regnier, Opportunist. In Arras Camescu, Republican, was elected, his vote being 10,000, against 11,000 for Labitte Conservative. In Lille two Republican candidates were successful. The vote was as follows: Pierre Legrand and Maxime Lecomte, Republicans, 145,000; DeGenais and Fauville, Conservative, 128,000.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

Mr. Norman on Commercial Union—Sir Charles Hows the Law on their Own Hook.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—A Globe special says: Mr. Norman's third letter appears in The Pall Mall Gazette to-night. On the authority of Mr. Fielding, Prime Minister of Nova Scotia, and Mr. Jones, leader of the Liberal party there, Mr. Norman states that in return for free fishing Canada wants free admission to the States of all, or as many as possible, of her natural products. Mr. Norman's own conclusion is that the Canadians have all the law on their side, but the Commission has no very hopeful outlook. The situation may be summed up in the words of an eminent American: "If Bayard concedes a single point, he cannot get a thing through Congress. If Chamberlain don't concede enough, Bayard will fail: if he does concede enough he will fall himself." Mr. Norman thinks the question must be settled on a bigger basis than any yet indicated—that is, Commercial Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—After a week of nearly a week the negotiators came together again in the diplomatic room of the State Department to-day. Although the British representatives have been surfeited with social attentions they have had time to consider carefully the proposition of the Americans and have, it is understood, prepared a brief in reply, in which they diverge widely from the views of Mr. Bayard as to the best basis for a settlement of the difficulty. Details of the disagreement cannot be learned at this writing. There is a rumor current to the effect that Messrs. Chamberlain and Tupper have found great difficulty in coming to an understanding upon questions relating to Commercial Reciprocity.

Mr. Chamberlain seems to be acting solely as the agent for England, and is not disposed to take a broad view of the situation. He does not appear to regard the intimate geographical relations of the two countries as any reason why the United States should have advantages in Canada not enjoyed by Great Britain. The position of Sir Lionel West cannot be questioned, but Mr. Chamberlain will certainly be entitled to the responsibility of the failure to come to terms if the United States through her negotiators open the way for a reciprocal treaty of commerce which is not agreed to by the others. Greater precautions than ever were taken to-day to prevent the leakage of any definite information in relation to the progress of the negotiations.

THE ICE BOUND WEST.

The Upper Mississippi Closed, the Earliest Ever Known.

LACROSSE, Wis., Nov. 28.—The ice stopped running in the Mississippi last night and to-day the river is closed, the earliest ever known. The thermometer marked twenty degrees below zero last night.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The city awoke this morning to find itself ice bound. At 5 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered two degrees above zero.

Galena, Ill., reports the mercury to have been ten degrees below zero last night. Springfield, Ill., says the fall of temperature there in twenty-four hours was forty-three degrees, and at Marshall, Ill., it fell forty degrees in the same period of time.

A Cold Rip in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 28.—The minimum temperature in St. Paul last night was 16 degrees below zero. At 7 o'clock the thermometer registered 26 below, and within an hour afterwards had dropped to 32. This was the coldest November morning ever recorded at the St. Paul signal office, excepting one morning in November, 1886, when the thermometer went down to 24 below. The coldest place in the United States last night was Fort Buford, 36 below.

The Cut in Freight Rates.

THE SHEPPARD CASE.

The Difficulty With the Officers of the 65th Amicably Adjusted.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—The Sheppard case has been amicably arranged and a compromise honorable to both sides arrived at. When the Court of Queen's Bench opened this morning it was packed with spectators attracted by the prospect some said they were disappointed. After the disposition of some other cases the case was called and Donald Macmaster, Q.C., asked permission of the court to read an affidavit by Mr. Sheppard, sworn before the Clerk of the Peace. After reciting the various proceedings in the case, Mr. Sheppard said he had been advised by counsel that he could not be asked review for the same offence, and that as he had been found guilty in the sum brought by Major Dugas he need not attend in the other suits. Subsequently a subpœna was issued commanding him to give evidence in Montreal on Nov. 2, upon a bill of indictment against Mr. Kribs for writing the certain complained of. Mr. Kribs had already acknowledged the writing of the article in open court and in the presence of many witnesses, he was advised that he could not be regarded as a material witness, and he thought the subpœna must have been issued for the purpose of securing his attendance in Montreal in order that civil and criminal prosecution might be taken against himself. He was confirmed in that belief by the information that no indictment had been found against the said Kribs, which he chose know to be the fact, and being advised that if he should go to Montreal he was liable to arrest and imprisonment under civil process by virtue of the judgment obtained by Major Dugas against him for $2000 damages and costs, he feared, inasmuch as Captains Hamet and Ethier had taken criminal prosecution against him, notwithstanding his previous trial and conviction and the satisfaction of the sentence by the payment of the fine, that possibly every member of the said regiment might take similar prosecution, and that he might thus be vexated and harassed by both civil and criminal proceedings on an enormous scale. His health was by no means good, and his physician advised him that the worry and strain to which he would have to submit might entail sickness if not fatal consequences. Worried and harassed by legal proceedings against him, and suffering from ill health and financial embarrassments, at last he determined voluntarily to present himself before the court and explain his reasons for not appearing sooner. He then stated his willingness to enter into bonds to appear as a witness whenever called on.

Mr. Sheppard then received permission to make an address to the court, which covered much the same ground as the affidavit, but included a letter which he had written to Col. Ouimet stating that he had surrendered and was awaiting their dictation of the terms of release from further prosecution. He concluded by saying that the suit against Kribs should be abandoned as he took all the responsibility on himself.

Chief Justice Dorion rebuked him severely for his contempt of the court, but said his statements mitigated his offence somewhat and only fined him $10 with $132 costs or 30 days in jail and accepted $800 bail, himself and two sureties, for his appearance when called on in the Kribs case.

In the afternoon the costs and fine were paid, and Mr. Sheppard was bound over to appear at the March term of the court if required.

Subsequently (the [illegible]) The News sent the following apology to Col. Ouimet and the officers and men of the 65th battalion:

Gentlemen: I sincerely regret that when proprietor of The Toronto News any article reflecting on your battalion, and more particularly the articles of April 21 and 26, 1885, should have been published in that paper. The articles were published without my personal knowledge, and since my trial in September, 1885, I ascertained that they are untrue, as stated by me in open court to-day.

I, therefore, beg to apologize to you and all the officers and men of your battalion for their publication.
(Signed,) RICHARD E. SHEPPARD.

This was considered as satisfactory that in the evening an agreement was drawn up and signed by C. A. Geoffrion, Q.C., and R. Prefontaine, M.P., representing both parties, which disposes of the case. It declares that all proceedings will be dropped against Mr. Sheppard on his paying the costs to date. If this is done before March 1 next, the judgment of $1800 in favor of Major Dugas will not be pressed and, further, if Mr. Kribs makes an apology similar to the one printed above, the suit against him will be dropped.

Thus the unfortunate affair is settled and everybody concerned breathes more freely.

Growing Plump and Fat Over It.

From Le Monde, Montreal.

The editor of The Toronto News is a changed man. Two years ago he was lean, even very lean; to-day he is fat, he has become stout, very stout, and that suits him, which caused people to say this morning: "That Sheppard is a fine looking man."

The Milling Trade Revolutionized.

A Remarkable Invention that will Soon Affect a Revolution in the Production of Flour—The Present Roller Process to be Superseded.

The following description of the latest remarkable invention affecting the flour milling trade, the product of the brain of Mr. W. F. Cochrane, inventor of the middlings' purifier, is taken from the Hamilton Times of Nov. 23rd. The movement promises to become a universal boon, revolutionizing, as it does, the whole flour industry. The roller process is in general use to-day. It is stated on good authority that the number of double sets of rolls in the world is now over 500,000, of which about 200,000 are in Canada and the States. The ordinary system of driving these rolls and connecting them with the motive power of the mills is by means of a line of shafting on the story below, with the necessary number of pulleys and tighteners to connect with a similar number of pulley and tightners mounted on the ends of the roller shafts, connecting them with belts on both ends of the opposite rolls, necessitating the employment of a complicated system of belts and tightners, the friction from which greatly increases the power required. This was long since made evident to Mr. Cochrane, the inventor of the middlings' purifier, and his genius has now produced what is claimed to effect as great an improvement on the present roller mill as his middlings' purifier was in advance of the machinery which it displaced. The Times says:—

THE NEW COCHRANE ROLLER MILL

can be described without resort to technical phrases, for it is simplicity itself, though calculated to effect a revolution in the process of converting wheat into flour. One very important result of the change is a much more uniform grade of flour. The Cochrane machine has been tried and it has not been found wanting. The practical results are even greater than the inventor hoped for. Five months ago Messrs. Moldrum & Davidson, of Peterborough, not without some misgivings as to the results, were induced to allow the Cochrane machine to take the place of what was then one of the best known systems of roller mills. It consisted of twenty-eight rolls in seven frames, driven by a shaft from the basement below, back set of rolls(seven in number) had twelve driving pulleys and tighteners, making a total of eighty-four and fourteen belts, six and a half inches surface, with a total surface width of ninety-one inches. These were displaced, and the Cochrane machine of exactly the same sized rolls was placed in the mill. As the framework now stands the whole of the rolls, being connected with the through shafts and oscillating driving mechanism, are operated by one belt of six and three-quarter inches width and two pulleys of thirty inches diameter. This radical change enables the miller to grind the same quantity of wheat that he previously did with one-third the amount of power; or, in other words, increases the capacity of his mill from a little over 100 barrels per day to a little over 300 barrels for the same time. The changed mill requires no additional help, but rather less attendance, and only about one-eighth the space required by the mill it displaces is needed for its operation.

THE GREAT SAVING.

Supposing the new invention comes into universal use, as is prophesied, and may be expected from the results already attained, what a saving would be effected! Allowing twelve pulleys to every double pair of rolls, and taking 500,000 of the latter as in operation the world over, the number of pulleys required by the present process would be 6,000,000, whereas the Cochrane system would only need for performing double the amount of work 142,856 pulleys. The saving in belting would also be enormous. For the old mills, 50,000,000 feet of belting is required; for the Cochrane, only 4,285,680 ft. of 6⅜ inch belting, or can be so attached that no belting will be required.

THE REMARKABLE RESULTS

accruing from the use of the new Cochrane mill may be summed up as follows: With the same power formerly required to produce 100 barrels of flour in twenty-four hours, the Cochrane machine will produce 210 barrels. There is no more expenditure for attendance, rental, taxes or other fixed charges, and machines to produce 200 barrels a day can be erected by the millers themselves for $1,000 less than was formerly required to supply machines to produce 100 barrels. Still another benefit derived is that, owing to the uniformity of the drive of the rolls in this new system, an increased quantity of milling is thereby produced, adding from 10 to 15 per cent. on the whole product of flour over the system now in vogue. By this means the miller will realize from $6 to $9 on every 100 barrels of flour produced. So much for the miller's gains. Now for the manufacturers': A train of rolls designed by Cochrane capable of producing 200 barrels of flour in twenty-four hours will cost the Canadian company for construction but one-half a similar train of rolls built under the old system to produce 100 barrels. The proprietors of the new industry say they have no misgivings on this point.

NOT A MERE EXPERIMENT.

The change effected in the Peterborough mill is no mere experiment. A Chicago Committee from Toledo, O., visited and inspected the machine a few days ago, and were told by Mr. Moldrum that since it had been in operation from 75 to 100 practical millers had thoroughly investigated its working, and every one had approved the system and expressed the opinion that it was bound to displace all other mills. With the old system a mill possessing a small water capacity was not able to turn out a sufficient quantity of flour to make a good profit; but with the Cochrane machine in its place a mill will double its output with the same power than is now required to run it.

A company is being organized in Toledo, O., for the purpose of manufacturing these machines, as well as chilled rolls, and an offer of $200,000 for one-half interest in the concern has been made to Mr. Cochrane, and Mr. Valentine E. Fuller, of Hamilton, who is interested with him in the United States patents. A Canadian company is now in course of formation in Toronto for manufacturing the patents in Canada and Great Britain, and arrangements have been perfected for the use of the Canadian patents, until the work of fitting up is in progress. All the necessary machinery for the construction of the Cochrane machine and of all classes of chilled rolls have been ordered from Messrs. Rodgers & Sons, Dundas.

Convention of Teachers.

At the last Teachers' Institute for the county of Peterborough, a resolution was adopted providing for the holding of Township Conventions in connection with this institute, the townships of Otonabee, Dourro and North Monaghan, and villages of Ashburnham and Lakefield united and held a convention on Saturday, 26th Nov., in the Ashburnham Public School. The attendance was not so large as it should have been, owing, no doubt, to the late date appointed for the first meeting. Those present, however, manifested great interest in the discussions. Mr. E. Marks, of Keene, occupied the chair, and called the meeting to order about 10.30; Mr. Marthett acted as secretary.

MORNING SESSION.

After some introductory remarks by the chairman, Mr. G. Reazin, of Allandale was called upon to introduce to the convention the subject, "The College of Preceptors." After an outline of the main points of the subject by Mr. Reazin, an animated discussion took place in which Messrs. Rooney and Reazin and the Rev. W. C. Bradshaw took part. At the close it was unanimously resolved to further discuss the matter before any definite act be taken on the scheme.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

"How to use the Readers," was the first subject taken up in the afternoon. The gentleman who was to introduce the subject, not being present, Mr. Rooney, principal of the Ashburnham public school, gave his method of using with success which met with general approval. The discussion on this subject (which was started with all enthusiastic teachers generally observed that reading is not taught as it ought to be. A neglected subject.

Perhaps no part of the programme was more appreciated than that upon "Difficulties in the Way of Reading." This subject embraced difficulties between teacher and pupils, and difficulties between teacher and parents. From the remarks of the teachers it would appear that each section has its own peculiar local difficulties. The opinions of the teachers on every matter brought up, were freely given and no teacher could leave without having learned something useful. This being the last subject on the programme a very interesting and instructive meeting was brought to a close by singing "God Save the Queen."

NOTES.

Votes of thanks were tendered the chairman and secretary for the efficient manner in which they performed their duties.

The next meeting is to be held on the first Friday and Saturday in March, the committee to arrange for programme, being Messrs. Rooney, of Ashburnham, Campbell, of Otonabee and Miss Beckett of North Monaghan.

The Rev. W. C. Bradshaw was the only member of any school board present. Mr. Bradshaw always takes an active part in any scheme for the advancement of the moral and intellectual welfare of the community.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, owing to sickness in his family, was unavoidably absent.

Nature a Kind Mother.

FURS —OF A— SUPERIOR QUALITY

The results as anticipated, which the cold season of September and October would have on Fur bearing animals, has been realized to the fullest extent. Their pelts have not only become earlier prime but have also been provided with a richer color of fur than many a season before. Therefore the collection of Furs bought this season from the trappers direct by us, are of a far Superior kind and we are now ready for filling Orders. There is an unusual run on PLUCKED BEAVER in Cities, and Peterborough will not fall behind in fashion. An early call has many advantages in selections as in making up at short notice. All our goods offered to the public are manufactured on the premises, the only place in Peterborough manufacturing Furs, and therefore we can recommend our make to the public. Highest price paid for Raw Furs.

KICK ABOUT THE GATE RECEIPTS.

The Philadelphia Athletes—They Wants to Come Into the Arrangement.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The Athletic Baseball Club directors who refused to sign the contract to the Metropolitan team in last week's go-as-you-please race were to-day given their share of the gate money. The total amount of the gate receipts was $3,000. One-half of this amount was divided among the five prize winners, 45 per cent. to the first, 25 per cent. to the second, 15 per cent. to the third, 10 per cent. to the fourth and 5 per cent. to the fifth man. In addition to this the combined loss of $1,000 each of the thirteen starters having paid in $100 and divided among the first three winners. Of this amount Littlewood received 60 per cent., Albert 30 and Panchot 10.

When the directors of the Athletic Baseball Club [illegible] fraternities prevailed among the pedestrians as regards the gate receipts. They expressed themselves feelingly, and said they felt assured that the receipts at the gate would far exceed the figures. Poor fellows, they had been working like [illegible] making the 100 miles, and when it came to a partnership of the gate money it interested them to footsore and broken-hearted. His backer, who paid his entrance fee of $100, took every penny of the $150 allotted to Elson for making the 100 miles. The backer declared that what Elson earned was not sufficient to reimburse him for what he had expended on the old man.

AN INDIAN HORSE THIEF.

The Fiendish Scalping for Albert Esquith—The Scamp Made Tracks from the Scugog Reserve.

PORT PERRY, Nov. 28.—An Indian calling himself Albert Esquith paid the Scugog Indian village a friendly visit last week, and on Saturday noon skipped out with a dynamite mare colt, the property of one George Gesen. Esquith is a tall, slim Indian, sporting a black soft felt hat, grey pants and black worsted coat, and also had on a smock. The colt is a dark-brown grey, almost black, a white star on the forehead and white hind feet.

Mr. McDermot, Indian agent and J. P., at Port Perry, is trying hard to secure Esquith's arrest. Esquith claims to have come from the Muncey Town Reserve until to drive a half-brother named Tomah living at Rice Lake Reserve.

THE BINGHAM CASE.

The Parties Drop the Charges and Abandon Further Litigation.

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—The criminal case against Billy Bingham, instituted by Elliott for alleged conspiracy to defraud, arising out of the Ottawa foot race, has been dismissed. Elliott this afternoon declaring that he had no evidence to offer. In return for his abandonment of the case Bingham has also dropped his prosecution against Elliott for alleged perjury. In addition it was also received that Bingham will waive any claim he may have for damages. Judge Mathieu is expected to give judgment in the civil suit this week.

ELECTRIC LIGHT EXPERIMENTS.

Naval Officers Discuss the Value of Which the Rumors Are Afloat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The experiments with the incandescent electric light, which have been made at the torpedo station at Newport, have developed a novel use for the little lamps, and one that is said to promise to be of great value in naval warfare. With lamps of about 100 candle power fastened on the end of poles, submerged in the sea at a depth of twenty feet, the water is so illuminated that objects in it can be distinguished within a radius of 150 feet. There is little or no glare from the submerged light to betray the presence of the boat using the spars.

An Association of Booksellers.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—This afternoon's meeting of the booksellers of the counties of Elgin and Middlesex was held at the Tecumseh House, at which it was decided to form a district association of booksellers for the two counties. The following officers were elected: President, James J. Anderson, London; Vice-President, R. M. Lashlie, St. Thomas; Secretary-Treasurer, N. T. Wilson, London; Executive Committee, W. R. Brown, Strathroy; L. Olsen, London; J. O. Rice, London; N. H. Marsh, St. Thomas.

A Coal Famine in a Cold Country.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The announcement comes from Duluth that nearly 1,500,000 tons of coal have been taken there—over 200,000 more than last year—and yet it is already evident that there will be a great shortage in the supply this winter. The first blizzard has come. The towns of Western Minnesota and Northern Dakota are showing signs of great distress. At Huron many people are preparing to use hay burners into requisition. At Adrian there is not a pound of coal for sale, and some distress is reported among the poor.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the large air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Cold in the head, chest, throat, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. codw

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Palmo-Sulphur Soap.

Is Marvellously Efficient in clearing the Skin of Impurities, and keeping it in a perfect state of health. It beautifies the complexion, while as a healing agent for sores or blemishes it passes all praise. There is no Form of Eruptive Disease for which this Renowned Soap has not proved efficacious. In the Bath it is as beneficial as the waters of the Renowned Sulphur Springs. Linen and woollens washed with it are rendered superlatively white, and are disinfected when forms of disease linger in the material. The value of Sulphur as a Cleansing and Purifying agent is everywhere recognized. Ask for Palmo-Sulphur, and refuse all others, and you won't be deceived.

Great Slaughtering and Cutting

OF

PRICES IN DRY GOODS

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

For the Next Two Months.

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say, we do, and more than that we replace seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

Truth Better Than Fiction.

It is an old saying and true that "paper will never refuse ink." It is also true that a great deal of reading matter is fiction. The day is past when the public can be deceived on the Dry Goods question. H. S. Griffin & Co. are prepared to show their goods and compare prices, and leave the result with the buyer. No house in the trade can buy cheaper or sell at a smaller profit. For the balance of the year they intend giving big drives in Dry Goods, Mantles and Millinery.

Manitoba Products.

The C.P.R. exhibition car containing samples of grain, roots, vegetables, etc., the products of Manitoba, is at the station here and will remain until to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock. The car is in charge of Mr. W. M. Wemp, colonization agent, who is assisted by M. Aug. Holm. The exhibits are of the same nature as those shown here last spring, though having the advantage of being fresh and of this year's growth. The potatoes displayed are of an unusually excellent quality. The only entirely new exhibit is a fine case of honey. The car as usual attracts a large number of visitors. On leaving Peterborough the exhibit goes to Milton and from thence through Western Ontario.

Address to Constituents.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., addressed his constituents at Bailliebore last Monday night. There was a large attendance of the electors. Councillor Louis Byers occupied the chair. Mr. Stratton was the guest of Mr. Byers, and before the meeting, the Bailliebore brass band met at Mr. Byer's and serenaded his guest, and played to the hall and in the hall during the evening. At the close of the address the usual resolutions of thanks were adopted. This fall a new brass band was organized in Bailliebore. They have received their instruments and have progressed very well, and show signs of soon arriving at a high degree of excellence.

The Bible Presented in Panorama.

Rev. J. T. Dowling's grand panoramic combination of oriental and biblical illustrations was exhibited in the spacious school room of the George street Methodist church, Monday evening, to a very large and appreciative audience. Every seat was occupied and a few were obliged to stand. The illustrations were magnificent oil paintings on long strips of canvas, operated on upright rollers. The platform was converted into a miniature stage with footlights, while the body of the hall was darkened. As the huge moving canvasses passed in review before the audience they were delighted with the skilful combination of truth to nature with striking artistic effects. The views given comprised a number of illustrations of Old and New Testament scenes and incidents, while one section was illustrative of the manners, customs and arts of the Jews. Rev. Mr. Dowling fully described each painting as it appeared before the audience. During the entertainment Mrs. Hamilton rendered a vocal solo and Mr. Bonnette an instrumental selection.

A Sharper's Game.

It appears that Peterborough county is not free from the undesirable attentions of "shoddy sharpers," to whose deeds the western papers have been giving publicity. Saturday afternoon Acting-Chief Adams was spoken to by a farmer who had been nicely "done" by one of these swindlers. The fellow, it seems, travelled through the country with samples of the "best tweed," taking orders for certain quantities to be delivered within a certain time, and receiving in payment not cash but the victim's note. The farmer stated that he had gone through the procedure as above, giving his note for $45, but had only received half the cloth stipulated—and the variest shoddy at that. Happening to be in town on Saturday the farmer saw the man who had played the game on him, driving down street in a buggy. He gave immediate pursuit, but the other drove rapidly to Connor's livery stable, left the buggy there and "skipped" out of sight before he could be overtaken. Acting-Chief Adams was applied to, but could give no aid. There is no redress available, and those who allow themselves to be "gulled" must suffer the consequences.

An Evening with Thomas Moore.

There was a fair attendance at St. Luke's school room on Monday night to spend an evening with Tom Moore, the Irish poet. The entertainment consisted of an excellent essay on the life and writings of the heartpoet of the Irish race, subsequently illustrated by the following selections from his songs and melodies:—"Come, take the Harp," Mr. J. B. Jacques; "Erin, the Tear and the Smile," Miss Eva Tivey; "The Meeting of the Waters," Mrs. W. H. Bowman; "Oft in the Stilly Night," Miss E. Strickland; duet, "Has Sorrow Thy Young Days Shaded," Mrs. Bowman and Mr. Tierney; "Farewell, but Whenever," Miss E. Tivey; "The Last Rose of Summer," Mr. J. E. Jaques; "The Minstrel Boy," Mr. M. Tierney; "The Harp that Once," Miss E. Strickland. In addition to the above, instrumental solos were given by Miss McDonald and Mrs. E. A. Peck, introducing Irish airs, and Mr. Ardagh rendered "The Scout" with such taste and precision that he received a hearty encore. Hearty encores were also demanded from Miss Strickland, Mrs. Bowman, Mr. Tierney and Mr. Jaques. The evening's proceedings closed by Mr. Jaques singing a stirring patriotic song, "Victoria." By a unanimous vote those present decided to continue this style of entertainment in the future.

Missionary Services.

Annual Missionary Meetings of St. John's Congregation.

The annual missionary meeting of St John's congregation was held on Monday evening in the school room. There was a good congregation present.

After devotional services conducted by the Rector, who occupied the chair, Rev. Mr. Davidson, of Colborne, was called upon and briefly reviewed the important work the Church of England was doing in the Mother land. How she was wonderfully widening the scope of her work, extending her influence among the hitherto neglected masses and producing a wondrous reforming and elevating effect. The speaker contrasted the zeal thus displayed, with the progress of the church's work in Canada and this diocese particularly, where there was not that interest taken in mission work sufficient to even retain the ground that had been gained. He closed with an earnest appeal to the congregation to actively assist in the promotion of the work of the church and the spread of the great principles of gospel truth, to meet the threatening wave of infidelity and godlessness.

His Lordship, Rt. Rev. E. Sullivan, bishop of Algoma, then addressed the meeting, and attributed the lack of progress in religious matters to the indifference of congregations to the demands of the mission work. To this was due the fact that in Canada, where the Church of England should stand first, she only ranked fourth or fifth among the religious bodies. People with all possible Christian privileges should remember that they owe them to the development of the mission principle. The diocese of Algoma was cut off from that of Toronto about thirteen years ago. The bounds of the diocese extended from the [illegible] to Port [illegible] river in the northwest. Its length was 800 miles, area 50,000 square miles, and its population 80,000, composed chiefly of small farmers, miners, navvies, etc., widely scattered and demanding arduous labors on the part of the missionary. His Lordship emphasized the urgent need of laymen interesting themselves in Christian work, which would be an important aid in mission as well as general church work. He had frequent, constant and urgent appeals for missionaries, but he had to refuse because he had not the men, nor the money to support them. The idea prevailed that anybody was good enough for Algoma, but the audience were assured that Algoma was not an ecclesiastical Botany Bay (Laughter). They needed men of the best stamp, of strong physique—able to eat anything and do anything—men of intense Christian devotion. The speaker recited instances of the wonderful energy, zeal and self-sacrifice of many of the missionaries. The Indians were described as being exceedingly devout, and the work among them was being attended with very great success. Four-fifths of the support of the mission work had to come from outside of the diocese of Algoma, demanding from $18,000 to $20,000. His Lordship closed a most pleasing and effective address by insisting upon the duty of his auditors to contribute to the extent of their ability to the needs of the church in her mission work. After a collection and prayers by the Rector the meeting closed with the blessing pronounced by the Bishop.

The Saw and File Works.

A Popular Meeting of the Citizens Favorable to the Location, and the Bonusing to Loan to the Town.

The following requisition, presented to the Mayor, was followed by a proclamation calling for a public meeting in the Council Chamber Monday evening :—

"We the undersigned ratepayers of the town of Peterborough, hereby petition your Worship to call a public meeting of the ratepayers, to the earliest possible moment, for the purpose of discussing the merits of the contemplated "Saw and File Works," and with a view to devise ways and means to have the balance of unsubscribed stock taken up, to enable said industry to commence operations, so that our enterprising town may not lose the benefits that is sure to accrue from any such manufactory."

The requisition was signed by nearly forty names.

The council chamber was pretty well filled at eight o'clock on Monday evening. Among those present were: Mayor Stevenson, Councillors, Cahill, Yelland, Keadry, McNaughton; Messrs. J. M. Irvin, Wm. Hamilton, J. McClelland, T. G. Hazlitt, Wm. Walsh, John T. Grange, R. Beadle, Geo. Stevenson, Wm. Langford, T. Hurley.

Mayor Stevenson called the meeting to order shortly after eight o'clock and after briefly stating the circumstances which had led up to the meeting, outlined the progress made. Readers of the EXAMINER are already fully posted as to this. The old Landy tannery building had been secured, he said, at a reasonable rate, and $5,000 of the stock had been subscribed. That was all that could be got. The question now was, was it to their interest to have these works? Gentlemen who had given the matter full consideration thought that works like these would be a safe and profitable investment. For himself, he thought the only way was to subscribe the balance of the stock. If there were any better means at hand the subject was open for discussion. He said the "industries" committee of the town council intended recommending in case the project carried, exemption of the works from taxation and an annual grant of $100 for ten years.

The gentlemen present did not seem very anxious to "speak all at once," but evinced a general desire to sit still and listen to someone else—who spoke not. The addresses delivered were given in response to direct solicitations from the chair.

Mr. WM. HAMILTON expressed the opinion that the merchants and landlords having stores and houses to rent should be the ones to take the matter in hand. It seemed strange to him that in a town like Peterborough $10,000 of capital could not be secured. The business, he thought, would pay. Mr. Hamilton spoke in complimentary terms of the two gentlemen who were agitating the matter. Peterborough was as good a central point as any place in the province, and the business should succeed.

One of the gentlemen seeking to establish the works here was heard. He said that if this movement came to a successful issue, he would move to Peterborough an establishment that was at present running on a small scale but was a profitable investment; and with money it could be made one of the best paying industries in the province. As was known, there is not a good file or saw of the largest sizes made in Canada, and with a little capital the very best could be made in Peterborough—a place of which he could say as the result of his travelling that it was unexcelled in facilities by any place in Ontario. If the stock was taken up, he would guarantee that the works would be running in five weeks, and he could bring in $10,000 worth of work before Christmas. In coming to Peterborough he was sacrificing a good position, and only the knowledge that it would be a profitable investment would lead him to do it. If the industry was to be secured by Peterborough, some action must be taken at once, as he and his partner (who was not present) could delay no longer.

Mr. T. G. HAZLITT said he would be glad to see an industry of this kind established here, and he had no doubt if the gentlemen understood it they would make the business a success if such was possible. If there was as much money in it as represented there should be no lack of subscribed stock. If he had money he said he would put it in this movement without hesitation, and he would do all in his power to promote it.

MAYOR STEVENSON expressed his confidence in the success of the business, which would be under a good management. He spoke at some length upon the excellent prospects of profit there were for stock-holders.

Mr. JOHN MCNAUGHTON didn't believe in encouraging those who came into the town to establish industries, to the preclusion of aiding those manufactories already doing business here.

Mr. HAZLITT suggested that those who had petitioned for the meeting, about forty in number, subscribe each a hundred dollars, and he would do the same. That would nearly make up the amount.

MAYOR STEVENSON, at the suggestion of Mr. Yelland, read the names of those who had subscribed: J. Stevenson, John Carnegie, J. J. Lundy, James Beckett and Geo. Measures, each $1,000.

Mr. MCCLELLAND stated that he had come to get information on the subject. It didn't appear to him that $10,000 would be sufficient stock to run a saw works when large concerns in Montreal and other places which had been making large saws from lack of proper appliances had not been successful, according to the gentleman's own statement.

Mayor STEVENSON assured Mr. McClelland that the sum was sufficient.

Mr. WM. HAMILTON said he didn't believe the saw works were wanted here. For the sake of $5,000 this thing would be thrown out. He decried the apathy of the business men of the town towards this scheme.

After a long, painful silence, such as had been of frequent occurrence throughout the evening, the audience began to move slowly out, the Mayor vacated the chair, and the meeting came to an unsatisfactory termination.

This effectually disposes of the saw and file works agitation. The promoter of the scheme, whose address is briefly given above, bade adieu to his friends there and then. He left the next morning on the early train.

Superior to Any Stove.

BELLEVILLE, 29th Nov. 1887.

The Peterborough Stove and Furnace Company:

GENTLEMEN.—I have used coal almost exclusively for heating purposes in my house for the past twenty-five (25) years, and I consider the square base-burner ("Popular Mystic," No 5), purchased from your Company this fall, superior to any stove as a heater, I have ever used or seen in use.

Yours truly,
J. P. STANTON.

SALVATIONISTS IN PERIL.

THE QUEBEC MOB PREPARING TO ASSAIL THEM.

Cardinal Taschereau Refuses to Interfere With His Parishioners—The Right of the Army to Parade Will be Tested in the Courts.

QUEBEC, Nov. 29.—In consequence of the uniting of the French Canadians and a certain class of English-speaking population to oppose the Salvation Army should they parade to-morrow night, it is said that B. Battery and the 8th Royal Rifles have been placed under orders. It is very evident that something serious will occur.

At the meeting last night on the Terrace and at Jacques Cartier square, the most violent speeches were made. This has helped to increase the Salvation opponents, and adding to this that Cardinal Taschereau has positively refused to interfere with his parishioners, the crowd is almost frenzied.

On the other hand the friends of the Salvation Army bear a bold and determined front and insist upon the Army coming out to-morrow night and parading. It is said, but the rumor is not authentic, that a number of their friends will arrive here from the west to-morrow and augment their numbers. The mob claim that they can bring together fully 25,000 men and boys to-morrow night.

Several of the private industries here feel the loss of business severely, some of the wholesale dealers state that they have cancelled no less than five substantial orders since Monday last.

The courts are preparing warrants for the arrest of the parties implicated in the late disturbance. Some prominent citizens are among the batch. A test case against the Army will also be tried.

The Attacks on the Salvation Army.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—Mr. L. O. David, M.P.P. for Montreal Centre, has sents letter to L'Electeur of Quebec, protesting against the attacks made upon the Salvation Army. He says that the conduct of the population of Quebec is as much opposed to Christianity as to its own interests and national honor. He believes that the French Canadians ought to show the superiority of their religion by serious works and not by throwing stones at inoffensive people and especially at women.

Comments of the French Press.

From Le Canadien, Quebec.

No one doubts for a moment that there is as much trade or as many people in the streets of Montreal as in ours. And do we see the inhabitants of the metropolis making fools of themselves in trying to prevent the parades of the Salvation Army. . . . The Quebec police has the names of those who took part in Saturday's troubles. The law knows no race: English, French and Irish are equal in the eyes of the law.

From Le Monde, Montreal.

The disgraceful scenes which have occurred in Quebec during the last few days are worthy of condemnation and should be stopped immediately, one way or another. If the Salvation Army have the right to parade the streets, let them do so; if not, let them be sent away; but we do not want the spectacle of these popular demonstrations, which are a shame to civilization, and do wrong to everybody without benefit whatever to anybody.

Chicago Anarchists Active.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—The Anarchists of this city have prepared a rabid circular for distribution among the workingmen here. It is headed with the single word "Fight." The circular denounces the Anarchists' trial and execution, and declares nothing but force will win. It urges "preparation" for the "revolution." "Whoever joins us," says the circular, "must take all consequences upon himself, and must be ready to sacrifice everything for the cause, even should it be his life."

Sullivan and Mitchell Matched.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Sullivan and Mitchell were matched to-night to fight to a finish with bare knuckles for £500 a side. The date of the fight was not arranged. Each posted £100, and the balance is to be put up within a week. Mitchell said the fight may not take place until after the Smith-Kilrain fight.

A SENSATION IN LONDON.

A REVEREND GENTLEMAN'S ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

A Story Blown up by a Gunpowder—The Author of the Husband Act Skips Out of the City—Supposed to Have Gone to the States.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The inhabitants of London were roused to a high pitch of excitement by the disclosure of a social and religious scandal of great proportions. John Linwood, a minister of the Baptist Church, hailing from Michigan, settled here four years ago. He followed the preaching business for some time, and latterly he opened an insurance agency without, however, giving up his former occupation. A week ago Monday Mrs. Linwood, who was sitting beside the stove with her baby on her lap, had a narrow escape from death through the blowing up of the coal stove. The fire was put out and the explosion attributed to gas, but a strong smell of gunpowder was noticed. Mrs. Linwood left her husband's house that very night to go and reside with her mother, and refuses even to see him. On Saturday Rev. John Linwood, on hearing that his wife's brothers were looking for him, skipped out of the city, leaving his family and a number of creditors. An investigation revealed the fact that on the evening of the explosion Linwood placed a shovelful of coal in the stove a few minutes before the explosion, and to the question of his wife, "What are you doing with the stove?" left the house without saying a word. He attempted to take her life once before by giving her "rough on rats."

It is currently reported and believed that Linwood has gone to join a girl in the Western States with whom he was in daily correspondence, having met and traveled with her on an evangelising trip to the Western States. If Linwood can be found he will be arrested on a charge of attempt to murder.

NORQUAY IN A FIX.

One of His Prominent Supporters Joins the Ranks of the Opposition.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—The sensation of the hour is the petition of Mr. Leacock, Tory M.P.P. for Russell, to the Lieutenant-Governor, praying for an immediate session of the Legislature, which was published this morning. It is certain that Mr. Leacock has kicked over the traces on the Red River Valley matter. If he has joined the Opposition Mr. Norquay has but one majority, not counting the Speaker or vacant Assiniboia seat. Giving the latter two to the Government makes its majority three. If it loses Assiniboia, its existing will depend upon the casting vote of the Speaker. Mr. Leacock's petition begins with a citation of the facts connected with the Red River Valley railway. It quotes from The Journal of the Legislature re a sine die adjournment, as proposed by the Opposition, in order that if any emergency should arise in connection with the building of the railway, the House might meet and deal with it. It also gives the Government's amendment, which pledged the Government to call the House should an emergency arise. It then sets forth that serious emergencies have arisen, and that his Honor has been placed in an unenviable position by not redeeming the pledges he was made to give. It cites the authority under which the present Holt contract is supposed to be aided, and takes the ground that such aid is illegal, as the act should have been availed of before last July. It mentions the fact that the syndicate contract was ratified by parliament before it became binding, and asks that the Holt contract should not be entered into without being discussed by the Legislature. The petition next deals with the handing over of $256,000 worth of provincial bonds to Mann & Holt without receiving the Hudson Bay Railway Company's land grant warrants therefor. The petition then continues: "And your petitioners therefore shows that in the two great enterprises, namely, the Hudson Bay Railway and Red River Valley Railway, in which your Government has been engaged within the past year, involving $1,000,000 of bonds of the province, your Government have been and are at the present time proceeding illegally, in direct violation of the pledges of Your Honor's Government to the Legislature and people. And your petitioner further informs Your Honor that Your Honor's Government have no knowledge of any kind to show for the expenditure above mentioned. Your petitioner further shows that the province is without resources, her checks dishonored, her contractors unpaid, her credit gone, a condition strange to the province of the Dominion, almost unknown in the history of the Colonies of the Empire. Your petitioner claims that the representatives of the people in the Legislature are equally responsible with your Honor and your Honor's Government for the proper, legal and good government of the province, and are entitled to be fully informed and to have a voice in the management of the affairs of the province." The petition closes with the prayer that the House be summoned at once for the despatch of business in order that the pledges made may be redeemed.

The latest Gazette issued prorogues the Legislature to Jan. 5, and it is then not called for the despatch of business.

Mr. Leacock has always been one of Mr. Norquay's strongest supporters and was Government whip during the last two sessions.

AN ILL-USED WOMAN.

Mrs. Allen of Owen Sound Sheds with Hospital Treatment in Michigan.

LEXINGTON, Mich., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Richard Allen left her home near Owen Sound, Ont., to join her husband here. Her trunks were mixed for duties at Detroit, and her little boy was sick ten days in the same city. The conductor on the train sent her to Sault Ste. Marie instead of here, and at Clarksburgh, Mich., a traveler told her he knew her husband, and took her to a hotel and registered as man and wife, but she gave the alarm and the drummer was thrown out of the hotel. The woman is here at present, and her numerous misfortunes almost turned her brain.

A Farmer Burned Out.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Nov. 29.—The residence of Thomas Kelly, a farmer living in South Yarmouth, about one mile from this city, was totally destroyed by fire at 6.30 this morning. Very little furniture, provisions or clothing were saved. Total loss is estimated at $2000. The fire was caused by a defective chimney.

LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS.

THE SPEECH OF LORD HARTINGTON AT THE UNIONIST MEETING.

The French Ministry—Grevy's Resignation Not Quite so Certain—Gabriel Declines to Form a Ministry—Ireland with a Five Regions.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—A great Unionist meeting was held in Leicester Hall this evening. There was such a crowd desiring admittance that an overflow meeting was held in another hall. Mr. Wigham, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, presided over the meeting in Leicester Hall. There were present on the platform hundreds of prominent citizens, and the clergy was largely represented. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen received an enthusiastic greeting. Lord Hartington was handed an address by the chairman, approving his policy and signed by 1300 members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Lord Hartington, who was loudly cheered, said there never before had an address such a large, enthusiastic and influential assembly. The vast gathering clearly proves that the professional and commercial classes of Ireland were opposed to separation. [Cheers.] "The importance of this meeting in the heart of Dublin cannot be exaggerated. The power of persistent, unblushing, reiterated assertion is so great and it has been so fully exercised in order to induce Englishmen and Scotchmen to believe that Ireland detests the union and burns to substitute another form of government, that unless contradicted by cooler and tangible proof it is almost impossible that in the course of time these assertions will not exercise some influence on the minds of Unionists." [Hear, hear.]

He paid a tribute to Mr. Chamberlain's services in Ulster, and said that the promoters of to-night's meeting had done no less a service in bringing before the people of Great Britain, in a manner which could not be ignored, the disputed fact that there was, perhaps, a minority, but a large, important and influential minority, which altogether repudiated the assertion that Ireland as a nation was determined to abolish the union. He urged the importance of having all the facts, not merely a superficial view, before them indicating the great and vital question. He wished especially to look upon the Irish view of the question as affecting the prosperity of the country, apart from the English Imperial view as affecting the future of the Empire. Admitting that a majority of Irishmen were in favor of home rule, he refused to admit that the majority was necessarily as large as appeared from the representation in Parliament, because under the present electoral system it was possible that the Unionist minority, though numerically approaching the separatist majority, might not be represented. The Gladstonians had distinctly stated that they would refuse to grant separation even if demanded by a majority, yet they had never shown that Ireland would be satisfied with the limited Home Rule they offered. On the contrary there was every indication that she would not be satisfied except with entire separation. The struggle was more for the possession of the land than for reform of the system of government and the Gladstonians admitted that the land difficulty must not and could not be left to an Irish Parliament to settle. In fact there was no economic grievance in Ireland that the English Parliament was not equally as ready and capable to deal with as an Irish Parliament.

He could understand Irishmen asking independence or an agrarian revolution, also that there might be distinguished and able politicians who were hopeful that a change of Government would open a road to place and power. But he was unable to understand a nation being enthusiastic for a simple modification of government. The only justification for conceding the demands of the agricultural class alone in Ireland would be that Ireland had become a purely agricultural and therefore, a weak and insignificant country. No patriotic Irishman would be satisfied with this prospect. If, on the other hand, they wished to develop her industries and trade and see Ireland take her proper place in the competition of the world they must allow the minority, which included those classes upon which the future prosperity of Ireland mainly depended, to have a voice in this great question.

He concluded with a repudiation of the charge that he had changed his opinions with regard to the question of local government in Ireland and had ignored the national sentiments of the country.

The eviction of a tenant named Foley, from the estate of Col. Chas. Tottenham at Wexford to-day, was made with the greatest difficulty. The tenant was in his house and had barricaded it securely, and the evictors had to make a breach in the wall with a battering ram to gain an entrance, in the meantime boiling water and stones were thrown at them by the besieged. At last the constables brought a fire engine and drenched the tenants with water; they yielded after an hour's resistance. Ten arrests were made.

Eighteen young officers were sentenced by the Czar to exile in Siberia for engaging in a conspiracy against him.

The Hungarian Legislature ratified the British loan by a vote of 93 to 13. A further loan of $5,000,000 will be negotiated if possible in England.

Delegates from all branches of the league met to-day on Lord Dillon's estate and decided that the reduction of 20 per cent. from the Judicial rents, offered by Lord Dillon, should be accepted.

M. Goblet, on being waited upon by several deputies to-day who tried to induce him to form a cabinet with Clemenceau as Premier, with the object of retaining President Grevy in his position, declined to undertake the task.

Mr. Mandeville swore out a warrant against the governor of Tullamore prison for assault, basing his charge upon the treatment he experienced at the time his clothes were stripped from him.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A Times' London special says: The Parnian situation is becoming more involved by Grevy's vacillation. It is now said that the Chamber will meet on Friday but it is uncertain whether the message when sent will contain the resignation of President Grevy. It is reported that he is saying very strange and inconsequential things to visitors, such as that it is impossible that he should leave the Elysee until his new house has the dining-room furnished, because it is impossible that he should eat with his plate on his knees. These reports give an impression that the strain of the crisis may have turned the old statesman's head.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

A Change in the Plan—Eiffel Gets the Contract to Build the Locks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—M. de Lesseps has made a change in his plans regarding the Panama Canal. It will be built with locks instead of as a tide-water canal as was the first intention. Although the original plan is changed, de Lesseps says, is to be eventual by carried out.

In an interview he said: "The canal is more than half done. It is open at present for vessels drawing fifteen feet of water for 20 kilometres out of the total length of 74 kilometres. That 20 is on the Atlantic end of the canal, and we dredged it ourselves. We will have 24 done by July 1, and a French company on the Pacific end will have 5 more completed. Beyond our work there is a 30-kilometre section that a French company has contracted to do, but they have done very little on it. If the French contractors do as they ought to do, that section will give the shareholders no concern. There is left, however, a section 25 kilometres long that contains the ridge or backbone of the isthmus. The elevations run from 50 to 378 feet above the mean level of the two oceans. A good deal of work has been done on this section, but it is here of course, that the greatest amount of digging has to be done."

M. Eiffel, the builder of the 1000 feet iron tower now being erected in the Trocadero, Paris, for the next exposition, has been awarded the contract for the locks. The company have $25,000,000 cash in hand, and there will be no trouble in getting sufficient money to complete the work.

HERR MOST CONVICTED.

The Loud Talking Anarchist in Danger of the Penitentiary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—When the trial of Most was resumed to-day Mr. Howe disclaimed, on the part of his client, any connection with or knowledge of the threatening letter sent to Judge Cowing. Most was then called. He denied having made the threat or having used the violent language he is charged with having uttered at the meeting in Kramer's Hall.

At 10 o'clock, after a deliberation of four and a half hours, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Nov. 29.—On St. Lawrence Market to-day grain was active. Three or four thousand bushels of barley sold at from 60 cents to 78 cents; 400 bushels of wheat at from 82 cents to 83 cents for fall, 76 cents to 80 cents for spring and 71 cents to 73 cents for wild goose; 200 bushels of oats at from 36 to 39 cents; and one load of peas at 63 cents a bushel. On the hay market 50 loads of timothy and clover were sold. On the general market prices were not much changed and business was fairly brisk. Butter is steady in price and of poor quality. Little really good stuff is finding its way into the market. Eggs reach 25c a dozen if they are genuine fresh laid. Ordinary eggs run from 20c to 22c. Poultry is up in price. The market is recovering, relieved of last week's glut. Pork is quoted at 6c.

On call at the Board of Trade to-day No. 1 spring wheat was offered at 82 cents on the track; 81 cents bid. No. 1 red winter 85 cents bid; no offers. No. 2 red winter offered at 86 cents; 85½ cents bid.

The local stock market was active this morning, with sales of over 300 shares. Northwest Land was most active, with 200 sales at 49½, yesterday's figure. Other stocks were quoted at figures differing very few points from those of yesterday.

AN IMPERIAL ENTERPRISE.

The Dominion government enters upon the prosecution of the newspaper business on December 15th, when it will issue the first number of The Empire. Mr. D. Creighton has been hired to conduct it. It will at first, it may be expected, be rather weak, as all pap-fed infants are liable to be, yet it should be popular, considering the fact that every man, woman and child in the Dominion will contribute means for its support. A newspaper which does not exist on the supply of a demand, and which cannot rely upon its merits, will have a hard row to hoe. The Dominion Government must have an organ, a cuppie, pliant, biddable organ, which will play any tune called for by its masters, and such the Empire will be. The Toronto World made a strong bid for the position of organ, but it could not fill the bill. It is conducted with more ability than the Empire under its present management will be able to command; it is brighter, more timely, more in accord with the age than the refurbished fossilism of the Empire can hope to become. But it has a dash of independence, a disgusting tendency to sympathize with progressive ideas, which effectually put it out of the running for Government organ. The title of the new Government organ is, to begin with, a misnomer for a representative Canadian journal. If the promoters had given their newspaper sprailing the name of The Dominion one could understand its right to a claim upon the patronage of the people of Canada. The age is too ripe to continue a toleration of the subordination of Canadian rights to imperial interests. Though all Canadians are proud of the grand empire of which their country forms a part, yet their first duty is to Canada, and a journal which places Imperial interests before home interests cannot expect to have the sympathy of patriotic Canadians. The stability of the Empire, (the real thing, not the gigantic journalistic joke these yelaps) will be best maintained by the consolidation which will result from each colonial part thereof being accorded the conditions which will make for her most rapid development and growth. If each colony works out its destiny by virtue of its own internal resources, the result will be far more satisfactory than any system of Imperial Federation coddling which can be devised. The Empire may exist, and to a certain extent thrive upon the generosity of the Dominion government, through subsidies of the public money directly or indirectly diverted into its coffers, but there is no hope that it will ever be a popular journal worthy of one of the two great political parties in Canada. It can never be representative of anything except a political clique. It can never expect to voice the aims, aspirations and hopes of the great Conservative party of Canada. There is place in Canada for a healthy Conservatism; but none for Snobbish Toryism, no matter how its subsidized exponent may be gilded with high-sounding titles, no matter how the venerable corpse is galvanized into spasmodic life by the contributions of political ringsters.

It should be a source of pride to Canadians that the Canadian Pacific Railway is incurring the deadly hostility of the American railway lines through the formidable opposition it sets up for traffic. It is denounced by these railway corporations in no measured terms, because it carries American freight at rates which the American railways consider ruinously low. When the C.P.R. can make the Yankee railway lines "squeal," conducted as they are with all the proverbial vim and push of American enterprise, it may be considered a big feather in the cap of a Canadian railway corporation. We could glory in this evidence of Canadian enterprise if we chose to ignore the means by which it is possible. But while the C. P. R. is cutting rates to pay paying points on its American connections, it balances the account by maintaining its highest monopoly rates for its Canadian carrying trade. Those Canadians who furnished the money to build the Canadian Pacific Railway, are charged exorbitant rates for carrying freight in order that the C. P. R. may boast of giving to American shippers the lowest railway rates in the United States. Just think of a man laying claim to the possession of a laudable liberality, because he arrays his neighbor's wife in silks and satins and entertains her at wine suppers, the means for which he accumulates by clothing in rags and starving his own wife and family.

WHAT WILL SAVE JUDAISM.

Dr. Silverman Preaches on the Preservation of the Faith.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A fashionable congregation thronged Temple Emanu-el on Fifth-avenue and Forty-third street, this morning, to hear Rev. Dr. Joseph Silverman preach about the perpetuation of Judaism. The synagogue was specially opened, as a compliment to the young Rabbi, and to accommodate the many who had expressed a desire to hear him preach. Many leaders of Jewish society were in the pews when he rose to speak. Dr. Silverman is from Galveston, and one of the pulpits custom recently abandoned by the Cincinnati Hebrew College. He is young and good looking and possesses a rich and sonorous voice. The title of his discourse was "Young Israel."

"What will save Judaism to posterity," he continued. "The glory and virtue of our fathers and mothers have vanished as the mirage hardly lifts, the high, traditional standard of Israel and also lofty aspect of already organized among the Israelites. Our fathers contended, perhaps, considering surroundings for the sabbath, the sabbaths, the feast, the fast and the jubilee. Our fathers organized synagogues, built synagogues, founded schools and newspapers. Then were unanimous in thought, feeling and action. But ages we are not on these issues! Will our support to charitable institutions be sufficient to save our religion? The old people are passing away and with them their piety and virtues. Materialism is engrossing our attention to-day and gradually weaning our hearts from the old system. All the ideals of Judaism are failing to govern, crumbling to the dust. Our children will appear to the only honest faith we call them even they are attributed to other creeds than the Jewish heart—when they are attributed to humanity's call or ethical culture, where will be then, thy tents, O Jacob, and the glory of Thy house, O God.

"What will save Judaism? Our preachers, our creed, our rabbis, or investment, or inspiration? Never—if their complaints are founded in fact. The door of the synagogue is open. The choir sings its beautiful music. The leader puts his white soul into the prayer. The preacher emphasizes the Word of God, and admonishes and entreats. But who heeds, who cares for it? Who listens? Who obeys? All is fruitless without willing ears and willing hearts to heed. What shall I say of a house divided against itself?

"What will save Judaism? There is but one answer. It is as in the days of old, when Israel looked to its children to perpetuate the faith. Young Israel alone can save Judaism from decay while old Israel is passing away before us. Save young Israel to the synagogue and you save the cause.

"And what is the attitude of young Israel towards Judaism? We have been told that is in the attitude of indifference to the fate of the faith. We have been told that young Israel cares more for gold than God; more for loving than for Judaizing. We have been told that young Israel is ashamed for its people, holds no religious belief, discards religion as a farce and cares more to eat from policy than principle. This may be the attitude of individuals of abnormal intellectual and moral construction. But history shows that the undying spirit of loyalty has always swayed young Israel, and we need have no misgivings about the future attitude of young Israel, particularly in America, toward Judaism. The intelligent American is quick to grasp a practical point. American young Israel perhaps of that fact, and the preservation of Judaism shapes itself into a practical form, and in this form the vexed problem is easily solved. We are Americans, native born or naturalized, but we are Jews by descent as well as Americans. This fact does not detract one iota from our right to American citizenship.

"It has never entered the mind of any American statesman to place political disabilities upon us because we are Jews. But we are bound to the Jewish race and religion by blood ties, family relationship and a common history. We cannot break this chain. We cannot bring Jewish history to a close in the year 1887, nor in this century, even if we would. The spirit of young Israel ever was pre-eminently Jewish, and with American Israel, 'Juzi onochi'—I am a Hebrew—will forever remain a proud title, equaled only by the one, 'I am an American.'"

THE SHEPPARD CASE.

If the Costs are Paid Before March 1 all Proceedings will be Dropped.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—Mr. Sheppard left for home this evening after settling up his affairs here. It is distinctly understood that if the costs incurred are paid before March 1 next all proceedings will be dropped.

Opinions From the French Press.

From the Press, Montreal.

The submission of Sheppard has given rise to a fresh outbreak of fanaticism in all the Province of Ontario. Evidently the English people of that province are furious because the French Canadians have gained the day. The Hamilton Times comes to the rescue. This paper is radical; it had the honor to be the first to proclaim in Canada the beautiful features of Henry George's system; to gain the applause of the Tory press in its remonstrances against the inter-provincial conference, and lastly to demand, after the Baldwin-Lafontaine election, the creation of a Cardinal for Canada. In its indignation at the humiliation imposed upon Sheppard, it re-opens, voluntarily or awkwardly, the whole question of Sheppard's infamies—a very questionable policy when there are three actions still pending against its client, and 300 other cases in preparation. . . . The Hamilton Times declares that "a resident of Ontario cannot get justice in a Quebec court." The joke is good when we have seen the judicial authorities take under their protection one after another a journalist guilty of defamation, a municipal officer guilty of fraudulence, and a gambler charged with swindling, and all that for the satisfaction of playing a trick on three cursed Frenchmen. This is nothing, however, to the final declaration of The Times: "In case Sheppard should be permanently incarcerated in Montreal, forty thousand sons of Ontario are ready to demand the reason why." We will answer The Times in its own language. On the day the court should decide that Sheppard must go to jail, there would not be enough of all the sons of Ontario to prevent the course of justice. Quebec did not show the white feather when Sir John called the Ontario and Manitoba battalions to his help to repress our indignation at the time of the execution of Riel, and we care not a rap about the inept appeals of a journalist at bay. We know what the sentiment of all these fanatics towards Sheppard are worth. They will bark and put a man in a box, and after that, mix. During the three days Sheppard has been in Montreal trying to settle, he has telegraphed to Toronto more than ten times to those who have pushed him in the mire, asking help to pull him out of his ugly position and pay the costs of his law suits. Not one has answered. Such are these gentlemen, and their conduct towards the man they have contributed to ruin gives the exact measurement of the fulness of their heart.

From La Monde, Montreal.

The energy and manly bearing of Mr. Sheppard whilst reading his declaration in court were the subject of favorable comment. At the same time Mrs. Sheppard was visibly moved, and tears were to be seen in her eyes.

From La Minerve, Montreal.

If the ex-editor of The News does not succeed in getting shelved of the calumnies he has published about the 65th Batallion it is not because he has been stingy at the last moment in the number and length of his declarations. And ten lines on his part at the right moment would have been sufficient to save him from the imputation of complicity in the cowardly and odious lies charged against the French Canadians, besides avoiding the expense of thousands of dollars in costs.

From La Presse, Montreal.

And now that this unfortunate affair is ended, the honor of the 65th Batallion satisfied, and peace concluded, we will profit by the occasion to invite those whom fanaticism may still blind to reflect before speaking or writing against us. We trust that they will become better instructed, that they will study more the character of their compatriots of French origin, so that they may learn there is everything to be gained by a better understanding. Divided by [illegible] under the same flag, it would be better to work together for the prosperity and grandeur of our country than to [illegible] enemies in useless and often disastrous fights.

Have You a Cough?

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

To-morrow the Last Day.

Ratepayers remember, to-morrow will be the last day for paying municipal taxes exempt from the 5 per cent. addition. Later than to-morrow will be "after the 1st of Dec.," and 5 per cent. addition will be put on. Be in time for there is a big rush. Yesterday $6,600 were paid in, and to-day up to 2 o'clock Collector Cumming had given receipts for $6,500. Save your 5 per cent. by paying your taxes.

The Second Night.

The second evening's entertainment in the school room of the George street church, Tuesday evening, of panoramic illustrations of the Bible, by Rev. J. T. Dowling, was attended by a large audience. The views were, if anything, even more striking than those of the preceding evening. The Mosaic vision of creation, in seven scenes, giving glimpses of the creative periods, was a beautiful thing. Belshazzar's Feast was a grand work of art.

The G. T. R. Double Track.

It is understood, says the Belleville Ontario, that everything in relation to the double track of the Grand Trunk is in satisfactory shape, and that the new track will be brought into use in about two weeks. The improvement will facilitate the handling of traffic and avert many dangers. A large share of the double track business will run via Lindsay and Peterborough to Belleville.

The Conversazione.

to be given by Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I. O. Oddfellows, on Friday evening, the 9th Dec., promises to be a very brilliant and successful affair. The committee have decided not to issue invitations. Instead each member will receive four tickets for distribution among his friends. If the limited number of tickets (300) is not thus disposed of within a few days before Dec. 9th, the balance will be available for use of members desiring additional tickets. The committee decided upon this plan so as to avoid the possibility of offence in the issuing of invitations. The seating capacity of the hall is only 300, while there is accommodation for 500 promenaders, hence the necessity of limiting the number of tickets and adopting the above plan.

Curzon Notes.

The regular weekly drill of Curzon Peterborough will be held in the rooms of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F., as the Charlotte street rink is being prepared for flooding. As soon as the present occupants vacate the parlor roller rink, which it is expected will be next week, that building will be used by the Curzon for drill during the winter.

The general supplies for the proper equipment of the Curzon, consisting of manuals, by-laws, receipt blanks, roster, roll book, etc., have been received by Capt. McNeil from Covington, Ky.

Mr. W. Marriage, a prominent Oddfellow, of Montreal, is stopping at the Oriental. Mr. Marriage is one of the leading officers of Curzon Mount Royal, No. 1, Montreal, and was here in August last at the demonstration.

St. Andrew's Day.

This is St. Andrew's Day—one particularly dear to every son of Scotland, whose reverence for his country's patron saint takes a deeper fervour on this day. In every quarter of the habitable globe where there is a Scotchman—and that's everywhere—every Scotchman walks on air to-day. His heart is full of thoughts of the heather hills of Scotland, and his blither greeting is tuned in broader Scotch in sympathy with his feelings. The day will be universally observed and the leal Scots of Peterborough are not behind-hand. They will foregather to-night, and over the haggis and barley bree will indulge in braw crooks and sweet reminiscences of the old land. A charming feature of the annual supper to-night will be the presentation of a handsome testimonial to the bard of the Society, Mr. Wm. Telford, in recognition of the great services he has rendered the Society in his capacity of bard for the past twenty-seven years.

Now is the time to enter the Peterborough BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Peterborough's Parliament.

Special Meeting of the Town Council—A Sightseer of Politicians—The Street and Bridge Committee Chairman and Mr. Hutchingston.

The special meeting of the town council Monday evening was attended by Mayor Stevenson and Councillors Hartley, Hendry, Manaton, Douglass, Yelland, Stevens, McNeil, McKeaughan, Davidson and Cahill.

The following communications and petitions were received:—

Form R. B. Edwards, re by-law of Nicholls' Hospital, enclosing a draft bill, and asking the council to make any changes they think necessary. He also made a demand of $100.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

P. Costello applied for the return of $6.20 and interest thereon, money paid some years ago for a lot which he purchased but which had not been legally patented and had since been sold by the town trust commissioners.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

A petition of Wm. Brocksbridge for a sidewalk on Chamberlain street was referred to the Street Inspector.

The petitions of John G. Brown for remission of dog tax was ordered to be granted on his making the necessary affidavit; those of Ellen Anglaye, Melissa Thornton, Margaret Sheehy, Susan West, Mrs. Plunkett and Mrs. Joseph Sahlais were referred to the Court of Revision.

Edward Harris applied for remission of Butchers' License for unexpired time.—Granted.

The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company asked to have the old hose cart and any old hose there may be, stored near their works, they agreeing to supply suitable quarters.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Messrs. T. H. Deane and H. C. Winch applied for a crossing on Charlotte street between Water and George streets. Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the petition be granted and that a sidewalk the same width as that on George be put down to the Chamberlain estate building.

A petition of the Y.M.C.A., for remission of taxes on their building, was at first received. Afterwards Mr. Geo. M. Rogers, President of the Association, set forth the claims of the Association to exemption from taxation, for which they asked on the grounds that it was a public institution and for the benefit of the public. On motion of Mr. Davidson the request was granted less the school tax.

On motion of Mr. Kendry, seconded by Mr. Hartley, the taxes of John Newton and Alexander McNeil were remitted less the school tax.

ACCOUNTS.

Wm. Snowden, horse for fire engine	$ 1 00
John McFarlane, labor on Fire alarm system	4 00
A. McDonald, cedar	672 00
Royal Insurance Co.	7 00
J. P. Hurley, tickets for indigent	2 00
W. R. Roberts, repairing police calls	1 75
Kingan & Company, spikes	1 60

M. Curtis, one thousand brick for sewer	6 75
E. C. Hill, passing bills, etc.	10 00
M. H. Halpin, charity	20 00
Times Printing Co.	22 50

The accounts of Messrs. Snowden, McFarlane, Royal Insurance Co., W. H. Roberts and M. Curtis were ordered to be paid; that of Fitzgerald & Stanger to be paid when certified to; the balance was referred to the Finance Committee.

REPORTS.

The Finance Committee reported, recommending payment of the following accounts:—L. L. C. Co., $2.00; Rathbun Co., $56.38; J. P. Hurley, $7.65; Fortye & Phelan, $80.79; W. J. Mason, $68.60; Kingan & Co., $24.75; M. Curtis & Son, $36.52; the committee also recommended that the auditors be paid $25 each for additional services. The report was adopted.

Mr. KENDRY moved that the account of Kingan & Co. of $15, for a revolver, be paid.—Carried.

Mr. MCNEIL presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, stating that they had awarded the contract for supplying the hose waggon and hook-and-ladder truck with runners to Messrs. Mein & Crocker. The report was adopted.

A STREET SQUABBLE.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that a sidewalk be placed upon the north side of Chamberlain street. Mr. McNaughton hauled the chairman of the street and bridge committee over the coals for ordering a sidewalk 1,000 feet long on a street where there was only one house (Mr. Hall's), while no attention had been paid to the petition of the residents on Chamberlain street.

Mr. DOUGLASS said that this only went to show that No. 1 ward got all the sidewalks. If any other ward had wanted this 1000 feet there wouldn't have been the least chance of its getting it.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON then said he didn't object so much to the sidewalk, but thought the Chamberlain street petition should be granted.

Then Mr. CAHILL chided Mr. McNaughton for his inconsistency, stating that he had voted to have it referred to the committee, and now he was objecting to their action.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON "denied the charge", and the minutes were referred to. A little "tilt" followed between the two members for the south ward, Mr. McNaughton expressing the belief that Mr. Cahill had exceeded his authority.

Mr. DAVIDSON asked on what terms the walk had been laid down to Mr. Hall's.

CHAIRMAN CAHILL replied that Mr. Hall agreed to pay the cost of the work.

The motion to lay the walk on Chamberlain street was lost.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

Mr. DAVIDSON presented a by-law to appoint deputy-returning officers and places to hold the approaching municipal elections. The blanks were filled in as follows:—

Ward No. 1, mission school house, J. J. Lundy, returning officer; Mr. Williams, poll clerk.

Ward No. 4, Wm. Lee's shop; Wm. Lee, returning officer; Francis Mason, poll clerk.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the Treasurer be authorized to draw a cheque for $11.25, in favor of Mr. Cumming, collector, for taxes on property used by the corporation as a wood yard.—Carried.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON enquired if the $210 due the town from the C.P.R. Company, legal fees in connection with the suit with Mr. Lapham, had been forwarded. The Mayor replied that he had spoken to the engineer, who had promised to have the amount made good.

Mr. CAHILL moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the street inspector purchase one or more snow ploughs as may be necessary.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned at the call of the Mayor.

Letter-Writing at the BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Personal.

A decided improvement has taken place in Mr. Andrew Wilson's condition. With continued nursing he is expected to recover all right.

Mr. Arch. Stewart, of Aspinfield, who left there months ago for Ottawa on a prospecting tour, returned home Tuesday evening. He will remain in Canada.

Mr. W. J. Morrison, of the American Electric Manufacturing Co., New York, is in town, having been called here to see his brother-in-law, Mr. Andrew Wilson. Mr. Morrison is stopping with his brother, Mr. Geo. A. Morrison.

Mr. J. J. Wright, B.A., of Ashburnham, son of Mr. Stewart Wright, and Mr. Orr Bennett, B.A., son of Rev. Wm. Bennett, Peterborough, are members of the editing committee of the Queen's College Journal. Both these young men are clever, and no doubt will do justice to the positions they occupy.

The Bishop's Visit.

The Hastings Star says:—"Bishop Dowling paid an informal visit here on Friday last, and remained over Sunday. He visited Norwood on Sunday, where he preached in the forenoon. His Lordship preached in St. Mary's on Friday afternoon, and on the forenoon and evening of Sunday. His Lordship was met at the station by a large number of the congregation, and on his arrival in the church was presented with an address by Mr. T. Coughlan, sr. The object of His Lordship's visit was to collect funds to complete the purchase of a building for an episcopal palace in Peterborough. The sum collected and contributed here amounted to $485."

Work on the Trent Canal.

The Ottawa Free Press of Saturday says:—"Mr. L. T. Wade, of Grenville, P.Q., who has been foreman on Mr. Goodwin's work on the Trent Valley Canal for the past four years, arrived in the city this morning on his way home. He says that the work on all the Goodwin contracts, which were the Backhorn, Lovesick and Burleigh locks, will be completed by Monday next, thus opening up navigation from Lakefield to Port Perry. The locks are 134 feet in length, 36 feet in width and have six feet of water on the mitre sill. All the work is first-class. There are still a few rapids to be overcome by locks, which will give uninterrupted navigation right through to Georgian Bay. The country through which the canals are constructed is very rough, and not at all adapted for agricultural purposes. Mr. Wade leaves for his home in Grenville this evening."

Sunday School Presentation.

Sunday last Mrs. Geo. A. Cox invited the members of her Sunday School class to her residence on Tuesday evening, and the presentation of the large group photograph of the members of the class, to have taken place on Sunday afternoon, was deferred till that occasion. Tuesday evening her pupils gathered at Mrs. Cox's residence, and a pleasant evening was spent, Mrs. Cox entertaining the young people handsomely. The following address was read by E. Gillespie, the presentation being made by Stanley Babidge:—To MRS. GEO. A. COX: "Dear Friend and Sunday School Teacher—We, the undersigned members of your Sunday School class, beg that you will accept this picture as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by us. We take this opportunity of expressing our regret at your departure from amongst us, and be assured that you have the earnest wish of your class for your future happiness." (Signed) R. Gillespie, S. Babidge, J. Allen, J. Gillespie, J. Alford, W. Boden, M. Lyle. In reply, Mrs. Cox thanked them most heartily for the gift, and hoped that the class would continue just the same though she was no longer their teacher.

The Christmas "Graphic."

Mr. Thomas Menzies has received at his bookstore a full supply of the Christmas edition of the London "Graphic." This year's edition is one of the most superb ever issued. Police Court.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 30.

John Bryerton was arrested last night by Acting-Chief Adams while acting disorderly on the corner of George and Simcoe streets. He was drunk. In the police court this morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and asked to say a few words in his own behalf. The magistrate consented, and John, steadying himself as well as he could, proceeded with an air of tipsy gravity to tell his story. He said he had come up from Havelock last night, where he had been working on a siding, and that the railway company had not done as they had agreed to, in furnishing passes to the men to Toronto. This was his first appearance in Peterborough; and the second time in a police court. The magistrate asked him where he so going, and Bryerton replied to Hamilton, stating that he had money enough to carry him through. The magistrate dismissed him and told him to leave town at once.

The assault case against the lads Valois and Blodgett has been withdrawn.

THE UNIONIST MEETING.

A SUCCESSOR TO GREVY TO BE CHOSEN ON FRIDAY.

An ex-M.P. in the Bankruptcy Court—A Woman the Cause of His Troubles—Comments of the Press on Last Night's Meeting.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Mr. Goschen followed Lord Hartington at the Leinster Hall Unionist meeting. He charged the Liberals and Nationalists with deceiving the Irish people, and said that the best friends of Ireland are those who denounced the League for spreading the doctrine of repudiation of contract.

At the Unionist banquet in Leinster Hall, Dublin, this evening, the leading merchants and professional men, besides a number of Catholic Unionists, were present. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen were given an ovation. Mr. Kinney, an eminent Catholic barrister, denounced Home Rule as simply meaning the dismemberment of the Empire and the utter ruin of Ireland. Mr. Goschen, in responding, said no truce should be allowed with the party of sedition. These demonstrations proved that the most important part of Ireland was against Home Rule, and would help to convince the world that the claims of the agitators to represent Irish sentiment was largely delusive.

Mr. Goschen lauded the landlords for having rejected a bribe as gross as was ever offered to a great interest by a statesman who ought to have known better. They had acted nobly, he said, under a strong temptation. The Government appreciated their patriotism. Then they were the only section of the Loyalist party in Ireland. It was cant on the part of the learned professors who adorned the Gladstonian party to throw discredit upon the views, intelligence, learning and literature of this city. It was cant on the part of the educated and wealthy classes of England to say, when their brethren in Ireland expressed the opinion that their wealth and education could not count, that the only qualifications for real authority were to have nothing and to know nothing. [Cheers and laughter.]

"Our opponents," said Mr. Goschen, "consider minds that are blank better receptacles for their doctrines. That is not our view. We prefer men acquainted with history and its lessons, and we are glad to deal with audiences who care more for argument than for declamation, who care more to be informed on questions of the day. We are satisfied to disappoint those who expected that we came here to inflame party or faction."

Referring to the challenge of The Freeman's Journal, he invited the reporters of that paper who were present to note and report carefully his words. Never had he said that O'Brien deserved five years' penal servitude. The story was an invention of The Freeman's Journal. [Laughter and hisses.]

He continued: "We have other matters to occupy our minds than paying attention to sensational paragraphs in the national press which are devised to preoccupy us, or to the incidents of their ridiculous campaign against the executors of the law. Such provocation will not turn us aside from the duty of promoting the prosperity of that Ireland whose fortunes and fate are as dear to us as those of any other part of the kingdom."

Referring to the charge that the Government had broken its pledges concerning the granting of local government to Ireland, he said: "You who live here and who know what passes at national and municipal gatherings will be able to furnish an answer. I consider that a pledge given to a sane man will not hold when the man has become a lunatic. I should be too glad to see established in Ireland a real rival to the political influence of the Central League in Dublin, but it is impossible while municipal privileges are utilized for purposes of revolution and partisan Home Rule lies alone is at the bottom of municipal local government in Ireland. So long as that continues the Imperial party cannot assist in creating vantage ground for operations against the loyalist inhabitants, but when coercion is no longer put upon local opinion we shall be ready to redeem our pledges."

In conclusion he entreated the audience to remember that though they had to bear the brunt the forces behind them were stronger than them in front and that if they stood firm they would be certain to come out victorious.

Lord Hartington, rising after midnight to reply to a toast to the president of the union, said that The Freeman's Journal in criticising him said he showed no caution when in Ireland. He did not know what The Freeman's Journal expected. He could only say that in expressing the eloquence of [illegible] in such terms it would not suffice to express the warmth of the gratitude he felt for the welcome accorded him. In his treatment of the local government question he used much the same arguments as had Mr. Goschen. He said that great as was the temptation to rely upon force and exceptional law solely for the maintenance of the Union the manner the Unionists found themselves in a position to deal on terms of perfect equality with the people of Ireland as compared with those of England the easier would their task become and the more firmly would they secure the maintenance of the Union. But to do this they were powerless without the co-operation of the loyal party in Ireland. We look to you to show England that there is a party in Ireland, which is as deeply attached to our institutions and laws as are Englishmen themselves. We further look to you to prove that you are equally willing to trust to your fellow countrymen and extend to them equal liberties and laws. With your steady assistance our task will be greatly lightened. In conclusion, I would ask the generous assistance of the loyalist press. It is a matter of the deepest regret to many of us that we believe vast portions of the people of this country never have an opportunity of seeing any papers except those advocating disloyalty and separation.

The proceedings ended with three cheers for the Queen.

In a speech at Plymouth to-night, Mr. Dillon severely criticised the Unionist meeting in Dublin.

He said that that "highly moral statesman," Mr. Goschen, who wanted to teach honesty, had promised the impoverished poor-law unions in the west of Ireland further assistance from the exchequer if they would maintain the union. But they would not consent to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. He would rather starve. The Government sought to crush 4,000,000 in order to support the 500,000 who called themselves the English garrison in Ireland.

Commenting upon last night's Unionist meeting in Leinster Hall. The Irish Times (Conservative) claims that the Unionist meeting last night was an assemblage of intellect, courage and popular feeling to protest, not as a minority, but substantially as an equal portion of the Irish people, against the policy of the Home Rule party.

The Freeman's Journal says the surroundings proved that Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen were avowed enemies of Ireland. Detectives guarded the two Englishmen as if they were a couple of Czars. The meeting was attended by only those who had tickets, and no claim could be made that it was the free expression of public opinion.

The Dublin Express (Conservative) says there never was such a meeting before in Dublin. It asserts that its supporters included peers, ecclesiastics, civil dignitaries and representatives of the railway, shipping, banking and professional interests.

The message of resignation of President Grevy will be read to-morrow, after which the Presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies will call a congress of both Chambers at Versailles on Friday to elect a successor to Grevy.

A plenary meeting of the Republican party has been called by the leaders of the different groups at Versailles on Friday morning to confer regarding the choice of a candidate.

Vice-Admiral Dompierre d'Hervey, a member of the Chamber of Deputies for the Department of Somme will probably be proposed as a candidate for the Presidency by the Right.

Mr. Graham, member of Parliament for the northwest division of Lanarkshire, and Mr. Burns, the Socialist leader, arrested during the Trafalgar-square riots on Sunday, were committed for trial to-day. The action of Gen. Sir Charles Warren was justified at common law in prohibiting meetings in Trafalgar-square. The defendants were admitted to bail and their trial fixed for the next session of the Criminal Court.

Mr. William Copeland, an ex-member of parliament for the St. Austell division of Cornwall and Under Secretary of the Local Government Board, was examined to-day in the Bankruptcy Court. His liabilities amount to £42,653 and his assets to £6371. Part of his embarrassment he traces directly to a woman, Madame De Quirez, who was his mistress, and to whom he allowed £25 a week. The money was given willingly at first, but later on it was extorted from him. He was followed to France, Spain and finally to Wales, by the woman and her male companion, against whom he had to seek police protection. The last money (£500) was given her in Trafalgar-square. She accused him of deeds he had never committed, and on his refusal to submit to her blackmailing demands, she forced her way, on one occasion at 2 o'clock in the morning, into his wife's bedroom and told her of her relations with him. Since that time Mr. Barlow said his life had been unbearable. The examination was adjourned at this point. The case is exciting a lively interest.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Mr. O'Brien in a letter smuggled from Tullamore jail to a friend in Dublin says: "The substance of Mr. Balfour's statement that I pleaded weak action of the heart and delicate condition of the lungs as an excuse for not being forced to wear criminal clothes is a cruel falsehood. I am not aware of such weakness and certainly never declared it. The medical examiner never referred to this, my only weakness being in my left lung, which does not trouble me at present. If Mr. Balfour is acting on the belief that the state of my health renders the application of brute force dangerous the course he has pursued could not be recommended on the score of humanity. For six days after committal I was subjected to constant threats of force and put on a bread and water diet. When this proved fruitless, I was led to believe that the point would not be insisted on. Thereupon my clothes were stolen. Since securing new clothes I have been unable to change them night or day for fear of their being stolen. No official intimation has yet been given to relieve me of this continued strain. This letter is the only means of vindicating myself against Mr. Balfour's foul and dishonoring imputations. Henceforth I shall not speak concerning my health. I do not take any nourishing food. In the face of intolerable calumnies I leave it to honorable men to judge the chivalry of Balfour's false and heartless insinuations."

In the German Reichstag, during the debate on the budget to-day, Herr Bebel described the Corn Bill as a blood tax on the workmen, who will have to pay almost the whole of it. He was subsequently called to order for proclaiming as hypocritical the constant appeals made to Germany's love of peace.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

THE MAYOR OF TORONTO UNDER EXAMINATION.

Imposition of Workmen's Dwellings Advocated—The Sleep Women and Shop Factory Act—The Housekeeping of the Streets.

TORONTO, Dec. 1.

A great deal of interesting evidence was given at the sittings of the Labor Commission yesterday. Mayor Howland made a statement full of pertinent suggestions in reference to technical instruction, mechanical education, artisans' dwellings, juvenile delinquents, and more particularly the grievances of shop girls and sewing women. He gave a valuable description of the good work being carried out at Mimico by the Victoria Industrial School, and his opinions on pauper immigration are worthy of attention. Mr. Frederick Nicholls of the Canadian Manufacturer, gave a mass of technical evidence.

Mayor Howland deposed that he had resided a Toronto for above thirty years. He had very considerable knowledge of the working classes especially the poor. The latter only require assistance in cases of misfortune. This was principally occasioned by two causes—drinking and shiftlessness. The latter was greatly the product of the poor-house system of the Old Country, whence a large number of persons came to Toronto.

His Worship explained the system of immigration, stating that the Government machinery had been diverted from its original intention, which was to send out able-bodied mechanics and competent laborers. Whole colonies of helpless people from the poor-houses in the East of London had been sent out. In Ireland the same thing had been done. He had, when visiting the House of Industry some across numbers of these people who were utterly unsuited for this country. The poor-houses system had demoralized them, all the "spring" and "snap" was out of them for regular work.

In the East End of London at the present time they were steadily sending out this class of people. Some were men with large families, as many as eight or ten children. There was a chance for the children in Canada, but the men had no stamina, pluck or courage, and soon dropped into the old groove of coming to others for assistance. They were not bad or ill-natured people but they did not know how to help themselves.

The Mayor next spoke of newsboys, who were mostly neglected children, and the evils into which they fell through late hours and bad companionship. The school system should be extended paternally to prevent boys being thus engaged late at night. A large amount of the crime of Toronto was committed by boys. As a Police Commissioner he could state that the detectives had broken up more than twenty gangs of boys, who had their leaders and were systematized for mischief and theft. "I do not," added His Worship, "believe in allowing boys to go to the devil for want of being looked after." It was a wrong thing to treat boys as criminals in any circumstances.

In this connection the Mayor gave a detailed account of the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico, which is modelled on the English reformatory system. There were no cells or harsh treatment, but it was a home where education and industrial training were imparted. It had answered its purpose admirably. About a thousand boys came before the Toronto Police Court each year, out of which probably only one hundred were really "bad."

The older houses in this city are deficient in sanitary arrangements. The new ones were much better. Rents were very high for workmen. He spoke of the evil that resulted from more than one family occupying one house, and said that artisans' dwellings for sanitary purposes should be just as much under Government inspection as factories. If a tenant complained he usually got "a short shrift"—his rent would be raised or he would be turned out. Workmen were only monthly tenants.

"Shop girls," said the Mayor, "have certainly grievances. Theirs is a hard lot. They work too long. I have known them break down—drop down behind the counters from exhaustion. They receive poor pay—from $4 a week upwards. From $3 to $6 may be taken as the average. There is a greater supply than demand for such girls. The whole question of female labor should have Government supervision. Men can combine and protect themselves, but women and girls are a helpless class. There should be a limit to the price at which work should be given out. I know particular cases the recital of which would make your blood boil. I have seen women striving and struggling, working during the hours of the night to get a paltry pittance just to enable them to support life and keep respectable."

His Worship spoke of this fearful evil of overworked and underpaid women in London, Eng., and said he had seen at Quebec a mantle trimmed with a kind of fur and offered for sale at $4. This was made under such circumstances and imported from the East of London. "I would not," said the Mayor with warmth, "let a dollar's worth of such made goods come into the country. I would put a prohibitive duty on them."

Mr. Frost: Do you believe that the underpayment of these young women drives them into prostitution?

The Mayor: A good woman would prefer death to prostitution; but there are young girls who have had no good training and are not under supervision, and who can barely make a living do the best they can—I think with them such a course is only too possible.

Witness showed that this class were not harshly dealt with at first. Cautions were given to those who kept bad houses and efforts made to reclaim the inmates. Many had been helped and sent home.

The sewing girls and shop girls as a class were worthy of all respect. They come mostly from country, away from the country. It was wonderful how bravely they fought the battle of life and how honestly and decently they lived. The percentage was not very large of those who fell. But there was need of the reforms he had suggested.

[illegible] case of which he had personal knowledge where a mother sold her daughter, a girl of 13. He also referred to the overcrowding in four rooms of the Council taking over the street car system, when fewer rates would probably be charged—perhaps not more than one-half of the present rate. This would benefit working men, as many of whom lived long distances from their work.

The Commission adjourned at 10.30 till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Commissioners have decided to close the inquiry in Toronto at the end of this week, when they will visit Windsor and other places and return to this city to take further evidence which Trades Unions and other bodies will be prepared to give.

A KINGSTON VESSEL ASHORE.

The Julia, Barley Laden for Oswego, a Total Loss—No Insurance.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Nov. 30.—The schooner Julia of Kingston, Ont., loaded with barley for Oswego, went ashore four miles from here in a gale of wind and snow last night. The vessel was three-quarters of a mile from shore, but a torch was seen by a farmer, who ran to this city and notified the life saving crew. The life boat was taken in tow of a tug and after a tempestuous passage got abreast of the vessel and the life crew succeeded in taking off the crew of five and a woman cook. The sailors were landed on the beach and brought to this city. The vessel will probably prove a total loss. No insurance.

A TRAGIC OCCURRENCE.

A Thief Thrown Himself Under a Moving Train at Suspension Bridge.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Nov. 30.—A very determined attempt at suicide took place at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., this afternoon. Rosty Sullivan, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., who has been considered somewhat of a tough by the citizens in this neighborhood was arrested, charged with picking the pockets of a customs officer and a stranger of their watches. He had been remanded to Lockport jail to stand his trial by the Police Magistrate. Officer Sullivan undertook to take the prisoner to the N.Y.C. depot to catch the 4 o'clock train. The prisoner had to use a crutch, having lost one of his legs some time ago by being run over on the railway track by a train while escaping from Cleveland Jail.

When the officer and prisoner were crossing the tracks in front of the depot, accompanied by the prisoner's mother, the train they were going on was pulling into the depot in front of them. The prisoner deliberately threw away his crutch, and saying "Good-bye, mother," threw himself under the wheels of the passing train.

After the train had passed it was found that the wheels had passed over his other leg, completely severing the foot just above the ankle and inflicting other injuries. He was taken to Dr. Talbot's office, who cared for him, and at present he is doing well.

SOLD CASE OF TILL-TAPPING.

How a Queen-street Store Was Done Up—Two Men Arrested on Suspicion.

TORONTO, Dec. 1.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly before 1 o'clock, two young men entered the flour and feed store of Messrs. Metcalf & Co., 393 Queen west. One of them enquired the price of hay, and whilst being shown samples his companion managed to tap the till and extract some ten or twelve dollars. No purchase was effected, and together the men left the store. Immediately after Mr. Metcalf discovered the theft, and in hot haste gave pursuit. Finding they were followed one of the men fired two shots from a revolver, which, however, did no harm. The delinquents outran Metcalf and were lost on Markham-street.

The detectives were at work upon the case all afternoon, and last night Detective Cuddy arrested Joseph Rooke of 37 Muter-street and James McCormick, who claims to be a moulder living in Windsor. They answer to the description of the men wanted. Rooke is an ex-convict, having recently been released from the Kingston penitentiary after serving a three years' sentence.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—On call on the Board of Trade to-day: No. 1 fall wheat, 83c bid on the track; 1 car offered at 85c, f.o.b.; 87c bid for No. 1 red winter; 83½c bid for No. 2 red winter; offered at 86c; 85c bid for No. 1 Manitoba hard.

The local stock market this morning was quiet with sales of 214 shares at figures slightly lower than those of yesterday.

St. Lawrence Market has not yet begun to feel the usual briskness of the Christmas season, but the dealers are confident that the trade of the next two months will be quite up to the average. This morning things were quiet. Prices were stationary. On the hay market about 30 loads found buyers at from $15 to $17. On the grain markets 2000 bushels of barley, 400 of wheat and 200 of oats sold at the prices that have prevailed for the past few days.

The following were the ruling prices: Wheat, fall, per bush., 82c to 86c; wheat, spring, 78c to 80c; wheat, goose, 71c to 73c; barley, 60c to 73c; oats, new, per bush., 40c; peas, 62c; butter, pound rolls, 24c to 28c; butter, tub, 18c to 20c; cheese, per lb., 12c to 15c; chickens, per pair, 35c to 40c; ducks, per pair, 50c to 60c; geese, per lb., 5c to 6½c; turkeys, 7c to 8½c.

Peterborough Farmers' Institute.

A Meeting of Representative Farmers Organize and Elect Officers—Fare to be Subscribed.

Wednesday afternoon about thirty representative farmers assembled in the Council Chamber, Peterborough, for the purpose of forming a "Farmers' Institute."

Mr. J. B. Stratton, M.P.P., called the meeting to order shortly after two o'clock, and after explaining the object of the meeting, asked the gentlemen present to appoint a chairman. Mr. Stratton was unanimously seconded that position.

On taking the chair, Mr. Stratton briefly stated that he had been asked to take a hand in the matter of organizing a Farmers' Institute in West Peterborough, and to that end some 200 invitations had been sent to farmers throughout the riding. These Farmers' Institutes, he said, were established for the benefit of the farmers; it is supported by them, and for the discussion of affairs relating to their life work. Such institutions were very desirable. As soon as they members were assured they could secure the government and county grants, and be in a position to begin operations. The Ontario government would give a grant of $200 and the county council would do likewise, the money to be expended in the interests of the association. The objects of Farmers' Institutes were, he said:—(1) To further the material interests of the farmers, by encouraging and fostering education in relation to their calling; (2) To afford protection to the farmer from all encroachments that may come from other interests of the commonwealth, more especially through co-operation with the Permanent Central Farmers' Institute of Ontario; (3) To encourage the growth of an improved class of stock; to encourage a better system of tillage, and to further every branch of agriculture in which our country is interested; (4) To conserve and secure the just rights of farmers in their relation to legislators, corporations, and individual industries; (5) To secure better facilities for the transportation of farmers' produce, and by this means extend our markets and open up fresh ones, and in any other way that they deem advisable discuss questions directly or indirectly affecting the agricultural community. Nearly every trade or profession had an organization to promote its interests, and the farmers had not until lately taken as much interest in matters affecting their welfare as they should do. Every intelligent farmer in the course of his year's operations must discover new methods of facilitating farming operations or increasing the utility of the soil, and let these Institutes their experiences could be exchanged and every farmer would carry away with him from the meeting a store of knowledge contributed by all those present. Mr. Stratton said he believed that the farmers would unite in making the Institute a success, and none could object to the membership fee, which was only 25 cents. He then called for nominations for officers.

Mr. T. E. Bell explained if the county grant was given conditionally that a government was secured, or were they obliged to pay it.

Mr. Stratton—The law says "The county council shall."

Officers were then elected as follows:—

President—T. E. Fitzgerald.
1st Vice-President—T. E. Bell.
2nd Vice-President—John Riddell.
Secretary—F. J. Bell.
Treasurer—Jno. Stothart.
Directors—John J. Bennett, Mr. E. Sanderson, Wm. Simpson, Wm. Collins, Jos. Tully, T. N. Willan, Dawson Kennedy, Jos. Barnard, John Tolland.

Mr. Kennedy spoke a few words in favor of the objects and aims of these Institutes, and hoped this one would succeed, for they were doing a good work. There ought, he said, to be one in every county in the province.

The new President, Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, then took the chair and made a brief inaugural address, thanking the gentlemen present for the honor conferred upon him. Though not very well posted as regarded the work of these Institutes, he would do his best to make it a success.

The names of about twenty-five members were received by the treasurer, together with their dues.

The President urged upon the members to work together to have the membership brought up to the required standard of fifty, so that they could secure the grants.

The appointment of a date for holding the next meeting was considered.

Mr. Stratton said the law relating to Farmers' Institutes requires that three public meetings be held during the year. And if the government was notified to that effect the Institutes could have the service of any of the Professors of the Agricultural College.

Mr. Bell said he had always thought some such arrangement as this, whereby farmers could get together and discuss matters of interest to themselves, a necessity.

Mr. Tully said he had read in a newspaper that any Institutes requiring these gentlemen had better apply before January. The Peterborough Institute had better follow this advice.

Mr. J. C. Brown spoke at some length on the advantages of these Farmers' Institutes, and proffered any assistance he could give them. He thought one of the matters that could be discussed was the defect in education notionable in country districts. It was astonishing, he said, the ignorance some country kids displayed on agricultural matters. Not one boy in ten in this county could tell the names of the commonest kinds of apples. He thought it should be part of the country school education to learn the names of the more common products of agriculture. He also suggested the appointment of committees to visit the various places of meeting and give the results of their deliberations to the Institute.

Mr. Stratton suggested that the meeting adjourn for two weeks in order to give time to secure the requisite membership, so that on the next meeting they would be a fully organized Institute. He also suggested that Prof. Mills be communicated with for the purpose of securing his services. He thought that a great many would join the Institute after the first meeting.

On motion of Mr. Simpson the meeting adjourned, and that a meeting of the directors was called for Saturday, December 10th, in the Council room, at 2 p.m. to arrange for the first public meeting.

MANITOBA AFFAIRS.

Mr. Norquay Left in the Cold—A Great Silver Mine—A Premier Against the Mines.

Winnipeg, Nov. 30.—Over ninety commissionists left for Ontario and Quebec to-night.

F. S. Kirkland, of Port Arthur, is in town and jubilant over the prospects of the Beaver silver mines near there, which he discovered. He says there is $2,000,000 worth of ore in sight and that experts from all parts of the world have pronounced the mine to be one of the finest in the world. Fabulous sums have been offered for the mine, but all have been refused. A 400-stamp mill is now running and twenty more stamps are on the ground ready to be put in. About 170 men are employed in the works. Kirkland is confident there is far more wealth in gold, silver and iron between Rat Portage and Port Arthur than there is agricultural wealth between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains.

Senator Sutherland and his son Dr. Sutherland were thrown from a cutter yesterday and seriously injured.

Counting Lesceck, Bryce and Rondeau, who have all declared against the Government, the Opposition now have a majority of one in the Local Legislature. It is quite evident Norquay cannot carry the Government with any such following and that there must be some important shuffle are long, whether it come in a rearrangement of the Cabinet or a coalition or dissolution. Meantime it is safe to say that Norquay is in no hurry to call the Legislature together. Hon Mr. Larivière left for Ottawa to-night. It is thought the visit is in connection with the Cabinet difficulty.

Hon. Dr. Harrison, Minister of Agriculture, also accompanied Mr. Larivière east to-night. It is ascertained on the best of authority that their visit to Ottawa is for the purpose of arranging, if possible, for a shelving of Messrs. Norquay and Larivière and for the handing over to the Manitoba Government of land given to the Hudson Bay Railway. It is suggested to form a new Cabinet, with Dr. Harrison as Premier.

A public meeting was held at Medicine Hat, N.W.T., to protest against the importation of Manitoba hop beer while the sale of that of local manufacture is prohibited.

Edward Gurnard, a young man of Toddburn, was killed by falling timber on Saturday.

THE FOREST CITY.

The Eloquent Manufacturer Case—A Woman's Sad Story—Commercial Union Meeting—Rev. Mr. Linwood's Misdeeds.

London, Nov. 30.—Robert Ausetth, held for manslaughter in the West Nissouri homicide case, appeared before the County Judge to-day and elected trial by jury. He was remanded to the coming sessions for trial, but it is understood the defence will ask a postponement till the January Assizes. The Crown have subpœnaed twenty-one witnesses in the case.

This morning Squire J. B. Smith heard the case of Ellen Thompson, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of vagrancy and was remanded to jail. Her story is a sad one. Her friends, she said, lived in Howard, Elgin County. She not long ago married a man named Thompson, who soon deserted her, and she had to go back to her own people. They declined to keep her longer and she came to London, but here she had neither friends nor money. She was remanded to jail for another week, while her friends are being communicated with.

Professor Goldwin Smith and other prominent speakers will address a meeting in the Court House here to-morrow on Commercial Union.

Rev. John Linwood has left numerous unpaid bills behind him. It seems that he was connected with the Bible Class of the Dundas-street Centre Methodist Church, and about two weeks ago suggested to the class that they make their pastor, Rev. J. V. Smith, a Christmas present. The suggestion found great favor, and a subscription was then and there made up. Linwood acted as treasurer, and when he went away forgot to hand over the funds. Ald. Jarvis was the first person who entered Linwood's house after the explosion, and is positive that it was caused by gunpowder.

The Fishery Commission.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The third conference of the fishery negotiators was held at the Department of State to-day, beginning at 2 o'clock and lasting until late in the afternoon.

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—A Ministerial paper states that information has been received by the Government here to the effect that the Fisheries Commission, now sitting at Washington will conclude their sittings about Wednesday next, after which the British and Canadian members of the Commission will leave for home.

The Boycott on Lehigh Coal.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 30.—The boycott decided upon by the Reading employes on Lehigh coal is being enforced. The coal that now comes from the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company's mines is carried on the Jersey Central railroad, and as much of it passes over the North Pennsylvania to Philadelphia, the latter company was this morning compelled to refuse to receive it, owing to the crews on that road having declined to take out trains from Bethlehem. This action will cause a reduction of crews in the service on the Jersey Central.

STAND FROM UNDER THE CRASH!

GOUGH,

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN'S GREAT STRIKE.

An Upheaval to take place in Peterborough and the Dry Goods Trade to be Shattered to Pieces.

Twenty Thousand Dollars Worth of New, Fresh and Seasonable Dry Goods,

Stopped in transit to British Columbia, and bought by Gough, the Wonderful Cheap Man,

AT 50 CTS. ON THE DOLLAR.

Everything New and Fresh from the Looms; they have never been unpacked from the cases and yet they are to be sold at

50 Cents on the DOLLAR.

Call out the DOGS OF WAR now, for Gough is going to take a hand in Dry Goods, too, and as he bought them at 50 Cents on the Dollar, something must give, even though it be the Imaginary Clothiers.

My store will be closed until Saturday morning, Nov. 26, so as to enable us to unpack the goods and prepare for the Great Sale.

We would advise the Ladies of Peterborough not to miss this opportunity as the Bargains to be offered will be Most Startling. The Stock is comprised of GENERAL DRY GOODS, including and all are to be sold without reserve. The reader will please bear in mind that this GIGANTIC SALE will commence at 8 o'clock sharp on SATURDAY morning, November 26, at my store, and I would advise one and all to call early and avoid the rush, as we expect a Crowded Store.

Our Immense Stock of Suits and Overcoats will be removed to the 2nd and 3rd Flats, and in these Departments SWEEPING REDUCTIONS will also be made. We will sell you a good Overcoat for $2.50 worth $6.00, and Suits will be reduced in accordance. Never in the world has such a chance been offered to get Beautiful New Dress Goods & Clothing so Cheap, and henceforth every person who wants to save a Dollar should go to the Wonder of the 19th Century! Between now and Xmas the air will ring with the name of GOUGH the Wonderful Cheap Man, George Street, Peterborough.

N. B.—We have but One Price, therefore save yourself Trouble and us Time by making no offers. Also bring the Cash with you as no Credit will be given Keene.

Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D., will deliver an address upon the subject, "The Homes of our Fathers," in the Methodist Church, Keene, on Tuesday, 13th of December.

Universal Approbation.

The medical profession, the clergy, the press and the public alike acknowledge the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters, as an unequalled remedy for chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and blood. Its popularity increases with its years of merit. 2w47d

Prevailing Sickness.

The most prevailing complaints at this season are rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, inflammations and congestions. For all these and other painful troubles Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best internal and external remedy. 2w47d

A Significant Fact.

The worn out, waste and poisonous matter in the system should escape through the secretions of the bowels, kidneys and skin, or serious disease results. B. B. B. opens the natural outlets to remove diseases. 2w47d

Ten Years Of Torture.

Mrs. Thomas Acres, of Huntley, Ont., was for ten years a sufferer from liver complaint, which doctors' medicine did not relieve. After using four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters she was entirely cured, and states she is like a new woman again. 2w47d.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup will remove all kinds of Worms from children or adults. dw

National Pills are a mild purgative acting on the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, removing all obstructions. dw

Palmo-Sulphur Soap.

Is Marvellously Efficient in cleansing the Skin of Impurities, and keeping it in a perfect state of health. It neutralizes the corruptions which breaking out in Blotches, Sores or Wounds, it causes all to heal. It is no Form of Eruptive Disease for which this Renowned Soap has not proved effectual. In the bath it is as beneficial as the waters of the Renowned Sulphur Springs. Lipans and Wrinkles vanish with its use, and Ladies who would preserve unsurpassable complexion and secure soft white hands should use Palmo-Sulphur Soap in preference to all others. The value of Sulphur as a Cleanser and Purifying agent is everywhere recognized. Ask for Palmo-Sulphur, and refuse all others, and you will be deceived.

A DRUNKARD'S MISTAKE.

The Man He Killed for Robbing Him Synonymous to Have Begun Yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 30.—A tablespoonful of brains, the loss of which caused a murder, was discovered yesterday to the owner by a Catholic priest. Sept. 24, 1885, John Tennery, a tavern-keeper, was shot dead by James Sullivan. The latter had $200 in his possession and went to Tennery's saloon, where, after considerable drinking, he discovered he had been robbed of all his money. Wild with rage he scooped the pale-nosed corpse of its teeth, but though Tennery denied the charge Sullivan suddenly shot him dead. The sailor was convicted of murder in the first degree, but a new trial was granted and a plea of manslaughter was accepted. His sentence was eight years imprisonment for three years. Recently he was released and went to Washington to live. Now the pastor of an uptown church returns Sullivan the $200, which was given up by the penitent thief through the confessional. He stole the money while Sullivan was drunk.

Havelock.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

A social was held at the house of Mr. Alex. Matheson on Thursday evening 24th inst, under the auspices of the Presbyterians of Havelock and Rush Point. An excellent tea was provided and served by the ladies, after which a choice programme consisting of readings, recitations, Eclogues and vocal and instrumental music, was rendered, Rev. John McArthur presiding.

At the conclusion of the first part of the programme Mrs. A. Matheson and Mrs. Barlow came forward, Mrs. Matheson reading the following address and Mrs. Barlow [illegible] to Rush Point, Mr. Arthur, [illegible]

[illegible] Christian [illegible] constitutes [illegible] now [illegible] pass by your position [illegible] and [illegible] to add much to your material prosperity it will, we hope, show you the high affection we entertain for you. That God may bless your husband, yourself and family is the earnest prayer of

Yours sincerely,
MRS. A. MATHESON.
MRS. BARLOW.

Mr. McArthur replied on behalf of the recipient in appropriate terms. The purse contained $29.

Mr. A. Matheson then presented to the missionary the proceeds of the social, amounting to $7.75.

A few weeks previous to this the congregation at Rush Point, through [illegible] Cochrane, presented Mrs. McArthur with a photograph album, a token of their esteem for her.

The ladies of Havelock have taken steps leading to the improvement of the interior of their church, and already sufficient funds have been raised to purchase sofa, table and chandelier. Mr. Macfarlane Wilson, of China Hall, Peterborough, from whom was purchased the chandelier, kindly donated to the congregation a hanging lamp for the pulpit.

The ladies hope very soon to be able to place an organ at the disposal of the congregation.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

PRICES IN DRY GOODS
AT
THOMAS KELLY'S
For the Next Two Months.

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to [illegible] also random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we endeavor seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

Book-keeping at the BUSINESS COLLEGE.

An Excellent Appointment.

The Ottawa correspondence of the Mail says that "Judge Weller, County Judge of Peterborough, has been appointed a member of the Trent Valley Canal Commission, vice ex-Judge Clark, resigned." It is to be hoped that this is correct, for the appointment is in every way an excellent one, and one that will be universally approved—especially in the Midland district. Judge Weller will carry into the duties of his new position a sound judgment, a large fund of practical common sense and a thorough knowledge of the conditions he is expected to investigate and pronounce upon. The EXAMINER has much pleasure in congratulating Judge Weller upon the recognition he enjoys of his combination for the discharge of the important new trust reposed in him.

Canada's Independence.

At a meeting of the St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society Wednesday night, the question of whether Canada would be better as an independent country than she is at present, was decided in the affirmative. Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle occupied the chair. Mr. J. O'Meara and Dr. Collins led the affirmative; Dr. Brennan and Mr. A. B. Hoolihan the negative. During the evening a song, "The Irishman's Toast", was given by Dr. Collins, the Misses Mahoney contributed a duet, Miss McDonald a solo, Masters Hurley and O'Brien readings, and McDonnel O'Brien a recitation "Curlew". There were a number of ladies at Wednesday night's meeting. The ladies will in future take an active part in the meetings of the Society.

The Oddfellow Conversaziones.

The spacious and elegant new and enlarged suite of rooms of Otonabee Lodge, will be ready for occupancy in good time for the conversaziones, commemorative of the resuscitation of the lodge, on Friday night, December 9th. The committee have decided not to issue invitations. Instead each member will receive four tickets for distribution among his friends. If the limited number of tickets (300) is not thus disposed of within a few days before Dec. 9th, the balance will be available for use of members desiring additional tickets. The committee decided upon this plan so as to avoid the possibility of offence in the issuing of invitations. The seating capacity of the hall is only 300, while there is accommodation for 500 promenaders, hence the necessity of limiting the number of tickets and adopting the above plan.

Scotchmen and Their Supper.

The enthusiastic patriotism of the Scotch is wonderful. Their love for their native land is something that neither distance nor the lapse of time can suppress. And while the Scotch are "leal" to the old land they are loyal to this new, and no matter how fondly their hearts beat for for old Scotia they are loyal to their new names. And loyalty to the members of their homes is the first duty. And this loyalty on the part of Scotchmen as well as Canadians can best be shown by buying the required drygoods and clothing at the store of gough the wonderful cheap man. Thus every man can save enough money to buy an additional suit. His gigantic stock of drygoods bought at 50 cents on the dollar and sold on the same generous plan of reduction is a bonanza for the buyer. The goods of the first quality are going like hot cakes, and his superb stock of ready-made clothing, overcoats and gents' furnishings are being rapidly cleared out under the impetus of the lowest prices in Canada. Go to gough's if you would make one dollar do the work of two.

A Graceful Recognition.

The crowning feature of the highly successful St. Andrew's supper, Wednesday night, was the presentation of a Scotch plaid, procured through Hall, Innes & Co., and brooch to Mr. William Telford, who has been the appreciated and honoured bard of the Society for 27 consecutive years. The brooch—a massive silver circle (made to order in Toronto) about four or five inches in diameter, bore the inscription, "Presented to William Telford, Bard of St. Andrew's Society, Peterborough, St. Andrew's Day, 1887." The brooch was further decorated with the Scotch thistle and other appropriate emblematic devices. This recognition of the talented bard's abilities and services was as graceful as timely. The issue of a beautiful volume of Mr. Telford's poetical works, dedicated to the Society, furnished an opportunity which was handsomely taken advantage of. Mr. Telford is to be congratulated upon the honour he has so richly won, and the Society is to be congratulated upon the possession of a bard of ability and poetic talent, generously endowing him for the position. The EXAMINER is proud to join with every member of the Society and Mr. Telford's myriad friends in wishing him many long years yet of health, happiness and devotion to the song lore of Scotland.

The Day and a' Wha' Honor it,

Annual Celebration of St. Andrew's Day By the Sons Scots of Peterborough.

Wednesday evening the members of the St. Andrew's Society of Peterborough assembled at the Grand Central hotel to do honor to Scotland's patron Saint in the hearty and happy manner customary to such annual celebrations. Every seat at the long table, stretching the entire length of the spacious dining-room, was filled, and the occupants united in doing justice to the following excellent menu which was presented by mine host Daly:—

BILL OF FARE.

SOUP—McNaughtway.
BOILED—Turkey and oyster sauce; sugar-cured ham; Scotch sausages.
ROAST—Sirloin of Beef; goose and apple sauce; spare rib pork; leg of lamb and mint sauce.
ENTREES—Scotch haggis.
GAME—Saddle of venison with currant jelly.
COLD—Beef; lamb; pork; corned tongue; Bologna; potted head.
VEGETABLES—Mashed potatoes; sugar corn.
PASTRY—English plum pudding; lemon pie; apple pie.
DESSERT—Oranges; grapes; almonds; raisins; apples.

THE TOASTS.

As soon as the viands had been disposed of Mr. WM. CUMMINGS, President, in a neat little introductory speech appropriate to the occasion, proposed the first toast to "The Queen and Royal family," to which the company united in singing the National Anthem. "The Governor-General" was next toasted, after which came "The Army, Navy and Volunteers."

To this toast Mr. Duncan MacLeod responded, referring eulogistically to the bravery and intrepidity of British and Canadian volunteers and marines. He instanced the prompt action of the Canadian militia in suppressing, unassisted, the rebellion of 1885. Himself a retired officer, he had participated in the war of 1837, was engaged in three battles and helped preserve this country to us those who were now sitting around the board. (Applause)

MR. JAS. HENDRY responded with a beautiful Scotch song, preceded by a few appropriate remarks anent the subject of the toast.

Mr. D. D. GALLETLY also gave a patriotic Scotch song, "Scotland Yet."

THE TOAST OF TOASTS.

The PRESIDENT then notified those about the board to fill their glasses to the brim for the toast of the evening: "The Day, and a' Wha Honor it." The toast was drunk right heartily, and "Auld Lang Syne" sung by the company, the enthusiastic Scotchmen present joining hands and singing with right good will.

Mr. CHAS. CAMERON replied to this toast in a happy manner. After modestly disclaiming any ability on his part to reply fittingly, he said he coincided with the President in his statement that it was the toast of the evening, and he did not feel able to do justice to such an important toast. There were thousands all over the world at present engaged as were those now about him, and he thought that on this occasion they had every reason to be proud of and land their country. Twenty-eight years ago this evening, with a few others, he was one to help to organize this Association, and he was proud of the showing it now made. He hoped some other gentleman would respond to this noble sentiment.

Piper MCDONALD contributed a selection on the bagpipes, which was loudly applauded.

Mr. J. SPENCE was called on, but said he didn't have anything to say that would add much to the interest of the occasion.

A voice—"There was never a Scotchman come across the border but had something to say." (Laughter).

Mr. SPENCE continuing remarked that about all he had to say of Scotland was, "With all her faults I love her still." He was pleased to see his friends gathered about the board, friends that he had made in his nineteen years' residence here. He thanked them for the honor of coupling his name with the toast.

Mr. Galletly rendered another vocal solo, "A Kiss Ahint the Door." He was enthusiastically encored, and responded with "The Barrin' o' the Door O'."

OUR CANADA.

Mr. TULLY, the vice-chairman, proposed the toast of "Canada, Our Home." The toast, he said, was one that should be heartily drunk. After all the fifteen years he had belonged to the Society, he saw but very few genuinely Canadian faces about the board that he knew, and mentioned several names of gentlemen to respond. Canada was his home. He said Scotchmen could boast of their hills, and dells and heather, but he thought this "Canada of ours" was just as good a country as Scotland. This sentiment was followed by the singing of "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Mr. WM. MENZIES spoke a few words and was succeeded by Mr. R. J. KIDD, who said he felt embarrassed at being called upon to respond to so important a toast. In jocular allusion to his stature, he expected that he might have been overlooked, but he found that was impossible amongst a gathering of keen sighted Scotchmen. He felt proud and honored to be in the company of so many representatives of a race he held in such high estimation. He could do a good many things but the one thing he could not do was to make a speech, nevertheless he concluded, amidst applause, a very happy little speech by returning thanks for the honor of having his name connected with the toast.

Mr. DORRIN was also called upon and made a few remarks.

Mr. J. B. STRATTON, M.P.P., said he felt honored in honoring this toast. Canada was a land to be proud of, and he enlarged upon the liberties and progress of the Dominion, and expressed his pleasure at being present on the occasion of the celebration of St. Andrew's Society, and hoped the Society would long continue to prosper. Scotchmen, while revering the land of their birth, yet should be proud of the country they live in. He hoped Canada's nationality would be recognized more and more. At the present time when commercial union was being agitated, the Americans would find that Canadians were a live and energetic people, ready to meet them on an equal footing.

Mr. WM. TELFORD read a poem addressed to St. Andrew's Society, which was heartily applauded. It will be published in full in another issue.

THE PRESENTATION.

The PRESIDENT said the very pleasant duty devolved upon him that evening to, on behalf of the Society, present Mr. Wm. Telford, who had been bard of the Society for the past twenty-eight years, with the small token of the respect and esteem in which he was held by the Society—a plaid and brooch.

Mr. Telford was enrobed in the ample folds of the plaid, and in his new costume was vociferously applauded.

Mr. Wm. MENZIES, Secretary, then read the following address:—

To William Telford, Esq., Bard St. Andrew's Society, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR AND "BRITHER SCOT"—On behalf of St. Andrew's Society I have much pleasure in welcoming you to this the twenty-eighth annual supper that you have attended in your capacity as Bard of the Society, during which time you have never failed to address us in those stirring words of the land of the heather, bringing to our minds the recollection of that land which is dear to us all, "Auld Scotia," and reminding us that nature has implanted in our breasts an indispensable attachment to that country from which we derived our birth and infant nurture.

As a slight token of our appreciation of your services, and as a mark of friendship for you as a man, we beg your acceptance of this plaid and brooch, with the sincere wish that you may be spared many, many happy returns of the present occasion.

Signed, on behalf of St. Andrew's Society,
WM. CUMMINGS, President.

Mr. TELFORD, in reply, said that he was unable to make a speech, and even if he could he would not be able to find words to express his thanks for a gift which was unexpected and perhaps undeserved. (Cries of No, no!) The emblem now upon him was one in which many a Scotchman had met his death on the field of battle, fighting for his country, and though he was not a fighting man he could write what he thought and so do honor to his country. He was sure they didn't expect him to make a flowery and eloquent speech; they all knew him, and he felt sure they would appreciate his feelings when he said to them, "Gentlemen, I thank you for the gift." (Applause).

PARLIAMENT AND LEGISLATURE.

"The Parliament of Canada and Legislature of Ontario" was proposed by the President.

Mr. JAMES STEVENSON, M.P., responded, expressing his pleasure at being present on the occasion. He paid the Scotch nation a high compliment by referring to it as the gem of the British crown. The parliament of Canada he believed to be loyal to the core, and one that was doing its best for the country. Referring to the topic of commercial union, he hoped that Canada would never seek to break the bonds that connected her with the Mother country. The country did not want, he said, political connection of any kind with any other country, and he hoped the present state of affairs in Canada would continue to exist. Before sitting down Mr. Stevenson spoke in complimentary terms of the bard of the Society, Mr. Wm. Telford.

Mr. J. B. STRATTON M.P.P., responded on behalf of the Legislature. After returning thanks for the toast, he referred to the progress and extent of Ontario and the worth of her legislators, who devoted their whole time in making laws for the provinces, leaving political differences to be fought out at the polls. Scotchmen were honored in both the Dominion and Provincial parliament. At the head of affairs in the Cabinet was a gentlemen who was born in Glasgow; a Scotchman, Hon. O. Mowat, was premier of the province; while the ratio of Scotchmen to others in the Legislature he believed was about 6 to 2. Scotchmen had reason to be proud of the large number of important positions in Canada which were in possession of their countrymen.

Mr. R. C. HILL next made a brief address, in which he made appropriate references to the occasion, which he with them delighted in honouring.

MORE TOASTS.

Mr. D. D. GALLETLY volunteered a toast to the "Agricultural interests of Canada," to which Mr. Rutherford, President of the Agricultural Association, and Mr. Jos. Tully responded, the latter saying that he wanted to see the agriculturists of the county take a deeper interest in the work and not leave it all for two or three to do. He thanked the merchants of the town for the practical interest manifested by them. He also urged the farmers to come forward and support the new Farmers' Institute which had been formed that afternoon.

"The Mayor and Corporation of Peterborough," was replied to by Mayor Stevenson and Mr. Thos. Menzies.

Mr. STEVENSON thanked them for the toast and said the corporation, as usual, was getting along all right; and with such good members in the council as Mr. Menzies there was no doubt it always would.

Mr. MENZIES supplemented the Mayor's remarks by referring to the financial condition of the town, which was most satisfactory. The assets would more than balance the liabilities by about $110,000, and at the present rate of progress in twenty years that surplus would be increased to two millions.

Mr. D. MCLEOD proposed a toast to Messrs John Millar, Arch. Davidson, John Thompson and Thos. Telford, old Scotchmen who had always been to the fore in matters of enterprise and progress. Each of the gentlemen toasted expressed their thanks briefly, Mr. Thompson adding some reminiscences of pioneer life thirty or forty years ago.

"The Ladies," proposed by Mr. Tully, brought to their feet Messrs. F. H. Dobbin, F. Sanderson and J. Tully.

"The Press" was proposed and responded to, after which came "Our Host and Hostess," which was replied to happily by Mr. Daly, proprietor of the Grand Central.

"Come Under My Plaidie," by Mr. Galletly, and "Auld Lang Syne" by the company, brought the twenty-eighth annual festival of St Andrew's Society of Peterborough to a close.

St. Luke's Missionary Meeting.

Address of the Bishop of Algoma.

The annual missionary meeting of St. Luke's took place in the church on Wednesday evening. The church was fairly well filled. The Rector, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, occupied the chair, and after devotional services, accompanied by the singing of appropriate hymns, the chairman, after referring to the annual missionary report, and making a few general remarks relating to mission work, introduced—

Rev. Dr. SULLIVAN, bishop of Algoma. His Lordship is a man of fine commanding personal presence, and a most effective speaker, using simple but well chosen language and riveting the attention of his hearers. His remarks referred particularly to the mission work in the diocese of Algoma, covering much the same ground as did his address in St. John's on Monday evening. A full synopsis of his remarks on the former occasion appeared in Tuesday's EXAMINER. He, however, referred to the present excellence of the railway facilities of the diocese, and defended himself against the charges made in reference to his steam yacht, the "Evangeline," which had been purchased for his work in England. This steamer was a necessity in his work and could not be done without, as many parts of the diocese were inaccessible except by water. The speaker referred particularly to the Ojibway Indians of the diocese, 7,000 in number, and gave them a high character for honesty and integrity, when uncontaminated by contact with white men. They were capable of being Christianized and civilized. They gave all the help they could in building churches, etc. In the whole diocese of Algoma there was not $500 of church debt, though there was only one self-supporting station, Prince Arthur. The remarks of the speaker were illustrated by means of a large map of the diocese. His address was exceedingly interesting, well worthy the close attention with which it was followed. It was shown that, in spite of the hard, repellent conditions, the noble little band of missionaries in Algoma, headed by their energetic bishop, were doing a most salutary work in extending the blessings of the gospel of peace. After a collection had been taken the meeting was closed in the usual manner.

C. U. MEETING IN LONDON.

ONE OF THE LEADING QUESTIONS BEFORE THE COUNTRY.

It Would Benefit the Farmer—It Cannot be a Political Question—It Would Break the Combines and Monopolies.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 1.—Mr. Thos. Beatty, president at the meeting held in the Court House this morning to discuss Commercial Union. He did not regard it as the greatest question before the country, but it was second only to the great temperance question. It was more important to remove from people the temptation to drink than to remove the restrictions of trade; but that was not the question to-day. The adoption of Commercial Union would make a difference of $100 to $200 to the average farmer, and they would feel it every time they sold a horse or anything else. Loyalty was not as important as having money in our pockets. He regretted that Mr. Goldwin Smith would not be here. But he had been sent in his stead.

Thomas Shaw of Hamilton, who was first speaker, he gave a history of the movement, which he said was spontaneous and of great strength. The farmers were by him said to be in a deplorable condition. The assimilation of internal revenue in each country would be necessary or well as the equalization of the customs' tariff. Mr. Shaw was not an admirer of protection, but would submit to it to get reciprocity. The pooling of the receipts and their distribution on a per capita basis was explained by Mr. Shaw as an objectionable feature. He argued that it could not be a political question, because it embraced the free trade principles of the Liberals and the protective policy of the Conservatives. He spoke of the politicians and newspapers as taking different sides on the question without regard to party lines, and then for about half an hour he discussed the subject of natural markets, and the absurdity of buying or selling at long distances when it might better be done at home. The benefits to the farmer would include cheapness of living, better prices for his produce and exemption from monopoly. He liked to see the manufacturers and all other classes prosper, but what he complained of was that some of the manufacturers prospered at the expense of the farmer, and by combining they increased this unfair advantage or profit to an unbearable degree. The combinations and monopolies which extended throughout every class of business, even the bakers in some of our towns combining, roused Mr. Shaw's indignation. In 1886 Canada sent $15,000,000 worth of agricultural products to the United States, and without the tariff that trade would expand. Under the tariff the farmer undoubtedly paid the tariff on what he sold to the Americans, and the loss in one year's transactions by this tariff was to the Canada farmers $3,000,000.

V. E. Fuller telegraphed his apology for non-attendance.

Mr. Henry Anderson asked how the deficiency in the revenue, caused admittedly by Commercial Union, would be made up? The revenue was necessary, and the farmers would not consent to direct taxation. It would be simpler in his opinion to resort to direct annexation. Then if the Union Government would shoulder our debt we might manage to get along without the revenue.

Mr. Shaw would have no objection to direct taxation, because that would introduce more economy in public affairs. If the debt were portioned off to those in whose interest it was incurred, the difficulty would be avoided.

Elliott Grieve said if a man sold his stock at a higher price it would be easy to pay over the difference to the Government. Then taxation would be met without being a burden.

Mr. Anderson said that was only in case the stock was sold to the United States, but England and Europe were by far our best customers for stock.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S CONDITION HIGHLY SATISFACTORY.

German Loyalty to Germany—Bismarck Pleases Freely Circulated—Sullivan to be Tried To-day—Opening of the Spanish Cortes.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Crown Prince and Princess were out driving this morning. A German squadron of three frigates passed close in shore at noon, and when opposite the Prince's villa, a twenty-one gun salute was fired, the yards manned, and the bands played the National Anthem.

The local affection in the Prince's throat, according to an official bulletin, does not appear to be extending. The general functions of the body continue perfect and there is no difficulty in respiration and in swallowing.

At Chorley, Lancashire, a shock of earthquake was felt at 7 o'clock this morning. No serious damage was done.

The Vatican appreciates the visit of the Duke of Norfolk, who will go to Rome as the bearer of the personal congratulations of the Queen and the Marquis of Salisbury to the Pope on the occasion of his jubilee as a successful return of Mgr. Seulle's jubilee mission to England.

Lord Mayor Sullivan, at a meeting of the Dublin corporation to-day, stated that his name had been omitted in the commission which will open the assizes to-morrow. He intends to accompany the judges to court. Mr. Sexton, High Sheriff of Dublin, said he would also accompany the judges, and if the Lord Mayor was refused a seat he (Sexton) would leave the court, and decline to recognize the court's authority or obey its orders.

Mr. Sexton was unanimously elected Lord Mayor to succeed Mr. Sullivan.

In answer to a question of the Ministry whether, in view of the political outlook, it would be desirable to hold an educational conference in 1888, or postpone it until 1889, the Czar replied it could be held next year. The political outlook was clear, and there was no fear of new complications.

Herr Richter, of Berlin, writes in the Fleetzeitung that Dr. Singleton, who is connected with the mission of the town of Berlin, combined his anti-Semitic campaign with his mission work to such an extent that many Liberal church wardens had refused him the use of their churches for the delivery of their speeches.

A semi-official note is published stating that the meeting at Count Waldsee's had nothing to do with politics.

The Great Orange Diamond, found at the Cape of Good Hope, and which is ten karats heavier than the Koh-i-nor, was offered at auction in London to-day, but could find no bidders.

The Most Rev. Daniel McGettigar, D.D., Roman Catholic Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland, is dying at Armagh.

The proofs of loyalty displayed by the people of the northern provinces of Spain on the occasion of the visit of the Queen Regent's [illegible] from the throne on the opening of the Cortes to-day. It testified to the adhesion of the people to the monarchy and said: "Internal peace is assured. The Government thus aided in executing its programme of reorganizing individual rights will extend the electoral suffrage and effect economic and social measures for the benefit of trade and agriculture. Foreign relations continue cordial. Under the request of the Sultan of Morocco the Spanish Government is arranging another conference of the Powers' signatory to the treaty of 1880. The rising in the Sooloo Islands has been happily quelled and the natives are now submissive to Spanish authority."

The Foreign Office denies the statement that the Queen will visit San Remo.

In the election at Dulwich to-day, Maple, Conservative, was elected over Henderson, the Gladstonian candidate.

The advices concerning the Crown Prince's health are highly satisfactory. There is no actual proof of cancer, and the diminution of the swelling has a certain degree of importance.

In the Reichstag to-day Dr. Von Lucius, Minister of Agriculture, defended the Cereal Duties Bill, on the ground of increasing depression in agriculture. The debate was adjourned.

The Russian newspapers continue to publish hostile criticisms in the disclosures made about the interview between the Czar and Bismarck, despite the orders not to attack Germany.

The report that Bismarck wrote to the Russian Ambassador, asking for an audience with the Czar, is confirmed by the North German Gazette.

The North German Gazette to-day returns to its forgery disclosures. It declares that the letter supposed to have been written by Prince Reuss, the German Ambassador at Vienna is a forgery.

The North German Gazette in the course of a political review says: "By appreciating certain characteristic passages [illegible] in the Russian press we enable Germans to see that up to the present time not even a transitory effect of the recent admonition to observe moderation is perceptible in one of the Russian papers."

In the case of Lord Mayor Sullivan, an adjournment was granted till to-day.

In spite of strict police surveillance United Ireland and other papers which publish reports of suppressed branches of the National League are freely circulated.

Commissioner Huntington was arrested to-day at Tralee for publishing reports of the proceedings of the suppressed branches of the League.

A New Brunswick Vessel Ashore.

SANDWICH, Mass., Dec. 1.—The vessel reported ashore off East Sandwich is the brigantine Roberia of St. John, N.B., for New York loaded with lathe and piling. The crew were saved. The vessel's keel is broken and there is considerable water in her and unless removed she will go to pieces. The cargo will probably be saved.

New Rates for the Use of Freight Cars.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Car Service Committee, consisting of the superintendents of the trunk lines, met to-day and adopted new rates for the use of freight cars. It is claimed that the changes in rates will result in the more prompt movement of freight cars, and hence less delay of shipments.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CRISIS

PRESIDENT GREVY WILL BE FORCED TO RESIGN.

Paris in a State of Wild Excitement—Fears of a Revolution—Boulanger Besieged by the Students of the Presidency.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The result of a conference of the Republican groups, who agreed unanimously to support an order of the day for the adjournment of the Chamber, to await the communication promised by the President, was the adoption of the order of the day adjourning the Chamber until 6 o'clock. It was carried by a vote of 363 against 39.

M. Rouvier then communicated to M. Grevy the result of the vote. The Prime Minister has expressed the opinion that rather than a hostile demonstration by the Chamber will force the President to resign.

The President of the Patriotic League, M. Paul Deroulede, had an interview with M. Grevy yesterday, in which he declared the rumors of Emma's alleged objections to the election of M. Ferry to the Presidential chair. He said the critical position of home affairs demanded that M. Grevy should remain at his post. An insurrection was sure to follow M. Ferry's election. He apologized for his recent hostile remarks about M. Grevy, which he said had been occasioned by the removal of Gen. Boulanger from the War Office. The President said he had not worked against Gen. Boulanger.

The Journal Des Debats favors the candidature of M. Ferry. The Right will not support any Republican nominee. General Ferron, Minister of War in the Rouvier Cabinet, has been made a grand officer of the Legion of Honor. Fears were entertained of a revolutionary demonstration in front of the Chamber to-day. Extensive military and police precautions have been taken to guard against an outbreak.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—The adjournment of the Chamber of Deputies until 6 o'clock was the result of a conference between the four Republican groups, who unanimously agreed to adopt an order of the day declaring that the Chamber, awaiting the communication promised from the President, would adjourn until 6 o'clock. When the session was resumed at 4 o'clock the order was submitted, and met with applause from both the Left and the Centre. It was carried by a vote of 363 against 3.

M. Rouvier then returned to the palace to communicate to M. Grevy the result of the vote. M. Rouvier has freely expressed the opinion that the President will only resign under pressure of a hostile manifestation by the Chambers.

The excitement in the city is intense. A mob has gathered in front of the palace of the Elysee and is crying for the President to resign. Troops guard the entrance to the palace. The crowds in front of the Palace Bourbon became so demonstrative that cavalry were obliged to charge them.

A number of members of the Chamber of Deputies are in favor of impeaching M. Grevy if his resignation is not announced when the sitting is resumed.

M. Rouvier ascended the tribune and announced that he had communicated to M. Grevy the vote of the Chamber on the order of the day. This communication, said M. Rouvier, caused the President to modify his resolution. He had never intended to enter upon a conflict with Parliament and would, therefore, send a message to the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate to-morrow informing them of his decision. M. Rouvier added that the President declined to accept the resignation of the Cabinet which, therefore, retained its functions. M. Rouvier's statement was greeted with cheers and at its conclusion the Chamber adjourned till 2 p.m. to-morrow.

M. Paul De Roulde and Louise Michel have been arrested. Crowds continued to flock to the Elysee and a revolutionary demonstration is expected.

"Vive La Russe."

PARIS, Dec. 1.—There was a big demonstration in front of the Russian Embassy to-day, the crowd shouting "Vive La Russe." The police dispersed the gathering.

All Quiet at Midnight.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(Midnight)—The boulevards are calm. The Municipal Council is sitting with closed doors.

In the Senate this afternoon Minister Barbey made an announcement similar to that of M. Rouvier in the Chamber of Deputies. The senators loudly applauded on hearing that the Cabinet had resigned. At the adjourned sitting at 4 p.m., M. Forges' motion that while waiting for the promised message the House pass to the order of the day was adopted by a vote of 264 to 8. The sitting was suspended until 8 p.m. One senator suggested that M. Grevy be impeached.

The crowds in the streets to-day were due partly to the decision of the revolutionary meeting of the previous evening to assemble at the Palais Bourbon.

Gen. Saussier has informed President Grevy that he has taken all requisite measures to preserve order.

When the members of the Cabinet visited the Elysee in the morning M. Grevy said: "I thought we were to say 'farewell' to each other, but it will only be "au revoir." If the Chamber and Senate today vote me to resign they must acquaint me with their wish by some clear and unmistakable demonstration. The events of the past few days convince me that in the interests of the Republic I am bound not to resign. I have received from various Parliamentary [illegible] telling me to remain in office, and as it is the wish of the Deputies and Senate to so unmistakably show that my resignation is desired I shall remain in office. I believe that very soon I shall be able to form a Cabinet."

M. Rouvier appeared to be greatly irritated and remonstrated with M. Grevy for sending him to the Chamber without the promised message.

The report of the Chamber of Deputies was the cause to call all grand ovations. As each sitting the galleries were crowded to excess with diplomats and aristocrats, the latter including many ladies. M. Floquet, President of the Chamber, had the utmost difficulty in preventing the deputies to cause their excited discussions.

The Royalists tried to keep the result of their councils secret, but it transpired that Bishop Freppel had, at a meeting of his party, read a note from the Vatican in which the Pope instructed the deputies of the Right to vote for M. Ferry. It is reported that several of them declared they would not respect the request of the Pope.

Numerous revolutionary leaders have been busy all day. Granille, late editor of The Cri Du Peuple, harangued the workmen, calling on them to rise and resist the authorities. The military will remain in force on the Elysee throughout the night.

FEARFUL DEATH.

William Marshwald of New York State in Hydrophobia Convulsions.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—William Marshwald was bitten by a cur in this city about the beginning of September. No bad effects were experienced by him of the wound sustained until three days ago, when he was removed to the Brooklyn hospital as suffering from hydrophobia. The physicians pronounced the case hopeless, but did not expect the patient would die as soon as he did. He did not pass to the third stage of the disease, but expired in one of those horrible convulsions of the second stage. The convulsions were so violent that the patient had to be restrained by a straight jacket. During the final convulsion several men had to hold him, and the spectacle which he presented was beyond description.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Central Bank opened its doors yesterday morning for the redemption of its notes. It is the general opinion that the depositors as well as billholders will not lose a cent.

The National Club has invited the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain to be its guest at a dinner in his honor. It is likely that he will accept, but no date has yet been named.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy has resigned his position as president of the Imperial Federation League.

Commercial Union Meeting at Newmarket.

NEWMARKET, Dec. 1.—Upwards of 300 of the farmers of North York assembled in the Town Hall here this afternoon to discuss the question of Commercial Union. The president of the Farmers' Club occupied the chair, and speeches were made on both sides of the question, Prof. Goldwin Smith and Lockhart Gordon being opposed by Barlow Cumberland of Toronto. Before separating the following motion was carried as representing the feeling of the majority of the meeting:

Moved by Luke Gibb First Vice President, seconded by R. A. Phillips, Secretary: Resolved, that this meeting views with favor the proposal for unrestricted reciprocity between Canada and the United States, and that adopting a free commercial policy between the two countries would tend to decrease the distress now experienced by the farmers of Canada, and would not lessen our loyalty to Queen Victoria or endanger British connection.

APPLIED CHRISTIANITY.

The world is pretty well filled with theoretical Christianity; there seems to be, however, a demand for applied Christianity—practical religion. This raises d'ere of the existence of this demand is shown in various ways. At the missionary meeting in St. John's Church last Monday night, one of the speakers, Rev. J. C. Davidson, drew attention to the wonderful progress, in recent years, of the Church of England in the mother country, referring this progress to the means successfully adopted for reaching the masses. Practical expression has been given this desire to bring the Gospel within reach of the humble, neglected and outcast by the organization of the Church Army with methods having a general resemblance to those of the Salvation Army. This is a very significant departure for a communion distinguished for ecclesiastical conservatism, and is one of the signs of the times. And now, in England, under the auspices of the Wesleyan body, another somewhat startling but not altogether illogical innovation has been introduced. A mission has been started in the aristocratic quarter of London, the West End, in connection with the Wesleyan Methodist body. St. James' Hall has been engaged for every Sunday and Friday for a year. Rev. Hugh Price Hughes and Rev. Mark Guy Pearse are in charge of the music hall mission. The methods adopted are designed to make the religious services compete in interest and attractiveness with the theatres. The finest orchestral band in London will be employed and Saturday night concerts,—of the best popular music—will be given. The mission was inaugurated on Oct. 21st, by Rev. Charles Spurgeon preaching in the morning, and in the afternoon there was a great gathering of Methodists from all quarters. The first Saturday night concert was a great success. The first Sunday service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hughes in the presence of a large congregation. On Sunday afternoon the brass band played half an hour, followed by an address by Rev. Mr. Hughes, and in the evening he preached to 2,000 persons. It is proposed to add brass bands, street processions and open air addresses, as adjuncts of the mission services. Already the indications of immense success are said to be very encouraging. Everything is to be made bright, cheery, attractive and enjoyable, with the object of shewing that real religion should make Christians the happiest people on earth. Rev. Mr. Hughes has his reasons for a mission conducted like the above. He thinks the average religion is too humdrum and unattractive. Here is something he says which many will admit contains a great deal of truth. He says:—

"There has been a great deal of talk lately about the spread of infidelity. I don't believe it. I believe that what has been rejected is the mere conventional pretence of Christianity—not the real thing. Genuine, downright, honest Christianity is more popular than it ever was. It seems to me to be an advantage rather than otherwise that men are no longer willing to be humbugs. If men are rejecting this mere pretence of Christianity, that, I say, is a distinct step in the right direction. The fact is, too many of us do not believe in Christianity all round, nor apply it to everyday life. The reason why it is not more powerful is because it is often mere theory than practice. We don't sufficiently carry it into our daily life and apply it to all our social and political movements. Charles Leach said the other day his that politics were 'applied Christianity,' and we ought to say the same thing of business and pleasure. Our interpretation of Christianity has been too individualistic, too private and too narrow."

There is much that is true in these remarks. Religion is too often regarded as something too valuable and sacred to be mixed up with the ordinary affairs of life. Something to be specially brought out, enjoyed and worn on Sundays, like the Sunday coat or Sunday bonnet. It would seem that that religion which does not enter into, purify and elevate all our earthly concerns and pursuits is mere theological theorising. It is a poor religion that will not check the measuring of a yard of silk, the weighing of a pound of tea or the digging of a drain. It must be a very incomplete religion that takes the possessor to church on Sundays, and gives him a gentle heavenward hoist on a smooth-running ecclesiastical elevator, or makes him listen under conditions of softly-upholstered ease, to a sermon which he forgets with the greatest facility, and straightway lays away his religion to be kept snug and unsmirched by contact with the world—to be resumed the next Sunday. According to the supporters of Mr. Hughes and his sympathizers, there is required a revival of the simple practical religion taught by our Lord. "The poor have the Gospel preached to them" should be made a practice, not a pretence. In a word, religion needs to be popularized and brought within the reach of the poor and lowly. This is the tendency of the age and the teaching of the Gospel, and this determination will win the best success, while regards the subscription-list—a most important for the soul's sake, and not because the owner of it can put down his name for a church subscription, of three or four figures.

How she kissed ye when she caught ye your
To sclaff and rin while you were learning to You ne'er gae leave forget all your fears and your ills,
When you looked to the milk amaik the old
When you felt in your hands and your kneed
baith weel fill'd,
And sit on the footstoupes, at your mither's fireside.

From the floor to your feet, then outside and
With hearts light and joyful you joined in the play,
Obedient were taught you and with speed you fell
Whenever your mither did call on you
In the midst of your play, in your frolic and
If your playmates abused you, you instantly

Time, ever progressive, passed swiftly along;
With your years, some attachments entwined
With the claims of affection rooted deep in your Harmonized your endearments, not dissevered as Home enjoyments, like shadows, from your view disappear,
Changing joy into grief, your laughter to Death lessens your number, your loved circle
Causing mourning and sorrow at your mither's

Yet, the descent of circles must all sever their Though hearts ache with sorrow and tears dim their eyes;
As the bird, when full-fledged, takes to wing
from its nest,
So you left your auld hame with high hopes in your breast.
Your prospects in Scotia seemed clouded and While the promptings of fortune urged you on to embark;
With your mither's best blessing your left part

Universal Appreciation.

The medical profession, the clergy, the press and the public alike acknowledge the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters, as an unequalled remedy for chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and blood. Its popularity increases with its years of merit. 2w47d

Prevailing Sickness.

The most prevailing complaints at this season are rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, inflammations and congestions. For all these and other painful troubles Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best internal and external remedy 2w47d

Many Persons in Pittston are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady is recovering the sense of smell which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr Barber has used it in his family and recommends it very highly. A Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston, Pa., codw 49

Valuable To Know.

Consumption may be more easily prevented than cured. The irritating and harassing cough will be greatly relieved by the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam that cures coughs, colds, bronchitis and all pulmonary troubles. 2w47d

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup will remove all kinds of Worms from children or adults. dw

A Vestibule Limited On C.P.R.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—The [illegible] of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was concluded to-day before a special jury. This action was one for over $50,000 damages, plaintiff alleging that he was put off the company's cars while holding their tickets and was prevented from carrying on his business as a trader, west of Shoal-lake. The company pleaded to the effect that the reason why Mallal was stopped on the line was because, contrary to the laws of that section of the country, he carried on liquor traffic and was a "whisky seller," and also that the Government Directors' order absolutely and not open for traffic. The jury awarded the plaintiff $750 damages.

The "Grand Central" Burglarized.

A Shameful Outrage. Investigation the Safe of the Grand Central Hotel and Discovers Which $120 is Gone.

This morning Mr. F. J. Daly, proprietor of the Grand Central hotel, got up at about his usual hour for rising, and having occasion to go to the safe in the office, found the cash box gone, and with it some $175 in bills and silver. The safe was just as it had been left the night before, with only the "day book" on, while the papers and books and another drawer containing a number of watches and chains were undisturbed.

Mr. Daly registered his usual presention Thursday night of changing the temporary day book to the full combination, and the thief either knew of this or by a piece of rare good luck on his part struck the "happy medium." The nightwatchman was also as usual but can give no clue to the burglary. He says he heard no disturbance of any sort.

The empty cash box was found, after some searching, in the back yard. There had been in the cash box about $120 or $125 in bills; the balance was in silver. Of this amount $43 belonged to another gentleman, who had entrusted the money for safe-keeping to Mr. Daly.

The loss will be a severe one to Mr. Daly. Had he, as is his custom whenever he gets $100 or more on hand, banked the amount in the safe, his loss in any case could not have been very great. He had intended placing the money in the bank Thursday afternoon, but expecting another large payment in the evening, deferred it in order to bank the whole amount. Fortunately the the expected payment did not come in, or it would doubtless have gone, too.

The police think they have a clue to the burglary which may result in the conviction of the guilty party.

Extending the Midland R. R.

According to the Ottawa correspondence of the Mail, Mr. Wainwright, assistant manager of the G.T.R., is authority for the statement that the Grand Trunk railway will shortly ask for assistance from capitalists to extend the Midland line eastward—to Ottawa—the company already possessing a charter for a railway known as the Toronto and Ottawa.

The Shantymen's Feast.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says :—"Mr. Wainwright, of Peterborough, took a fine drove of beef cattle through on Thursday, for delivery to the shanties of M. Boyd & Co., on the Monck road. There were a hundred and twenty-five, chiefly steers. Mr. Wainwright completed last week a contract with Messrs. Gilmour & Co., having dressed seven tons of beef. Just fancy the ox tail soup they will have in those shanties, the stewed kidneys, and—whisper it gently to the gods—the tripe and onions."

Central Iron Bridge Works.

The new premises for these works are now ready for occupation, and it is hoped that they will be occupied and in working order before the close of the year. The shafting in the new place is all in position, but the machinery cannot be removed from the old shop till certain contracts are completed. The steam hammer will be shifted into its new quarters to-morrow, and as rapidly as circumstances may admit, the other plant and machinery will be removed. The new premises, when occupied, will largely increase the facilities of the works.

DON'T wear anything but COTTON'S boots and shoes; nobby, stylish and well made. A full stock on hand.

A Broken Axle.

Yesterday afternoon a farmer and his wife were leaving town, and when near the C.P.R. station their horse, frightened by a locomotive, sheered violently about and snapped an axle. The occupants of the vehicle were thrown out but fortunately not seriously hurt, though the woman was nearly smothered beneath the chaotic conglomeration of family groceries which alighted on her, and, the wrappings bursting, scattered in every direction. The buggy was taken to an adjacent blacksmith shop and the damage repaired, after which they continued on their journey.

Newspapers.

The Methodist Observer contains every week several columns of latest denominational news, timely editorials, articles by oldest divines, Talmage's Sermon of the previous Sunday, excellent notes on the Sunday School lessons, interesting health, household and other departments, instalments of a good moral story, and carefully selected miscellany. Every Methodist family in Canada should take it. Only $1 a year, with great reductions to clubs. Agents wanted at every post office. Big commissions. Sample copies sent free. Address: James' Publishing House, Bowmanville, Ont.

We have received a copy of a magnificent historical photo-engraving, "The Fathers of Confederation," the premium given with the Toronto Weekly News for the season of 1887. The Weekly News may be had of the News printing Co., Toronto, from now till 1889 for $1.00, with the engraving thrown in.

News Nuggets.

—A new twelve-foot sidewalk has been laid in front of the new post office.

—A crossing on Charlotte street, opposite the new Chamberlain block, is being laid down.

—The curling club has begun quarrying operations—getting out the stones for the season's play.

—Mr. John Cousins will have three rinks marked out to a T., ready for curling to-night.

—Many of our merchants report business as brisk. It can't be otherwise, Business men are advertising briskly in the EXAMINER now.

—Five Bobcaygeonites were fined last week the usual $50 and costs. Two others might have been fined if they could have been found.

A New Society Home.

The Enlarged and Improved Premises of Otonabee Lodge—Important Additions of Space—Vast Improvements in Every Way.

Beginning with its consolidation on Dec. 9th, 1882, Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows "has renewed its youth like the eagle" and has progressed with very gratifying rapidity in all respects. On the date of consolidation the membership numbered only about 14; now it has grown so that the membership roll contains the names of 104 members. An spacious and complete [illegible] were its present quarters, they proved to [illegible] for the purposes of the lodge and a short time since negotiations were opened with Mr. Geo. A. Cox, proprietor of the Clarkson-Cox block, to secure additional premises. Mr. Cox met the brethren in a most liberal spirit, and the result is the enlarged and beautified premises now ready for the use of the lodge.

The enlargement may be generally described as an addition of space which comprises of the Clarkson-Cox block. The new premises proper begin at the landing of the second flight of stairs. Facing this a wide passage, 7x22, leading from the landing to the main hall with folding doors at each end, and also having communicating doors—on the right leading to the reception room, and on the left to the main ante-room. In "times of peace" so to speak, this passage has all doors of ingress fastened and becomes the room for holding the paraphernalia for lodge purposes and degree work. At times when the public are admitted, as they will be on the occasion of the anniversary, Dec. 9th, these doors are thrown open and the room becomes a corridor for the public use.

THE WHOLE OF THE THIRD AND FOURTH STORIES

From the landing before mentioned a door on the left admits to the outer ante-room. From this, on the left, access is gained to the culinary quarters and a storeroom. A door on the right of this ante-room leads to

THE ANTE-ROOM PROPER, A SPACIOUS APARTMENT,

22x26 feet in area. In the middle of this room stands a large mahogany table, to contain necessary Oddfellow literature, etc. This room also contains a wardrobe for holding the regalia, etc. It is lighted by a three-jet gasalier. From this room is the society entrance to the lodge room proper, a spacious, elegant apartment, 35x26 feet, with which the public who have visited it and the readers of the EXAMINER are already familiar. It is conceded to be one of the in the jurisdiction; containing the best of furniture and equipment, its walls adorned with handsome pictures—emblematical and otherwise. A splendid Mason & Risch upright pianoforte is not the least conspicuous article of its furniture. When the projected decoration of the lofty ceiling is carried out, few, if any, lodge rooms in Canada will excel that of Otonabee lodge. Owing to the difficulty of securing suitable artistic skill for the ceiling decorations of this room, it is possible that it may not be completed by December 9th.

The portion of the lodge premises above referred to are the strictly society apartments.

THE TWO LARGE NEW RECEPTION ROOMS furnish facilities for the cultivation and enjoyment of the social relations. These rooms consist of two apartments, nominally separate, but connected by a large, wide, square arch. The united area of these two rooms is 30x41 feet. They front on George street and each is lighted by three large windows. On these windows will be painted the name and number of Otonabee Lodge, so that visiting Oddfellows to town, may easily see the cheering blazon and be made welcome to the hospitality of these social apartments. Each room is provided with a large mahogany table, lighted from above with elegant three branch gasaliers. On these tables will be placed a supply of society literature, journals, reports, etc., which are intended to form the nucleus of a permanent library. These rooms are a combination of reading room, reception room, parlors and business rooms. They will be opened, warmed and lighted nightly, and committees of the lodge may use them for their meetings, or members may meet in the evening for reading and social chat, or they may be used for dining rooms on occasions similar to that of the ANNIVERSARY CONVERSAZIONE ON DECEMBER 9TH.

These rooms will be made bright, cheerful and home-like. Upon the walls will be placed large and excellent photographic portraits of all the past grands of Otonabee Lodge.

The walls of the new rooms are artistically tinted in delicate canary, finished above with borders and below with a wide dado, the latter of different design in each apartment. The ceilings of all are done in dead white. Elegant new gas fixtures are provided for all these rooms, and all the globes will have the emblem of the order cut thereon.

Altogether the new premises of Otonabee lodge, which now occupy the whole of the third and fourth stories of the block, are as

and well adapted to lodge purposes in every department as are to be found anywhere, especially outside the larger cities. They front on two streets and are as conspicuous to outside view as they are conspicuous interiorly for convenience and elegance. The several rooms, six in number, are en suite, giving them collectively the air of an elegant home, and guests, on a public occasion, are given the freedom of the rooms and facilities for social enjoyment.

The fourth story contains two large rooms suitably fitted up for Encampment purposes.

While justifiably proud of their new premises, Otonabee lodge acknowledges gratefully in connection therewith. From the time the negotiations for the alterations, now so happily effected, began, Mr. Cox displayed a liberality and desire to meet the wants of his tenants, constituting him, so far as their relations with him are concerned, a model landlord.

THE KINDNESS OF MR. GEORGE A. COX

The work has been pushed as rapidly as circumstances would allow, under the superintendence of Mr. James McLennan. Mr. —. Campbell did the carpentery required. The plastering, tinting and paper-hanging were in the hands of Mr. Geo. Brown, and he has carried out his contract to the full satisfaction of the committee. The painting was done by Mr. Geo. Fry.

The committee who had charge of the renovations and additions, and who will be able from appearances to make a satisfactory report to the Lodge, is composed of Bros. E. W. Bell, Rebt. Rowe, R. M. Ray, D. Bellingham, J. L. Hughes and E. R. Henderson.

An Englishman Insulted.

The Rudeness of Reading Up Prejudices Lessened at the Hucksters Stall.

One bright June morning, some years ago, a party of travelling men were guiding out upon one of the most charming landscapes in the Susquehannah valley.

In the party was an English gentleman, whose prejudices were stirred by the blustering tones of the conversation. He grew restless and exclaimed :

"This may seem to you rarther a pretty scene, but if you want to see really beautiful scenery, you must go to England, where the air is softer, the grass greener, and the flowers more fragrant than here."

As he finished, one of the party, whose ancestors were of good old revolutionary Yankee stock, turned to him, and with more candor than politeness, said :

"My friend, in childhood, at my mother's knee, I was taught three things: First, to revere the great Creator; second, to love the stars and stripes; and third, to hate a Britisher. This is one of the many occasions when I fully realize the beneficial influences of early training."

Among the obstacles that obstruct a man's upward progress in this world, are prejudices which, planted in the character-forming period of early youth, he finds have become firmly fixed in his mature nature.

It is difficult to root them out. Men may battle as they will; they can seldom entirely overcome their early impressions.

The progressive man discovers that he must leave his prejudices behind, if he would "keepstep" in the ranks.

The barriers in the way of the truth-seeker have been broken.

Do you doubt it? Wend your way to the sanctuary some Sabbath morning, and behold! Universalist and Methodist clergymen occupying the same pulpit!

Do you doubt it? See, as may now be frequently be seen, physicians of different schools joining in consultation over their patients. See eminent members of the medical profession, like Dr. Roberts of London, and Dr. Gunn of the medical college of New York, publicly recommending a proprietary medicine, like Warner's safe cure, the only sure specific for kidney disorders and the many diseases caused by such disorders, and their views attested by hundreds of regular practitioners of various schools.

Note the fact too, that the leading clergymen, like Rev. Dr. Rankin, ex-chaplain of the U.S. Senate, and Rev. Dr. Kendrick, of the Rochester University, one of the international revisers of the New Testament, and thousands less well-known, publicly recommend this remedy, because it not only cures kidney diseases, but the many common-named diseases caused directly by them.

When medical men and ministers unite in such a course, who can doubt that intolerance has ceased to rule, in the learned professions at least?

The nomination of candidates for the officers of the Alma Mater Society of Queen's College took place on Saturday. Judge Mcdonald, of Brockville, was elected honorary president by acclamation, and, through the retirement of Mr. C. J. Cameron, Mr. Connell was elected president without opposition. Mr. Findlay, of Peterborough, was elected critic. The contests for the remaining offices will be spirited. Voting takes place on Saturday.

THE GOLDEN LION RAMPANT.

A Falling Market Strikes the Golden Lion and Showers of Falling Prices come Tumbling Down.

A CRISIS IN DRY GOODS!

R. FAIR

In anticipation of a Falling Market, has resolved to inaugurate a Grand Holiday Sale of his Immense Stock of HIGH CLASS DRY GOODS. The Stock, amounting at present to about $35,000 worth, must be reduced $15,000 before the New Year, and with a bona-fide determination to accomplish this result, will make such a Revolution in regular prices as will paralyse all attempts at competition. The following inventory of our Stock will give the Public a comprehensive view of its vastness in extent, value and variety, and being all of that well-known HIGH CLASS character, which the Golden Lion has continued to carry, offers a rare opportunity to the Dry Goods purchaser of Peterborough:—

$3,000 worth of the Choicest Dress Goods.
$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Cashmeres.
10 Pieces Black Silk Warp, Henrietta Cloths.
20 Pieces Black Gros Grain Silks, Merveilleux and Mascot Silks.
150 Pieces Colored Silks, Satins and Merveilleux.
75 Prices of Mantle Cloths.
50 Pieces Ulstering. 10 Pieces Sealettes.
600 Ladies' Black and Colored Jerseys, Braided and Plain, bought at 50c. on the dollar.
100 Pairs White Blankets. 100 Bed Comforters.
200 Pieces of Best Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, Full Cloths, Overcoatings, Pantings
200 Pieces of Grey Cottons.
150 Pieces of Steamlooms, Tickings, Towels, Towelings, Sheetings, Hosiery.
100 Boxes Black and Colored Cashmere Gloves, Kid Gloves, Ribbons, Laces.
50 Pieces Brussels Carpets.
100 Pieces Tapestry Carpets, Wool Carpets, Hemp Carpets, Floor Oilcloths, Linoleums, Wool Mats, Wool Squares, Crumb Cloths.

In the face of a Falling Market, no merchant would be justified in carrying so heavy a Stock at old prices. Therefore, in sympathy with the drooping market, down come the prices at the Golden Lion. The Sale is strictly for Cash, and the Public are assured that a veritable Storm of Tremendous BARGAINS is in store for them all through the Holiday Season, at

GREVY RESIGNS AT LAST.

THE RADICALS DO NOT WANT FERRY AS A CANDIDATE.

Louise Michel Arrested—Mobs Around the Hotel de Ville—Boulanger Returns to Clermont-Ferrand—The City Quiet.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—President Grevy's message, resigning the presidency of the Republic, was read in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. The text was as follows:

"So long as I had only to contend with the difficulties that have accumulated in my paths, the attacks of the press, the abstention of the men whom the public voice called to my side, and the increasing impossibility to form a ministry, I struggled on and remained where duty bade me, but at the moment when public opinion better informed marked a change which gave me hope of forming a government, the Senate and Chamber of Deputies voted a double resolution, which, under the form of an adjournment to a fixed hour to await the President's promised message, is tantamount to summoning the President to resign. It would be my duty and right to resist, but under the circumstances within which we are placed a conflict between the Executive and Parliament might entail consequences which restrain me. Wisdom and patriotism command me to yield.

"I leave to those who assume it the responsibility for such a precedent and for the events that may ensue. I relinquish without regret, but not without sadness, the dignity to which I have been twice raised without solicitation and in the exercising of which I feel conscious I have done my duty. To this I call France to witness. France will say that for nine years my Government has secured to the country peace, order and liberty; has made France respected throughout the world, has worked unremittingly to raise her, and in the midst of an armed Europe leaves her in a condition to defend her honor and rights. Further, that it has been able to keep the Republic in a wise internal course, marked out by the interests and wishes of the country. France will say that in return for this I have been removed from the post where her confidence placed me. In leaving political life I form but one wish. It is that the Republic may not be struck blows aimed at myself, but that it may issue triumphant from the dangers it is made to incur. I place on the bureau of the Chamber of Deputies my resignation of the functions of President of the French Republic."

The deputies received the message with profound silence. M. Floquet read a letter from the President of the Senate summoning a congress of the two Chambers at Versailles to-morrow for the purpose of electing a new president. The sitting then closed amid cries of "Vive la Republique."

Louise Michel Again Arrested.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—At 4.30 P.M. groups of people had begun to assemble in front of the Palais Bourbon. Louise Michel attempted to force an entrance into the building and was again placed under arrest.

A number of Radicals went to the Hotel de Ville to request the Municipal Council to join a deputation which will call upon the leaders of the Extreme Left to protest against the election of Ferry to the presidency.

In pursuance of the order to generals to rejoin their commands, Gen. Boulanger has returned to Clermont-Ferrand, his headquarters. His departure from Paris was unnoticed. The general aspect of Paris at 4.30 o'clock was quiet.

Mobs Around the Hotel de Ville.

PARIS, Dec. 2, night.—On a pretext that the Republic was threatened hundreds of Revolutionists and Socialists, followed by a big crowd, composed of all elements, started for the Hotel de Ville. Police and cavalry charged the mob, which retaliated with a volley of stones. A number of persons were wounded. The mob was dispersed. The Municipal Council has decided to publish in permanent session.

MM. Camilliant and D'Uquery, Extreme Deputies, with Ernest Roche of The Intransigeant, tried to harangue a crowd in front of the Palais Bourbon but were prevented by the police. Afterwards they proceeded to the Hotel De Ville followed by a mob. The guards dispersed the crowd but permitted the two deputies to enter. The Municipal Council was then dissolved, a proposal to proceed to the Palais Bourbon to-morrow to demand that the Chamber save the Republic.

M. Camilliant obtained a fervent hearing. The Municipal Council agreed by a vote of 54 to 16 to ask an audience with the Chamber of Deputies.

Prices on the bourse closed strong to-day.

The City Quiet.

PARIS, Dec. 2.—There was much less excitement in the city to-night than last night. Knots of curious people collected from time to time, but were easily dispersed. A few persons received slight injuries in scuffles with the police. Louise Michel was forcibly removed from the entrance of the Palais Bourbon and was then liberated.

M. Grevy has gone to his home, Mont-sous-Vaudrey. He left Paris on the 7 o'clock express train last night. M. Rouvier expressed himself last evening to the effect that if M. Ferry was elected President it would be his duty to see him safely housed in the Elysee Palace. He was confident he would be able to do it although it would be no easy task. M. Pelletan and other Radicals are credited with saying that M. Ferry would have to wade through blood to reach the Elysee.

SULLIVAN WILL GO TO JAIL

JOHN DILLON TO BECOME THE LEADER.

English Shoemakers on Strike—Lord Lyons Joins the R.C. Church—Bertoux and His Mistress.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A conviction was obtained to-day at the second trial of Lord Mayor Sullivan for publishing in his paper reports of suppressed branches of the league. Mr. Sullivan was sentenced to two months' imprisonment, without hard labor.

Lord Mayor Sullivan will be treated in prison as a first-class misdemeanant. He will not appeal from the decision, but will suffer his punishment proudly.

A despatch from London to the New York Times says Mr. Dillon's splendid reception at Plymouth creates interest more personal than political. When he returns to Parliament in February, he will be a close rival to Parnell and if the latter's health prevents his regular attendance, Dillon will be the leader of the party. This prospect does not appear to be pleasing to the English Liberals.

The result of the Dulwich election is a moral victory for home rule. In 1885, before the home rule question was raised, the Tories had a majority of 1694. Now, after it has become the issue more or less dividing the Liberal party, they win by 1412.

It is reported from Paris that Lord Lyons was received into the Roman Catholic Church a few days ago.

The shoemakers of Northampton, England, are on strike. They had an encounter with the police last night and a serious fight ensued. Eight constables were injured by being struck with stones. It is expected that serious trouble will occur at the end of the week, when an immense number of operatives will be locked out.

As Mr. Sullivan was leaving court to be conveyed to prison immense crowds, which had gathered in the streets, cheered him along the whole route. There were several conflicts between the people.

In the Bankruptcy Court to-day the examination of Mr. Borlase, ex-Under-Secretary of the Local Government Board, was continued. He admitted he had borrowed £1000 from Madame De Quiros, but said that money had simply been restored to him. He had never promised to settle £1500 upon her. Mr. Borlase said he had an average income of £2000. The further hearing of the case was adjourned.

Timothy Harrington, M.P. for the Harbor Division of Dublin, a brother of Edward Harrington, M.P., was arrested to-day in Dublin.

The arrest of T. Harrington is regarded in National circles as an attempt to cripple the league, he being the principal director since the arrest of Mr. O'Brien and the departure of Mr. Dillon on a tour of Scotland and England. Mr. Harrington, however, is able to prove that for the last five years he has had no connection with the Kerry Sentinel, the Tralee paper which published the proceedings of suppressed branches of the league. Mr. Harrington was met by an immense crowd on his arrival at Tralee to-night. There was a collision between the crowd and the police, and the latter charged the crowd and used their batons freely, injuring many persons. Mr. Harrington was bailed. It is rumored that Mr. Healy will be arrested.

The Massachusetts Fisheries.

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—The story that the fishery business was operated largely in Massachusetts by foreigners is dispelled by statistics that will shortly be published. Of the 15,625 persons employed in this industry in the State, 11,749 are resident fishermen, 993 are non-residents, 472 are shore laborers, 149 factory laborers and 136 are packers. The nationality of the resident fishermen is as follows: American 7543, English [illegible], Irish 547, Canadian 786, Spanish 2, French 158, Swedish 421, German 34, Greek 2, unknown 766. Of the non-resident fishermen 906 were Americans, 164 English, 173 Irish and 884 Canadian.

Eighteen Cocktails Killed Him.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Jacob Rheinboldt arrived here six months ago from Germany with $600 in his possession. He soon began drinking heavily and suffered from delirium tremens. Last Saturday, while nervous from the effect of drink, he entered a saloon and drank a cocktail. He then told the bartender to keep on mixing cocktails until ordered to stop, and in three-quarters of an hour Rheinboldt had swallowed eighteen glasses of the decoction. He then became violent, and on going to his room was attended by a physician, but despite the doctor's efforts he died yesterday.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

LIBRARIAN HOUSTON GIVES VALUABLE EVIDENCE.

Sam Young Has Wanted to Go to the Professional and Commercial Men—Carpenters' Union Heard From.

TORONTO, Dec. 2.

Mr. Wm. Houston, Librarian of the Provincial Legislature, was the only witness heard at the afternoon session of the Labor Commission yesterday. He made a lengthy statement in which he pointed out the defects of the present educational system, which tended to send young men into professional and commercial life, to the detriment of the artizan. He advocates the establishment of a Technological College with practical professors in all departments of technical study. Culture, he maintained, depended not so much on the subjects taught as on the method of teaching those subjects.

"Our mistake in Ontario," said Mr. Houston, "is that we have depended far too much on the selection of subjects to teach instead of considering the best methods of teaching them. This has been the great blunder of education in modern times. Teachers have simply perpetuated a bad system—that of stuffing children with a mass of facts, a large proportion of which are of not the slightest practical use to them in after life. Now, we are making some progress in the right direction, but not nearly as rapidly as we should."

Mr. Houston described the working of our public educational institutions—the kindergarten system, the primary public school and the provincial university.

The remainder of Mr. Houston's evidence was devoted to the decay of the apprenticeship system. He said that the best feature of trades unionism was that it tended to take the place of the middle ages "guild" spirit. If we wished workingmen to be less amenable to such doctrines as were preached in Chicago, there must be a better system of training them and improving their position.

At the evening session a delegation from the Carpenters' Union gave evidence. The first witness was Henry Lloyd, who attributed the improved position of the trade of late years to organization. He entered into particulars of the recent strike and [illegible] refused to arbitrate on [illegible] question. Personally witness was not in favor of striking, but the union as a body was favorable to it. This was his own opinion. The taking on of unskilled men often led to disputes. It also tended to bring down wages. He differed materially in his evidence on several points from that given by Mr. Dinnis. Men worked as carpenters who were only laborers and this the union objected to. If masters would employ such men the union fixed the minimum rate of wages.

Richard Southwell and John S. Ballantyne, carpenters, gave corroborative evidence.

James Wright, plasterer, spoke of the need there is for a technical school for ornamental plastering and gave particulars of the efforts he had made to establish classes for apprentices in Toronto.

The Commission adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

AFFAIRS IN MANITOBA.

The Halt Contract Not Accepted—Baptist Convention—Train Collision—Railway Purchase.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 2.—It is now a foregone conclusion that the Halt contract for the construction of the Red River road will not be accepted by the Citizens' Committee. It is felt by the majority of the committee that the Government is disgraced and must go to the wall. It is expected that the local election to fill the vacancy in Assiniboia will be brought on immediately.

Two freight trains collided on Wednesday night a short distance east of Port Arthur. All hands jumped and no one was seriously hurt. The damage was slight.

The Dominion Government have purchased the site for a new immigration building from Alex. McIntyre for $2000.

The annual convention of the Baptist Church of Manitoba and the Northwest held its first sitting to-night.

J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P. for Kingston, has severed his connection with the Department of Agriculture as intelligence officer at Winnipeg and will return east soon.

John Lowe of the Agricultural Department, Ottawa, left for home this evening.

Captain William Robinson purchased the fishing industry of Reid, Clark & Co. of Selkirk, for $60,000.

English Shoemakers on Strike.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A strike is in progress in the shoe factories at Northampton. Last evening while a body of police were escorting the workmen to their homes they were attacked by strikers and a severe struggle ensued. Eight constables were injured by being struck with stones. It is expected that worse trouble will occur at the end of the week when an immense number of operatives will be locked out.

Emil Paul has declared himself champion amateur ten mile runner of America, and announces that he will run any amateur ten miler or more for a trophy.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

THE COMMERCIAL UNION IDEA GAINING GROUND.

Negotiations Drawn to a Close—No New Treaty Suggested to be Considered—A Partial Forecast of the President's Message.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Mr. Chamberlain, who has achieved a great reputation as a dinner cook, will begin a series of dinner parties on his own account to-morrow. Up to the present time the negotiations looking to a settlement of the Fisheries question have not progressed very rapidly, but socially Mr. Chamberlain's visit here has been a round of successes. It is remarked with no small degree of surprise, however, that the Right Hon. Joseph has not yet been brought into contact with any of the members of the Senate who will be called to pass upon the forthcoming treaty. Very few Senators have called upon him, and he has no acquaintance with those who are quartered at the same hotel. Possibly this may be advantageous. In the meantime the idea of Commercial Union between the United States and Canada, upon the basis of the Butterworth Bill, seems to be gaining favor with members of both Houses. Your correspondent has talked with a great many during the past two days, and has discovered that the surface indications point to a great gain in the strength of the proposition. The leaders have not yet expressed their views, and if either party uses the whip in opposition to the bill, it may, of course, have no injurious effect upon its chances. The views expressed by Mr. Chamberlain, that the subsame is impracticable on account of the "most favored nation" clause of British treaties, is not endorsed to any extent here. The only questions at issue are, "Can the bill pass the American Congress?" and "Will the Canadian Parliament subscribe to its provisions?"

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Tribune's Washington special says: There is an impression prevailing that the Fisheries Commission will sit for the last night on Saturday next. It is based on the report that one of the Canadian Commissioners asserted at one of the dinners recently given to them that all of the Commissioners would eat their Christmas dinner at home. It indicates too that the negotiation of a new treaty has been found impracticable, a result said to be favored by Mr. Bayard, who is said to be despairing of getting a treaty acted upon by the Senate in its present temper. What the President will probably be able to announce in his message is that the commission has agreed upon an interpretation of the Treaty of 1818.

The ratification of the Extradition Treaty with Great Britain is to be urged by the President. A revision of the naturalization laws, the establishment of a central bureau for registration of naturalized citizens, and a hint as to the advisability of restricting by Federal statute immigration of an undesirable kind are among the topics discussed by the President in view of the recent Anarchist demonstrations in various parts of the country. A letter received from George William Curtis is said to have insured the insertion of a forcible argument in the President's message in behalf of the adoption of some measure covering the copyright question. The abolition of the tax on works of art again urged.

In a general and very guarded way the President recommends, it is understood, a liberal enlargement of the free list, mentioning, however by name none of the articles which in his opinion ought to be placed there. It is well known though that wool, salt and lumber are among the articles which in his opinion ought to be on the list. He will again ask Congress to repeal the act making the coinage of silver dollars compulsory and recommend instead that discretionary powers be given to the Secretary of the Treasury.

The President will in a cautious way recommend a liberal system of appropriation for the improvement of the Mississippi River. A good part of the message is devoted to the Indian question, and suggestions are made for a modification of the Severalty Act, in conformity with the experience of last summer. The appeal of the Pre-emption and Timber Culture Acts is urged in the strongest terms. The necessity of preserving the national forest is also pointed out.

The President will allude to the desirability of a restoration of American commerce on the high seas by the adoption of a more liberal policy towards neighboring nations. The President does not agree with the General of the army in recommending an increase of the present force. He urges the reorganization of the army on a modern footing, the abolition of the regimental system and the adoption of the three-battalion formation. He draws attention to the defenseless condition of the coasts, and points out what has been done in the matter of building new ships for the navy.

Senator Macdonald's Liberal offer.

HAMILTON, Dec. 2.—Hon. John Macdonald and Hon. S. H. Blake addressed the anniversary meeting of the Y.M.C.A. to-night. Senator Macdonald offered to contribute $6000, the balance of the amount necessary to be raised for the new Y.M.C.A. building, if that amount is not subscribed in Hamilton within a month.

HUMILITY AND KINDNESS.

SERMON BY LAWHAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

How very few people show Kindness. Add how few look for kindness, and, if they do expect it, how often are they disappointed. Yet what a lovely, comforting thing is kindness. It soothes the pains of sickness. It smoothes the hardships and disappointments of the weary wanderer. It softens the hardest heart. Like the examples and teachings of our Saviour while upon earth, it is virtually a religion of love and charity. It makes friends to itself wherever it goes. It often subdues the beast of the forest, and how longingly and patiently the horse and the ox and other domestic animals wait for and look for the manifestation of kindness, and how grateful they are for it. How soon they know when their friend is near. The dog of a cross kind master refuses to be comforted, and lies down and dies upon his grave. Humility and kindness go together. When you see a kind person you see a humble person. Humility and kindness are two of the best characteristics of human nature. They manifest themselves in the countenance and in all a man's movements and actions. Kindness at home is one of its greatest blessings. It brings to the home peace, contentment and happiness, and, when far away, and under all circumstances, the sons and daughters love to look back to the happy years passed with the kind parents in their old home. Such a home is the great sheet anchor of the children who were fortunate enough to possess it, and the remembrance of such a home oftentimes carries people through many a temptation and many a sorrow. It is a sun which shines bright in the darkest hour. All the world over it is the same. The Indian never forgets a kindness, and many a life has been saved by means of some kind act done, it may be long years before. Kindness is seldom forgotten. It often happens that at the close of a long life there comes up to the mind little acts of attention and kindness received in infancy, and which have never been forgotten. The sick patient in the hospital feels happier and better after the visit of the lovely and kind nurse, who cools his fevered brow and encourages him to bear up under his troubles, and to look forward with faith and hope to better things. And the little moaning, sick child listens with anxious ears for the approach of one who always brings comfort, and whose kind words bring happiness and peace. The poor little castaway, cut upon the street, with no home, with tattered clothes and perished with hunger, crouching behind boxes and passing weary hours on door steps, not knowing whither to go or which way to turn, is overjoyed when a kind woman takes him by the hand and leads him to a place of comfort and safety. He can hardly realize his good fortune. But he never forgets the kindness thus shown him, and when the time at last comes for him to shew his gratitude how ready he is to do it, and how happy it makes him. Kindness is inseparable from the nature of some people. Others again are cross and morose, always out of temper with the world, never having a good word for anybody. They have no compassion for the faults of others, and no encouragement and sympathy. If a kind word would do good good they cannot speak it. And if a kind action would win friends they cannot give it. Such people are not only harsh with those round them but they are dissatisfied with themselves. For them there is no sunshine and their sky is always dark and dreary. They live in perpetual hate and trouble, and wherever they go they drive away the smile and the merry laugh, and make others as miserable as themselves. The beautiful earth has no charms for them and the street song of the birds greets upon their ears. Fathers and mothers made up of such people are a misfortune and curse to their children, and the which home might be peaceful and happy is made desolate and miserable. The children steal around, they dare not romp and play, and they speak in whispers, and when they enter their so-called home they feel as if the light had gone out and black clouds covered the sun. How pleasant it is to look upon a humble man or woman or a humble child. To be humble is to be kind. The humble man or woman is a stranger to pride. The chosen Christian is humble and good. A feeling of charity fills his soul and his heart beats in sympathy with the humble and honest man. Pride is a curse to any one, rich or poor. It makes him odious to others. It prevents friendship It drives away the honest and the poor. It alienates its possessor from the world around. What a great sacrifice a man or woman makes who thinks himself or herself better than others. They don't live in the world, but exist simply in imagination. There is no reality about them. They strut about for a short time and they are gone. No one cares for them and no one had a good word for them. They leave no friend behind. But what a misfortune it is to children who have a vain, proud father or mother. As far as it can be done they are made to follow in the footsteps of their silly parents, and the result is that when they go out into the active world they meet with no encouragement or support. They have been taught to believe that no [illegible] and they then find a wall of [illegible] themselves and others surrounding them wherever they go. If they are sick or suffering they are left to themselves. If they are unfortunate in worldly business they can look to no one to take them by the hand or help them.

It is too late, when a mistake has been made in their early life and how much misery and trouble they have to endure. But, with most of them, it is too late, and, too late to throw off the cold shade of pride that has clung by proud and foolish parents. They don't know the value and the comfort and happiness coming from social equality and from humble and honest hearts. They don't know the pleasures of intercourse with the lowly and the good. They don't know the real necessity of humility and friendship. They live in an icy, cold atmosphere which hardly freezes, but almost cuts off the first and warmest affections of human nature. There is for them no sweet smile, no loving friendship. And in the pride and vanity of their hearts they seem content to pass on onward for ever and ever. They would think it a humiliation and disgrace to take the hand of the honest, toiling man or woman with them. Let us take notice to which class people are brought up here in this free and glorious country. Let the attitude in which both young and old, rich and poor, learned and unlearned are here taught to stand before God, and the very gate of Heaven.

Universal Appreciation.

The medical profession, the clergy, the press and the public alike acknowledge the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters, as an unequalled remedy for chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and blood. Its popularity increases with its years of merit. 2w47d

Prevailing Sickness.

The most prevailing complaints at this season are rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, inflammations and consumption. For all these and other painful troubles Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best internal and external remedy 2w47d

SUPERIOR QUALITY

The results as anticipated, which the cold season of September and October would have on Fur bearing animals, has been realized to the fullest extent. Their pelts have not only become earlier prime but have also been provided with a richer color of fur than many a season before. Therefore the collection of Furs bought this season from the trappers direct by us, are of a far Superior kind and we are now ready for filling Orders. There is an unusual run on PLUCKED BEAVER in Cities, and Peterborough will not fall behind in fashion. An early call has many advantages in selections as in making up at short notice. All our goods offered to the public are manufactured on the premises, the only place in Peterborough manufacturing Furs, and therefore we can recommend our make to the public. FIRE AT THE LONDON ASYLUM.

Property Destroyed—Three Patients Smothered.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—This morning fire broke out in the drying room of the laundry at the London Insane Asylum, and before discovered was beyond control. The drying room is situated in a large building directly in rear of the main building and connected therewith by a wing. The fire spread rapidly through the roof of building and wing. For some time it looked as if the main structure was doomed, but fortunately the wind was south and carried the flames away from the main building. The rear building was gutted by flames and the roof of the laundry, scullery, bakery, kitchen, boiler-room and mens, if not all, of the original appliances of the institution were destroyed, together with a large quantity of building and clothing belonging to the inmates and attendants.

The asylum being about one mile east of the city the waterworks do not extend to the institution and the water supply to the asylum is furnished by two steam pumps in different parts of the grounds and the pressure available was not what it should be. Added to this the city hose would not fit the asylum couplings, but, notwithstanding, the flames were prevented entering the main building.

The inmates were well managed during the fire and there was no confusion to speak of to hinder the firemen. No patients escaped. The loss is in the neighborhood of $30,000. It probably will exceed that figure. It is supposed to have originated from an oily rag coming in contact with a steam pipe. The building was well insured. No person was injured.

HENRY TAYLOR VERY ILL.

The Imprisoned Bank Wrecker Found Unconscious in His Cell.

LONDON, Dec. 2.—This morning about 1 o'clock Turnkey Colville of London Jail was attracted to Hendy Taylor's cell by deep groans, and upon entering found the ex-President of the London Bank cold on the floor. An alarm was given and Jail Physician Smith was summoned. Taylor was found to be in such a state of unconsciousness that it seemed doubtful if he could be restored. Several hours of vigorous treatment brought him partly to his senses, but all day his condition has been anything but promising. Drs. Woodruff, J. M. Smith, Robert Smith and Wishart have been in attendance all day. Should Taylor die before he is legally examined the present financial confusion of a couple of monetary institutions and several large firms will be worse confounded.

Taylor refused to have his wife or any member of his family sent for, saying he would never perish them to see him in jail. They have not seen him since his imprisonment.

THE BOYCOTT ON LEHIGH COAL.

The Philadelphia Reading Asked to Act as Arbitrators of the Miners' Strike.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—A Philadelphia despatch says that through the efforts of General Manager McLeod, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, and a committee of the Reading employes and striking miners, all danger of serious complications between the company and Lehigh operators, because of the interception of "Lehigh coals" coal, has been averted. It is thought that the Reading freight hands will not in future attempt to intercept any more "coals" coal coal down from the interdicted Lehigh region. The editors of the leading papers of Philadelphia were appealed to yesterday by a committee of miners to act as arbitrators in the Lehigh strike, and the committee was assured that the cause of the men would receive the hearty sympathy and co-operation of the editors.

Finerty Returns to a Crowded Hall.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—John F. Finerty delivered an address to the members of the Great Club last evening on "American Citizenship." He referred to the growing custom of immigrants settling in large numbers in cities and characterized it as one of the evils against which legislation should guard. He thought it proper and right that the surplus now in the national treasury should be used in part to establish immigrants on farms. Mr. Finerty was made an honorary member of the club.

In Brief, And To the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in relegating this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings restored happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate, stop and bring a new growth of hair. Sold by all first-class druggists. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

PRICES IN DRY GOODS

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be put down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

A DECISIVE VICTORY

The County Wins the Grand Junction Suit.

The Imperial Privy Council Dismisses the Bickford Appeal With Full Costs. —A Long and Gamely-contested Struggle for the County's Rights Rewarded Ratepayers Jubilant Over Their Good Luck.

This morning the following cablegram arrived at the office of Mr. E. B. Edwards, County Solicitor, from Messrs. Robinson, Poole & Robinson, the London Solicitors :—

"Victory. Appeal dismissed with costs on points that Railway not begun in time, and want of engineer's certificate."

Mr. Edwards is en route home from England, and is expected to arrive in Halifax this evening and Peterborough on Monday or Tuesday. A message, notifying him of the above fact now awaits him at Halifax.

The counsel in this important case were, for the County ; E. B. Edwards, Sir Richard Webster, Attorney-General, and Mr. Jeune ; for the Grand Junction Company, Hon. Edward Blake and Sir Horace Davey. The Solicitors for the county were Robinson, Poole & Robinson ; for the company, Messrs. Bompas, Bischoff, Dodson & Cove.

The receipt of the cablegram, announcing the success of the county in its long struggle in the law courts, causes the most unbounded satisfaction. A final and complete quietus has been given to a costly course of litigation. The farmers who visited town this morning are in high spirits, and exchanged congratulations with the most delighted fervour.

Man as He Is.

A Lecture upon this Subject by Rev. John R. Lansdley in the Charlotte Street Church.

Those who missed the lecture in the Charlotte street church Friday evening missed one of the greatest treats of their lives; those who attended, and their paucity of numbers was, no doubt, owing to the inclement weather, never enjoyed a similar entertainment better. Rev. John R. Lansdley delivered a lecture upon "Man". His address throughout was listened to intently, extending as it did with apt illustrations, beautiful sentiments, humorous allusions and startling truths. The reverend speaker possesses a fine address and a power of speech with which he succeeded in transmitting his own thoughts, eloquently expressed, to the minds of those in the audience.

At the door a good silver-sized collection was taken up in aid of the Sunday school. Rev. Mr. Tovell acted as chairman and after an opening selection on the organ, by Mr. Schneider, introduced the speaker.

Rev. Mr. LANSDLEY said it had been stated by some poets that the best study of mankind was Man, and this was particularly true of the present age. There were many theories as to whence man comes, and whither he goeth, hence he was quite a problem. After refuting the evolution theory as to the origin of man, the lecturer said that all the evidence of facts went to prove that man was descended from one parent who was directly of God. Touching upon the circumstances of life that surround man, his knowledge and appreciation of their worth and their adaptation to his wants, the speaker said it was man's study of things about him that had brought to him the high civilization he now enjoyed. The idea at one time prevailed that everything that occured was the will of God ; that whatever was, was, and could not be altered. A great change had taken place, however. Men to-day do not believe that because God provided horses and oxen and asses for them to ride upon, that these should be the only means of locomotion. To-day we have railways, and steamboats and other means of travel. Other improvements growing out of man's wants and his utilization of natural resources to supply them, were instanced. But prodigality in any sphere produced poverty, therefore men were taught to realise the true value of the laws of nature which govern them.

The reverend speaker next touched upon the relationships of man, and all their consequences, duties and claims. Underlying all these principles, he said, there was some basis of relationship out of which all written statutes are constructed. The laws were fixed, final and eternal ; men were law students, and should endeavor to study them out. God had written, "Thou shalt not kill"; but His saying so did not make it law; He simply revealed the fact of the law unto man, whose duty it was to obey.

The design of his address, the lecturer said, was to take up the broader view of dealing with the general topic of man as he is in this world and his universal brotherhood. How utterly dependent men were on one another ! The lecturer said he wished to impress this point upon the audience, and hoped they would never get proud of themselves or think themselves better than others. He then went on to elucidate the point, which he did in several ways. One illustration will do to show the force of his argument. The speaker said he was rich—very rich—in fact there were few men richer. The audience smiled at this statement. Then he went on to prove it. He practically owned several morning newspapers, which he received every day just for a few dollars. They were printed just as well as if done with his own money. Then he owned the system of waterworks and street car line. A long line of pipes were laid from the pump-house to his residence, and he got all the water he wanted, for only a few dollars. At every hour of the day his street cars were passing up and down ready to transport him. Only a matter of five cents. Then he was proprietor of several large lines of railway, upon which he could ride anywhere for a few dollars. The telegraph, steamship, a great many other things were at his disposal—all for a few dollars. Why, he said, the whole of the wealth of Vanderbilts and Goulds could not maintain for themselves alone what he was enjoying without labor or toil ! The speaker next pointed out how every man was dependent on his fellowmen for a living.

Reflections came upon these facts. The lecturer dealt with the obligations of toil and thought that man owed to man, arising out of their mutual dependence. In illustration of the universal dissatisfaction of the human heart with any stated level or position, the lecturer referred to communism and the various forms of existing evil in the world to-day. These reflections gave the lecturer opportunity for the full play of his abundant humor, and he kept the audience in laughter at his will. But in spite of all the evil in the world, he said he believed that the percentage of good was 99 in the 100. The evil occurrences of every day life were the sense that travelled amongst gossipmongers and was published in the newspapers. He urged his hearers to believe that there was far more good in the world than bad, and they all would be better for it.

In conclusion he appealed to the men of to-day to think and toil unceasingly for their fellow-men, for in so doing they would benefit themselves. Let none sit down and say, "I have done my share." And "by love serve one another." Love was the great tie that bound men to God and to one another; the specific for all the ills that flesh is heir to.

Rev. Mr. Tovell brought the meeting to a close by a few appropriate remarks and the pronunciation of the benediction. The people present expressed themselves highly delighted with the lecture, of which the above is by no means a full report.

Personal.

Mr. W. Salisbury, bookseller and stationer, has been appointed stamp vendor for the new post office. The appointment is an excellent one in every respect.

Mr. Turner, the carver of stonework of the new departmental buildings at Ottawa, was in town to-day instructing his men as to the carving of the stonework of the new post office here. He expresses a regret that the stone is not of finer quality so that he might be enabled to show our townsmen a fair sample of his workmanship.

Mr. Wm. Young, lockmaster at Burleigh Falls, is in town to-day receiving the congratulations of his friends upon securing the above appointment in the face of competition. Mr. Young thinks that as the salary of the lockmaster is small, and as he is required to remove to Burleigh Falls, the Dominion Government should erect a dwelling for him in proximity to the locks. There is plenty of stone convenient and a suitable dwelling might easily be erected. We have no doubt but that, through the influence of Mr. Stevenson, M.P., Mr. Young's interests will be looked after and the locks either removed to Young's Point or a dwelling erected.

The musical portion of the services in St. John's Church to-morrow will be unusually attractive. At the morning service, Lloyd's Te Deum will be rendered. In the evening : The anthem will be "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," with Mr. J. B. Hutchins in the solo ; the offertory anthem will be quartette and chorus, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought"—Mrs. Seward, Miss Cottingham, Mr. J. Morris, and Mr. Hutchins, solo.

Obituary.

The Late Andrew Wilson.

It is with deep regret that the announcement is made of the death of Mr. Andrew Wilson, which took place suddenly this morning at about six o'clock. It will be recalled by the readers of the EXAMINER that four weeks ago Mr. Wilson returned from a business trip to Belleville seriously ill. His illness continued and became severe, that dreadful malady, typhoid fever, became complicated with a kidney trouble—acute nephritis—and many times all hope of recovery was abandoned and death was momentarily expected—especially about a week since. But the patient rallied wonderfully and was, up a few minutes before his death, thought by both physician and friends to be on the high road to recovery. The fever had disappeared for two or three days, the kidney trouble gave symptoms of great amelioration and the time of danger appeared to be passed. This morning, however, shortly before six o'clock, Mr. Wilson was attacked by a severe pain in the bowels. The nurse did what she could for its relief but a few minutes after the seizure the patient was dead. The suddenness of the end after hope had been wrought up to a high pitch of expectation is a sad blow to the bereaved wife, mother and friends. Mr. Wilson has been a well known resident of the town for the past fifteen years. He was 38 years of age at the time of his death. He was married to Miss Louise Morrison, sister of Mr. Geo. A. Morrison, ten years ago. His death leaves a widow, one child and an aged mother who was an inmate of the home now deprived of its head. The forethought of deceased secures to his family the benefit of life insurance to the amount of $7,000. The funeral will take place from the family residence, corner Harvey and London streets, on Monday at 3 o'clock p.m.

A CRISIS IN DRY GOODS!

R. FAIR

In anticipation of a Falling Market, has resolved to inaugurate a Grand Holiday Sale of his Immense Stock of HIGH CLASS DRY GOODS. The Stock, amounting at present to about $35,000 worth, must be reduced $15,000 before the New Year, and with a bona-fide determination to accomplish this result, will make such a Revolution in regular prices as will paralyse all attempts at competition. The following inventory of our Stock will give the Public a comprehensive view of its vastness in extent, value and variety, and being all of that well-known HIGH CLASS character, which the Golden Lion has continued to carry, offers a rare opportunity to the Dry Goods purchaser of Peterborough:—

$3,000 worth of the Choicest Dress Goods.
$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Cashmeres.
10 Pieces Black Silk Warp, Henrietta Cloths.
20 Pieces Black Gros Grain Silks, Merveilleux and Mascot Silks.
150 Pieces Colored Silks, Satins and Merveilleux.

M. SADI-CARNOT ELECTED.

THE FRENCH PEOPLE'S CHOICE ADMITTED TO BE A GOOD ONE.

Satisfaction in Paris—Great Animation on the Boulevards—German Opinion of the New President—The Vatican Sends Its Congratulations.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The congress of senators and deputies to elect a successor to President Grevy was opened at 2 o'clock by M. Leroyer, President of the Senate.

Deputy Michelin, an Irreconcilable, asked leave to make a motion, but the President refused to allow him to do so, declaring that the Assembly was an electoral college.

Paul de Cassagnac observed that the Assembly was sovereign.

M. Gautier contested the competency of the President to limit the Assembly's rights.

President Lecuyer replied: "I take my stand on the constitution."

Deputy Michelin wished to propose to revise the constitution.

The President again declined to allow M. Michelin's proposal to be made and the latter entered a protest. The matter was then dropped.

The balloting for election of a President began at 2.15 p.m. At 4.15 p.m. the ballot closed, and after it had been counted the result was announced as follows: Sadi-Carnot 303, Ferry 213, Saussier 148, De Freycinet 76, Appert 72, Brisson 26, other candidates 26.

De Freycinet and Ferry withdrew in favor of Sadi-Carnot.

On the second ballot Sadi-Carnot received 606 votes. The announcement of his election was received with cries of "Vive la Republique."

After signing the Proces-Verbal of the decisions of the Congress and despatching the necessary official notifications of the result of the election, President Lecuyer, attended by ushers and followed by the Ministers, proceeded to his private apartment, where M. Sadi-Carnot was waiting. M. Lecuyer addressed the newly-elected President as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that the National Assembly has just elected you to the Presidency. I congratulate you in the name of the Congress and desire to add to those congratulations my personal compliments."

M. Rouvier also congratulated M. Sadi-Carnot, adding: "The Republicans in uniting to elect M. Sadi-Carnot have given proofs of the sentiment of union and concord which actuated them, and at the same time afforded the country a pledge of peace and prosperity."

In acknowledging the congratulations M. Sadi-Carnot said: "I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the congratulations and sentiments expressed. I am filled with gratitude to the members of the Assembly, who, in uniting their suffrages in my favor, bore witness to the desire for peace and concord with which Republican France is animated. My dearest wish is that this great day may remain present in all minds and hearts. It signifies that the representatives of France can be united. Their common efforts can and must secure the Constitution, assuring an active and a stable working government, capable of bestowing upon the nation liberty at home and dignity abroad, with all the benefits which our country expects from the republic. Once more I thank you. You may count on my entire devotion."

Meanwhile a squadron of cuirassiers was drawn up in the courtyard, and when the President came forth with his Ministers the troops presented arms and paid him military honors. M. Sadi-Carnot entered a carriage with M. Rouvier, and with the other Ministers in carriages following the cortege, started at a rapid pace for Paris. An escort of cuirassiers brought up the rear. The other Senators and Deputies returned to Paris on a special train. The news of the result of the election was received in Versailles with the greatest enthusiasm. A large crowd surrounded the Congress building throughout the afternoon, shouts of "Vive Carnot; vive la Republique," mingled with various patriotic cries continued for a long time with unabated vigor.

M. Sadi-Carnot drove direct from Versailles to the Elysee to take formal possession of the palace, but soon retired to his own residence, No. 35 Rue dps Bassins. The inhabitants of that quarter speedily assembled and greeted the President with enthusiastic shouts of "Vive Sadi-Carnot," and "Vive le Nouveau President."

M. Sadi-Carnot appeared at the window of his house and said: "I give you hearty thanks, citizens, for this evidence of your sympathy. I beg you to prove by your calm demeanor and regard for order that you are in truth worthy to have a Republican Government."

The speech was received with shouts of "Vive la Republique." The people dispersed quietly. Many houses and shops were illuminated and decked with the tri-color to-night. The streets at this hour (1 a.m.) are rapidly emptying.

An immense crowd assembled this evening at the St. Lazaire Station, the Paris terminus of the railroad from Versailles, to await the arrival of the Senators and Deputies. Great animation is shown upon the boulevards, but there is no disorder. It is apparent that the result of the election gives general satisfaction.

A GERMAN ESTIMATE.

The New President of France Looked Upon as a Feeble Man.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Official and diplomatic circles in Berlin were absorbed in to-day's developments in Paris, but the public interest was not as all strained. An unceasing stream of telegrams poured into the Foreign Office, and the details of the voting at Versailles were sent without delay to Friedrichsruhe.

The election of M. Sadi-Carnot is better received in official circles than would have been that of M. de Freycinet or M. Ferry. The new President is considered to be a feeble man and one who would be unwilling to consent to complications which might bring about a European war. It is also believed that he will be unable to make alliances against Germany. His personal preferences are for a neutral, pacific policy, and he will try to govern through a ministry with the same tendencies.

Telegrams received from the German Embassy at Paris record the gratifying fact that, though it was considered necessary to guard the approaches to the Embassy, everything was peaceful during the excitement. The utter absence of any anti-German demonstration, the efforts of M. de Rouleda and others to provoke a patriotic ebullition finding no response, is raising hopes of a prolonged arrangement of the revanche sentiment.

General Rejoicing in Paris.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—Nearly all of the Radical newspaper offices were illuminated to-night, and there is general rejoicing throughout the city. The revolutionary element can have no further excuse for disorder, and should any arise it will be summarily suppressed.

AN INCURSION OF RATS.

The Cold Drives Them in From the Prairie, and They Overrun a Colorado Town.

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 3.—It is stated that the Town of Hugo, Col., is overrun with rats. J. M. Humphrey has received a letter from there stating that rats have collected in the town by the million, and asking him to gather all the cats he can find and express them there. As a result Humphrey collected from owners who were glad to give them away, 250 cats in his own town, put them in cages and expressed them to Hugo. The next day he went to Malvase, twenty miles distant, and there collected 300 tom cats and expressed them also. Yesterday he visited Mount Hope and gathered up 100 more and sent them forward. He intends to finish out 1000 cats and then await further orders. The cold weather has caused the rats to come in from the prairie in great numbers and they are playing sad havoc with residences and merchandise of all kinds.

WHY SIR CHARLES WAS CHOSEN.

The Opinion of a Leading Conservative—The Failure Anticipated by Sir John.

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—"Can you explain why Sir John did no go to Washington himself?" was asked of a leading Conservative here the other day—a man who has means of knowing the inner workings of the Ministerial machine.

"Yes, I think I can," was his reply, and, after a pause, "Sir John would never have yielded the position to another if he thought there would be a chance of making a particle of personal capital or glory out of the job. He had looked it all over carefully, and he saw only two possible results. Otis was a wholesale surrender to the Americans, and the other a failure to make a treaty and the enforcement of the Non-intercourse Act against Canada.

"But why should he place so prominent a Minister as Tupper in so unfortunate a position?"

"Did Sir John ever hesitate to sacrifice a colleague when his own claims to be paramount required it? O, no, he is bold enough to kill off his oldest friend to save himself?"

"Will not Tupper soon discover this and resent it?"

"It will be too late—he will be discredited and powerless. Hints will be dropped that his rashness or want of tact caused a failure, which Sir John will profess to regret. At the same time the great and dangerous power which Tupper has acquired since the last general election will be curbed, will be like Samson with his hair cut off, and he will be again a tractable follower of the Chieftain."

"But you have omitted all reference to Unrestricted Reciprocity as a possible alternative which might render negotiations successful."

"As to that, Tupper's hands are tied down by instructions to propose only reciprocity in natural products, and no one imagines he can get that alone. Of course Tupper has a large discretionary power as to what he says and brings up at the Commission, and no one knows his private instructions but himself, so that he can easily bring matters into such a shape that Unrestricted Reciprocity would be up for discussion."

"Is there no chance of Sir Charles taking up that line in order to make a successful treaty?"

"What, go against the plan Sir John has laid down for him and place himself at the mercy of the Opposition? Sir John is not afraid of that. Depend upon it, I am right. Unrestricted Reciprocity will not be considered at Washington, the Commission will be a failure, Tupper will be discredited, and of course Sir John will be very sorry for him. Good-bye, and mark my words."

GENERAL EUROPEAN NEWS

THE CROWN PRINCE'S CONDITION STILL IMPROVING.

Tension Between Russia and Germany—Apology to Mr. Healy—The General Telegraphs—Travel Restrictions—Mr. Goschen Leaves Dublin—Plot to Murder Lord Hartington.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Society is again agitated by reports of scandals. The sudden death of a wealthy peer is linked with the name of an actress. In revenge for the exposure of Col. Hughes-Hallett, a Tory member proposes to ask why an inquest was held in relation to the death of the said peer, who was known as an active supporter of Mr. Gladstone. Should this be carried into effect there will be a row.

There is a chance that the Tory member will be nullified by the revelations resulting from Mr. Berlese's bankruptcy. Mr. Berlese was a subordinate member of Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Administration. He held office but a few weeks and early last session found it necessary to give up his seat. Ill health was pleaded at the time, but the knowing one smiled and now it is all out. Mr. Berlese, in his rosy days, was worth, say $50,000. In addition to had an exceptionally fine library and art collection, which alone be valued at $5000. A man of taste and culture, he was somewhat reckless in expenditure, and when he opened a second establishment for the benefit of the interesting Madame de Quiros, the end came with startling rapidity. Furies find this unhappy case very consoling. The Dilke and Berlese cases, wherein the accused were both colleagues of Gladstone, weigh heavily against the case of Col. Hughes-Hallett. But the Tories are quite prepared to make their opponents' scale bump the ground, if party exigencies demand it.

The conversion of Lord Lyons to the Roman Catholic faith happened six months ago, although he was baptised only last Monday. He has been attending mass regularly for four months.

The latest bulletin from San Remo says that the Crown Prince was out driving to-day in a closed carriage on account of wet weather. The decided diminution of the congestion of the larynx for the last few days still continues, and there is nothing to indicate the return of the grave symptoms which appeared in October. The continuance of favorable reports gives rise to the hope that the Prince's condition is not so desperate as was at first thought. It is rumored that the doctors' opinion as to the cancerous nature of the disease is greatly modified. The case of a patient with similar symptoms, in whom the growth on the larynx vanished after partial removal, is quoted from a recent work by Prof. Lewin. Experts in Berlin are not so optimistic in their belief, and are certain that the diagnosis of a cancer is accurate, and that the cancerous growth is merely retarded by the present treatment.

Prince William, the future Emperor of Germany, has disclosed the adoption of earnest religious ideas. He is intensely serious in the duties attached to his elevated position. This feature of the Prince's has been criticised in Berlin as showing reactionary tendencies likely to cause trouble when he comes to the throne.

The tension between Russia and Germany still continues. The Czar was not able to gain control of the anti-Teutonic party, and although he is personally convinced of the friendly intentions of the German Government, he has not succeeded in persuading the Imperial Council that practical measures are necessary to restore an entente. It was the intention of Count Herbert Bismarck to go to St. Petersburg on a special mission, to clear up the misrepresentations of the German policy arising from the cabal of the Orleanists with the anti-Teutonic Court party, but the mission was abandoned, owing to the evidence of treachery already disclosed to the Czar being unavailing.

In reply to a challenge sent by Mr. Healy to Mr. Macdonald, the land advocate of Scotland, to give the authority upon which he had said that he (Mr. Healy) had advocated the wholesale robbery of landlords, Mr. Macdonald sends an apology to Mr. Healy.

There was no demonstration in Trafalgar-square or Hyde Park to-day, notwithstanding the threats of the Socialists.

A man named Feeney, who made himself prominent in the rioting in Limerick last Sunday, was arrested at Queenstown to-day as he was going on board a steamer bound for New York.

The negotiations between England and France in connection with the co-operative working of the Channel telegraph wires promise to result favorably.

The London Morning Post to-day says that after the failure of certain Parnellites to induce the Fenians to murder Lord Hartington, American Fenians undertook the task. They went to the Continent, and, in connection with a few Irish Fenians, concocted a plan by which the rails on the road between Kingstown and Dublin were to be removed in order to wreck the train carrying Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen last week. Shots were to be fired in the carriage occupied by the English visitors. The railways was abandoned on the receipt of the news that Lord Huntington and Mr. Goschen were not on the same train and that the former drove straight to Mr. Forster's residence in Leopardstown, thus avoiding Dublin.

It was then arranged to attack Mr. Forster's carriage in a lonely lane and murder Lord Hartington or some one to the Wicklow Mountains, and there hold him as a hostage for the release of William O'Brien and other political prisoners. The plot miscarried owing to the watchfulness of the police.

Graham and Burns, charged with rioting in Trafalgar-square, will be removed, under a writ of certiorari, from the Old Bailey Court to the Queen's Bench, in order to secure the highest opinion in the law as regards the right of meeting in Trafalgar-square.

Mr. Goschen, in reply to an address from the Constitutional Club, said he would return to England invigorated by witnessing the numbers and spirit of the Irish Loyalists.

The Italian newspapers in Rome congratulate the French people on the election of M. Sadi-Carnot to the Presidency.

The Vatican has sent instructions to its Nuncio in Paris to pay an early visit to President Sadi-Carnot, and to establish friendly relations at the outset with the new Administration.

The Irish Times, Conservative, says: "It is the first time in our annals where a chief magistrate of a city has placed himself in a position where he represents resistance to the law. To his duty is no complaisance exempting obedience to the law.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 3.

The grain market was good to-day, especially barley, and somewhat firmer, while the produce market was only fair.

LOCAL GRAIN MARKETS.

The local market to-day showed considerable activity, about 4000 bushels of barley sold at 62c to 72c, and from 600 to 600 bushels of wheat at 65c to 66½c for fall, 77c to 78c for spring, and 72c to 73c for goose; 200 bushels of oats at 27c to 29c. Hay was somewhat scarce at $16 to $18 for outside price. Straw was very scarce at $11 to $12. Dressed hogs quoted at $6.25 to $6.35. Beef $5 to $6 for forequarters, and $7 to $7 for hindquarters. Mutton $5 to $6.50; lamb at $6.50 to $7.50; veal, $5.50 to $6.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKETS.

The retail market to-day was only fair with prices much the same, except poultry, which was decidedly weak. Prices: Beef 12c to 14c; sirloin steak at 12c to 14c; round steak 10c to 11c. Mutton, legs and chops 12c to 15c; inferior cuts 8c to 10c. Lamb 7c to 9c for front, and 11c to 12c for hindquarters. Veal, best joints 12c to 13c; inferior cuts 8c to 9c. Pork, chops and roasts 10c. Venison, carcass $4 to $6; haunches $3 to $3½. Butter, lb. rolls 23c to 25, large rolls 20c to 22; inferior 16c to 18c. Lard, tubs 9c to 10c. Cheese 14c to 15. Bacon 10c to 12c. Eggs 28c to 29c. Turkeys 6c to 7c per lb. Chickens, per pair 35c to 40c. Geese 60c to 70c; box lots 5c to 6c per lb. Ducks 35c to 60c. Partridges 60c to 65. Potatoes, per bag 20c to 30c. Apples, per barrel $2 to $2.25. Beets, per bush. 30c to 40c. Onions, bushel $1.50 to $1.75. Celery 20c to 30c a doz. Turnips, bag 40c to 50c. Carrots, bag 50c to 60c.

London Cheese Market.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Fifteen factories offered 2573 boxes, 675 August make, 1898 September and balance of season. Sales, 625 boxes September and balanced at 10½c; 98 at 11c.

Diphtheria in an Orphan Asylum.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 3.—The authorities of the Mount Hope Catholic Orphan Asylum are taking every precaution to prevent the spread of diphtheria among the children of the institution, and the most powerful disinfectants are being applied. The disease made its first appearance about three weeks ago, and during that period eight deaths have occurred. Ten children are still down with it.

Ice-bound Vessels Released.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Dec. 3.—The tug Mocking Bird of Oheboygan succeeded in opening a channel through Mud Lake about 10 o'clock this morning, and all the vessels which have been ice-bound since Tuesday got through. The weather was much milder this morning, and the channel will probably be navigable for a few days.

THE CORNER IN METALS.

The French Syndicate Forcing Up the Price of Copper.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The excitement in the Metal Exchange, caused by the heavy purchase of pig tin, bar copper and lead by a French syndicate, is gradually disappearing. The activity of the syndicate is not less than it has been, but the operators here are getting accustomed to the present condition of things. The market is quiet and is a waiting one.

The uncertainty of what the next few days may bring forth is having an appreciable effect on all transactions. Brokers are aware that any sudden political catastrophe in France would send prices flying and are therefore backward about touching any stock. Meades, the syndicate broker, was on deck, however, and ready to absorb any goods offered. The total sales in lead were about 300 tons against Friday's 700 tons. Another bear attempt to break the market was made, this time in lead, but failed, as did Friday's endeavor to sell down tin. Meades took everything cheaply.

Sensational reports regarding fires in the Calumet & Hecla mines in the Superior region were used as bull arguments. The bettors on 20 cent copper before 12 cent copper are getting sanguine. Lake ingot copper opened yesterday at 16 cents; spot copper closed at 16½; January futures at 16 45-100, and other futures beyond 16½.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1887.

THE Court of Appeal has made an order extending the time for the trial of the Kingston Dominion Election petition.

AND now the Toronto World "chips in" with the Globe-Mail circulation squabble. It doesn't seem to need odds either. The World claims that its circulation is equal to the combined circulation of the Globe and Mail. The reader has three candidates from which to select the champion—diplomat.

OTTAWA Free Press says that the "Tory organs continue to libel Mr. Purcell, the member for Glengarry. Their latest slander is that he is going to turn Tory and support the Government. This is a greater libel than that for which Mr. Stillwell had to pay $200 and spend three weeks in jail. Ministerial journalists should beware of Stillwell's fate."

A VERY little logic goes a long way with Mr. W. H. Smith, the Montreal weather wiseacre. He makes the prophecy that the month of December will "be marked with thaws, rains and general slush, because a month of such weather followed a thermometer down to zero in the last week in December, in 1881 and this year the thermometer made a similar record in the last week of November.

THE coal ring of the United States is giving the people of that country a very practical illustration of the power of combination to keep up prices. They have managed to restrict production so as to bring about artificial scarcity of coal, and, as a consequence, prices have been forced up to such an extent that there is already great suffering among the poorer portion of the working classes in the cities, and the winter is only setting in. The New York Journal says:—

"All the coal swindlers are now playing for the life-blood of the poor people. They have rushed the price up for one reason or another until the pail of coal in a tenement house costs what the people ought to get two pails for. When we have hard, freezing weather this will be terrible for the people."

If Horace Greeley were to rise from his grave he would hardly know what became of his theory that home competition would keep down prices. Before very long if we do not have a change in the ring methods of government, which already attain an alarming extent in this country, the people of Canada will learn something more than they know now of the arbitrary and selfish power of manufacturers' combinations.

FROM time to time there arises from the mouths of Tory politicians in England a wail of "fair trade"—a name stolen from the smugglers of a past age in England, and representing the imposition of protective duties. Good Tories in Canada who advocate a protective policy from principle or rather "interest," point to the immense growth of protection sentiment in the Mother land. Lord Torrington and Lord Stanley, of Alderney, two English Tories of the old school, sent to the London Standard, the most conservative of British Tory journals, an appeal for funds to carry on the high tariff agitation. The answer got, was not encouraging. The Standard told them in effect that they and their sympathisers were many well meaning but thoughtless busybodies, bent, without realising the tendency of their agitation, upon the destruction of the Empire. The Standard adds: "It is well that they come out into the open to tell their plans for degrading the commercial Empire of England to the insignificant obscurity of another Holland. Their aim is not a noble one. The country will be well quit of the nuisance when the weakness of the whole outcry has been exposed."

IF the Hebrews have the reputation of being the champion money-makers, some of them deserve the credit of being princely in their liberality. Witness Sir Moses Montefiore, and a more recent example, the Baron Hirsch. This gentleman has donated ten million dollars for the establishment in Russia of primary schools for Hebrews and two hundred thousand for works of charity. The Czar has accepted the princely contribution. The $10,000,000 are to be paid into the Bank of England, and Baron Rothschild and Baron De Worms, who were appointed trustees, and who will be replaced in case of death, will receive the interest of the sum so deposited. It is estimated that, with its annual interest of about $600,000, it will be possible to open 1,600 schools, receiving 80,000 children, who will then be rescued from ignorance and bad example, and given a chance to make their way in the world. The significance of the scheme is added to by the fact that in Russia there is no public school system such as we in this Dominion sustain. Never has such a magnificent gift to the destitute been made by a rich man in his lifetime.

SOLID FOR FIVE YEARS.

BRITAIN'S CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT FIRMLY ESTABLISHED.

Suggestions of Gladstone Giving Up the Reins of Driving Again Suppressed Almost Gallic—A Speech by Hartington.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Herald's London special says: It is very noticeable that even among the stoutest Gladstonians a fortnight of Parliament buries to be accepted similar to that I have long told before you. They find that the Gladstone bill will never do. Moreover, they begin to doubt whether this Ministry is not safe beyond the reach of attack. Labouchere admits this week that the Government may remain in three or four years more. Cast up the numbers of the respective parties, and the conclusion is unavoidable. The Conservatives have a majority of 180, and four Home Rulers have gained four seats in one year, ergo, it would take them at that rate twenty-five years to turn out the Conservatives.

This Parliament will expire in 1892, according to recent usage, its full term of seven years not being up till 1892. No Conservative Minister would dream of dissolution, even if grave difficulties in public affairs arose. The present Government might conceivably resign, but another Unionist Government would immediately be formed. Hartington or Churchill would be sent for by the Queen, not Gladstone, because the party with a clear majority would have a right to claim the trial of an alternative Ministry. All hopes, therefore, of driving the Conservatives from office are mere delusions.

This Parliament, barring an earthquake and other abnormal convulsions, will last nearly five years more. Many people dislike that prospect, and they try to soften it by building castles in the air. But the big battalions are with the Unionists, and they win in politics. If, indeed, Mr. Gladstone were to die and a Hartington-Chamberlain Government were to be formed there is no telling what might be the consequences.

Lord Hartington, addressing his constituents to-night, said that as long as Mr. Gladstone's object was to establish a Parliament in Dublin, there would be no hope of a reunion of the Liberal party. When the Liberals were willing to co-operate with the Unionists for the extension of local liberty, local self-government and freedom, Ireland would find that the Unionists were its closest friends.

COMMERCIAL UNION MEETING.

Mr. Erastus Wiman and Mr. Goldwin Smith at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 3.—The Opera House this evening was crowded to the doors on the occasion of the visit of Mr. Erastus Wiman and Prof. Goldwin Smith to the city. The subject of Commercial Union has been one of the chief topics of conversation in the city for some time, and the residents of the city and surrounding country turned out in large numbers to hear the question explained by two of its principal advocates. The proceedings were opened by President J. S. Brierley of the St. Thomas Commercial Union Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held. After a brief address he introduced Dr. Goldwin Smith, who was received with loud cheers. In an address of over half an hour's duration the Doctor, in his usual able manner, explained the nature of Commercial Union and disposed of some of the arguments lately made use of by the opponents of the measure. He was followed by Mr. Erastus Wiman, who spoke on the question, "The perfect development of Canada. Is it inconsistent with British interests?" It was given as a reply to the two speeches made by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain prior to his departure for Washington. He said those who would be hurt most by Commercial Union were the English manufacturers. It was not intended against the British Government or British institutions.

The policy of the British Government, he thought, was to make the people of all their colonies and possessions as happy as possible and, therefore, if Commercial Union would be beneficial to Canada, as was admitted by nearly every one, the cry that there would be discrimination against England was disposed of. The affection of Canada for England was more than one of dollars and cents. It was not thought disloyal to buy in the United States markets with a tariff; therefore why would it be disloyal to purchase without a tariff? It was the duty of the English manufacturers to look after their own and their children's interests. It was also the duty of Canada to do that which would most benefit Canadians. Mr. Wiman was frequently interrupted during his address by loud outbursts of applause, and at the conclusion a vote of thanks to both of the gentlemen, moved by Mr. Jas. H. Coyne and seconded by Mr. A. McCrimmon, was unanimously carried.

A resolution, proposed by Mr. J. C. Dance, Warden of the county, seconded by Mr. B. F. Hathaway, Deputy Reeve of Yarmouth, recommending the subject of Commercial Union to the consideration of the people, was also unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned by giving cheers for the Queen.

Mr. Erastus Wiman addressed a large audience at Aylmer this afternoon, taking as his subject, "The Resources of Canada." He was accorded a good reception, and the meeting showed its appreciation of his telling arguments by the manner in which they were received.

"Never despair," is a good motto for all. If afflicted with any lingering disease, remember "while there is life there is hope." Never despair of relief until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures diseases of the stomach, liver and blood when all other medicines fail. 2w49d

A Postmaster's Opinion.

"I have great pleasure certifying to the usefulness of Hagyard's Yellow Oil," writes D. Kavenagh, postmaster, of Umfraville, Ont., "having used it for soreness of the throat, bowels, colds, etc., I find nothing equal to it." 2w49d

GOUGH,

THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN'S GREAT STRIKE.

An Upheaval to take place in Peterborough and the Dry Goods Trade to be Shattered to Pieces.

Twenty Thousand Dollars Worth of New, Fresh and Seasonable Dry Goods,

Stopped in transit to British Columbia, and bought by Gough, the Wonderful Cheap Man,

AT 50 CTS. ON THE DOLLAR.

Everything New and Fresh from the Looms; they have never been unpacked from the cases and yet they are to be sold at

50 Cents on the DOLLAR.

Call out the DOGS OF WAR now, for Gough is going to take a hand in Dry Goods, too, and as he bought them at 50 Cents on the Dollar, something must give, even though it be the Imaginary Clothiers.

My store will be closed until Saturday morning, Nov. 26, so as to enable us to unpack the goods and prepare for the Great Sale.

We would advise the Ladies of Peterborough not to miss this opportunity as the Bargains to be offered will be Most Startling.

The Stock is comprised of GENERAL DRY GOODS, including

and all are to be sold without reserve. The reader will please bear in mind that this GIGANTIC SALE will commence at 8 o'clock sharp on SATURDAY morning, November 26, at my store, and I would advise one and all to call early and avoid the rush, as we expect a Crowded Store.

Our Immense Stock of Suits and Overcoats will be removed to the 2nd and 3rd Flats, and in these Departments SWEEPING REDUCTIONS will also be made. We will sell you a good Overcoat for $2.50 worth $6.00, and Suits will be reduced in accordance. Never in the world has such a chance been offered to get Beautiful New Dress Goods & Clothing so Cheap, and henceforth every person who wants to save a Dollar should go to the Wonder of the 19th Century! Between now and Xmas the air will ring with the name of GOUGH the Wonderful Cheap Man, George Street, Peterborough.

N. B.—We have but One Price, therefore save yourself Trouble and us Time by making no offers. Also bring the Cash with you as no Credit will be given

SHIPBUILDING ON THE LAKES.

Fifty-Three Craft, Of Over 24,617,000 Added to the Tonnage During the Year.

DETROIT, Dec. 3.—Vessel owners generally concede that the season just closed was the most prosperous they ever experienced, and certainly the record of the shipping built on the lakes this year would seem to bear out the statement. Vessel property has seldom if ever been quoted as high as at present, and with the exception of the Vernon and Oneota, all the craft which were hastened to please during the season were of low grade, principally canal schooners which had outlasted their usefulness except as carriers of coarse freight. The new tonnage added to the lake fleet during the year and placed in commission includes fifty-three vessels, total valued at $6,617,000. The improvement is due chiefly to the high freights, which prevailed from the opening of the season to its close, for iron ore from the Lake Superior mines, creating a demand for craft of the largest class.

Of the fifty-three vessels, forty-nine were steam and four were sail. Of the former, forty-three were of wood, five steel and one (built by the Detroit Dry Dock Company), composite. Of the tonnage, 26,649 was for individuals and 27,686 for railroad and steamboat companies.

JURIED FOR THEIR LIVES.

The Inmates of a Burning Hotel in Guelph Have a Narrow Escape.

GUELPH, Ont., Dec. 3.—At 3 o'clock this morning fire was discovered on the first floor of the Commercial Hotel, one of the largest hotels in the city. It had made such headway when the guests and boarders were awakened that escape by the stairway was impossible, and all had to jump from the windows in their night clothes to save their lives. Although there were several narrow escapes none are supposed to be seriously injured. Hough, the proprietor of the hotel, was seriously burned in rescuing his family. The third and fourth stories of the building are completely gutted, and the hotel will have to be entirely rebuilt.

One Life Lost.

GUELPH, Dec. 3.—The body of Charles Rake has just been found in the ruins of the Commercial Hotel, destroyed by fire last night. He was reported safe at first and afterwards missing.

AGAINST THE GRAND TRUNK.

It Recently Cut Rates and Incurred the Enmity of American Roads.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Congressmen Townsend and Springer, with other gentlemen, had a consultation to-day with Senator Cullom relative to some legislation which, by amendments to the Inter-State Commerce Law, will regulate the traffic of this country passing over the Grand Trunk and other Canadian railways from points in the United States through Canada to other points in this country.

Each of these gentlemen will introduce some measure in Congress which will accomplish this purpose without reconsidering any increased cost of transportation to the consumer. It has been suggested by others, who have carefully considered the subject, that Congress should require the payment of customs duties on articles re-imported into this country over the Canadian railways.

To Be Hanged for Murder.

MASON CITY, Ia., Dec. 3.—Sheriff W. F. Clark of Floyd County will execute Chester Bellows Dec. 16. The gallows is now being built. It will be entirely inclosed, and no one will be allowed to witness the execution but those explicitly mentioned in the code of Iowa. It is the first hanging in two years and the only one under the present law. Bellows will be brought from Anamosa Penitentiary some day next week. He will be hanged with the same rope that was made for Lingg, the Chicago Anarchist, the sheriff having secured it from Sheriff Matson.

A Heavy Blow to Anarchism.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The Anarchist Socialist Committee called upon the Mayor this morning to plead for permission to supply beer at the Battery D demonstration of this day week. His Honor inexorably declined to alter his previous decision. Subsequently they offered to detail fifty of their number to see that everybody was sober, but his Mayor dismissed them by inquiring who was to keep the fifty sober. The deputation then left.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Hint to Housekeepers.

Mrs. Robert Williamson, of Glenilla, Parry Sound, Ont., says, "I could not keep house without Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand. I have used it in my family for croup, sore throat, and a cut foot, and can highly recommend it to everybody." 2w49d

In a Dreadful Condition.

Hattie E. Manthorn, of Mill Village, Ont., says, "My cough was dreadful. I could not sleep at nights on account of it, but when I used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam I had rest and was quickly cured." All druggists sell this invaluable cough remedy. 2w49d

A Big Wheat Business.

Over sixty carloads of Manitoba wheat were received at the C.P.R. station here last month, 26 for local flour mills, and the balance, 40 cars, for distribution on the Grand Trunk line.

Send In Your Copy, Please.

Merchants who have been fortunate enough to secure space in Christmas number of the EXAMINER, are requested to send in their advertisements, so that the edition can be issued in good time for early distribution.

Tea Cargo.

If you want to get GOOD tea go to the Palace Grocery where you can purchase all kinds and qualities at lowest prices. See the new fruits before leaving your 'Xmas order. A few barrels hand-picked apples left.

Destitute Hides.

The local market in beef hides has fallen considerably the past few days, consequent upon a decline in prices at the commercial centres. In Montreal, No. 1 beef hides bring 6, 5 and 4c., trimmed and inspected—a fall of 2c. all round. Local prices have declined in about the same proportion.

TAY BALLEIS for hay, oats, bran, shorts; all kinds of mill feed cheap.

Parochial Visits.

On Sunday His Lordship Bishop Dowling visited the parish of Douro, and preached in the church there. An address of welcome was presented to the Bishop and a large amount of money subscribed. The Bishop will visit Emilymore parish on Wednesday and Thursday, and on Friday go to Emily, remaining over Sunday.

Toasting a Cheese-Buyer.

Mr. John T. Warrington left for Montreal on the midnight train Friday, says the Belleville Intelligencer, and will soon sail for England. Mr. Warrington is the largest cheese buyer in this section of the province. He has been closely identified with the cheese industry for the past 13 years, and the keen competition and ready market which his means afforded have done much to bring that industry to its present importance. Since establishing himself here he has paid out for cheese in the Belleville district $1,500,000. Mr. Warrington on the occasion was entertained by cheese buyers and cheese sellers at a complimentary banquet on Friday night.

Shorthand at the BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Young Men and Women.

The Practical Educator has the following: "If a young man (or woman) wanted to be always sure of a good situation," said a business manager in Boston lately, "I would have him learn to write shorthand, learn the typewriter, and add book-keeping, so that he could keep the accounts at a pinch. Then no matter how hard the times are he would be sure of work. If he got out of a place I'd agree to take care of him until he found another, every time." Shorthand and typewriting can be learned at the Mechanics' Institute building, where Miss Harper, a qualified and thorough teacher, has formed classes in instruction. Get her rates and begin the study at once.

It Is Both a Comfort and Advantage In selecting your boots and shoes, to have a large and varied stock to select from. All who can appreciate this advantage should visit STINSON BROS.

In Luck.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"A week ago, Councillor McMullen "set up" the oysters for the Times and Guide reporters. Last Monday night Councillor Honor had the honor to do the grand at "Patsey's," after the session of our city dads had concluded. Well, reporters have accommodation for bivalves, the opinions of learned men to the contrary, and our reporter is no exception, for the way he made the oysters disappear was a caution. Hip-hip-horray for Honor, he at least should be elected to the Mayoralty, if not for M.P. Now, who's the next." Here is a most worthy example for the councillors of Peterborough to follow. Will the civic legislators of progressive Peterborough allow themselves to be outdone by the councillors of Port Hope?

News Nuggets.

—Navigation has closed on Stony Lake.

—The police court was a blank this morning.

—Mr. D. Pilkey will run Lakefield's skating rink this winter.

—Mr. Wm. Deacon shipped a carload of cattle to Montreal on Saturday.

—Not a single tramp registered at the police station Sunday night. Strange!

—Mr. J. M. Irwin and family have moved to their fine new residence at Nassau Mills.

—The new electric light on Smithstown hill now sheds its rays over a large territory.

—A new sidewalk is being laid down in front of the new Chamberlen block, Charlotte street.

—A meeting of the court of revision of the town council will be held Wednesday evening. Parties interested are urged to attend.

—A Sabbath School Institute, under the auspices of the Presbytery of Peterborough and by their appointment, will be held at Grafton on December 12th and 13th.

—The navvies engaged in ballasting on the Peterborough division of the C.P.R. have been paid off by station agent Dunn. About $300 was paid out. Work for the year has ceased.

—The November demand of the Nicholl's Hospital is $408.74; the revenue is placed at $122.40. The demand shows an increase over the two preceding months.

—Up to date about $40,000 has been taken in at the Collector's office. A little over $7,000 in taxes yet remains unpaid, which will be subject to the five per cent. increase.

—The Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora railway closed business for this season on Thursday last. The engines have been taken apart and everything made secure for the winter.

—Now then boys and girls, get your skates out and rub them up. The winter is here, and the ponds are covered with ice. By the way, it's not healthy to skate on the back of your head too much, with your feet in the air.

Complimentary Supper.

A few of the most intimate friends of Mr. Charles Russell, principally among his brother Oddfellows of Otonabee lodge (of which he was the efficient secretary), learning at a late hour that he was to leave town early Monday morning for Georgetown, decided to tender him some slight mark of the esteem in which he was held and of regret at his departure. The "farewell" took the form of a supper at Chamberlain's, Saturday evening. Between twenty and thirty sat down to the "spread", to which ample justice was done. The chair was occupied by Mr. M. Mowry, N.G. of Otonabee lodge, and the vice-chairs by Mr. W. F. Green and Mr. James Hendry. The chairman, vice-chairmen, and Messrs. Roy, Workman, E. Dawson, Clarke, McGill and several others gave expression to their feelings of regret at losing "Charlie," as he was a general favorite with all his friends and associates. Mr. Russell was deeply touched by the kind words addressed to him and replied feelingly. Mr. Russel's departure from Peterborough will be regretted by a large number who were unable to attend the supper Saturday evening.

Rev. Sidney Mallory, it is supposed, will be ordained 4th Sunday in Advent.

Rev. Father Rapsile has exonerated from his former illness. He conducted mass in St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday morning.

Mr. Charles Russell, late of the Business College, left town this morning for Georgetown, where he has secured a situation in the offices of the Georgetown Rotary Co.

The provincial government has appointed Mr. Joseph Hunkard, of the township of Otonabee, to be bailiff of Third Division Court of the County of Peterborough, in the room of A. W. McIntyre, resigned.

A requisition, largely signed by the electors of Lakefield, has been presented to Mr. W. H. Cassimat asking him to allow himself to be placed in nomination for the Reeveship. We understand he has acceded to the request of his fellow citizens. Mr. Cassimat is a shrewd business man and one in whom every confidence is placed. In him the village interests will be well guarded. Congratulations. W. H. is sure to poll the votes of all the unmarried female property holders.

Obituary.

James Wood, Cavan.

On Friday, December 2nd, James Wood, one of the old residents of the township of Hope, passed away to his rest at the age of sixty-five years. The deceased gentleman was born in Ireland. He left that country in company with his father and coming to Canada settled in the township of Hope, where he has remained to the time of his death. In business affairs his thrift and industry were rewarded with good success. He amassed a considerable property. He was a man held in the highest respect by all classes of the community in which he dwelt. He was an uncle to Mr. Robert Fair, merchant of this town.

James Baxter, Otonabee.

On Saturday evening, November 26th, Mr. James Baxter, of Otonabee, came to the end of his earthly life, in the 73rd year of his age. He was a native of County Fermanagh, Ireland. In the year 1832 he came to Canada, in company with his mother and four sisters, his father having previously died. His only brother, the late William Baxter, had preceded him to this country some years previously. In 1839 deceased settled in Otonabee, and married Abigail Hall, eldest daughter of the late William Hall, of Cavan. Of this union eleven children were born—ten sons and one daughter, of whom six sons and the daughter survive, together with the wife, to mourn a husband's and a father's loss. The funeral took place on Monday, the remains being followed to the Little Lake Cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. His end was peace.—[COM.

Mrs. Johnston, Peterborough.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Johnston took place this (Monday) afternoon from the family residence, George street. Deceased was the relict of the late Simon Johnston, and was aged 68 years. With her husband she removed from Cavan to Otonabee a number of years ago, and from there to Ashburnham, where Mr. Johnston died, since when Mrs. Johnston and her son and two daughters have lived in Peterborough. Deceased was a sister-in-law of Mr. Thos. Johnston, of Otonabee.

Hurt in the Guelph Hotel Fire.

Messrs. Wm. Mein and James Bogue, of this town, were among the guests injured at the burning of the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, on Saturday. In escaping from the burning building Mr. Mein suffered a dislocation of the hip and an injury to the back. Mr. Bogue had his shoulder injured.

The following particulars are from the Guelph Mercury:—

James Bogue, masonry contractor on the Guelph Junction, seems to have been the first in the house to give the alarm. He and four of his men were boarding there and Bogue had brought one of them, Wm. Calder, who was sick with inflammation of the bowels, down to his room which was situated at the head of the stairs on the first flat, right in the centre of the building. Bogue was sleeping lightly and was aroused by Calder getting up, and at once smelt smoke and saw it coming from the partition over the fan light. He opened his door and shouted "fire", then gathered up his things, took Calder in his arms and got out on to the balcony at the back of the first flat, from which a staircase led to the ground. He got Calder dressed instantly, and then made a rush back to get his papers, which he succeeded in doing. He then got on the back balcony and helped some women out, after which he went down to the ground, partially broke the fall of Ralph Haugh, the proprietor's little son who was thrown out to him, and with the aid of a blanket, he and others caught five of Mr. Haugh's children, who were dropped down by Miss Hannah Haugh. Another of his men, Wm. Mein, who was in the third story, jumped, missed the blanket and came to the ground with a thud. He was found to have his hip dislocated. In trying to catch the girls, who were dropping from the windows above to the back balcony, Mr. Bogue was struck on the shoulder by a box which had been thrown out. Mein's hip has been set but there is considerable swelling.

Star of Bethlehem.

Those desirous of seeing the Star of Bethlehem must rise between one and six o'clock in the morning. This is claimed to be the same star that led the wise men of the East to the place where our Saviour lay in Bethlehem. It is three times as large as an ordinary star and much brighter, although it is much dimmer than when first seen a month ago. It is said to appear once in 1,000 years, so if the present generation don't get up some fine morning soon they may never have a chance to see it again.

Dress Making! We are pleased to announce that Miss Johnston, the Toronto Dress Maker at Turnbull's is delighting everybody with her work. She is introducing many New Styles in Peterborough, is prompt and obliging, and with Turnbull's extensive Range of Dress Goods at her disposal, is prepared to satisfy the most exacting taste on the shortest notice. WASHINGTON'S GALA DAY

THE OPENING OF CONGRESS OVERSHADOWS ALL OTHER EVENTS.

The Fisheries Commissioners Will Meet Again To-Morrow—Nothing Regarding Their Deliberations Can be Learned Until They Decide to Make the Information Public.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The meeting of Congress was the great event which overshadowed all others to-day. At precisely 12 o'clock the gavel fell in each house and the Fiftieth Congress was set in motion. The Fisheries Commission and their staff occupied seats in the Diplomatic Gallery, and the President's Gallery was graced by the presence of Mrs. Cleveland and her guests. The re-election of Speaker Carlisle in the House was a mere formality, and the only relief from the monotony of the proceedings was the singing of the doxology by a Salvation Army enthusiast, who occupied a seat in the gallery. An officer was dispatched to attend to him, but before he could reach him the doxology was finished and the singer was more easily subdued than the excitement he had created.

The budget asks for an appropriation of $336,000,000, which is an increase of a million and a half over last year. A measure for the creation of a Public Works Department, similar to that existing in Canada, will be introduced by representatives from Illinois.

The Fisheries Commissioners will hold their next session on Wednesday. The rumors which have been afloat during the past few days relative to various proposals by the respective commissioners, are the veriest speculation. While it is quite probable that mature propositions form a part of the deliberations, it is absolutely certain that nothing regarding them can be ascertained until given by consent of all the plenipotentiaries.

THE AMERICAN CONGRESS.

The Newly Elected Senators Sworn in and the House Organized.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Senate galleries were early crowded to-day and overflowing. Mrs. Cleveland clad in a costume of dark green and accompanied by Mrs. Gilder, Miss Kingsford and several other lady friends occupied the seats reserved for the family of the President in one of the private galleries. The diplomatic gallery was filled by members of the various legations, the front seat being occupied by the Chinese Minister, his secretaries and associates. The Minister wore a magnificent robe of light blue satin, and his companions were clad as richly, though in more subdued colors. The ceremony of administering the oath of office to the newly-elected Senators was then proceeded with.

Long before noon the galleries of the House were crowded to their utmost capacity with spectators; the ladies were in the majority and their gay costumes lent an air of animation to the chamber. As soon the House was called to order, when a crank in the gallery started a Salvation Army hymn, which he sang lustily until he was ejected by a doorkeeper.

John G. Carlisle was then elected speaker and made a speech of thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He also dwelt with much stress upon the imperative necessity of such a moderate and reasonable reduction of the tariff as would guarantee the laboring people against the effects of financial depression and at the same time not deprive them of any part of their just rewards of their toil. The work of organizing the House was then proceeded with.

When the roll call had been completed and the Senators-elect were sworn in the customary committees to give notice to the President and the House of Representatives were named and the Senate adjourned.

At the completion of its organization the House adjourned.

Must Not Yet Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—It was expected that John Most would be sentenced to-day, but the case was postponed until Thursday to give Counsel Howe time to prepare his argument in favor of a new trial.

PHARMACY COLLEGE CASE

THE ELECTION TRIAL COMES TO AN ENDING AT LAST.

Who Will Pay the Costs?—Application at Osgoode Hall for Further Directions—The College and Councillors Bristley and McGregor Exempt.

TORONTO, Dec. 6.

What was perhaps the last act in the drama of the Ontario Pharmacy College Election took place yesterday morning in the Chancery Division at Osgoode Hall before Mr. Justice Robertson, when Mr. C. R. W. Biggar, on behalf of nine members of the college council, applied for further directions as to His Lordship's recent judgment in the case and also to vary the order as to costs. Mr. W. F. R. Creelman applied in the same interests for Councillors Pakes and D'Avignon, Mr. Wallace Nesbitt and Mr. W. R. Raymond for the plaintiff in the case, Jacob M. Pearen; Mr. J. K. Kerr, Q.C., for Registrar Geo. Hodgetts and Scrutineer Chas. Love and Mr. E. A. Gunther for Councillor C. K. McGregor, Brantford.

Mr. Biggar put in the following memoranda as to the matter upon which further direction was desired. The ruling of His Lordship upon each point is appended to each:

I. The decree should make it clear that new nominations may be made of members of the Pharmaceutical Council for the election to be held on Jan. 11, 1888. It is submitted that this is the effect of His Lordship's note of his judgment, but the Registrar will not undertake to decide the point.

His Lordship said he intended to allow new nominations and would alter the decree accordingly.

II. Further provision should be made in the decree for the interim administration of the affairs of the college. Taxes on the college buildings are due on Dec. 6. A number of accounts are waiting for payment. The examiners on Dec. 15 to 19 will be entitled to their fees and mileage, and the fees paid in by candidates should be deposited, but there is no Registrar to sign cheques, or endorse them for deposit. (Bylaw III.) It is submitted that until a new President and Vice-President are chosen by the new Council in February, those appointed by the council of 1886-7 should be declared to be still in office.

The judge said it would be sufficient if the president and vice-president were continued in office.

III. The Registrar has sent in his resignation, and some of the examiners appointed by the late council seem to be unwilling to act. Other unforeseen contingencies may occur before February, 1888; therefore leave should be reserved to any of the parties to apply to the court for further directions in case it should become necessary.

His Lordship gave leave to apply as asked.

IV. As to the costs, amounting to between $2000 and $3000: 1. C.K. McGregor does not ask for costs against his co-defendants and should not have them, as held his seat just as much as any one else, attended the August meeting (the only one which the present council held), took an active part in the proceedings and drew his mileage like the others; 2. the costs of the college should be paid, not by the members-elect of the council, but by the persons whose misconduct has necessitated their action; 3. the members-elect of the council are entitled to their costs one against the other defendants, they have not held on to their seats improperly. The only meeting they have ever held was the statutory meeting at Kingston in August and this was held under an express arrangement between the solicitors for the plaintiff and for these parties, and no business was done except to admit to practice the candidates who had passed their examination in June, and "such formal business as was necessary to keep matters in statu quo pending investigation;" had the council resigned in a body the college would have had to wait for legislation before a new election could have been held; if not so ordered by this judgment the defendant who has to pay all these costs can get no relief from any of his co-defendants by means of another action.

Mr. Kerr objected to the question of costs being reopened. The Judge said he had not made up his mind without full consideration and he refused to alter his judgment on this point.

Mr. Biggar asked for leave to appeal, which was also refused.

The judgment as finally settled provides:

1. The election of July 6, 1887 is not aside.

2. A new election on the old list is to be held on Jan. 11, 1888; nominations to be received from Dec. 11 to Dec. 31; Gen. A. Besner of Toronto, solicitor, is to be returning officer; Messrs. A. R. Fraser and Isaac Lewis, chemists, scrutineers.

3. The first meeting of the new council is to be held at the College Building, Toronto, on Wednesday, Feb. 15, the usual semi-annual examinations are to be held on Dec. 12 by Messrs. Yeomans, Gregory, D'Avignon, Fraser, Kennedy and Sanders.

4. All the defendants, except the College, Brierley and McGregor, are to pay the costs of the other parties.

This means that the costs will have to be paid by Neil C. Love, Hugh Miller, R. W. Hilee, Geo. Hodgetts, Chas. Love of Toronto; President Edmund Harvey, Guelph; J. E. D'Avignon, Windsor; Neil C. Polson, Kingston; G. W. Harkness, London; W. B. Sanders, Stayner; R. Weightman, Owen Sound; W. O. Foster, St. Thomas and L. W. Yeomans, Belleville.

"GOING, GOING, GONE."

The Selling of a Stock at an Auction Exposure Money Premium.

TRENTON, Dec. 5.—At an auction sale of household furniture here Saturday afternoon in the large store owned by Messrs. Weir & Tandy, and occupied as a furniture store, as the auctioneer was in the midst of "How much for it?" the floor suddenly gave way, precipitating about sixty to seventy-five persons into the cellar, a depth of about nine feet. When they touched bottom the furniture, which had been arranged around the room on top of old counters, came tumbling on top of them. These stoves which went down seemed to have caused most of the injuries that were received. The injured numbered eighteen or twenty, the injuries being mostly bruises and cuts, but five or six required medical attention, although no limbs were broken. On the panic a rush was made through the large store windows, only two remaining out of sight in the bottom row.

Last night fire was discovered in the building where the above accident took place. It was the work of an incendiary, and if it had not been discovered and extinguished as promptly as it was, the village would have been reduced to ashes, the building being so situated as to lead to such a frightful catastrophe.

A BATTLE WITH MOONSHINERS.

Illicit Distillers in Tennessee Try to Beat Of Revenue Officers.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 5.—A terrible battle took place on Sand Mountain yesterday between several revenue officers and a dozen moonshiners. The officials had discovered an illicit distillery which they destroyed, and then hid to await the arrival of the owner. In due time he approached the distillery accompanied by nine men armed with shot guns. As soon as the moonshiners saw the officials they opened fire, and for a few minutes a terrible battle ensued. The revenue officers were armed with repeating Winchester rifles, while the moonshiners had breech-loading shotguns. Both sides fired from behind trees, and for a time the officers thought they would have to retreat. After using up all their ammunition the moonshiners fell back, carrying from the field one of their number, who had been mortally wounded. The revenue officials have gone to Collinsville, Ala., for reinforcements, and will raid the mountain again to-morrow hoping to find the wounded man and his comrades.

THE ROUVIER CABINET RETIRES.

President Carnot Will Not Form a Cabinet Until He Consults the Chamber.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—President Carnot at his reception to the retiring Rouvier Cabinet last evening thanked them for the patriotic devotion they had shown during the recent crisis. He said he would not form a Cabinet till after he had consulted with the Presidents of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies and the chiefs of the Republican groups. The Journal des Debats advises the President to retain the present Ministry. The Republican journals advocated a policy of appeasement and conciliation. The Conservative papers doubt that such a policy would be a lasting success. Thirty candidates for the Senate were nominated in the various departments yesterday. Most of them are Republicans.

The President to-day received MM. Goblet, Clemenceau and others. The Chambers on re-assembling to-morrow will again adjourn to await the formation of a cabinet.

Resignation of the Ministry.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The Ministry have formally tendered their resignations, and President Sadi-Carnot has requested them to remain in office for the present for the despatch of public business.

St. Petersburg Satisfied.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5.—The election of President Sadie-Carnot has produced an excellent impression here. The attitude of the French Parliament during the crisis is approved as calm and dignified.

Congratulations from Rome.

ROME, Dec. 5.—The newspapers here congratulate the French people upon the election of President Sadi-Carnot.

The Papal Nuncio at Paris has received instructions from the Vatican to pay an early visit to the President and to establish friendly relations at the outset with the new Administration by explicitly declaring the good will of the Holy See towards France.

Fire at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Dec. 5.—To-night at 11.30 o'clock a fire broke out in the stables and sheds of J. D. Hoitt, William-street, and occupied by R. H. Hobbs, butcher, and in a few minutes three horses, harness and other valuables were burnt. The origin of the fire is not known. The stable and contents were insured. The insurance will not cover Mr. Hobbs' loss.

A Thames Silver Steamer Burned.

CHATHAM, Ont., Dec. 5.—The passenger steamer C. H. Merritt, plying between here and Detroit, was burned to the water's edge at 2 o'clock this morning. Fully covered by insurance in the following offices: British American, $2500; Queen's, $2500; Commercial Union, $3000. She was owned by G. B. Merritt, Samuel Barfoot and Capt. Cornelius, and was valued at about $18,000. Cause of fire at present unknown.

LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS.

THE ROUVIER MINISTRY STEPS OUT OF OFFICE.

Strikes and Strikers' Gear—Appeal From Prince Ferdinand—Earthquake in Calabria—Lock-out of 15,000 Workmen.

LONDON, Dec. 5—An alleged opinion of Professor Virchow, regarding the Crown Prince's malady, is published in the Fremdenlige Zeitung of Berlin. The professor says in effect that the most conscientious expert could not form a decided opinion whether the growth is of a cancerous nature or not, or even whether the so-called new formation is on the old place operated upon last summer or not.

The Tigeblatt announces that Dr. Mackenzie has postponed his intended visit to San Remo.

At the reception to the retiring Rouvier ministry last evening, President Sadi-Carnot thanked them for the patriotic devotion they had exhibited during the crisis. He would not form a Cabinet without first consulting the presidents of both chambers, and the leaders of the different Republican groups. The Journal des Debats advises the President to retain the present ministry. A policy of appeasement and conciliation is advocated by the Republican journals, but the Conservative organs have no faith in the lasting success of such a policy. Thirty candidates for the Senate, most of them Republicans, were nominated in the various departments yesterday.

A shock of earthquake was felt in Calabria at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The second shock, which was more violent, took place at 7 o'clock. Bisignano is a mass of ruins, and four thousand persons are homeless and many there missing.

The Nationalist electors of West Waterford held a demonstration and presented two hundred opinions to Mr. Pyne, their representative in Parliament. Mr. Pyne, in a speech thanking the electors, gave notice to the police that he would leave his castle on Tuesday and would remain out three days. Mr. Gilhooly, member for Cork, has not been arrested as was reported a few days ago. He visited Mr. Pyne to-day.

Lord Hartington's speech on Saturday continues to be the subject of much discussion in political circles. It is regarded as a definite proof of his desire to disassociate himself from the program of the Liberal party and form a closer alliance with the Tories. The result has been the revival of the rumors as to his entry into the Ministry. I am informed on very good authority that Lord Hartington's friends still believe that he will only agree to a coalition when, in his judgment, that is the only course open in the interests of the Union party. This stage, they say, has not yet been reached.

It is stated that Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has written to Lord Salisbury imploring his help in maintaining peace in Bulgaria.

Lord Herschell presided at a conference held in London to-day to consider the condition of the working classes. Mr. Compton, M.P., Cardinal Manning, several Labor members of Parliament and others interested in the subject were present. Resolutions were adopted calling upon the Government to undertake local relief works and to take measures to assist emigration and prevent immigration.

Eight persons who were present at the famous midnight meeting of Nationalists at Woodford were sentenced by the Court there to-day to various terms of imprisonment. The defendants' counsel, Mr. Bowles, termed the proceedings a farce, and was thereupon ejected from the Court room. Mr. Bowles then attempted to address the people from outside of the building, but the police dispersed the crowd, using their batons freely and injuring several persons.

Commercial Union Club.

At an Executive meeting held in the Toronto club room last evening, some important business was transacted. The president, who occupied the chair, reported that the meeting at St. Thomas on Dec. 3 was very enthusiastic and in his opinion productive of much good. Application was made for help by way of speaking from a political organization, which was denied on the ground that work of that character was foreign to the objects of the club. Mr. W. L. Gordon introduced his motion for the incorporation of the club. Arrangements were made to provide speakers for several meetings soon to be held in various parts of the Province.

Why the Girls Were Discharged.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 3.—The superintendent of the Woonsocket Rubber Works yesterday asked a young girl in the shoe room, who had worked in the National Rubber Company works at Bristol, to make a sample lawn tennis shoe. She refused on the ground that it was contrary to the rules of the latter company.

Sunday School Convention.

Reports of the Sessions of Monday Evening and Tuesday Forenoon.

The Sunday School Convention in the school room of St. Paul's Church, Monday evening, was not very largely attended. There were a number of delegates present from different places in the vicinity. Rev. Mr. McEwan, of Lakefield, occupied the chair in the absence of the regularly appointed Nominator, and after the opening devotional exercises the following nominating committee was appointed:—Rev. Mr. Wilson (chairman), Rev. Mr. Hough, North Smith, Sheriff Hall, Rev. Mr. Johnston, Keene, Mr. A. Gillespie. The committee retired.

After another hymn, Rev. Mr. Terrance addressed the audience, bidding them present, who, he said, had not come as Methodists, Baptists, Episcopalians or Presbyterians, but as Christians, a hearty welcome. They had come to consider how they could best benefit the whole Church of Christ. Rev. Mr. Terrance referred to the unity of the Christian churches, a truth which was being generally recognized, instancing the Evangelical Alliance and the Young Men's Christian Association as tending to this end. But nothing had done so much to impress this truth upon the people as the Sunday School. Referring to the Sunday School work, he said he thought the International series of lessons was a great blessing. The Sabbath School was doing an immense amount of good to the children of our land. His prayer was that the blessing of God might rest upon the convention.

Rev. Mr. McEwan next delivered an address, in which he deprecated the fact that this was not the age of family instruction; but that was not the fault of the Sunday School. It was nine years ago, he said, since a Sunday School convention had been held in Peterborough, and it was a provincial convention at that.

THE OFFICERS.

The nominating committee then reported the following officers elected:—President, Rev. Mr. McEwan, of Lakefield; Secretary, Mr. H. J. Hevlit; the committee also reported regarding the advisability of organizing a permanent society in Peterborough, that the same be deferred till to-morrow. The report was adopted.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

Mr. Alfred Day, the Secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association, who had just arrived, was the next speaker. He put the audience in good humor by relating a laughable personal incident, and, passing on to the subject of his discourse, the Sunday School work of the province, began by impressing the point that if a look was cast back at the ages when children were of no account, for instance just before the advent of Christ, it would be observed that the land in which children were not considered, was barren, and progress and civilization were not there. And if the "then" and "now" were compared, the progress and civilization of the present age was accounted for. Another point he raised was that the Sabbath School principle had divine authority—"Feed My lambs." By apt illustrations, as in the former cases, he pointed out the responsibility of children's hearts as another argument in favor of Sunday School work. There was something in the Bible to which the human heart responded, which he likened to the affection existing between mother and child.

Regarding the provincial work, he said there were some 300,000 children, and 25,000 teachers, and 4,000 schools in Ontario. The influence of such a power would, he said, send the stream of life bounding through the Christian church of the province. The Association, he said, was doing a good work; it helped to keep alive public opinion and sentiment as to the influence of children in the world's business, and to awaken an interest in their training; it tended to the formation of an army of spiritual warriors to fight the evil of the world; it helped in the individual schools by bringing the best methods into general use; it trained and informed the teachers, and encouraged them in their work; it also helped the parents to increase their influence over their children. Each of these points the speaker impressed by anecdotes and forcible illustrations. There were very few counties in the province, he said, without these associations; of 46 counties 31 had associations; they had [illegible] 26 township associations, and half a dozen city societies such as it was hoped to form in Peterborough.

The next question was did the issue warrant the labor? Yes; and in after years would the Christian church reap the reward of its labors. The speaker closed his address with an eloquent reference to the army of children, clothed with the armour of virtue, who were prepared to fight the battles of life.

Rev. Mr. McEwan, in introducing the next speaker, Mr. Peake, who was to speak upon the fruitfulness of modern Sunday School work, said the work of the Sunday School began with the spelling-book and ended in the Bible.

ANOTHER ADDRESS.

Mr. L. C. Peake, of Toronto, chairman of the Central Executive Committee and the Manager of the Canadian Chautauqua, said the Sunday School work in England was far ahead of the work in this country. Speaking of the subject of his address, he said the question as to where the system started and where the modern began was a sort of problem. He came down to about twenty-five years ago, when it was impressed upon the Christian world that the Sunday School was not as complete as it might be. To show what prevented success of Sunday School work were prevalent to-day, the speaker referred to the common practice of impressing teachers into service whether they really could teach or not. The progress of the Sunday School during the last quarter century had resulted in the establishment of normal classes, Sunday School institutes and local gatherings for acquiring a knowledge of God's work and the faculty of teaching it. And no question had more solid data purpose than the Chautauqua circle, of which he wished to speak in this connection. Referring first to the inauguration of the word Chautauqua, and its significance, the speaker said it was a college—a college that could be had in the kitchen, the garden, the work room and office. It helped students to think, and not and to help others to do the same. This was first done by means of lectures under competent auspices at Chautauqua; and annually every fifth Chautauqua throughout the province, by specific study. Regarding the origin of the institution, he read a letter giving the particulars of the initiative meeting about twenty-five years ago under the name of the Palestine class, at the variety of studies indulged in and the manner of working. Up to the year 1874 nothing had been done on a large scale, when a summer camp was established called the Sunday School Institute, the object being to bring together teachers to be drilled under the most competent instructors in the Bible and the best methods of teaching. There was more Sunday School work done to-day than ever before; and a great deal of other work besides. The speaker went into detail as to the routine of study adopted at these assemblies, the idea being to send forth teachers, fully equipped, for Sunday School work by reading and studying the Word of God. The Chautauqua circle was also absolutely undenominational. The speaker then gave some wholesome advice regarding the methods of instructing the young. Next referring to the Chautauqua Library and Scientific Circle, he pointed out the connection between it and the Sunday School. The course of the C. L. S. C. covered the same study as the Sunday School scales, besides instructing the minds in various other ways. Already fifty of these assemblies had been established, not least among them the Canadian assembly at Niagara. In conclusion he read a couple of testimonials from different parties as to the practical benefits they received from the C. L. S. C. course.

Rev. Mr. McEwan then introduced the subject of the collection, which being taken, the meeting was brought to a close by singing and the pronunciation of the benediction.

TUESDAY MORNING

There was rather a thin attendance this morning. From 9.30 to 10 there were devotional exercises, singing and prayer, conducted by Rev. John McEwan, president, who occupied the chair during the subsequent proceedings.

Mr. Alfred Day, general provincial secretary, gave an address on "The Book". After pointing out the grandeur of the Bible, he indicated that there was a danger in the International series of Lessons tending to give too much attention to isolated passages, ignoring the grand unity of "The Book," as was also done by Bible commentaries who stole separate passages and built up shadowy doctrines without reference to the whole. It was the duty of Sunday School workers to be ready to counteract the tendency of fragmentary study of the Bible by devoting more attention to its entirety. The grand lessons taught through the whole is the fact that man is fallen and a Saviour has been provided. A unity of expression of this great fact is apparent in every part of the Holy Volume. Every part of "the Book" is intimately interrelated and interdependent. The speaker's remarks were delivered in an easy, colloquial manner, and were diversified by questions relating to his subject, put to and answered by the audience.

THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. L. C. Peake, of Toronto, pointed out some indispensable characteristics which should be possessed by the superintendent—church membership; real Christianity, christian reputation; a spirit of active co-operation with his pastor. These were laid down as the fundamental characteristics of the model superintendent. His duties (in the school) demanded punctuality(a little ahead of time) to welcome teachers and pupils, and to prevent disorder. To maintain order by example—coolness and calmness. He should make his teachers responsible for the order of their classes. Proper grading of classes is necessary. He should conduct the devotional exercises of the school. No interruption of classes should be permitted.

MODEL TEACHERS' MEETING.

Rev. John McEwan conducted this department. Before practically illustrating the subject, he pointed out that, in the preparation of lessons, the following points should be remembered—the agent of the lesson, its vital elements, its scope, its pictures, the end sought. The mode of preparing the lesson for teaching was illustrated by blackboard exercises, and the information given must have proven very helpful to the teachers present.

During the progress of the exercises of the morning the attendance considerably increased, there being many from the country and Lakefield present.

The meeting concluded with devotional exercises.

A Postmaster's Opinion.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings heartsand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Filling the Vacancy.

At a meeting of the official board of the George street Methodist church, Monday evening, it was decided to extend a call to Rev. J. Allen, of Brockville, to occupy the pulpit of the church after June next (subject to the authority of the Transfer Committee), the vacancy meanwhile, after Rev. Prof. Wallace's departure, being supplied by Rev. W. H. Thompson, a two-years'-man of Victoria University.

The Manager's Tribute.

The following letter has been received by Mr. Geo. A. Merrison :—

Messrs. Wilson & Morrison, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIRS,—I was very sorry to learn of the death of your Mr. Wilson, from copy of EXAMINER to hand to-day, at so comparatively early an age. I had not the advantage of Mr. Wilson's personal acquaintance; I have no doubt, however, from what I have heard of him and the references that have from time to time appeared in the press, regarding his business qualifications, etc., that he was a man who will be a great loss to Peterborough, as an honest, enterprising business man. His family and your Mr. Morrison have our hearty sympathy in this melancholy bereavement.

Yours very truly,
WM. A. SIMS,
Manager.

After the ceremonies the company partook of dinner at the C.P.R. Hotel. In the evening the inauguration of the new lodge was celebrated by a grand ball in the Snowden block, at which about fifty couples were present. Prof. Mannell's orchestra supplied the music. The affair was in the hands of an energetic committee, who spared no pains to make it a financial and social success—W. B. Robinson, chairman ; H. Sherwood, treasurer ; R. Stevenson, secretary ; J. W. Russell, floor director ; J. A. Jamieson, R. M. Russell and T. Guthrie, floor managers. Everything passed off pleasantly, and the assembly broke up at an early hour.

The Grand Junction Suit.

A Brief Resume of the Arguments of the Case Before the Privy Council.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, county solicitor, arrived in Peterborough last night and was to-day kept busy responding to the hearty hand-shakes and congratulations upon his signal victory in the Grand Junction suit, from interested citizens. The EXAMINER representative was on hand also and secured an interview with him. Mr. Edwards arrived in Halifax at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening by S. S. "Parisian", after a fair voyage. There he received the telegram from the Privy Council notifying him of the decision of the Privy Council. It is needless to say he was overjoyed at the favorable result, though fully expecting it. Strangely enough, a Mr. Cowans, of Montreal, who had been a passenger on the "Umbria", and was financially interested in the railway, on his arrival at Halifax received intimation that his side had won, and was greatly jubilant until Mr. Edwards showed him his telegram, when he subsided and became despondent at once. Mr. Edwards, while in Halifax, received the congratulations of a number of prominent people who took an interest in the suit.

THAT FALSE REPORT.

Discussing the "cable canard" by which the Mail a week ago last Saturday alarmed the residents of the county, Mr. Edwards explained the cause of the report. There were, as said, a great many points raised, and the county being on the defensive, numerous objections were urged. Two of these points, minor, ones, the judges over-ruled while the hearing of the case was in progress, and from this the appellants inferred that the judges were in their favor; hence the misleading report. There were, however, half a dozen important points which they could not nor did not contravert, and on these the decision went against them—a decision which does not leave the slightest possibility of the case ever being re-opened.

THE ARGUMENT.

The history of this case, which began just nine years ago this month, is too well known throughout the county to need repetition. Suffice it to say the suit was over a by-law granting a bonus of $75,000 to the Grand Junction Railway Company, and $25,000 towards building a line from Peterborough to Haliburton, in the year in 1879, on certain conditions which were not fulfilled. The by-law received two reading, was voted upon and passed by a large majority in Haliburton county; the council refused to give the by-law a third reading; the railway company prevailed upon the Ontario Government to legalize the by-law; the county still refused to recognize the by-law though the road was built, and the suit was begun by Mr. E. O. Bickford, who had come into possession of the railway. After passing through all the courts of Canada it was finally referred to the Privy Council.

The defence claimed that the by-law was changed and altered, even to the date of voting, without the sanction of the county council. The council at its first meeting declared it illegal and refused to give it a third reading. From the start they disputed it. Then the railway people went to the Legislature and had it made law, and the county endeavored to have the Dominion Government disallow it by the next year petitioning for a repeal. They also notified the company that they repudiated it. The equity of the case is strongly with the county, upon whom it was endeavored to saddle a debt they never agreed to pay. The case has been fairly fought all through ,and now that the county has won it may be fairly and honestly congratulated on having got out of the difficulty into which it was placed.

THE DECISION.

The grounds upon which the decision was given were : One of the conditions of the by-law was that the road should be commenced before May 1st, 1872, the object being to secure an early completion of the road so as to place our town on an equal footing with other surrounding towns which were securing railway connection. The Act of Incorporation provided that the railway should be completed to Peterborough by 1876. Another condition was that the money was not to be paid until the completion to Peterborough, nor until the engineer of the railway company had given his certificate that all the conditions of the by-law had been complied with.

As to the first point, the evidence showed that though there was a formal turning of the sod within the stipulated time, it was done as an act of trespass upon the lands of a man who had never given his consent to it and who forbade them to work there. The company hadn't at that time filed their plans as should have been done, nor acquired the ownership of a single rod of land in the county. Besides, this turning of the first sod was performed upon a piece of land that the company never afterwards utilized.

The court held that this formal commencement was not bona fide, as shown by the fact of their never using the land and having failed to file the necessary plans at the time. The court also held that the lack of the engineer's certificate was a fatal objection.

The road was not, as a matter of fact, completed by 1876, but not until 1880, and under a new contract at that; so that when the new proprietor came upon the county for the amount of the by-law he found it quite unprepared. However, the matter has been satisfactorily and finally settled at last. Judgment was given at 10.-30 o'clock last Saturday morning, and the news reached here about the same hour. It must be remembered, though, that there is a difference of about five hours in the time of London and Peterborough.

The ratepayers of the county have every reason to congratulate themselves and Mr. Edwards, who so ably managed the case, upon the result, which has saved them from a payment of about $150,000, the costs in the case having run up till they nearly equal the principal sum.

A motion to elect the warden of the county of Hastings from the Reformers and Conservatives alternately did not meet the approval of the members of the county council at its recent meeting.

—The Whitby Chronicle says :—"On Friday morning of last week at Peterborough, the arriving train from Toronto ran into a day freight which was in progress on the track, and cut one of the dogs in two." The intelligent compositor is doubtless to blame for converting "dog fight" into "day freight."

—Persons in Peterborough intent on building next spring would now make their contracts and thus be enabled to have all the sash, doors, and woodwork in general, made up by the carpenters this winter. Stone for buildings requiring it might be dressed this winter also. Thus our carpenters and masons can be kept fully occupied during winter months, and be just so much further ahead for next year.

—Belleville is terribly agitated over the possibility of the G.T.R. shops, now at that place, being removed to Kingston. Upon this the Whig remarks that, "were it not for John Bell, Q.C., solicitor for the G.T.R., the village would be a cow pasture so far as the railway company is concerned."

Dress Making! We are pleased to announce that Miss Johnston, the Toronto Dress Maker at Turnbull's is delighting everybody with her work. She is introducing many New Styles in Peterborough, to present and obtaining, and with Turnbull's extensive Range of Dress Goods at her disposal, is prepared to Satisfy the most exacting taste on the shortest notice. Stony Lake.

The lake is frozen over.

Mr. J. J. Crowe has his lumbering and wood cutting operations in full blast. He is getting out—on private lands—about 5,000 pieces and about 600 cords of wood. He can give employment to a few good choppers.

There are a good many from North Dummer seeking employment in the shanties.

A very successful tea-meeting was held in the Stony Lake school house, in aid of the funds of the Sunday school—to assist in procuring a library. The Sunday school was organized this summer and has met with good success. The tea-meeting was gotten up mainly through the exertions of Miss Lawrence, the teacher of the day school, and Mr. Albert Rae, the superintendent. The entertainment was a very pleasant success. Abundant refreshments had been provided by the lady friends of the school. Rev. Mr. Tomland, who had been brought from Warsaw, occupied the chair and delivered an address. Brief addresses were also made by Messrs. Albert Rae, Chas. Crowe, James Myles, Robt. Myles, William Myles, and J. J. Crowe. Excellent music, furnished by a choir of the Sunday School pupils, trained by Miss Lawrence, enlivened the proceedings. Miss Lawrence made herself very valuable in the organization and carrying out of the tea-meeting, and a large share of its success is due to her. In recognition of her services, she was presented with a handsome, five-story cake, made by Mrs. Samuel Smilye. The sum of $23.50 was netted, and the pupils of the Sunday School will soon have a library to cheer the long winter evenings.

THE USUAL TREATMENT of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer says :—"Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the most important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. eodw49

SHORT BUT INTERESTING.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

It Points Out That the Enormous Surplus Now in the United States Treasury Causes a Situation Which Is Fraught With Danger.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Promises were made that the annual message of the President to Congress would be a lengthy communication, but the document submitted to the National Legislature to-day is unusually brief. It deals only with the question of the dangers arising from an increasing annual surplus of revenue and discussion of tariff matters. The President, however, concludes his message with the significant statement that a brief history of the transactions of the Department of State since last year may furnish the occasion for a future communication. The President in opening his communication to Congress says: "You are confronted at the threshold of your legislative duties with a condition of the national finances, which imperatively demands immediate and careful consideration. The amount of money annually exacted, through the operation of present laws, from the industries and necessities of the people, largely exceeds the sum necessary to meet the expenses of the government. The condition of our treasury is not altogether new, and it has more than once of late been submitted to the people's representatives in Congress, who alone can apply a remedy, and yet the situation still continues with aggravated incidents more than ever presaging financial convulsions and widespread disaster. It will not do to neglect this situation because its dangers are not now palpably imminent and apparent. They exist none the less certainly, and await the unforeseen and unexpected occasion, when suddenly they will be precipitated upon us."

A Situation Fraught With Danger.

The President refers to the annual growth of the surplus and the large sums taken from private speculation, causing financial stringency and making necessary the purchase of bonds to relieve the necessities of business interests. He fears a recurrence of the late trouble which is measurably beyond the aid of treasury intervention, as there are now no bonds outstanding, the payment of which the treasury has the right to insist upon, and the Government can only intervene by bidding in the open market for its bonds, and paying the holders a premium to release them. The President deprecates various expedients for placing the surplus revenues in circulation, especially that of making extravagant appropriations, as stimulating a habit of reckless improvidence, inconsistent with the mission of the people, and the high and beneficent purposes of their Government.

The President then goes on to say: "If disaster results from the continued inaction of Congress, the responsibility must rest where it belongs. Though the situation thus far considered is fraught with danger, which should be fully realized, and though it presents features of wrong to the people, as well as peril to the country, it is but the result growing out of a perfectly palpable and apparent cause, consequently reproducing the same alarming circumstances—a congested national treasury and a depleted monetary condition in the business of the country. It need hardly be stated that while the present situation demands a remedy, we can only be saved from a like predicament in the future by the removal of its cause."

The Tariff Laws Should be Revised.

"Our scheme of taxation, by means of which this needless surplus is taken from the people and put into the public treasury, consists of a tariff or duty levied upon importations from abroad, and internal revenue taxes levied upon the consumption of tobacco and spirituous and malt liquors. It must be conceded that none of the things subjected to internal revenue taxation are, strictly speaking, necessaries. There appears to be no just complaint of this taxation by the consumers of these articles, and there seems to be nothing so well able to bear the burden without hardship toward any portion of the people. But our present tariff laws, the vicious, inequitable and illogical source of unnecessary taxation ought to be at once revised and amended. These laws, as their primary and plain effect raise the price to consumers of all articles imported and subject to duty by precisely the sum paid for such duties. Thus the amount of the duty measures the tax paid by those who purchase for use these imported articles. Many of these things however are raised or manufactured in our own country, and the duties now levied upon foreign goods and products are called protective in their purpose, because they restrict the importation of such foreign goods, and thereby stimulate the growth of home manufactures, because they render it possible for those of our people who are manufacturers to make these taxed articles and sell them for a price equal to that demanded for the imported goods that have paid Customs duty. So it happens, that while comparatively a few use the imported articles millions of our people who never see and never saw any of the foreign products purchase and use things of the same kind made in this country, and pay therefor nearly or quite the same enhanced price which the duty adds to the imported articles. These who buy imports pay the duty charged thereon into the public treasury, but the great majority of our citizens who buy domestic articles of the same class pay a sum at least approximately equal to this duty to the home manufacturers."

How the Tariff Affects Workingmen.

The President, continuing the discussion of tariff re-adjustment, says: "Relief from the hardships and dangers of our present tariff laws should be devised with especial precautions against imperilling the existence of our manufacturing interests, but this existence should not mean a condition which, without regard to public welfare or a national exigency, must always ensure the realization of immense profits, instead of moderately profitable returns.

"It is also said," writes the President, "that the increase in the price of domestic manufactures, resulting from the present tariff, is necessary in order that higher wages may be paid to our workingmen employed in manufactories than are paid for what is called the pauper labor of Europe. According to the latest census, 4,387,113 persons are employed in manufactures and mining, and of these 2,053,996 are employed in such manufacturing industries as are claimed to be benefited by a high tariff. To these the appeal is made to save their employment and maintain their wages by resisting a change, and yet with slight reflection they will not overlook the fact that they are consumers with the rest, that they, too, have their own wants and those of their families to supply from their earnings, and that the price of the necessaries of life, as well as the amount of their wages, will regulate the measure of their welfare and comfort. But the reduction of taxation demanded should be so measured as not to necessitate or justify either the loss of employment by the workingman or the lessening of his wages; and the profits still remaining to the manufacturer, after a necessary readjustment, should furnish no excuse for the sacrifice of the interests of his employes, either in their opportunity to work, or in the diminution of their compensation. Nor can the worker in manufactures fail to understand that while a high tariff is claimed to be necessary to allow the payment of remunerative wages, it certainly results in a very large increase in the price of nearly all sorts of manufactures, which in almost countless forms he needs for the use of himself and his family. He receives at the desk of his employer his wages, and perhaps before he reaches his home is obliged, in a purchase for family use of an article which embraces his own labor, to return in the payment of the increase in price which the tariff permits, the hard-earned compensation of many days of toil."

How the Tariff Affects Farmers.

"The farmer and the agriculturist who manufacture nothing but who pay the increased price which the tariff imposes upon every agricultural implement, upon all he wears, and upon all he uses and owns, except the increase of his flocks and herds, and such things as his husbandry produces from the soil, is invited to aid in maintaining the present situation, and he is told that a high duty on imported wool is necessary for the benefit of those who have sheep to shear, in order that the price of their wool may be increased. They, of course, are not reminded that the farmer who has no sheep is by this scheme obliged in his purchases of clothing and woolen goods to pay a tribute to his fellow-farmer as well as to the manufacturer and merchant; nor is any mention made of the fact that the sheep owners themselves, and their households must wear clothing, and use other articles manufactured from the wool they sell at tariff prices, and thus as consumers must return their share of this increased price to the tradesmen.

"When the number of farmers engaged in wool raising is compared with all the farmers in the country, and the small proportion they bear to our population is considered; when it is made apparent that in the case of a large part of these who own sheep, the benefit of the present tariff on wool is illusory; and, above all, when it must be conceded that increase of the cost of living caused by such tariff becomes a burden upon those with moderate means and the poor, the employed and unemployed, the sick and well and the young and old, and that it constitutes a tax which, with relentless grasp, is fastened upon the clothing of every man, woman and child in the land, reasons are suggested why the removal or reduction of this duty should be included in a revision of our tariff laws."

The Duty of the Government.

"Our progress toward a wise conclusion will not be improved by dwelling upon the cries of protection and free trade. This avows too much of bandying epithets; it is a condition which confronts us—not a theory. Relief from this condition may involve a slight reduction of the advantages which we award our home productions, but the entire withdrawal of such advantages should not be contemplated. The questionof free trade is absolutely irrelevant; and the persistent claim made in certain quarters, that all efforts to relieve the people from unjust and unnecessary taxation are schemes of so-called Free Traders, is mischievous and far removed from any consideration for the public good.

"The simple and plain duty which we owe the people is to reduce taxation to the necessary expenses of an economical operation of the Government, and to restore to the business of the country the money which we hold in the treasury through the perversion of governmental powers. These things can and should be done with safety to all our industries, without danger to the opportunity for remunerative labor which our workingmen need, and with benefit to them and all our people by cheapening their means of subsistence and increasing the measure of their comforts."

HENRY TAYLOR'S FRAUDS.

MEETING IN THE LONDON BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS.

The Committee Reports on Ontario Investment Affairs—A Nice Story of Misappropriation.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—This evening the Board of Trade rooms again resounded with long personal and acrimonious discussions of Ontario Investment shareholders. Henry Taylor's friends were there in full force. The feature of the meeting was the report of the Investigating Committee elected to examine the books and report on what specific charges could be laid against any directors, officers or employes of the association.

The preamble of the report stated that time had allowed them only to speak with certainty of Henry Taylor, Chas. Murray, Saml. Cronyn and Walter Pavey. The committee expressed surprise that any director would doubt the guilt of the parties accused with the convincing evidence, documentary and otherwise, which they had before them.

Speaking of the guilt of the parties referred to the report says: "In April, 1885, Taylor appropriated $2000 to his own use without warrant or authority and entered it on the books against the profits of the association in a stock transaction. In July, 1885, he took $2000, which he said was to cover his accounts in the savings banks which were overdrawn. Both these amounts were falsified by entries in John Hunter's account. In October, 1885, Samuel Crawford got a loan of $7000, which he afterwards repaid in full and took back his securities, but only $2000 was credited and $5000 was taken by Taylor for his own use. In February, 1886, Samuel Crawford made application for a $15,000 loan, which was objected to by W. R. Meredith. Notwithstanding the securities being returned to Crawford, Taylor and Murray entered the $15,000 in the mortgage ledger and drew and used the money themselves. In April, 1886, for hand speculation in Winnipeg, organized by Murray, Crawford and Taylor some $90,000 was first taken on a check payable to Crawford and afterwards $13,000. This loan was falsely entered as to John Hunter. Other sums were taken from time to time, and last July the loan, if you are polite enough to call it such, amounted to $66,000. In January, 1887, a dividend check for $1000 came into Taylor's hands as manager in trust, and in May he drew this amount with interest and charged the same to debenture expenses. Taylor appears to have used the association to transfer from his private banking business bad debts which he made in it and realized the cash by transferring them. Your committee report that false entries were made in books during the investigation, and as long as Taylor remained at large and had any control or entry to them."

The report concluded by saying there was ample evidence to convict all the mentioned parties of conspiracy to defraud, falsifying books and papers, misappropriation of funds, probably larceny and embezzlement, and as to some of them, perjury. "In reference to the employes of the association, your committee find they have all been aware of irregularities in the books and published statements, some being more active parties than others to the transactions. But all were quite aware of them and, therefore, guilty. As to what charge they are amenable to is a question for the solicitor. Your committee consider that the directors owe to themselves and to the shareholders an immediate criminal procedure against Taylor. Failing to do so your committee and we believe the shareholders and public can only draw one conclusion and that one will be far from favorable." (Signed,) James Griffiths, Richard Thompson, A. O. Graydon, J. Johnson.

W. R. Meredith said the report would not be received, as it shouldered the responsibility of the prosecution on the directors. He held it wrong to prosecute a man who was within an inch of death. A long discussion ensued and a stock vote on the report threw it out by 895 yeas to 893 nays. Four hundred and twenty-three may votes of John Labatt and 195 nays by Mr. Farrestal were objected to on the grounds that Mr. Labatt was a large debtor to the association and Mr. Farrestal had hypothecated his stock. The objections were noted and after wards ruled out.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 6.

The local stock market was stronger this morning, with slight increase all round. There were sales of 362 shares.

On St. Lawrence market to-day, trade was fairly brisk; prices in poultry have advanced a little. Chickens sell at 30 to 45 cents a pair; duck, which are a little scarce, at 50 to 75 cents; geese at 5 to 6 cents a pound, and turkeys at 7 to 9 cents. The glut is relieved. Pickled eggs are selling at 17 and 18 cents, and fresh laid at 20 to 22. The supply is good. Butter is steady at 18 to 20 for new, and prime pork has risen to $6.50. There is no special feature on the meat market. On the grain market 4000 bushels of barley sold at 60c to 77½c; 400 of wheat at 85½c to 84c for fall, 80c to 82c for spring, and 72c to 73½c for wild goose, and 200 bushels of oats at 38c and 39c. Peas were not offered. The quality of the barley now being brought in is not of the best. Much of it has to be rejected by the brewers as unfit on account of its thinness. Most of it weighs only from 43 to 45 pounds. This morning, however, some half dozen loads of good plump grain, weighing as high as 49 to 50 pounds, sold at high figures. Every day more or less good stuff is sold. On the whole the fall wheat offered is of very good quality. Goose is poor.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS

MEETING OF THE HUDSON BAY COMPANY IN LONDON.

Russia's Military Movements Cause Alarm—The Crown Prince—Removal to Tullamore—The President's Message.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—There was no special feature at the meeting of the Hudson Bay Company to-day. It was held in accordance with the charter, simply to elect directors. Mr. Colville, the President, in a brief speech stated that all vessels from Hudson Bay had arrived safely. The fur returns exceed last year's, and it is expected that a fair profit will be made on the sales next year. General trade was assuming a pleasanter aspect. They were doing a very good business in Manitoba, and there was a marked increase in British Columbia. The Dominion Government had acted fairly with regard to rebellion claims. They expect a fair share of land sales next year. Altogether the prospects were satisfactory. Emigration would probably be much larger. The discussion was altogether friendly to the Board. The usual attempt was made to induce the directors to consider the advisability of launching out in various directions. Mr. Colville threw cold water on all such suggestions. The report was adopted. Mr. Russel, Sir Donald A. Smith and Mr. Fleming were re-elected to the Board.

The Prince of Wales has been re-elected Grand Master of the Masonic Masons.

Kindon's extensive flannelette factory, in Burnsnapsey, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $50,000.

John Morley has been elected Honorary President of the Associated Societies of Edinburgh University, in succession to Robert Browning.

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—Lord Mayor Sullivan has been removed to Tullamore jail to prevent his holding daily levees as he was doing in the jail here.

Most Rev. John Power, Catholic Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, is dead.

The police are actively endeavoring to arrest Mr. Gilhooly, M.P., for Cork, who has taken refuge with Mr. Pyne in Lestiney Castle, which is prepared to defy the police. Mr. Gilhooly, it is believed, intends to escape from the castle to-night.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Morning Post, commenting on President Cleveland's Message, says: "The Message will produce a profound sensation in Europe as well as in America, and will strengthen the Free Traders' case throughout the world."

LONDON, Dec. 6.—M. Goblet is generally expected to be the Prime Minister in the new Cabinet, and M. Flourens will remain at the head of Foreign Affairs.

In an interview with M. Clemenceau to-day, President Carnot laid stress upon the necessity of a union of all the Republicans in the Chamber of Deputies, in order to show that Republicans can agree, and also that they may vote an honest and sincere budget. The President's views were fully endorsed by Clemenceau, and the accord between the two statesmen is a good omen of the future of the Republic. M. Ribot and other leading politicians visited President Carnot to-day.

VIENNA, Dec. 6.—The Fremdenblatt says that the Russian military measures on the frontier are at variance with the general desire for peace and the hopes thereof caused by the meeting of the Emperors of Germany and Russia in Berlin. "We must wait," says the paper, "to see to what extent the Berlin meeting will influence these measures which, possibly, were decided upon under different apprehensions. The recent speech from the German throne in which the Emperor showed that he was not inclined to disturb the peace of his neighbors was sufficient for Austria, but any further gathering of Russians on our frontier will compel us to take similar measures in order that we may not be behind. Russia's preparations are threatening and are totally unprovoked.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The Post says: "The reports of the assembling of Russians on the Galician frontier evoke apprehensions of a blow against Austria. Whether that blow, which is not intended with the view of attaining ends wherein Germany has never opposed Russia but for other farther-reaching purposes, will admit of Germany's remaining at peace for any length of time is a question which doubtless Russia has long since answered."

The rumor that Russia is concentrating troops along the Austrian frontier has revived the feeling of uneasiness regarding Russia's intentions.

The Crown Prince drove to Cepadaletto to-day, and from there rode to Colla. Although his voice is still hoarse it is daily regaining its strength. In the afternoon the Prince took a walk through San Remo.

At a meeting of the Berlin Freemasons a letter from the Crown Prince was read, which said: "With God's help I hope that at a not very remote period I shall again be able to reside in Berlin in the enjoyment of good health."

INDIA WHEAT COMPETITION.

The following extract from the Montreal Herald will be reassuring to the farming community:—"Not very long ago the wheat "growers of the United States and Canada "were alarmed by the spectre of wheat from "India proving a dangerous competitor in "the British market, in consequence of the "somewhat extraordinary development "which took place in that country a few "years ago in the production and export of "wheat. Mr. Dodge, an official of the De"partment of Agriculture at Washington, "has recently completed an investigation in"to the matter and his report, the St. Paul "Pioneer Press says, is calculated to dispel "any alarm that may have been felt by "American or Canadian wheat growers. "He claims that the tendency to increase "the wheat acreage in British India has "been checked and states in support of this "claim that the wheat area cultivated in that "country in 1886-7 was 26,736,484 "acres, a decline of over half a "million acres from the previous year "a million and a half less than the "year before, and an increase of "less than a million acres over "the acreage of 1878-9. In regard to the "exports of wheat from India, Mr. Dodge "states that for 1887 they are not quite five "millions in excess of those in 1882, that but "nine per cent. of the Indian product has "been exported against thirty-one per cent. "in the United States, and that though the "Indian export for 1887 was the largest on "record, only 403,381 tons were sent to "Great Britain, as against 602,561 tons the "previous year. The surplus of Indian "wheat went mainly to India. The main "reason for this, as given by the official "above referred to, is that the British peo"ple will have American varieties of wheat "and American grades of flour, in preference "to the inferior wheat of the Indian depen"dencies. From a consideration of these "facts he concludes that Indian wheat can "never become a dangerous competitor to "American wheat in the British market. "Such a report will doubtless reassure the "wheat-growers of the West and North"West."

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The afternoon session was opened by the usual praise and prayer service, after which followed a conference upon "Missionary Work and the Missionary Spirit in our Sabbath Schools, and how to cultivate it." A number of these present offered valuable suggestions as to the best means of attaining this end, and at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Johnston the nominating committee was instructed to draw up a resolution to the effect that one Sunday in each quarter should be devoted to missionary work in the Sunday School.

Rev. Mr. JOHNSTON, Secretary, then read the report of the Committee on County Organization, as follows:—

THE COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

Your Committee recommend that a permanent County Association be organized, with Rev. Mr. McEwan as President, Sheriff Hall and Dr. Ford as Vice-Presidents, and Mr. H. S. Griffin as Sec.-Treas.

Your Committee recommend that all ministers of the county be members of the executive committee, and also that Dr. Harrison, of Keene; S. Armstrong, Jermyn; W. E. Rorburgh, Norwood; W. Harper and W. Lang, Lakefield; G. W. Mann, Bridgenorth; Geo. Stewart, Otonabee; S.W. Lowry, Warsaw; O. C. Rowes and A. Gillespie, Peterborough, be also members of the committee.

An amendment to have the next meeting in Lakefield instead of Peterborough was lost, and the report was adopted.

SPIRITUAL AIMS AND RESULTS.

Mr. Day next addressed the assembly upon "The Spiritual Aims of Sabbath School Teaching; How the Best Results are to be Attained." He said the whole question rested upon the fact that a child's nature was of a triune character—body, mind and spirit. He urged teachers to first of all believe in the spirituality of the children, then they should teach it, watch for it and pray for it. This would give the best spiritual results.

This address was followed by a few minutes' discussion of the subject among the delegates.

The Convention next went into Council on the topic, "How can the Army of Sunday School teachers be enlisted with power and equipped for service? Rev. Mr. McEwan and others spoke on the subject.

THE TRIAL REPORT.

Prayer was offered up by Rev. Dr. Parker, and the Convention was about to adjourn when the Nominating Committee reported, introducing the following resolution as requested:—

This Convention recommends the earnest prayerful consideration of the schools in the missionary work, and that one Sabbath each quarter be devoted to it;

That this Convention wish to express its thanks to, and show its appreciation of, the services of Messrs. Day and Peake; also to the managers of the church for the use of the school-room; also to the organist for her services.

Your committee recommend the Convention to raise the sum of $100 for county and provincial purposes; and that we now call for voluntary subscriptions from the schools and from individuals.

That Mr. H. S. Griffin be Vice-President in place of Sheriff Hall, he to be Secretary-Treasurer.

OBJECTIONS.

On the clause pledging the Convention for $100 to the Provincial Association, Rev. Mr. Bell raised the objection that he did not consider it wise to enter upon the pledge as yet while it was so young; and argued that while those delegates present were authorized to organize themselves into an Association they yet had not the power to vote away the money of their schools. He was alone in his contention, however, and after Mr. Peake had explained the matter the report was adopted.

TUESDAY EVENING.

In the evening the school room was comfortably filled. After the usual devotional exercises, the Secretary read the minutes of the proceedings of the convention, which were adopted.

Rev. Messrs. Hough and Wilson were appointed to accept contributions on behalf of Sunday Schools or from individuals, for Sunday School Association work.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A number of questions and answers, relating to the details of Sunday School work were handed in and answered fully and satisfactorily, by Mr. L. C. Peake, of Toronto, assisted by Rev. Mr. McEwan.

ADDRESSES BY PASTORS.

Rev. ALEX. BELL, of St. Andrew's, suggested that the source of the power of teachers to be successful in their work was a firm reliance upon the promise of the Father, and entire personal consecration to God. Another element tending to success was a good Christian example in the home, making the teacher better fitted to impart truth, and the pupil to receive.

Rev. Mr. MCEWAN supplemented the remarks of the last speaker, and added that the great drawback of modern life was the lack of home life, and the attendant deplorable consequences of lack of parental Christian oversight.

Rev. Mr. TOVELL, Charlotte street Methodist church, referring to the efficacy of personal consecration, to give teachers power for successful work, submitted that the result depended upon the talent respectively possessed by the several teachers. A teacher of one talent could not be expected to become as useful under any circumstances, as the one possessing five talents.

Rev. J. C. WILSON, Ashburnham, Chairman of the business committee, considered that one of the most pleasing features of these conventions was the mingling of different denominations the subordination of sect prejudices, and the development of unity of action in Christian work. He also stated that $35 contributed that evening, with $7 collection last night, made $42, with the collection at the close of the evening to be added.

The collection was taken, and the Chairman expressed the thanks of the Convention to the Board of Management of St. Paul's church for the use of the church; and to Mrs. Johnson who had so efficiently performed the duties of organist and leader of the singing.

Rev. Mr. TORRANCE closed with the benediction.

THE USUAL TREATMENT of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer says:—"Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the most important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. eodw49

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

Negotiations Likely to Fall Through—The Treaty of 1818 to be Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There is a hitch in the proceedings, and the Fisheries negotiators have come to a stand-still. Ex-cathedra information is to the effect that the British and American representatives are as far apart to-day as they were before they met. They have been utterly unable to agree upon any policy likely to be acceptable to both the American Senate and the British Home Office. It is understood that the American Government have gone much further than was intended in the interest of amity and good feeling, but their advances have not been met in a like spirit by Messrs. West, Chamberlain and Tupper. The consequence is that the negotiations, so far as a new treaty is concerned, have come to nought.

There will be another meeting to-morrow, and an attempt will be made to agree upon a convention defining the Treaty of 1818, which will prevent a further clash of interests. If this is true, and there is every reason to think that it is an absolutely correct statement of the existing situation—it will probably have a bad effect, for the time at least, upon the efforts to bring about Commercial Union. Congressman Butterworth is greatly incensed over the reported utterances of Sir Charles Tupper, in which that gentleman is said to have stated that "Only a very few of the people of Canada favor Commercial Union." Mr. Butterworth says that Sir Charles knows very well that the proportion of Canadian sentiment in favor of the measure is in the ratio of two to one.

THE KINGSTON ELECTION.

Opening of the Action of Contest of the Election of Sir John A. Macdonald.

KINGSTON, Dec. 6.—Judge Patterson, in the election action against the return of Sir John A. Macdonald, gave the opinion that the limit in which election petitions are to be tried does not include the time Parliament is in session and ordered the case to proceed under the order made by the Court of Appeal.

Thomas Cambridge, jr., asserted that Isaac Noble lent his father $15 to pay his, the junior's, expenses from Oshawa. The father signed a note, but he was told that payment would not be pressed. After Mr. Noble's death, on explanation by Cambridge senior, the note was destroyed. Absence of witnesses prevented the charge from being finished.

Edward Dougherty and Henry Smith said they were paid $10 each for voting for Sir John. It was dropped in a sleigh by Thomas Boyd. A sensation occurred when Smith told of an arrangement made by which he and Dougherty confessed to the Reform Association in the hope of securing a reward of $200 offered. They got $50 each on account for their statements.

DROWNED AT UXBRIDGE.

Two Young Men Break Through the Ice While Skating and Lose Their Lives.

UXBRIDGE, Dec. 6.—Two young men, Fred Gold and Willie Pedrick, aged 18 and 22 respectively, were drowned last night about 11 o'clock while skating on Gould's pond. Most of the company of skaters had left the ice before the accident happened, and the remaining ones were at the other end of the pond when they heard the cry of the drowning boys. They hastened to their assistance, but too late, as both had disappeared when they arrived. They continued grappling nearly all night, but the bodies were not recovered till morning. Both were estimable young men, and their sudden fate has cast a gloom over the whole community. Young Pedrick was the sole support of an embarrassed family, consisting of two brothers and two sisters, whose sole surviving parent died last spring.

A Suit Involving $4,000,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The trial was begun to-day in the U. S. Circuit Court of two suits in equity, brought by the Banque Franco-Egyptienne of Paris and Henry L. Hinchenheem of London against John Crosby Brown and others for about $4,000,000. The suits grew out of the negotiations of bonds of the New York, Boston and Montreal Railway Company.

Dealers in "Green" Goods.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The police have aroused themselves to energetic action against the "smartest swindlers" who have flourished in this city with comparative freedom for many years. Two well-known "bunco" men were arraigned this morning. An account book was found in their rooms, which showed they had made about $14,000 clear profits since June last.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

The Canadian Chautauqua.

Mr. L. C. Peake, managing director of the Niagara Assembly (Canadian Chautauqua), has been in town attending the Sunday School Convention as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Provincial Association, remains in town for a few days in the interests of the Canadian Chautauqua. This assembly is a Canadian adaptation of the famous Chautauqua movement inaugurated by Dr. Vincent, and is in charge of an incorporated company with capital of $50,000, which has secured 92 acres of choice land at Niagara-on-the-Lake, one of the most charming sites on the continent, for a summer resort. This has been tastefully laid out and divided into lots. Of the above capital, $40,000 are subscribed, but it is the aim of the directors to have towns like Peterborough have an interest in the affair, and Mr. Peake's presence affords an opportunity. The EXAMINER commends the claims of the Canadian Chautauqua to those citizens who recognize the importance of combining moral and intellectual improvement with physical recreation.

Board of Education.

Regular Meeting of the Board—A Bill Lot of Applications for Positions—The Religious Education and Other Questions.

Chairman Stevenson and Messrs Stratton, Burnham, Wrightson, English, Weir, A. Rutherford, Landry, Dunne, Hewett and Dobbie constituted a quorum at the regular meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday evening.

After the minutes had been read and confirmed, Mr. Rutherford rose to acquire to what extent the instructions given to the teachers of the schools regarding religious instruction had been carried out. He said he understood there was some misunderstanding among the teachers and the result was in some places no attention was paid to it at all.

Mr. LONG, Principal of the Collegiate Institute, replied that the new rules were observed in his department.

Mr. SMITH, Principal of the Central public school, said he had given the teachers in his school instructions to obey the new rules and he supposed they were doing so.

Mr. STRATTON—Have the ministers supplied you with copies of the Sunday School lessons?

Mr. SMITH—No; nothing at all.

Mr. STEVENSON—They will be here in a few days.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Applications for promotions or positions on the public school teaching staff, were read from Miss M. G. Sim, Clara Cairns, Misses Miss Richardson, Lizzie McLennan, Linda Livingstone and Linda Cassidy (of Hastings); Mr. Wm. Smith applied for increase of salary. All these were referred to the Committee on Appointments.

A communication from Mr. T. A. Rowan, late Modern Languages Master in the Collegiate Institute, announcing his recovery and stating that he would return for the December's work, was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Miss E. Harper sent in a communication asking the Board to take into consideration the advisability of establishing a class for instruction in shorthand in connection with the Collegiate Institute. Miss Harper addressed the Board on the subject, consideration of which was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. A. G. T. Haultain, asking the Board to take some action regarding the Governor-General's medal, for which he had applied. The Secretary was instructed to send Mr. Haultain a copy of the motion passed at the last meeting of the Board, intimating that the Board could not interfere in the matter.

Mr. A. E. Scott sent in his resignation of his position as teacher in the Central School.

A communication from Mr. T. A. Waldron regarding his salary was received.

The following statements of school attendance and fees were received:—

	Average Attendance.	No. on Roll.
Collegiate Institute	153
Central	571	634
South Ward School	213	256
West Ward School	122	130

Fees for November—Collegiate Institute, $136.50; public schools, $11.50.

THE ELECTIONS.

Mr. STRATTON introduced a by-law appointing the places of holding the approaching school trustee elections, and returning officers, the polling places being the same as those appointed for the municipal elections; the returning officers were named as follows:—Ward No. 1, Jas. Lundy; No. 2, Chas. Cameron; No. 3, John Irwin; No. 4, Wm. Lee.

Chairman STEVENSON stated that the demand of the town upon the School Board had been complied with and the amount handed over.

THE DRILL QUESTION.

Mr. STRATTON, of the Supervision Committee, reported that the committee had considered the matter of Sergt.-Major Randall's application for drilling the pupils of the public schools, and had come to the conclusion that it was not advisable to introduce the drill into the schools just yet.

A little discussion followed on this, which culminated in the following motion from Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. English, that Major Randall be employed at the rate of not more than 50c. for the half day, to give instruction in manual drill and calisthenics to the pupils of the high school, under supervision of the Supervision Committee, the engagement to be from week to week, and to be stopped if found to interfere seriously with the efficient working of the school.—Carried.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. JAS. STRATTON, Inspector, presented a letter which he had received from Dr. J. George Hodgins, Deputy Minister of Education, stating that he would attend the High School opening at Campbellford Tuesday and on the way back would have a few hours to spend in Peterborough, which he proposed to utilise in visiting the schools. Chairman Stevenson was instructed to receive Dr. Hodgins and escort him through the schools.

The question of teachers' certificates was raised, and after some discussion the following resolution was passed:—

Mr. STRATTON moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, That whereas Miss Perry has, during the past thirteen years of her employment by the Board, rendered so efficient services that the Board has recognized her merit as a teacher by giving her three promotions; be it therefore resolved that owing to her long experience and faithful services, the Inspector be requested to communicate with the Minister of Education and ask him on behalf of this Board, to issue to Miss Perry a third class life certificate good for the town of Peterborough.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. STRATTON, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that this Board accept the resignation of Mr. A. B. Scott, to take effect 31st Dec., 1887, and would take the opportunity of stating that Mr. Scott has always been an efficient, painstaking and faithful teacher, that his pupils have made satisfactory progress under his instruction, and this Board regrets that Mr. Scott finds it necessary to sever his connection with the Board.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

The Trent Valley Canal.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says:—"Mr. Frank Turner, C.E., of Toronto, had an interview to-day with Mr. Pope, Minister of Railways and Canals, in reference to the Trent Valley Canal Commission. Mr. Turner received instructions to proceed at once with the necessary investigations with a view to making a report at an early date. Judge Weller and Mr. Kennedy, of Montreal, the other Commissioners, will forthwith be notified to co-operate with Mr. Turner as soon as they conveniently can. It is more than probable that during the winter the Commissioners will examine and take evidence respecting that portion of the canal lying between Peterborough and Trenton. Mr. Turner left for Toronto to-night, but he will probably be in Peterborough on Thursday to commence operations."

Episcopal Visit to Douro.

The Bishop of Peterborough in South Douro.—Presented With a Beautiful Address.

On Friday last, the 2nd inst., His Lordship Bishop Dowling left Peterborough, accompanied by the Rev. Father O'Connell, to pay his first episcopal visit to the parish of South Douro.

His Lordship was met by a large portion of the congregation and conducted to the parish presbytery, where he remained a few moments, in order to give the people an opportunity to get seated in the church. The altar was decorated for the occasion with beautiful and costly flowers, which presented a gorgeous appearance.

As soon as His Lordship, assisted by the Rev. Fathers Keilty and O'Connell, entered the church, the choir sang the hymn "Viva" in an excellent manner. His Lordship was then presented with the following which was read by the Reeve, Mr. Jno. Moloney:

To the Right Rev. T. J. Dowling, Lord Bishop of Peterborough:

May it please your Lordship, we, the parishioners of Douro, feel it a happy and joyful privilege to assemble here to-day to meet and greet your Lordship on your first episcopal visitation to this mission, and to bid your Lordship a sincere, loyal and affectionate welcome.

It is always a source of pride and happiness for us to conform to the beautiful custom, sanctioned by long traditionary years, to gather around our chief pastor, on his episcopal visitation, and offer him the warm and hearty expression of their filial love, respect and veneration.

But on an occasion like this more than another it becomes for us a pleasing and loving duty to manifest the exuberance of our joy for the happy and felicitous selection in your Lordship's person as successor to the lamented Bishop Jamot whose sudden demise we deeply mourned. Since that lamentable event we eagerly looked for a worthy successor to that good, pious and saintly prelate. In our long suspense, our anxiety was at last relieved, our expectation were realised, our sorrow turned into joy and our aching hearts filled with gratitude to Heaven and to the Holy Father, for the great honor conferred on the See of Peterborough by the appointment of so distinguished a member of the priesthood as your Lordship.

As a consequence therefore we feel a just and holy pride swelling our hearts and joyfully assemble to lay at your Lordship's feet our most profound love and homage, and renew our willing and loving obedience to your high Episcopal authority.

Since your Lordship's inauguration into the See of Peterborough, we very anxiously longed to see our new Bishop, as renowned and eminently distinguished for learning, piety and eloquence, and whose magnificent qualities of head and heart, if equalled, cannot be surpassed; so to-day, thank God, this long-wished for desire has been vouchsafed us.

It is then, indeed, for us the most consoling and charming reflection to be honoured with a gentleman of so distinguished virtue, holy zeal and consummate prudence, to preside over, rule and govern this young and laborious diocese confided to your Lordship's care.

This high mark of distinction could not help falling to the lot of your Lordship, since your whole sacerdotal life has been actively engaged in the best and most loving works of religion and education.

Now, my Lord, for your generous obedience to the Holy See, for your generous sacrifice in leaving a parish, the hearts of whose people dearly beloved you, in leaving a diocese which was the place of your spiritual birth, and where you enjoyed the love, respect and confidence of all who knew you, both lay and clerical, for all these noble sacrifices we can only return you a sincere, loving and humble submission to your high ecclesiastical authority and a hearty co-operation in all your undertakings to the best of our abilities.

We are pleased to inform your Lordship that we are taking means to raise funds by yearly subscriptions to supplant this old church for the erection of a new one, and we earnestly hope before long, under the guiding hand of your Lordship and the blessing of Heaven, we shall be able to accomplish it.

In conclusion, my Lord, be pleased to receive from your children of the parish of Douro to-day the assurance of their most profound respect, love and devotion, and be assured we all will, as in duty bound, pray to our good God through the merits of His divine son and His blessed immaculate mother, to grant you a long, happy and prosperous life to rule and govern this your new diocese.

We now in conclusion ask your Lordship's benedictions.

Signed on behalf of the parishioners: John Moloney, Reeve; James McCligratt, Councillor; Patrick Moher, Councillor; Edward Foley, Councillor; Wm. Moher, sr.; John Lealy, Treas.; John Crowley.

THE BISHOP'S REPLY.

His Lordship replied in a very happy and pleasing manner, and thanked them for the many noble sentiments expressed in the address. Personally he considered that he was unworthy of so many words of praise, but he received them as the representative of Him from whom he has his divine commission as teacher of the people.

After replying to the address, His Lordship preached one of the most beautiful and eloquent sermons ever heard there, his subject being the "Supremacy of the See of Peter," founded on the text of St. Matt., xvi., 13-19 verses.

On Sunday morning he delivered another pleasing discourse, which delighted and charmed the whole congregation. His clear and musical voice could never fail to engage the attention of the most select congregation.

On Monday he again entertained a crowded church with an excellent sermon on the Immaculate Conception, anticipating the Feast which will take place during the coming week. Well may the Diocese of Peterborough be proud of their distinguished, eloquent and learned Bishop. His appeal to the people for his Diocesan debt, was heartily responded to by the members of the congregation, who contributed the handsome sum of over $1,000, $500 of which was a generous donation by the Rev. Father O'Connell, the parish priest.

Fatal Runaway Accident.

An Old Resident of Asphodel Meets an Untimely Death.—His Daughter Injured.

This forenoon about nine o'clock, as Mr. James Stephenson, of Asphodel, and his daughter were driving to Peterborough, their team of spirited horses, while passing the abode of Mr. M. O'Brien, of Hunter's Hill, about five miles from town, shied violently and ran down the hill at a terrific rate. The buggy was upset and both Mr. Stephenson and his daughter thrown out.

The accident had been witnessed by a number of people, who immediately ran to the assistance of the unfortunates, among them Messrs. O'Brien, Blezard, McCarthy and others. They found Mr. Stephenson on the verge of death, and, after gasping twice, his spirit fled. There were no cuts and bruises visible about the dead man's body, only a slight bleeding at the nose, indicating any injury. Dr. Collins was summoned, and, with Dr. Fife, made an examination, finding death to have been caused by a fracture of the occipital bone (of the skull at the back of the head).

Miss Stephenson was sensible but very badly injured, but it is hoped she will recover. Both were taken to the residence of Mr. O'Brien, and Dr. Collins dressed Miss Stephenson's wounds, which were mainly of the scalp.

Mr. McCarthy came to town and took Mrs. E. Hamilton, niece of Miss Stephenson, to the scene of the accident.

The buggy was wrecked in the accident, but the horses, after running a short distance, were stopped.

Mr. Stephenson was an old and highly respected resident of Asphodel, about 60 years of age, and his terribly sudden death has caused his many friends the deepest sorrow.

Personal.

Mr. Jones, of Kingston, District Post Office Inspector, in in town on official business.

Mr. J. Geo. Hodgins, LL.D., Deputy Minister of Education, is in Town to-day and visited the High and Public Schools. He is the guest of Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P. P.

Mr. J. T. Anderson, late head salesman in Mr. Jas. Alexander's dry goods store, left on Monday for a few weeks' visit to his home in Apsley, after which he goes to Montreal, where he has secured a good situation.

The Winnipeg correspondent of the Toronto Mail says:—"Among the names now mentioned in connection with Knox church pastorate in this city are Rev. Messrs. Ross, of Perth; Torrance, of Peterborough; MacNeill, of St. John, N.B.; McTavish, of Lindsay; Fleck, of Montreal; McLean, of Belleville, and Breas[illegible] St. John's, Nfld."

The County Loses a Case.

The following paragraph is taken from the record of Tuesday's law business at Osgoode Hall:—

County of Victoria v. County of Peterborough.—Judgment delivered in favor of plaintiffs, declaring that the defendants are jointly liable with the plaintiffs to keep up and repair certain bridges which are wholly within the county of Victoria. Costs to be paid by defendants.

The bridges in question are on Pigeon Creek, in that part of Verulam township which formerly was a part of Harvey township before the counties of Peterborough and Victoria were separated. Since the separation the county of Peterborough has disclaimed all responsibility in the maintenance of these bridges, but by the above decision it will be obliged to do its share.

National League.

At a meeting of Peterborough branch of the Irish National League Monday evening, Secretary McIlmoyle on the chair, the following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—T. Dolan.
1ST VICE-PRESIDENT—J. Griffin.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—John Dinan.
3RD VICE-PRESIDENT—P. Begley.
SECRETARY—J. D. McIlmoyle.
TREASURER—J. Corkery.
COMMITTEE—No. 1 Ward, Wm. Radkins and J. O'Brien; No. 2 Ward, J. Griffin and T. Dolan; No. 3 Ward, W. Hickey and J. Cronan; No. 4 Ward, E. Crough, M. O'Brien and C. McAuliffe; Ashburnham, P. Begley, W. Collins and J. Drain.

A contribution of $36 was made to the anti-coercion fund, and the Secretary was instructed to arrange, if possible, with Sir Thomas Esmond, M.P., and Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M.P., for the delivery of addresses in Peterborough during their Canadian trip.

Dedication of a School.

A correspondent sends the following:—"The new Campbellford Public School was formally dedicated by Dr. Hodgins, Deputy-Minister of Education, on Tuesday afternoon. The Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, was unable to attend as was expected, owing to illness. Dr. Hodgins was met at the station in the afternoon by the civic authorities and the members of the School Board. They proceeded at once to the new school, where addresses were delivered by members of the School board, village council and the teachers. Dr. Hodgins replied in a happy manner, congratulating the village upon having one of the finest schools in the province, and formally declared the new building dedicated to the purpose of public education. In the evening a concert was held to a overflowing audience. The chairman of the Board gave an interesting address upon the progress of the school. Addresses were also delivered by the chairman of the Stirling School board, the Principal of Madoc, Stirling and Campbellford High Schools, and others. The dedication ceremonies were a complete success.

Concert and Supper.

The concert and supper in St. Luke's church Tuesday evening was a gratifying success. The tables were spread in the infant class room, and a goodly number partook of the delicious viands prepared. After supper the following programme was presented in the school room, Mr. H. T. Strickland in the chair:—

Mrs. Peck and Miss McNab.....Piano Duet
Mrs. Bowman.....Vocal Solo
Prof. Jaques—Solo.....Rank and File
[ENCORE—The Soldier's Death.]
Miss Eva Tivey—Solo.....Chiming Bells

Miss Daisy Morgan.....Instrumental Solo
Mrs. Bowman—Solo.....Molly Bawn
[ENCORE—Tapping at the Garden Gate.]
Miss Revell.....Vocal Solo
Miss Morgan—Solo.....Norah Darling
Mr. Chas. N. Brown.....Reading

After the concert an auction sale of cakes took place, out of which a good of sum was realised. In the drawing for the silver butter cooler and the set of dishes, Miss Minnie Graystock secured the silverware, and Mrs. Heap the dishes.

Great Slaughtering and Cutting OF PRICES IN DRY GOODS AT THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and surely startle you into the advisability of calling.

STATE OF CANADA'S TRADE

LONDON VIEWS REGARDING THE CONDITION OF OUR TRADE.

The Fallacy of Protection—The Sources Affected—General Gordon's Bills Dishonored — November's Trade—A Gift for the Princess.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—News cabled here concerning the alleged failure of wholesale houses in London, Ont., gave rise to some uneasiness in the city. The financial editor of The Daily News regards the failures, coupled with the failure of the Central Bank, as evidence of a good deal of financial trouble in Canada. These fears, however, are not generally felt in the best informed circles in the city, where, though the effects of the failure of the harvest in the older Provinces are fully recognized, general advices about Canadian trade, as The Standard points out, are better than for a long time past.

There are no Canadian points of special interest at the Smithfield show, beyond the fact that Canadian breeders might note that Clement Stephenson wins first honors, as at Birmingham, with his Polled Aberdeen cow. George Wilkins, one of the tenant farmer delegates to Canada, secured the first prize in another class.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The Telegraph, referring to President Cleveland's argument condemning the wool tariff, asks: "Is he sure that it is to the wool tariff alone that the argument applies? Is he certain that there are not large numbers—not, perhaps, in the farming, but in the wage-earning classes in America—who lose more by the enhanced prices of the necessaries of life than they gain from an increase in wages by the protection of the industries in which they are employed? This is a question which Free Traders will ask, and which also American statesmen may bear addressed to them by their countrymen in a different tone."

The Standard says: President Cleveland's Message is based on financial principles, the soundness of which it is impossible to successfully dispute. It marks the revolution starting point in the fiscal controversies of the United States. Whether it will bring about immediately a new departure in their fiscal policy depends upon its reception by Congress, which may give a spirited protest to the President.

Mr. Bradlaugh has written to Lord Salisbury demanding that a Parliamentary committee be appointed to investigate his charge that Lord Salisbury sent a check to promote a fair trade meeting in Trafalgar-square in 1868.

The London stock markets and the bourses at Paris, Berlin and Frankfort are weak. The bourse at Vienna is excited. The markets are affected by the reports concerning the movements of Russian troops on the Austrian frontier.

The steamer Isla de Sanay, 3500 tons, which left Liverpool Nov. 26 for Manilla and Singapore, is ashore nine miles north of Segres, Portugal. Seven of her crew were drowned.

Bills to the amount of £40,000, drawn by the late Gen. Gordon during the siege of Khartoum, have been dishonored by the Government, who obtained a decision from the Cairo mixed tribunal in their favor. The holders of the bills have commenced action against the private estate of Gen. Gordon for payment.

The returns issued by the State Board of Trade show that the imports decreased during November £300,000 as compared with the same month last year, and that the exports increased £1,610,000.

At the annual meeting of the Central Chamber of Agriculture to-day many provincial delegates were present and took part in an excited discussion over a motion favoring Protection. The Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, Conservative, deprecated the placing of duties on cereals unless the agitation in favor of bi-metallism and the abolition of bounties failed. The motion was carried by two to one.

The Grand Lodge of Freemasons has voted £500 for the purchase of a gift to be presented to the Princess of Wales on the occasion of her silver wedding.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Coroner Johnson will hold an inquest to-night upon the body of Gertrude Rawlings, a girl 9 years of age, who died at noon yesterday at her parents' residence, 39 Richmond-street west. The deceased was taken ill at the York-street Public School Tuesday morning and was sent home. Some medicine was procured from a Queen-street druggist, and two doses were taken by the girl. Her condition, however, became worse, and death resulted as stated.

The hearing of the application for the extradition to the United States of W. W. Young, alias "Tommy Bates," formerly of Detroit, on the charge of forgery, was continued yesterday before Judge McDougall. The evidence of witnesses was read and they signed their depositions. The case was adjourned till next Wednesday, when the Crown hopes to be able to produce Boston evidence as to the prisoner's identity.

A serious accident occurred at the Don improvement works yesterday afternoon. While a man named Patrick Day, Lippincott-street, was working with his pick, a large portion of the embankment fell upon him, crushing him almost to death. Dr. Lesson ordered his immediate removal to the General Hospital. Further examination showed that the hip bone was dislocated, several ribs broken, and that serious internal injuries had been sustained. Day is a man of about 50 years of age, and married. His condition is considered hopeless.

It is expected the meeting of the shareholders and creditors of the Central Bank will be held about Dec. 13, when liquidators will be appointed by both shareholders and creditors to act in conjunction with the third liquidator to be appointed by the courts.

A report to the effect that Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., had resigned the presidency of the Imperial Federation League, is incorrect. Mr. McCarthy, owing to pressure of private business, is anxious to be relieved of the responsibilities of the office if a suitable man can be got for the post, but there is no danger of his immediate resignation. The annual meeting of the League will be held at Ottawa early in January, when it is quite possible that the president will tender his resignation. The business of the League has increased considerably of late, owing to the Commercial Union fad, and new branches are being established in every quarter of the Dominion.

J. L. Sullivan Missed.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—There were fully 8000 people in the Royal Aquarium at Westminster this evening, whom the doubled price of admission did not deter from coming to see Sullivan's bout with Ashton, which was very enthusiastically applauded. When, however, J. L. Sullivan reappeared on the stage, accompanied by the well-known bookmaker Frank Hinde, an attempt was made to hiss the American champion by a certain low class of sporting men present. Sullivan shook his head as though he would like to have been up and at them and then said: "Gentlemen, the kindly reception which has been accorded to me during the past week, and in fact everywhere in England, makes it easy for me to forget those hisses. I have exhibited before many audiences and in them, one and all, I have always found some pigs without tails."

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

The Buckeye flouring mills of M. H. Anderson, at Portsmouth, Ohio, were burned on Tuesday night. Mr. Anderson and a fireman were killed by a falling wall.

The wholesale grocery house of Grail Bros. and several other large establishments at Montgomery, Ala., were burned yesterday morning; loss $200,000.

The Grand Lodge of Freemasons has voted £500 for the purchase of a gift to be presented to the Princess of Wales on the occasion of her silver wedding.

Germany, Austria and Italy have agreed to raise their ministers at Madrid to the rank of Ambassadors, and England is expected to follow. This is a step toward the recognition of Spain as a great power.

A bill has been introduced in the Spanish Cortes providing for an increase of 25 per cent. in the duties on foreign cereals, flour, rice and cattle.

The Sultan of Turkey has conferred the decoration of Commander of the Medjidie on Dr. Morris H. Henry of New York, for distinguished contributions to medical and surgical science.

THE KINGSTON ELECTION CASE.

The Judge Dismisses One of the Charges Involving the Payment of a Voter.

KINGSTON, Dec. 7.—The whole day was occupied in the protested election case in considering the charge against the late Isaac Noble of paying $15 to Thomas Cambridge, jr., for his traveling expenses. The evidence was closely sifted and the whole circumstances brought out.

Mr. Blake, Q.C., and Mr. McCarthy, Q.C., very thoroughly canvassed the matter by their addresses and at 5 o'clock Judge Pattersan dismissed the charge, holding that Noble had not done a corrupt or wilful act by paying the money. There was no evidence to show that Cambridge, jr., had been brought to the city to vote under a promise nor was he influenced to vote on an understanding that his expenses would be paid. The agency of Noble ceased after the election was concluded. The judge admitted that Noble had done a foolish act in trying to cover up the transaction by getting the father to sign a note when the whole evidence showed that he was simply giving Cambridge the money in view of the way he had voted. The payment, however, subsequent to the recording of the vote did not constitute a corrupt act within the meaning of the law. The case will be resumed to-morrow.

Poisoning Suspected.

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 7.—Coroner Commee of Welland yesterday held an inquest at North Pelham on the body of the late C. J. Cook, postmaster of that place, who, it is suspected, came to his death by poisoning. A great deal of evidence was taken, one of the medical witnesses stating that he was inclined to believe, from the symptoms described to him at Cook's death and from the appearance of the body, that death resulted from other than natural causes. The stomach of deceased will be sent to Toronto for analysis.

AUSTRIA WILL STRENGTHEN HER FRONTIER FORCE.

Interview Between President Carnot and Clemenceau—A Ministry Formed at Vienna—The Marquis Backed—M. Goblet Summoned to Form a Cabinet.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—In his interview with M. Clemenceau, yesterday, President Carnot said he was aware he had not been elected on his own merits. It was his earnest desire to do his duty and sink self whenever his personal views might conflict with the interests of the public. There must always be two great Republican parties, the President said, but in elections they should unite against their common enemy, the Monarchists.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—President Carnot, in his interview with M. Clemenceau yesterday, said he was under no illusion that he had been chosen President for his own merits. He had an earnest desire to do his duty and sink self on every occasion when his personal views might conflict with the public interest. While admitting that there must always exist two great Republican parties, the President said it would be possible in elections for them to unite against their common enemy, the Monarchists.

M. Clemenceau deprecated the idea of taking men from the various groups to form the cabinet irrespective of their platforms. He said a union of the parties could be better effected on the adoption of certain principles as a basis of action.

President Carnot has intimated that a general election will probably be held toward the end of 1888.

Private advices from Warsaw to-day report that the massing of Russian troops on the frontier must be attributed to information received by Russia that Germany and Austria would unite in the event of war between either of those powers and Russia. In such a contingency Germany and Austria proposed to invade Russian Poland and occupy Warsaw; their great facilities of mobilization would enable them to perform that move in a very short time. On receipt of the news Russia resolved to permanently increase the number of her frontier troops. The movement does not mean aggression, but is purely defensive.

The Emperor of Austria will preside at a military council to be held at the Palace at Vienna to-morrow, to consider the situation in view of the massing of Russian troops on the frontier.

The Moscow Gazette says that the future policy of the French Republic will decide whether Germany will be forced to watch one or both of her frontiers. The same paper also says that a strong Russian fleet must be permanently stationed on the Pacific Ocean.

The National Gazette of Berlin says it is evident that the military forces of Russia now in Poland are not sufficient to attack two formidable military powers. The present massing of troops is too small for war and too large for peace.

A verdict of £1200 was awarded to Mr. Joyce of Dublin against his former employer, the Marquis of Clanricarde, in a libel suit for £50,000 damages.

In the case of O'Leary, charged with complicity in the murder of Constable Wheleham at Lisdoonvarna, the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal.

A report that the Powers interested have officially sent a note to Russia with reference to the massing of troops on the frontier is denied by the Political Correspondence, of Vienna, semi-official. The paper adds that the guards on the Austrian frontier will be thoroughly organized and increased. It also says that all telegrams sent to Russia in reference to The Freundenblatter' article concerning Russia's action have been suppressed by the Russian Censor.

It is the prevailing opinion in Vienna that the German press exaggerates the importance of the Russian military movements on the frontier, the better to disguise Bismarck's diplomacy, whose chief object is thought to be the removal of the Czar from the influence of those who are trying to estrange Germany and Russia. The course of the German press is considered dangerous, as it will increase the tension of the situation if Bismarck fails in his purpose. The Austrian military preparations are due to the fear of a possible failure of Bismarck's scheme more than to the massing of Russian troops.

M. Fallieres was to-day requested by President Carnot to form a Cabinet, but he declined on the ground of ill-health and a lack of sufficient authority. The President then summoned M. Goblet, who has agreed to form a Cabinet.

President Sadi-Carnot has been installed in the Elysee Palace.

A private telegram from San Remo reports that the doctors have completely changed their opinion regarding the nature of the Crown Prince's disease.

Threatened Riot by Strikers.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—The sheriff of Lake County has asked the Governor for the militia to quell a threatened riot among the ore handlers at Fairport in that county. One hundred men of the fifth regiment of Cleveland have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness.

CHEWED HER CHILD'S ARM.

MRS. FELLOWS CUTS OFF THE HEAD OF HER SIX-WEEK'S-OLD INFANT.

A Horrible Case of Child-murder in North Toronto—A Crazy Mother Uses a Table Knife on Her Own Progeny—What Was Discovered Under the Bedstead.

TORONTO, Dec. 8.

What is undoubtedly the most revolting and horrible crime that has ever occurred in Toronto was that which took place yesterday when Elizabeth Fellows, the wife of John Fellows, a stableman in the employ of Pears & Booth, brick manufacturers, cut the head off of her six-weeks' old child, and then followed up the deed by cutting off the left arm of the babe, boiling it, eating part of it, and placing the rest of it on the dinner table. The affair took place in Fellows' home in Avenue-road, a short distance north of Davenport-road.

Four years ago John Fellows, who is now so remarkable that he shows no expression of grief, married Linda Williams, then 23 years of age. He first knew her in Market Drayton, Shropshire, Eng., and later when she lived in Toronto with her aunt, Mrs. Davis of 239 Lippincott-street. They were married here in July, 1883, and since then they have had four children, one of whom died at an early age.

Mrs. Fellows was always a delicate looking woman, and it is believed that her four-fold maternity led to the weakening of her mind. After the birth of her third child, a little over a year ago, she became subject to melancholia, and was for a while confined in the Lunatic Asylum. She was released in May, and she improved so much that her husband took her back to his house.

Six weeks ago Mrs. Fellows gave birth to her fourth child, the babe which is now a mutilated corpse. After the birth she showed signs of insanity, but displayed no violent tendencies, still her actions were such that her husband feared something, and closely observed her.

Mr. Fellows left the house at nearly 7 yesterday morning to go to his work. At 10.30 he called at the house and found his wife sitting near a front window sewing, with her two girls aged three and one years, standing by her. The baby was sewing in a wicker-bedded perambulator near by. Fellows spoke to his wife, but she did not appear to hear him. He returned to his work.

At 12 o'clock Fellows went home to get his dinner. As the door he was met by his 3-year old child who said: "Pa, ma has stabbed the baby." He asked his wife to explain but she said nothing. Her face was red and she seemed to be in mental agony. This occurred in the basement. Fellows rushed up stairs, again demanding where the baby was, and his wife followed him. He repeated his enquiry as to the baby and his wife said: "Oh, it's all right, everything is right."

Fellows searched the sitting-room and then went to the baby carriage. He pulled down the coverlet and found a pillow soaked with blood. The poor, crazed wife was standing by and when Fellows, almost dazed, asked her where the baby was she said "in there," and pointed to the bedroom, where there were two beds. Fellows got down on his knees and looked under one of the beds. He saw something done up in a blood-stained blanket. Almost crazed he rushed from the house and ran to his employers' office. Mr. Pears and Mr. Booth returned with him to the house. Mr. Pears looked under the bed which Fellows pointed out to him, and there he found the body of the babe. The tiny piece of humanity was enclosed in the blanket. The head was completely severed and laid upon the legs. The slight indicated that the knife had first been inserted at the back of the neck, then drawn around the right side in a downward way, till the cutting was finished at the breast. The whole of the body was clean of blood, and everything indicated that the unfortunate mother had washed away the stains of blood. The mouth of the poor little babe was drawn up as if in agony, while the wrinkled forehead gave further evidence of a painful death.

To Mr. Pears Mrs. Fellows admitted that she had killed her child. She said that the deed was done with a common table knife, and that she did it because she was told to do it. As her husband rushed out for help, he said to his wife: "You won't harm the other children!" and she replied: "Not if I can help it!"

But now comes the worst. Fellows brought his two employers to the place and the police were also summoned from No. 4, St. Paul's Ward Station. The body of the babe had been lying on its left side and nothing beyond the severance of the head was noticed. But upon turning the body the left arm was found to be missing.

The poor crazy woman was asked about this. She acknowledged that she had killed her child, that she had cut off its head with a common table knife, that she had cut off its left arm just below the shoulder with the same knife, that she had boiled the arm, eaten part of it and placed the rest on the dinner table for her husband.

A search resulted in finding the arm of the child upon a wooden plate—an ordinary bread plate—laid in the cupboard. The arm was only about eight inches long and, as a police sergeant described it, it looked like a pig's foot, the fingers being closed as if done so in a struggle.

Mrs. Fellows was arrested by Constable Loughead and taken to St. Paul's Ward Police Station. She freely admitted that she had killed her child, but would say nothing further. A few hours later the poor woman was removed to the jail. She is there now and her case will come up in the Police Court this morning. Her speech and her actions make it undoubtedly clear that she is insane.

Meanwhile the carved body of the infant lies in the house. It was coffined yesterday afternoon and the father and his children slept in the house last night. The sight of it was horrible, and a police sergeant said: "It was such a sight as would make you want to get out as quickly as you could."

THE MAYORALTY.

As will be seen by his address in our advertising columns, Mr. Arthur Rutherford, one of our best known citizens, announces himself as a candidate for the position of Mayor of the town of Peterborough for the coming year. He makes no dubious declaration of his platform, which, it will be observed, has three important planks—Economy, Temperance and Municipal Progress. Economy is always a vitally important factor in civic administration. It is the duty of a chief officer of a town to keep vigilant watch over the corporation expenditure, and Mr. Rutherford's long connection and acquaintance with municipal affairs should qualify him for rendering the town efficient service in this respect. The temperance plank involves in Mr. Rutherford's case the strict enforcement of the Scott Act, and as he forcibly expresses it "through the proper officers of the town." He claims to be a practical temperance man and for the past quarter of a century has identified himself actively with the promotion of the interests of the temperance cause. Mr. Rutherford also lays claim to the support of the working man, and in so far as his practical life goes his claim is justly founded. He is a working man himself and has excellent opportunities of knowing the wants of the class whose suffrages he seeks. Mr. Rutherford's municipal experience of twenty years should qualify him for making a valuable chief magistrate. He has served on many of the most important committees, and the full and varied experience he has had in every department of the municipal service, is calculated to supply him with an intimate knowledge of the waste of the town, and of the means demanded to effectually guard its interests. Public opinion at the present time seems to attach particular emphasis to the necessity of temperance principles entering as an element into our municipal affairs, and, in selecting Mr. Rutherford as an exponent of those principles and a candidate for their practical application to civic administration, it cannot be denied that the section of the electors favoring an advanced and aggressive temperance platform have secured a candidate who should command their full strength at the polls.

THE announcement is made in the Canada Gazette that anthracite coal dust has been placed on the free list; but bituminous coal and dust are still liable to duty.

THE trials of the Dominion election petitions in Ontario promise to proceed with expedition. Mr. Justice Rose will try those mentioned below on the dates named: Halton, January 4th; East Hastings, January 11th; East Simcoe, January 17th; Centre Wellington, January 24th; Glengarry, January 31st.

THE Hamilton Times has not much sympathy with bonus-hunters. It says:—"It is refreshing to find some indication that the municipalities are beginning to exercise common sense in dealing with applicants for bonuses. In Ingersoll, yesterday, the by-law proposing to grant $4,000 to a Mr. McKellar, to enable him to start the old Russell foundry, was voted down by the taxpayers. It would do no harm if the bonus-hunters' trade were made illegal by the Legislature. The subject should undoubtedly be brought up at its next session."

WE in Canada, who enjoy the high prices which a "protective" tariff, and the combinations it makes possible to keep up ring prices, cannot but be struck with the prices for commodities in "protected" Canada, as compared with the same in free-trade England. Some may think that we have cheap sugars but look for a moment at the prices in the Old Country. From the East Kent Gazette the following "local" advertisement, show the prices for sugars to be something we have no conception or experience of here: "The attention of the public is respectfully drawn to this advertisement, as we are certain that the goods at the prices quoted cannot be beaten. A trial order would be esteemed. Goods delivered to any part of the country weekly. All orders receive personal attention. Moist Sugar (per lb) 1d. White Sugar 1½d. Bright Demerara 1½d. FRANK GORELY, The Peoples Ready-Money Grocery and Provision Stores, 19 High street, Sittingbourne."

SUICIDE AT WELLAND.

Frederick Seburn, an Old Resident of the Town, Found Hanging in His House.

WELLAND, Ont., Dec. 7.—Frederick Seburn, an old and highly respected resident, had not been seen about the streets for some days past. Inquiries were instituted to day and William Garden perceived by looking through the keyhole that the key was inside of the door. This aroused Garden's suspicions and he raised a window and stepped in. On making a search through the house and opening a room door a terrible sight met his eyes. The body of Mr. Seburn dangled in the air. He had committed suicide by hanging. The room had a pair of stairs that led to the upper rooms. He must have gone up about four or five steps, tied a rope securely to the rafters and jumped down. His feet were about half an inch from the floor.

A letter was found written by Mr. Seburn stating that sorrow at the loss of his wife, financial troubles and general despondency led him to commit suicide. Mr. Garden immediately informed Coroner Cummer who decided, after reading the letter, that an inquest was unnecessary. Mr. Seburn was highly esteemed in the town. He has no family. He has relatives living near Thorold and in the States.

A PLETHORA OF WEALTH.

The Secretary of the U. S. Treasury Reports on the Enormous Surplus.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury devotes much attention to the question of surplus revenue and a revision of the tariff. The conclusions and recommendations are the same as those contained in the President's message. The surplus in the treasury on Dec. 1 amounted to $55,-839,761, and the Secretary estimates that it will aggregate $140,000,000 on June 30 next. On this point the Secretary says that one use which can be made of this money is to diminish the taxation to such an extent that the annual revenues will be less for some years to come than the appropriations. The accumulated surplus should be used for ordinary expenses, and the people would gain the greatest possible good from it.

The Secretary thinks it difficult to understand why it would not be well to so change our navigation laws as to allow foreign built ships owned by our citizens to come and go between this and other countries, while bearing the flag of the country of their owners, since a citizen of the United States may buy a foreign built vessel in a foreign port and putting a United States flag upon it trade with all the countries of the world except his own and receive our Government's protection in all such trade.

The Secretary says that it would be a waste to continue coining silver dollars, as the supply is now more than equal to any probable demand. For this reason the bullion purchased should be stored in large bars and upon these certificates could be issued at coinage value. The Secretary also says that the value of the silver in the hands of the people must be kept on a par with gold and that with this view a limit to treasury holdings of silver should be fixed and coinage suspended when this limit is reached.

The present divided authority and responsibility in the administration of immigrant laws is declared to be unsatisfactory.

The Rimouski Election Case.

RIMOUSKI, Dec. 7.—In the Rimouski Federal election contestation, argument was concluded here to-day and the petition against Dr. Fiset, the sitting member, was dismissed by Judge Pelletier.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

The Elgin Farmers' Institute Pronounces in Favor of the Movement.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 7.—The Elgin Farmers' Institute met at Aylmer yesterday and to-day. The first afternoon was spent in discussing a paper on the "Best means of maintaining the fertility of the soil," read by Mr. B. F. Hathaway of Union.

This afternoon the Town Hall was crowded with farmers to hear Mr. John Charlton, M.P., speak on the question of Commercial Union. His address was a thoughtful and earnest presentation of the advantages to be gained from the adoption of the measure, particularly to the farming community. In referring to the importance of the subject, he stated that he considered it by all odds the most momentous one before the people of Canada. Whether or not the political party with which he was identified now [illegible] to support Unrestricted Reciprocity, he had determined to advocate it so long as there was any chance of securing it, and he would support any party that took it up.

Mr. Charlton's address was replied to by Mr. Jabez Robinson, president of the Institute, and a pronounced Reformer, who objected to Commercial Union principally because he thought it would discriminate against England.

Mr. E. J. Steele and Mr. Charlton replied, and a vote was then taken on a resolution to the effect that the meeting believed Commercial Union would be beneficial to the country. Out of the large number present, numbering about 150, only four voted against the resolution.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

Proposal to Refer the Construction of the Old Treaty to Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—More than ordinary precautions were taken to-day to prevent publicity of the proceedings of the Fisheries Commissioners, who held a brief session at the State Department. No one connected with the Board would talk upon the subject of the failure of the negotiations, as telegraphed last night, and neither the commissioners nor the secretaries would give information as to the proceedings to-day. It is learned, however, that an attempt was made to agree upon the draft of a convention, recommending that the disputed point of the Treaty of 1818 be submitted to arbitration. This is as far as the meeting proceeded, and it is not thought probable that the United States will take any further steps towards offering a new treaty. If another proposition looking to this end is made the suggestion, in all probability, will come from Great Britain. It is just possible that Mr. Phelps, our Minister at the Court of St. James, may be directed to try his hand with the British Home Office, but this of course is mere speculation at present. The best that can be hoped for now is that the Treaty of 1818 will be so construed as to satisfy both parties, and the man who can hope for this must be naturally of a buoyant disposition.

THE PEACE COMMISSIONERS.

They Have an Interview With the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Sir George Campbell, Sir John Swinburne, Hon. Halley Stewart and Mr. Cramer, the members of the British Peace Commission, visited the room of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this morning, where they were met by and introduced to the members of the committee of the last Congress, of whom many will without doubt be members of the committee of the present Congress. Each of the visitors addressed the senators, setting forth their views and purposes in connection with the plan of settling international controversies by arbitration, and copies of the little volume by Sir George Campbell, entitled "The British Empire," were left for each member of the committee.

Sudden Death at Napanee.

NAPANEE, Dec. 7.—Thomas E. Howard, a prominent merchant and grain dealer in Bath village, dropped dead in the street to-day. He was seemingly in good health, and paralysis of the heart is assigned as the cause of his death.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and delicate things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in relieving this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Move in the Right Direction.

The patrons of the Palace Grocery will in future have no sitting up on Saturday night till the "wee sma' hours," waiting for the delivery of goods they have ordered. Finding that one delivery waggon could not meet the growing demands of their customers, Messrs. Elliott & Tierney have decided to place upon the road, as soon as snow comes, two handsome delivery sleighs, so that customers may in future rely upon getting their goods delivered on time.

The Canadian Chatauqua.

Mr. L. C. Peake, managing director of the Niagara Assembly (Canadian Chatauqua) has been in town attending the Sunday School Convention as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Provincial Association, remains in town for a few days in the interests of the Canadian Chatauqua. This assembly is a Canadian adaptation of the famous Chatauqua movement inaugurated by Dr. Vincent, and is in charge of an incorporated company with capital of $60,000, which has secured 92 acres of choice land at Niagara-on-the-Lake, one of the most charming sites on the continent, for a summer resort. This has been tastefully laid out and divided into lots. Of the above capital, $40,000 are subscribed, but it is the aim of the directors to have towns like Peterborough have an interest in the affair, and Mr. Peake's presence affords an opportunity. The EXAMINER commends the claims of the Canadian Chatauqua to those citizens who recognise the importance of combining moral and intellectual improvement with physical recreation.

Fine Residence.

The Lindsay Post says :—Perhaps north of Toronto no finer or more complete building is to be found than the one now in course of erection by Mr. John McKenzie. It is red; the brickwork which has been very satisfactorily completed by Messrs. Richard Sheehy and Harry McDonald, of Peterborough, reflects credit on those gentlemen as first-class workmen. The size of the main building is 52x20, with two bay windows in front and two extentions in the rear, and the height of brick wall twenty-six feet. The doors and windows are trimmed with fancy stonework; all the rooms are ventilated in the most modern style. The building is heated by a large furnace of the latest and most approved style, grates are also placed in the larger rooms for heating the building in the fall and spring.

Obituary.

Mr. Andrew Stutt, one of the oldest and best known residents of Peterborough, passed away this morning at the ripe age of 82 years. He died very peacefully, the worn out wheels of life seeming to simply stand still. He has been a resident of the town for over half a century, having come to Canada from County Monaghan Ireland, in 1830. Deceased at one time had considerable worldly possessions, but through befriending others he lost a large portion of them. In 1840 he was united in marriage to Miss Sharp, a daughter of the late Robert Sharp, of County Donegal, Ireland. Deceased was an active and faithful member of the Methodist Church and in politics, he was a staunch Conservative. He was a faithful friend and a kind and obliging neighbour, and his memory will be held in esteem by many persons who have enjoyed his acquaintanceship for the last half a century. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Charlotte street, on Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock.

Sanguinary Slaughter.

This gory phrase gives but a faint idea o the cutting and slashing, hewing and hacking of prices at T. Kelly's great cutting and carving low price sale of dry goods. These dry goods are all new stock, but the trade prospects are not so bright as when they were ordered. If they are held over to another season they will be held at a loss, and it will be a loss to run them off at prices which the public cannot resist. But the loss will be balanced by a gain to the public, who will have their choice of a superb stock of dry goods at tremendous reductions. Mr. Kelly's square business methods have been recognised in the shape of liberal patronage, and he now has a chance to return the compliment by giving the people the biggest chance for genuine bargains in genuine seasonable goods ever offered in Peterborough. The sale so far has been a big success and still there are thousands of bargains in store for the public. Read his advertisement in this issue, and you can't help being convinced that Kelly's is the place to get good goods at prices never before touched in town.

St. Peter's Society.

The weekly meeting of St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society was held Wednesday evening, Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle in the chair. The attendance was large. The debate was upon the following subject : "Resolved : that the crusades were beneficial to mankind." Messrs. Dan O'Brien, M. Hackett, R. Carey and F. O'Brien upheld the affirmative ; the negative was upheld by Messrs. R. Henry, J. Lynch, J. J. Doherty and Jos. Hurley. The decision of the chairman went against the resolution. After the debate the following programme was presented :—

Painting A Pain!

A New Parisian Artist's Curious Story of a "Rheumatic."

"Tell me, Mr. Wight," asked our reporter of the well-known art connoisseur of the Everett, New York, "is American art improving in character and excellence?"

"Very much so."

"Do Americans much patronize foreign art?"

"Yes, and And as they pay best prices, their private galleries contain gems of all the modern masters."

"Which are preferred, works of the modern or ancient masters?"

"The modern. Historical scenes, real and ideal landscapes, and decided characters in figure are the most popular.

"The last time I was in paris I picked up a very strong piece of drawing, which depicted a middle-aged man bolstered up in a much be-cushioned chair, his face and surroundings indicating intense agony.

"His table is crowded with many physicians' phials, abandoned bandages, and used-up blisters. Before him a tub of steaming water derisively sends its incense into his face, and the grate fire cheerily blazes in mockery of his unhappiness. His nurse is a type of dismay.

"I really enjoy looking at this picture!"

"I know how the old fellow feels! I myself was for twelve years a victim of infantory rheumatism. Every spring and winter perfect torture twisted me for two or three months, during which I was often unable to sleep for a week at a time; was tormented by continuous agony, and at one time was totally blind for a fortnight, the disease having settled in my eyes. I had the best medical skill, used all the most approved scientific specifics, visited the famed mineral springs of America, of Carlsbad and Paris, but every year the same mad fire literally burned me alive!

"I often laugh at myself as I think what an old 'bear' I too must have been, when suffering as that old fellow seems to be."

"Aren't you tempting fate by making sport of your old enemy?"

"Oh, no, I fear him no longer! My last tussle with him was over two years ago, and all the agony of the years of remission settled on me then. My physicians gave me no hope of recovery. I had faith in myself, however."

"Well, how did it work?"

"The rheumatism was, in my case, as is nearly all others, caused by a disease of the blood, probably produced by unsuspected inactivity of the kidneys, for I had never had any pain in them. Twenty bottles of Warner's safe cure, however, completely purified my blood, and I never have enjoyed such robust health as now. Hundreds of friends in Europe and America have, on my recommendation, used it for general debility, malaria, rheumatism, etc., and I have never heard an unsatisfactory report from them."

Mr. Wight has a personal acquaintance with the best art lovers of Europe and America, and his experience gives weighty testimony to the remarkable power of the celebrated preparation named.

"You think, then, Mr. Wight, that there is a substantial art development in America?"

"I certainly do, and I have confidence that when the true American idea is settled upon, our development will be both rapid and excellent."

THE MAYORALTY

FOR 1888.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of ratepayers who have promised me their support, I am before you as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1888. I beg to ask you to give me your support, therefor, on the following platform :

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

If length of public service is deserving of recognition, I may modestly claim your consideration. During the eighteen or twenty years which I have sat at your Council board, I have endeavored to faithfully advance the best interests of the Town ; I have spared neither time nor work to consistently carry out my pledge to my supporters, and have worked to the best of my ability for the general good—if I have erred, I have done so unknowingly.

I offer myself as, in particular, the Workingman's Candidate. I hope to receive a solid Workingman's support. I consider I am fairly entitled to it. I am a workingman myself, and, if elected, will endeavor to repay their confidence by advancing their interests in every honest way.

I may say that, in taking the field, I am not actuated by any feeling of rivalry with the present occupant of the Mayor's chair, but I feel that, with the many demands on his time and services, the position is not sought for. Should I prove correct in my inference, you cannot fairly overlook the claim that years of service have on your consideration.

I recognise thoroughly what the necessities of the town demand. Thorough economy in all departments of municipal expenditure must be the rule, a liberal policy to encourage the establishment and growth of new and existing industries. In this regard I am opposed to any money bonus being granted, but in favor of exemption from taxes and, possibly, free sites, under proper restrictions.

I shall—if elected—give particular attention to matters as outlined above.

Possibly one of the most prominent questions that will come before the ratepayers next year will be in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act. I will maintain in this regard the position relative to temperance which I have held for the last twenty-five years. So long as the Scott Act remains in force, I will, to the extent of my ability and office, see that the law is strictly enforced, and that, too, through the proper officers of the town.

Such, gentlemen, are the grounds on which I ask your support. I may not have the opportunity of personally soliciting your favor, but venture to hope that the above statement of my views will meet with your approval.

Trusting that I may have your hearty support on the basis of

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

I am, gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,

A. RUTHERFORD.

A Falling Market Strikes the Golden Lion and Showers of Falling Prices come Tumbling Down.

A CRISIS IN DRY GOODS!

R. FAIR

In anticipation of a Falling Market, has resolved to inaugurate a Grand Holiday Sale of his Immense Stock of HIGH CLASS DRY GOODS. The Stock, amounting at present to about $35,000 worth, must be reduced $15,000 before the New Year, and with a bona-fide determination to accomplish this result, will make such a Revolution in regular prices as will paralyse all attempts at competition. The following inventory of our Stock will give the Public a comprehensive view of its vastness in extent, value and variety, and being all of that well-known HIGH CLASS character, which the Golden Lion has continued to carry, offers a rare opportunity to the Dry Goods purchaser of Peterborough:—

- $3,000 worth of the Choicest Dress Goods.
- $1,000 worth of Black and Colored Cashmeres.
- 10 Pieces Black Silk Warp, Henrietta Cloths.
- 20 Pieces Black Gros Grain Silks, Merveilleux and Mascot Silks.
- 150 Pieces Colored Silks, Satins and Merveilleux.
- 75 Prices of Mantle Cloths.

THE LIBERAL UNIONISTS.

SIX HUNDRED DELEGATES PRESENT AT WESTMINSTER HALL.

A Thrust at Fair Trade—Exertions to be Made to Strengthen the Unionist Party—Mr. Goschen Speaks at the Banquet In The Evening.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—Lord Hartington presided at the conference in Westminster Hal to-day of Liberal Unionists. Many leaders of the party were on the platform. Six hundred delegates were present. The Earl of Derby offered a resolution in favor of increased exertion to strengthen the Unionist party.

Lord Hartington, replying to a vote of confidence, denied that the Unionists had deserted Liberal principles, which, he said, did not belong to one man or party. If they had agreed to Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule scheme they would have falsified the pledges they had made before the general election. "We were told that the mode of operation in Ireland had been changed owing to the sympathy of Englishmen. But we did not see such a great change. 'Remember Mitchellstown' has been flung forth to animate the passions of the people in their struggle against the law. Every method of open resistance short of rebellion has been resorted to with the tacit consent of Mr. Gladstone and the Liberal leaders. The Unionists had a satisfactory understanding with the Conservatives and would continue to act with them."

Referring to the Fair Trade movement, Lord Hartington said it was not possible to speak in too strong terms of those who spoke of returning to a policy of protection. He hoped the Conservative leaders would weigh well the consequences before they gave their succor and support to a policy which would lead to the disruption of the Unionist party. Those who advocated Fair Trade must be responsible for the consequences.

Lord Hartington presided at a banquet in the evening. There were 750 guests present, including all the leading Unionists.

Mr. Goschen in the course of a speech said that as a member of the Government he would say deliberately that he did not believe there would be advanced a single principle, executive, administrative or fiscal, which would cause any difficulty between the Conservatives and the dissidents.

GUILTY OF CHILD MURDER

HOW ELIZABETH FELLOWS KILLED HER 6-WEEKS-OLD INFANT.

The Inquest Held Yesterday Afternoon, and the Mother Declared to be Insane—Where the Severed Arm was Found—North Toronto's Horrible Tragedy.

TORONTO, Dec. 9.

That Elizabeth Fellows deliberately and maliciously killed her 6-weeks-old babe on Wednesday morning was decided yesterday afternoon by a coroner's jury. Coroner Johnson ordered an inquest for 4 o'clock in St. Paul's Hall for the purpose of considering "where, when and by what means the infant, John Fellows, came to his death. Only about twenty-five people were there, and most of them were jurymen. The County Crown Attorney was represented by his partner, Mr. Carson, while Sergeant Hall and Sergeant Adair represented the police. The jury, as sworn in, consisted of Wm. Dunn (foreman), John Page, Frank Gills, Philip Brown, Isaac Wilkinson, Geo. Ratcliffe, Edward Jackson, Joseph Little, John Burgess, Henry Chidley, Henry A. Shaw, Chas. Dunlop, Chas. Tonkin and Michael Hazza.

After being sworn in the jury proceeded to Fellows' house on Avenue-road, a few doors north of Davenport-road, followed by a mob of school children. The body was in the front bedroom, where there were two beds. It was enclosed in a coffin that rested on a table in front of the window. The little face looked quite calm, and the shroud was so arranged that no marks of violence could be seen. An elderly lady took hold of the right arm and lifted it off and showed it to the jurymen. It was quite plain that a knife had been used to sever it from the shoulder, and the marks of teeth were only too horribly apparent in the tender flesh.

Returning to St. Paul's Hall the inquest was proceeded with, the coroner informing the jury that the woman was not present because she was undoubtedly insane. The husband, John Fellows, a man about 30, was the first witness called. He gave his evidence in a half-dazed manner. Mr. Fellows said that he went out to his work at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, and visited the house at 7, 9 and 10.30. He continued: I came in at 10.30 and saw the baby. My wife said she was going to wash and dress it and the other children. I returned to the house again at about 11.30 to dinner. My eldest child, 3 years old, met me at the door and said: "Papa, mama's cut the baby!" as plainly as she could say. I said to my wife: "You haven't hurt the little thing have you?" She shuddered and then laughed at me when I asked her where the baby was. She told that everything was all right and asked me to sit down. I went to look for the baby, and said to her: "You won't hurt the other two, will you?" and she said, "Not if I can help it." I said, "You'd better come with me, then." I again asked her where the baby was. She laughed at me in a silly way, in fact, like a child. Again I asked her where the baby was. I called in Mr. Pears and Mr. Booth, my employers, and then my wife said she baby was under the bed. Mr. Pears took it out wrapped in a blanket. We were married four years ago last August. She was in the Toronto Lunatic Asylum from Feb. 1 to May 14 of this year, and when she came out she seemed to be well. She never tried to hurt the other children. This baby was seven weeks old. When she came home from the asylum it was because the Medical Superintendent sent for me and said that she was fit to leave. He did not say that she required watching.

Leonard Pears said that he was called in by Fellows and found the body wrapped in a blanket under the bed. He thought that perhaps the child was alive, and he feared to hurt it by dragging it out, so he lifted the bed aside and got the body, which was lying close to the wall. The head was severed, and the body and blanket were bloody. The woman was then sitting in the dining-room. The witness was first called out by one of his laborers, who said: "Fellows' wife has killed her baby. Come!" Mrs. Fellows looked very strange and flurried when he went into the house

Mrs. Caroline Tonsett, of 154 Davenport-road, told of how she heard of the affair from a policeman, who said that the arm was off the body and it had to be found. She went to the house and after searching found the arm on a tin plate in the kitchen cupboard. There was a pile of tin plates and other dishes on top of it. It had been partly boiled and pieces had been cut off it. Some of these were on the plate, and on one piece there were marks of teeth. On the front of a stove in the basement she found a pot with some water in it. She could tell that some flesh had been boiled in the water. She had known Mrs. Fellows for two years and knew she had been in the asylum.

Mrs. Mary Wilkinson, a neighbor, told of how she had called on Mrs. Fellows and found her acting and talking strangely.

Dr. Britton said he knew Mrs. Fellows since Oct. 17, when he delivered her of the child in question. Some months prior he was told by her husband that she was in the asylum. He noticed, while attending her, that she showed marked indifference to her condition. About Oct. 28 or 29 he went to see her and observed quite evident symptoms of puerperal insanity, such as sleeplessness and carelessness about her house, herself and child, and nervousness and a general feeling of gloominess. On Nov. 20 he was called to see the child which had had a convulsion. He advised Fellows to be watchful of his wife.

Dr. Spencer stated that yesterday he made a post mortem examination of the child's body. He found the head severed and the right arm cut off near the shoulder. The arm showed evidence of having been boiled. He considered that the head had first been cut off, and that the child was dead when the arm was removed. He explained to the jury what puerperal insanity was and said that in September, 1886, he attended her and delivered her of a child. Then she became violent and attempted to throw the child out of the window and in doing so cut her hand. He met her shortly after she came out of the asylum and considered that she was not cured.

Coroner Johnson in summing up told the jury that in insanity of this form it was quite usual for the sufferer to wreak her hatred upon those nearest and dearest to them. It did not take the jury over ten minutes to decide that the mother had deliberately killed the child and that she was insane when she did it.

The child will be buried to-day and the unfortunate woman will be placed in the Lunatic Asylum.

Pig Iron Going up.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—President Cleveland's message has caused excitement in the Scotch pig iron market and prices are rising.

Davis has a Few More Years to Serve.

OTTAWA, Dec. 5.—It is untrue that the sentence of "Doc" Davis, the Toronto abortionist, expires in January. His sentence, originally for life, was commuted in Dec. 1886, to twenty years. At that time he had only served thirteen years and eight months. It is also denied that the remission granted was a

THE FARMERS' MOVEMENT.

Mr. A. F. Jury Before the Farmers of Brant County.

BRANTFORD, Dec. 8.—There was a large attendance of farmers at yesterday's meeting of the Brant Farmers' Institutes. Captain Lloyd Jones of Brantford, President of the Institute, presided. Mr. Thomas Elmes of Princeton read a valuable paper on "Farmers' Pockets, the Holes in Them, and How to Mend Them," which was appreciatively received and discussed at some length. Mr. A. F. Jury of Toronto, then addressed the meeting on the subject of Commercial Union. He argued that Reciprocity was very largely a farmers' question, and urged the importance of thorough organization and faithful effort to promote the movement. He pointed out that the age was essentially one of combination; that all other interests were organized; and that it is equally as important that the farmers should unite for their own protection. He proceeded to prove that Commercial Union was not a party question, that it had its origin in no party motive, and was designed to serve no party end. He showed the wonderful progress Canada had made under the old Reciprocity Treaty, and predicted approximately as great advantages to the Dominion from a new reciprocal arrangement. He answered the objection that there would be no guaranteed stability to industries under Commercial Union by showing that there was no certainty of stability under the existing system; that there were perpetual tariff changes; that at best the tariff was assured of permanence only from election to election, and that the chief argument used to recommend the tariff to the country was that it would bring Reciprocity. He contended that to argue that merchants and manufacturers could not live under Commercial Union was to confess that the people could get their supplies at lower rates, and was an admission that extended reciprocal trade would be good for the country. He showed that the prices of nearly all the farmer produced have been reduced by the locomotive and steamship and the general application of science to production, and that his are the least of the benefits derived from the changed conditions of our time; and that the situation for the agricultural classes is seriously aggravated by class legislation, by tariff impositions and by forcing the farmer to buy in the dearest and to sell in the cheapest market. And he pointed out that in spite of the tariff, and in defiance of all we could do to prevent commercial intercourse between the two countries we had an aggregate trade of nearly $80,000,000 with the United States, almost as much as with Great Britain, into which our goods are admitted free. This fact he recommended to the opponents of reciprocity, who contend there is no natural trade between Canada and the United States. Mr. Jury's speech was heard with close attention and with frequent expressions of approval, and he was warmly applauded at its close.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

Sitting at Windsor—The Walkerville Glucose Factory—Knights of Labor Testimony.

WINDSOR, Dec. 8.—The Royal Labor Commission, now sitting here, heard the testimony of several persons yesterday. Last evening the manager of the Walkerville Glucose Factory testified that the concern is prosperous, and that if the present conditions of the tariff are maintained three years more he felt sure the industry would by that time be so firmly established as not to be hurt by United States or any other competition.

Dr. Coventry, Medical Health Officer, gave evidence as to the sanitary condition of the town. He stated that the people of Windsor are generally in favor of obtaining efficient sanitation.

Two fishermen from Sandwich offered testimony. They asserted that the close season, as established by law, was altogether wrong, as fishing was allowed to be done during the actual spawning season, and not allowed when fishermen would have a chance to find their pursuit profitable. Pound fishing in the lake was destructive to whitefish, preventing them from coming up and down the river to any considerable extent.

A deputation from the Knights of Labor Assemblies gave evidence. James Wren, a journeyman tailor, working in Windsor, said wages in his business were one-third higher in Detroit than in Windsor. Richard Summerfield stated that at his trade, barrel making, a man could fairly average about 90 cents a day. He did not think that piece-work increased the wages of workers. Several other Knights gave brief but intelligent testimony, not generally indicative of prosperity.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

President McCosh, D.D., Addresses the Evangelical Alliance.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Angell of Michigan University presided at the afternoon session of the Evangelical Alliance, and introduced President McCosh, D.D., of Princeton College, who read a paper on "The Church in Relation to the Capital and Labor Question." Life, he said, is a struggle for existence. The contest between capital and labor is an old one, and it is likely to continue for ages to come. Christ declined to judge in a strife about property. The Church and State are distinct, and neither should usurp the function of the other.

At the close of Dr. McCosh's address a cablegram expressing the sympathy of the English Evangelical Alliance, now in session in London, was read to the conference.

Hon. Seth Low of Brooklyn followed Dr. McCosh and spoke on the same topic. A general discussion of the subject followed.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—Zeph Clavet and wife are taking an action against Rev. E. Wood for $3000 damages, on the ground that he performed the marriage ceremony of their minor daughter without their consent. Rev. Mr. Wood states that the banns were published in his church three times, and yet no objections were raised. The young lady, he says, certainly looked to be of age.

CURRENT FOREIGN TOPICS

THE RUMORS OF WAR GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

Fervent of the New French Ministry—Russia Puts a Stop to Her Military Preparations—A British Steamer Wrecked in Chinese Waters.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A circular has been sent by the Russian Government to its representatives at foreign courts in connection with the Czar's recent visit to Berlin. It draws attention to three points: First, that the interview between the Czar and Bismarck proved that there was not the slightest reason for a breach between Germany and Russia; second, that Bismarck pledged the neutrality of Germany in Bulgarian affairs; and third, that both governments should force the newspapers to adopt a moderate tone in their comments on Russo-German relations. No mention is made in the circular of the forged documents.

In the best informed circles in Austria the massing of troops on the frontier in Poland is not thought to indicate immediate danger of war. Nothing will be done at present beyond the sending of a warning to Russia that Austria will not leave unanswered any further military measures taken by Russia. It is expected that Austria will grant a brief delay to Russia for furnishing a satisfactory explanation of the massing of troops. The Austrian preparations will quietly go on in the meantime.

Edward Harrington, M.P., who was tried in the Tralee Court to-day for publishing the reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League, was sentenced on conviction to one month's imprisonment without hard labor. He gave notice of an appeal.

The court offered to release Mr. Harrington on his own recognizance if he would agree not to publish any more reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the league, but he refused to give such a promise. The court declined to state the case for appeal.

It is rumored that M. Goblet intends to demand that General Boulanger shall become Minister of War in the new Cabinet.

At a meeting held in St. James' Hall, London, to-day, to advocate Fair Trade resolutions were adopted favoring moderate import duties, and urging a modification of the Free Trade policy.

It is reported that the new French Cabinet will be composed as follows:

PARIS, Dec. 8.—It is reported that the Cabinet will be composed as follows:

M. Goblet, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior.
M. Ribot, Minister of Justice.
M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
M. Ruiard, Minister of Education.
M. Loubit, Minister of Agriculture.
M. Minard-Dorion, Minister of Public Works.
M. Clamageras, Minister of Finance.
M. Siegfried, Minister of Commerce.
M. Bourgeois, Minister of Marine.
Gen. Ferrier or Gen. Thomassin, Minister of War.

The British steamer Lorne, plying in Chinese waters, was wrecked on Sunday on the east coast of the island of Hainan. Sixty-nine of those on board are reported saved. The fate of the others is unknown.

It is asserted in St. Petersburg by well informed persons that the intentions of Russia are entirely pacific, and that public opinion in Russia also favors peace. In view of the recent Imperial meeting at Berlin, the rumors of impending war are totally unfounded. Russia merely sent a division of cavalry to the frontier for the protection of certain localities, not with any aggressive ideas.

The War Office of Austria is taking measures to permanently increase the facilities to mobilise troops and to place Galicia in a better position for defence.

Emperor Francis Joseph presided at a military council in Vienna to-day. Count Kalnoky was also present. The delegations will not be recalled for the present, as Russia has apparently stopped her threatening preparations.

Measures for the mobilization of the troops were arranged, which will be immediately adopted should Russia continue massing troops on the frontier. The public is not unduly excited, but it is resolved to meet any attack that may be made with firmness. In leading circles the idea that Austria intends to give Russia provocation for war is repudiated.

The Crown Prince rode to Madonna Della Guardia this morning, returning by way of Borgia. He looks well.

Mr. Mandeville, who is in Tullamore jail, was subjected to a bread and water diet for forty-eight hours, for refusing to clean his cell.

In a speech at Islington this evening Mr. Dillon said that the Nationalists intended to publish an analysis showing that the persons on the platform at the recent Dublin meeting addressed by Lord Hartington were chiefly Castle officials, Orangemen and lawyers.

The refusal of M. Ribot to remain in a Cabinet in which two portfolios are given to members of the Extreme Left has placed M. Goblet in a trying position. In a conference held between the President, M. Goblet and Ribot, the President supported M. Goblet, but no agreement was reached. It is reported that the dissension between M. Goblet and M. Ribot is due notably to differences of opinion in regard to the income tax and worship budgets.

M. Clemenceau is strongly opposed to the return of M. Rouvier, and he may be called upon to form a Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Republican National Committee on the third ballot selected Chicago as the place of holding the convention and June 19 as the date.

THE MAYORALTY.

In another place in these columns will be found the announcement of the candidature of Mr. James Stevenson for the mayoralty of Peterborough, for the year 1888. It cannot be denied that Mr. Stevenson has strong claims upon the suffrage of the people in this connection.

He has been a leading resident of the town for the past thirty years, and has been intimately associated with every phase and incident of its growth and progress. He has not only been intimately but actively associated therewith. He has been an energetic and pushing business man, always prominent in the promotion of enterprises tending to the welfare of the town, and ever ready with every encouragement in his power for the promotion of its material prosperity. He has long been associated with the municipal government of Peterborough both in the capacity of Councillor and Mayor. He has large extensive material interests to consult, and, therefore, his prudent administration of public affairs, has a double incentive—of consideration of personal interest and consideration of the public welfare. Any course benefitting the public must represent to him a personal benefit, and anything affecting the town prejudicially must injuriously affect Mr. Stevenson. In this it is claimed that the public have a double guarantee that he will, in the capacity of mayor, act wisely and judiciously in the town's interest. His intimate association with educational matters for many years fit him especially for dealing with matters which associated closely as civic and school matters are, have to a large extent mutual interests.

Mr. Stevenson's record as a citizen, as a councillor, and as a mayor is before the people, and they need no suggestion as to what course they are to pursue. They have abundant materials to help them in forming a judgment as to the best man for the important position of mayor. The choice may safely be, left in their own hands.

CHEMONG PARK SUMMER RESORT.

The growing wealth of the citizens of Peterborough enables them to devote more attention to the pursuit of health and pleasure in summer, and therefore the question of summer resorts is an important and pertinent one. It is true that our back lakes present excellent facilities for summer camping. But the enjoyment of these facilities is chiefly open only to the favored few, who are the fortunate possessors of islands. Besides, there is a demand for a summer resort nearer the town and more accessible, and one that business men can enjoy in the long summer evenings, while its proximity to the town admits of their spending the day at business in town. Such a spot is at hand, and such a spot is Chemong Park, on the borders of Lake Chemong, at Bridgenorth. No other place presents all the features of a popular summer resort, such as is the present want of Peterborough. Its natural scenic beauty is unsurpassed ; its adaptability for the purposes of a pleasure resort is unequalled in Canada, while its proximity to the town is a feature in its favor, possessed by no other claimant for popularity. Time after time the EXAMINER has dealt in detail with its many advantages and it is unnecessary at this time to again enumerate them. It is enough to say that Chemong park possesses either directly or prospectively all the requisites of a first-class watering place. Actually, for we have a splendidly wooded, well shaded, clear-soiled stretch of many acres, washed by the clear waters of a beautiful lake, cooled by the refreshing breezes which play over its surface, with excellent fishing, excellent bathing and excellent boating. The capabilties of this charming spot are attracting increasing attention, and it is now proposed to enter actively upon the work of developing its possibilities as a summer suburb for Peterborough. It is proposed, and the preliminary steps have been taken, to form a joint stock company with sufficient capital to place and maintain the park in the best possible condition to serve the intended end. Mr. John E. Belcher, C. E., has prepared a plan of the proposed improvements, which the company will carry out. This plan includes the erection of a first-class summer hotel, with ample accommodation for boarders, as well as transient guests. A fine system of drives is included in the plans, as well as band stands, wharves, boat-houses, bathing stands, and, in fine, every improvement which the requirements of a perfectly equipped summer resort demand. The hotel and the public grounds will occupy the eastern portion of the park —the hotel being placed on the highest point. The western portion of the park is laid out in building lots for summer cottages, and so desirable are the sites available, that already several cottages have been erected and those who have spent the summer there, are much delighted with Chemong Park as a pleasant and desirable summer home. With the present popularity of the place, which will be much enhanced by the projected improvements it is not probable that any difficulty will be experienced in securing the necessary stock to enable the company to carry out the plans referred to. The business man of Peterborough who cannot afford absence from his business long at a time, will especially feel it his interest to assist in the matter. With his family domiciled in a cottage at Chemong Park, or in the rooms of the hotel, he can visit them every evening and return to town in the morning braced and invigorated by a night spent in the refreshing coolness of his lakeside home, and put in his business hours cheered by the thought that at the close of a day spent amidst the sweltering heat of close, hot streets, he will enter upon another night of enjoyment. At present the drive is only one of something like six miles, but there is a prospect that ere long railway access will be provided. Ms. John Bell, solicitor for the Grand Trunk Railway, has given notice that application will be made at the next session of the Ontario Legislature for an Act to incorporate a Company under the name of "The Peterborough and Chemong Lake Railway Company" to purchase and take over and work a line of railway now existing between the Town of Peterborough and Chemong Lake. There is no doubt that this line will be opened at an early date, and there is equal certainty, when it is opened, that the running of trains will be arranged with reference to the wants of the people of Peterborough in relation to Chemong Park. It would be insulting the reader's intelligence to point out the manifest benefit which the development of Chemong Park would be to the citizens of Peterborough of all classes. It is to be expected that active co-operation will be easily secured for the formation of a company and the development of the admirable plans for the utilisation of Chemong Park as the popular summer resort of Peterborough.

If any doubt existed of the easy possibility of the pollution of wells from cess pools, such as necessarily exist when there are no sewer facilities for draining, it will be dispelled by the following letter written by a Mr. Post to a Whitby journal: "A short time since in making an excavation for a building the workmen struck a vein of polluted earth, the stench from which was almost unbearable. Being curious to see and know the cause, I had the men follow the vein and found that it had its origin in a pit, and its outlet in a well, the distance to which was 140 feet. It its passage the liquid matter from the pit had defiled the earth for several feet in all directions." In this instance the well and the pit were a considerable distance apart. If the drainage could travel such a distance of course it follows that the danger increases the nearer the well and the pit are to one another.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 7.

The local stock market this morning was stronger and fairly active, with sales of 220 shares. There were slight increases in value all round.

MINOR RESERVE PLAYERS.

The Two Big Leagues Will Not Interfere With Them—Some of Woodstock's Thoroughbreds.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—Three members of the Baseball League and three of the American Association, constituting the Board of Arbitration under the National agreement, met at the Grand Hotel yesterday afternoon. They had two questions with which to wrestle.

The first, whether they should grant the right to minor organizations to come in under the National agreement in respect to reserving players, and if so, upon what conditions. Six of the minor organizations were represented by delegates. These delegates held a meeting and appointed a committee to present their case to the Arbitration Committee. This committee, representing the six minor organizations, presented a request to be admitted to-night to reserve players under the National agreement. The Arbitration Committee proposed as a condition of admission that it be permitted at the end of each season to select two of the best players from each club in all of the minor organizations, throw them into a pool and allow the League and American Association to select from it, the minor leagues to have the privilege of reserving all others. This was rejected unanimously by the petitioners. The Arbitration Committee then, after a long debate and consultation, granted the request of the minor organizations under the conditions of payment annually by each organization of an annual cash bonus.

Article 9 was changed so as to include a section allowing each minor organization of six clubs to reserve players, on condition of each club in each organization paying on or before March 19 of each year $30 membership fee to the Arbitration Committee, and, furthermore, on the condition that each minor association, if not more than six clubs, pay annually before May 10 $1,000, and that associations of more than six and not more than eight clubs, pay $2000 annually in like manner. Under this rule and article 10 the right of reservation must be claimed on or before March 1 each year. Organizations coming under the rule to give notice to the Board of Arbitration every year before Oct. 10 by sending a list of not more than fourteen players then under contract for each club, to be considered reserved.

John J. Rogers of Philadelphia was elected chairman and Mr. Bryne of Brooklyn was chosen secretary of the Arbitration Committee.

The Association in Session.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—The directors of the American Baseball Association met this morning. President Wickoff submitted his annual reports, which take the usual course. The pennant was formally awarded to the St. Louis Club. President Wickoff recommended that umpires be assigned when the schedule of games is arranged.

Some of Woodstock's Thoroughbreds.

Among the animals at Boyle's Stables in Woodstock are probably the two best looking animals to be found in Canada of their respective ages. One the 4-year-old colt Lansdowne, a big brown bay colt by Stratford out of Petty, daughter of Tipperary; the other the brown 2-year-old filly Media, by the Flying Sensation (own brother of Stratford and Onondaga) out of Mollie Carew by Narragansett, the best son of imp. Eclipse from Chignon, by imp. Bairownie (sire of Bonnie Brae). Lansdowne might be trained yet for a race, but we should prefer seeing him doing service in the stud. He is a perfect picture of a thoroughbred horse, yet measuring and girthing figures which people generally associate with the coach class. A better horse for general service in Canada could not be found, his make and shape, color, action, substance and carriage being of ideal excellence. As a race horse Lansdowne (so named after Petty, the family cognomen of the Governor-General) was fast and could stay; his trainers thinking him quite the equal of his stable companion The Bard, when fit and well. Media is a royally bred filly, and we hope to see her brought here and entered for the Woodstock Plate. Boyle has too many horses and proposes to sell this pair. Of the others we shall have something to say on a future occasion.

THE UNEMPLOYED OF LONDON.

Emigration the Best Remedy—The United States and Canada.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The Times gives prominence to a letter on the emigration of the unemployed, signed "Colonist," which, I believe, was written by a prominent Canadian. It suggests that emigration deserves consideration as the best eventual alleviation of the malady. While far from advising forced emigration, the advantages of the New World should be put before the unemployed, who could be assisted to reach their destination.

The Echo, commenting on American prosperity, says: "The rapid weeding out of the American debt, and the equally rapid progress of American prosperity, will probably modify the relationship of the States and Canada, first in the way of commercial unity, and secondly, in the way of political unity. When the debt of the States is effaced, and the debt of the Dominion greatly increased, as it bids fair to be, the States and Canada may some fine morning say, 'Let us shake hands and unite our fates.' Then Canada's debt will soon follow into nothingness the debt of the States."

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

ENLARGEMENT.

Owing to the pressure upon the EXAMINER's advertising columns, this paper will, for the next two or three weeks, be published in the present size. This is the season of the year when the merchant that places his wares judiciously before the public receives a rich reward in a harvest of business. The purchasing public will save money by reading the advertisements in the EXAMINER before buying anything, and they will also find that the men who advertise their goods are more ready to do business and treat customers in a liberal spirit. Buy from those who advertise.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Dec. 9.

A couple of amusing cases came up for trial this morning, both for "abusive language." Mrs. Mary Lovick charged Mrs. Geerin with having called her sundry hard names. As neither could speak English, the services of an interpreter were required, and anyone who has had any experience in this line knows how "confusion, worse confounded," always results from the efforts of a native interpreter, unless a professional. Finally, Mr. J. O'Meara, barrister, brought his knowledge of the French tongue into service, and the complications were straightened out. The case was dismissed, the defendant stating that she never used the words imputed to her, and at the same time withdrawing any statements she might have made derogatory to the other.

Frank Anthony, the Italian peanut man, laid a similar charge against John Conant. The defendant was fined $2 and costs.

The example made of Master Percy Rogers should be a warning to other boys. For breaking a couple of windows with bullets fired from a catapult, Master Percy had to pay the costs of the case, some $2, and receive a lecture from the magistrate besides. Percy and the catapult are now sworn enemies.

—Tuesday morning, early, a nurse in a west-end house touched by the heavy hand of affliction had occasion to go down to the kitchen, and in the darkness fell through an open trap, left by a careless servant, into the cistern. Court of Revision.

Judge Weller held court of revision on the voters' list of the town of Peterborough in the council chamber Thursday evening. The following changes were made. Ward No. 1—E. H. D. Hall placed on the list as freeholder in Part II., and Francis Faren placed on the list as landlord's son, Part III. Ward No. 3—Jas. Lattimore placed on list as freeholder in Part I., and Timothy Giroux placed on list as tenant in Part II. Ward No. 4—James Lattimore and Thomas Cahill placed on list as freeholders in Part II.

The "At Home."

The "At Home" given by Mrs. Wilson in the Mark street Methodist parsonage, Ashburnham, on Thursday evening was a grand success. At 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive and were met by Rev. and Mrs. Wilson son and welcomed to the home. There were in all about one hundred persons present. During the evening refreshments were served in the dining hall. There was not any regular programme, but several fine selections were given on the piano and the Quartette Brass Band of the Y.M.C.C. were present and added very much to the evening's entertainment by the fine selections they rendered in such excellent style. Everything passed off satisfactorily, all enjoying themselves thoroughly. After sing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen". The company left for their home at 12 o'clock. Glad to have met—sorry to part—hopeful to meet again.

Trent Valley Canal.

The following letter has been issued by Mr. Stevenson, M.P., chairman of the Trent Valley Canal Association:—

PETERBOROUGH, 7th Dec. 1887.

SIR,—The Commissioners appointed by the Dominion Government will, it is understood, proceed at an early date to the investigation of the matters referred to them, and therefore it becomes necessary for those interested in the project to at once take steps for the submission of evidence, &c., in support of the construction of the Canal, to the Commissioners at their several sittings. For this purpose concerted action is advisable, and I therefore request the members of the Trent Valley Canal Association, representatives from the municipalities interested, and all others favorable to the work, to meet at the council chamber, in the town of Peterborough, on Thursday, the 15th of December, instant, at 2 p.m. It is hoped there will be a large and representative attendance at the meeting.

Yours, etc.,
JAS. STEVENSON,
President T.V. C. Asso'n.

Who Will be Mayor?

The battle is begun. Mr. Rutherford has thrown down the mayoralty gauntlet. Who will be the man to take it up and bring on a fight? We may expect that he will not be allowed to walk the course. There will surely be somebody ambitious enough to contest the position. In the interests of the town the best man available should be elected. Whoever the people select will be the choice they will have to abide by. If two good men enter the field as candidates the people will have some difficulty in making a choice, but there is no difficulty in predicting whom the people will elect to supply them with ready-made clothing, gents' furnishings and the cheapest line of dry goods in the world. They will all vote for gough, the wonderful cheap man. Just fancy, a $20,000 stock of prime dry goods put on sale at 50 cents on the dollar, and a mammoth line of overcoats and ready-made clothing cut down in proportion. Electors, vote for gough as the chief magistrate, mayor, head, chief, king of the clothing trade. You will save more money by buying your dry goods and clothing from him than by electing the best mayor in the town.

Encouraging Reports From the Committees.

In the Young Men's Christian Association Parlor last evening about 25 of the members and chairmen of committees assembled. The President, Mr. Geo. M. Roger, occupied the chair, and, after the usual opening exercises, explained that the meeting had been called for the purpose of getting the committee-men together that they might learn what was being done, and confer concerning the work of the future. Mr. Thos. Tebb then read the report of the Reception Committee.

This committee had met twice since the annual meeting, on October 23rd and November 28th. Thirteen members were serving, one of whom was on duty at the Rooms each evening.

The average attendance at the Rooms in the evenings during October was 18; for November, 22. A neat card had been issued giving information concerning the attractions of our Reading Room and Parlor, for the use of this committee among young men not particularly acquainted with our work.

Mr. W. Dee had presented the Association with four game tables for the parlor, which would, undoubtedly, prove of special service.

The report of the Invitation Committee, read by Mr. Dee, showed 14 members acting. Their particular work had been inviting young men to the religious services of the Association, and making known the advantages of membership. Four members had gone out on the streets each Saturday evening and two Sunday evenings, distributing cards of invitation.

Mr. Dee suggested that each member of the Association should consider himself an ex-officio member of this committee and do his best to acquaint the young fellows of the town with the character of our work. He also reported for the committe on athletic sports. A snowshoe club had been organised with a membership of 14 and applications from others. The club turned out every Tuesday night.

After the singing of a hymn Mr. E. R. Wood, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented their report. It showed that they had started the year with a deficit of $355.46c. Since the anniversary a new finance committee had been formed who had met regularly and had succeeded in meeting the current expenses as they became due for the 2½ months ending December 1st, and had reduced the liabilities of last year to $282.46. New books had been opened for the Association and everything now was in good business shape. The Finance Committee felt very grateful for the success attained thus far, and hoped, with the support of the members and townspeople to meet the current expenses as they became due and wipe off the remaining indebtedness of $282.46, with which they started the new year.

A vote of thanks was tendered this committee for the way they had handled the Association finances.

Mr. Richardson read the report of the Devotional Committee, which showed a satisfactory increase in the attendance and interest of all the religious meetings.

Two new meetings had been instituted—a Workers' Training Class and a Young Men's Bible Class.

The report of the Lecture Committee gave a good programme of lectures, etc., for the season. Dr. Harrison had delivered a Health Talk on December 1st, which was highly appreciated, and Mr. Bengough was to appear in the Opera House Thursday evening, Dec. 15th, to whose "Local Hits" all are looking ahead with considerable pleasure.

After the reports a 15 minutes' "Personal Bible Study" was read by Mr. Wm. H. Stevens.

A hearty conversation ensued on this topic at its close, in which questions were asked and suggestions made.

It was decided to hold meetings of this character bi-monthly.

A Sea Serpent at Port Hope.

The Scott Act in Port Hope, particularly in the neighborhood of the Midland elevator, must be a whirling, writhing, mottled-green nonentity. The Port Hope Times of Wednesday prints the following item, received "by telephone":—"This morning, Mr. Parker Henderson, one of the workmen, was working in the upper part of the Midland Elevator, when glancing out of the window facing the lake, he saw a dark shifting form, rapidly advancing east, from up the lake. His curiosity was aroused, and Coun. John McMullen and Mr. Turner, agent of McLaughlin, the well-known Toronto barley man, was called. A glass was levelled on the object, and the excitement was intense, when they exclaimed one to the other 'a sea serpent.' In the meantime the monster was rushing along at the rate of about twenty miles an hour, and passing within a short distance of the end of the piers, was followed by the astonished gaze of the spectators until lost to view. She description of the serpent is that it was about sixty feet long and of the size of a sugar barrel, but larger at his head, and with a bifurcated tail. Its color was not very distinguishable; dull, slimy, mottled green, with a band of dark red running lengthwise on its sides, and a pale looking belly. Its body was ribbon-like and of compressed form, not flabby and soft. It was probably of the Hydrus Stokesii, said to be found in the Australian seas, but never before seen on this side of the globe. It is regrettable that chase was not made or a bullet sent into the whirling, writhing body, as leaping and diving it propelled its rapid course eastward."

A Great Railway Scheme.

A scheme for the construction of a Coast Railway from Portland, Oregon, to Jannan, Alaska, has been propounded in San Francisco, by Mr. Herbert J. Jones, the well-known citizen of Peterborough, Ont. The San Francisco Examiner prints a long letter from Mr. Jones on the subject. Mr. Jones gives it as his opinion that there will be little difficulty in rising the capital stock of $50,000,000. Starting from Portland the proposed Coast road is to run north of Tacoma, Seattle, and thence to Vancouver in British Columbia, where the Canadian Pacific Railroad can be intersected. It will then go north through British territory, sticking pretty well to the coast, passing between Chilcoli Lake and Jarvis and Bute Inlets, and after crossing the Hamalhicoh river reach Bentinch Arm. From there the route is in a northeasterly direction to Port Essington and Skeena village, where the river of the same is crossed. Continuing in the same direction Fort Angel is reached, and then Devil's Thumb, Mount Window and Lionshead are passed, and at last the route is to terminate at far away Juneau. The letter goes on to say that the opening of Alaska by the United States, and the northern part of British Columbia by the Dominion of Canada, is of great importance; that a railroad would successfully build up both regions, and that there was little doubt that both governments would encourage the project. In addition his scheme embraces the buying out of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, so as to operate it in connection with the road. He thinks the undertaking will be a big financial success. Both the steamship officials who read his letter expressed quite the opposite view, with mingling sarcastic remarks about the mental character of the railway genius who conceived the scheme.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
J. STEVENSON.

To the Electors of No. ONE WARD

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the request of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to be a candidate for Councillor for No. One Ward. Believing that I can promote your interest and being willing to give my best abilities and attention thereto, I respectfully solicit your support.

Yours Respectfully,
dw HARRY WINCH.

WARD No. 1.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

In accordance with the expressed wish of many influential citizens in your ward, I have the honor of announcing my intention to stand as a candidate for Councillor at the forthcoming Municipal Elections.

My platform is

JUSTICE,
TEMPERANCE,
ECONOMY,

and will, if elected, do all that is in the power of one man to do for the people who intrust their work to me.

Should a personal canvass be impossible, I trust that those who desire my election will do all in their power to further it.

Very respectfully,
dw BANNELL SAWYER.

Serious Accident.

On Tuesday Mr. David Paget, of Asphodel, met with an accident which may prove fatal. The Norwood Register says he was engaged in threshing peas with horses, when he received a kick in the face from one of the animals. His upper jaw and both his cheek bones were broken. His face is terribly disfigured and his recovery is considered almost impossible. Dr. Ford, of Norwood, was called and is doing all that can for the unfortunate man.

Mr. Dunn, of Peterborough, is engaged to take part in a concert at Millbrook on Thursday evening, Dec. 22nd.

In the Canada Gazette, of the 12th Nov., is the following:—"To be Captain of 'B' Troop, 3rd Provincial Regiment of Cavalry, Millbrook, Lieutenant David Sutton, S. C., vice Henry Boucher Weller, deceased."

Prof. Ducat is confined to his bed from a severe attack of acute muscular rheumatism. Under Dr. King's care it is expected that he will be about in a few days and able to renew his professional duties and engagements.

Mr. C. H. Clementi, assistant collector of customs in Peterborough, has had his valuable services recognised by the government by an addition of $100 yearly to his salary. An appreciation of faithful services which takes so practical a form is something which is thoroughly enjoyable.

Mr. W. H. Hill, manager of the Central Ontario agency of the "Sun" Life Assurance Company, is to be heartily congratulated upon the recognition of his valuable services. He has received a letter from the head office, congratulating and commending him upon the fact of his agency being the most fruitful in business and the most important in the province of Ontario. Mr. Hill is a popular and energetic young man, and the above shows that his energies and abilities are not allowed to rust.

Great Slaughtering and Cutting

THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

THE GOLDEN LION RAMPANT.

A Falling Market Strikes the Golden Lion and Showers of Falling Prices come Tumbling Down.

A CRISIS IN DRY GOODS!

R. FAIR

In anticipation of a Falling Market, has resolved to inaugurate a Grand Holiday Sale of his Immense Stock of HIGH CLASS DRY GOODS. The Stock, amounting at present to about $35,000 worth, must be reduced $15,000 before the New Year, and with a bona-fide determination to accomplish this result, will make such a Revolution in regular prices as will paralyse all attempts at competition. The following inventory of our Stock will give the Public a comprehensive view of its vastness in extent, value and variety, and being all of that well-known HIGH CLASS character, which the Golden Lion has continued to carry, offers a rare opportunity to the Dry Goods purchaser of Peterborough:—

$3,000 worth of the Choicest Dress Goods.
$1,000 worth of Black and Colored Cashmeres.
10 Pieces Black Silk Warp, Henrietta Cloths.
20 Pieces Black Gros Grain Silks, Merveilleux and Mascot Silks.
150 Pieces Colored Silks, Satins and Merveilleux.
75 Prices of Mantle Cloths.
50 Pieces Ulstering. 10 Pieces Sealettes.
600 Ladies' Black and Colored Jerseys, Braided and Plain, bought at 50c. on the dollar.
100 Pairs White Blankets. 100 Bed Comforters.
200 Pieces of Best Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, Full Cloths, Overcoatings, Pantings
200 Pieces of Grey Cottons.
150 Pieces of Steamlooms, Tickings, Towels, Towelings, Sheetings, Hosiery.
100 Boxes Black and Colored Cashmere Gloves, Kid Gloves, Ribbons, Laces.
50 Pieces Brussels Carpets.
100 Pieces Tapestry Carpets, Wool Carpets, Hemp Carpets, Floor Oilcloths, Linoleums, Wool Mats, Wool Squares, Crumb Cloths.

In the face of a Falling Market, no merchant would be justified in carrying so heavy a Stock at old prices. Therefore, in sympathy with the drooping market, down come the prices at the Golden Lion. The Sale is strictly for Cash, and the Public are assured that a veritable Storm of Tremendous BARGAINS is in store for them all through the Holiday Season, at

WHAT THE FISHERS WANT

THE GLOUCESTER MEN ADOPT A FEW RESOLUTIONS.

They Want the Same Freedom Granted to Canadian Ports for Their Vessels as is Accorded to Canadian Vessels in Their Waters.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Dec. 9.—A meeting of the American Fishery Union was held to-day and all the representative fishing owners were present. The meeting was called to consider the best course to adopt in the interest of the fisheries. Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Resolved, That in common with other producing industries of the country, we ask of the general Government neither subsidy nor bounty, but simple, equal protection.

Resolved, That we have neither asked nor sought the intervention of any commission, mixed or otherwise, to define our rights on the high seas or in foreign ports, but have appealed to our own Government to maintain the integrity of the treaties and legislation under which our business and rights as American citizens are affected.

Resolved, That we neither have nor desire to use Canada waters for piratical fishing, but simply ask that our commercial rights therein shall be defined by our own Government, and when defined maintained.

Resolved, That the American ocean fisheries are not dependent on any favor to be granted by Canada, but on the contrary the natural resources of our own country, and the high seas afford everything necessary for the prosecution of our business.

Resolved, That we will cheerfully conform to whatever construction our own Government shall place upon existing treaties and legislation, and desire no new treaty that dictates our privileges.

Resolved, That the freedom of our ports and markets afforded Canadian vessels is in marked contrast with that afforded American vessels in Canadian ports, when sailing under papers issued by the United States Government, conferring all commercial rights and privileges upon them, and that a refusal on the part of Canada to recognize such papers bearing the seal of the United States is an act of non-intercourse.

Mr. J. H. Beaty Heard From.

MONCTON, N.B., Dec. 9.—I have written Mayor Howland a letter which I trust he will read to the Council. My business with the Gutta Percha Manufacturing Company extended for several years, and I have always found Mr. McIlroy and Mr. Spadone men of their word and gentlemen. I think by the statement that I see in your paper that I must have received more commission and expenses from the company than is stated there for sales made in different places in this Dominion. I only speak from memory, not having my memorandum book with me.

If His Worship the Mayor requires any business done in this part of our country I will be happy to do it, provided he pays me for it. Regarding the alleged bribery of aldermen, I know nothing about it, not being in that business. For the life of me I can't see why my name should be brought into the scandal at all. My address is here for the next four days.

THE FAT STOCK SHOW.

Arrangements For it in Toronto Next Week —Ald. Frankland To Be the Honors.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.

Arrangements have been made for the holding of a fat stock show in Toronto this year under the auspices of the Agricultural and Arts Association. It is much to be regretted that for want of proper accommodation the show is not an annual event in this city. An effort is being made to establish an agricultural hall in Toronto, and to amalgamate the several class shows now held in different parts of the province, so that one grand display may be the result, with all its advantages to buyers, sellers and exhibitors.

On Tuesday next the show opens in Toronto, and on the following day those attending it will be entertained by the City Council. The Mayor will be away in New York, but he has deputed Ald. Frankland to do the honors of the occasion, and to better hands this task could not be entrusted. The alderman has received this letter from the Mayor:

DEAR ALD. FRANKLAND: As I shall be absent from the city on the date of the holding of the Fat Cattle Show, and as I know you have taken great interest in this matter, I shall feel obliged if you will act as Mayor on the days of the show and by this expression of personal courtesy make the gentlemen attending the show from other parts of the province to feel that they are heartily welcome to our city.

I would also like you, for the benefit of the Council, to consult with the Governing Committee to ascertain what character of accommodation should be provided to make it satisfactory for them to hold the show here annually. I feel satisfied that the city would act in its own interests in encouraging these exhibitors to come here, and trust that you will obtain the fullest information possible on these points. I would also authorize you to ask any members of the Council who can conveniently be present with you, to join in assisting you in making these friends welcome.

A CARDINAL ON LABOR.

His Eminence of Quebec Replies to Some Questions From the Royal Commission.

ARCHBISHOP'S PALACE,
QUEBEC, Nov. 25, 1887.

A. H. BLACKETT, Esq., SECRETARY OF THE ROYAL LABOR COMMISSION, OTTAWA—Sir,—In response to your request to know my feelings on certain questions concerning the objects of the Royal Commission, of which you are the secretary, I will present my views on some of these questions.

1. Child Labor.
2. Female Labor.

I unite these two points as they are very closely related.

1. Means must be found to protect morals, in and out of the factories, before the time of entrance and after the time of exit. Employes in petty authority sometimes abuse their authority and the law should severely restrain such.

2. The work demanded from women and children should not be too severe or too steady. A short pause in the middle of the forenoon and of the afternoon will save much misery and illness, and manufacturers will be easily compensated as refreshed work people work to better advantage.

3. Sanitary arrangements of factories.

I have frequently heard priests of my diocese say that the majority of people working in factories, and especially girls, return to their families feeble from over work and afflicted with pulmonic complaints caused by insufficient ventilation in factories. The air is thick with the smell of oil and with dust disseminated by the action of the engines and of the employes; and the lungs become unable to perform their functions. On the other hand the ventilation itself, if not in accordance with hygienic rules, may cause disease.

4. Arbitration.
5. Strikes and their results.

Strikes are among the greatest dangers to society, as they too frequently degenerate into deplorable disorders. It seems to me that it would be useful to establish a tribunal of arbitration, absolutely independent of the interested parties to settle the difficulties from which the strikes arise. His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, who, it is well known pays a great deal of attention to labor problems, desires very much that such tribunals be established in the United States. There is no doubt that a law on this subject would encounter many difficulties, but time and experience will perfect it.

Accept, Mr. Secretary, the assurance of my best consideration.

E. A. CARD. TASCHEREAU,
Archbishop of Quebec.

Medical Skill Saved His Life.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 9.—J. R. Nichols, a well-known carpenter, yesterday fell from the loft of a barn and to all appearance was killed. The body was prepared for burial and placed on the cooling board. Mrs. Nichols would not consent to the burial until a physician had made an examination. The physician was called and gave the supposed dead man a hypodermic injection, the attendants were directed to rub the body, and within an hour Nichols was restored to consciousness. His injuries were found to be slight.

The Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co. to-day number for the United States 226, and for Canada 28, or a total of 254 failures, as compared with 244 last week, 207 the week previous to the last, and 274 the corresponding week of last year. A year ago the figures were: 252 failures in this country and 22 in Canada.

An Extradition Warrant Issued.

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—United States Consul Hotchkiss received to-day the warrant of recipias from the President of the United States for the prisoner Byrne, held in custody at Woodstock. The warrant of extradition from the Canadian authorities was also issued to-day by the Department of Justice.

INTERESTING ITEMS BY WIRE.

The Newman House, the Brenday, Newman and Delong blocks, and Wolcott's sash and blind factory at Elmira, N.Y., were burned on Thursday night.

United States Marshal Jones, at Topeka, Kan., received by mail on Thursday evening a small tin box. The contents were found to be nitro-glycerine in sufficient quantity to have blown up the building and killed a dozen men.

Thomas Ellis, jr., of Montrose, Ia., who was being sued for divorce by his wife, went to her house and shot her fatally. He then killed himself.

Wingham Town Council has refused to allow Mr. Watts, the Freethinker, to lecture in their Town Hall.

A man went into Mr. Andrew McKenzie's grocery, Hamilton, and got some goods, giving in payment what looked like a $10 bill on the Bank of Commerce. Yesterday morning Mr. McKenzie discovered that it was a $5 bill, with the $5 mark covered up with the corners of an advertising bill in imitation of a $10 note.

Huntsville, one of the thriving villages in Muskoka, is certainly looking ahead. The town has recently passed a bylaw authorising the expenditure of $3500 for a school-house. The debentures for this amount have been sold at a good price by J. McArthur Griffith & Co. of Toronto, and it would look as if the land of stone and sand has a lot of good grit in it.

Four boys, Frederick Davey, Patrick Sullivan, Thomas Orr and J. Adamstone, living in Dundas, were fined $6 and costs for annoying the Salvation Army.

Advices from the Orkney Islands report the loss of twenty smacks in a hurricane.

A despatch from Massowah says Gen. Baldissera, the Italian commander, has advanced the camp of the third brigade six kilometres beyond Monkullo.

Armstrong Bros. & Co., the largest operators in the Glasgow iron ring, have failed owing to the rise in the price of pig iron. The iron markets in Scotland are excited, and there is a great amount of speculation.

Col. Zujoff, Russian military attache in Vienna, has been summoned to St. Petersburg. The sick list among the Russian troops on the Austrian frontier is very large.

At a Catholic demonstration in Vienna to compile a congratulatory address to the Pope, a strong feeling was manifested in favor of the restoration of the papacy to temporal power.

The Correspondence de L'est of Vienna state that Russia has agreed to accept the Duke of Gothland, the second son of the King of Sweden, as a candidate for the throne of Bulgaria in place of Prince Ferdinand.

The Paris correspondent of The London Times learns that the Russian Government has just refused the offer of a Parisian syndicate to guarantee the raising of a loan of $150,000,000. This action, he says, is proof of Russia's pacific intentions.

The London Standard gives some supplementary information relative to the forged Bismarck letters. It says that the letters sent back to Bismarck from Russia consisted of two series of diplomatic messages in the usual form and confidential letters to the Czar alone.

A Fire at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Dec. 9.—James Acheson's wholesale and retail hardware establishment was burned this morning about 1 o'clock. The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion. The loss will amount to about $60000, fully covered by insurance in the following companies: Commercial Union $2000, Royal $2000, Imperial $8000, Western $3000, National of Ireland $2000. The loss on the building is about $800, insured in the Phœnix of England for $8000.

WAR CLOUD IN EUROPE

FAILURE OF M. GOBLET TO FORM A CABINET.

Meeting of the Military Council—The Scotch Home Rule Union Delegates Report—The Crown Prince's Case.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The report of the delegates of Scotch Home Rule Union, who have visited Ireland, says the Irish people desire peace, that their demands are moderate, and that the National League is the chief agency for the preservation of law and order. The delegates are satisfied that the Irish are Home Rulers, not Separatists. Nobody in Ireland fears religious persecution. They further declare that the measures taken by the present Government are ineffective and irritate the mass of the Irish people.

According to The Cologne Gazette the hesitation of Russia justifies the belief that the publication of the forged documents with respect to the relations of Germany and Russia would lead to the indentification and compromise of important personages.

"We must assume," says the paper, "that personages sheltered by sex or position co-operated to place the forgeries in the Czar's hands. Such instruments could be found in French ladies married into noble Russian families. Besides these there are Russian officials and ex-diplomats and Jesuit and Polish elements who have actively worked to produce a breach between Russia and Germany."

President Carnot has made another appeal to M. Fallieres to try and form a cabinet, in consequence of the statement of M. Goblet, who informed the President that he was unable to succeed in the task owing to the refusal of several statesmen to join him.

It is definitely known that M. Fallieres will make an attempt to form a cabinet, and it is reported that MM. Rouvier, Flourens and Gen. Ferron, members of the Rouvier administration will be included in the new ministry. The attitude to be taken by the Radicals towards the Fallieres cabinet will be discussed at a meeting of the different groups to be held at an early date.

The Paris states that the first act of the new ministry will be the adoption of repressive measures against the Paris Municipal Council. With this object in view a bill will be introduced to modify the mode in which members of the council are elected and also to grant the Government power to dissolve the council.

The reports in the Austrian and German papers with regard to the movements of the Russian troops are said to be inexact. No order to reinforce the Galician frontier has been given since the Czar's return from Copenhagen. The recent massing of troops was made in compliance with an order issued over a year ago, including the transfer of the Orenburg division of cavalry which was recently effected.

The Cereal Committee of the Reichstag to-day accepted the proposal of Herr Windhorst not to apply the increase of duty to cereals imported prior to March 31, 1888, provided the purchase of contracts for such imports has been concluded prior to November.

The statement that the German Government had recommended that Austria adopt precautionary military measures is semi-officially denied at Vienna. The spontaneous resolutions of the Austrian authorities were the sole cause of the meeting of the Military Council. The Russian movements, and more especially the pushing forward of troops by Eschelons to the Austrian frontier still cause anxiety in military circles at Vienna. The cause of the decision of the council yesterday to abstain from further military measures was that the Austrian frontier forces are already as strong as those of Russia.

The rumors that the doctors attending the Crown Prince have changed their opinion as regard his case are baseless.

Councillor Hentzpeter, of Berlin, who was formerly tutor of Prince William, has published the following letter received by him from the Crown Prince written on Dec. 4: "I am able to inform you that the treatment which the physicians prescribed after consulting together has entirely removed the inflammation and caused the dangerous symptoms to subside. Meanwhile my bodily health has been excellent. I have never lost strength. My appetite is good and my general appearance is that of perfect health. I purposely communicate these details to you because it appears to me, beyond a doubt, that exaggerated accounts have been circulated of the appearance of a fresh growth of unfavorable character. God will determine the course which the disease shall take. The treatment is entrusted to most eminent experts, who in spite of all attacks levelled against them, possess my full confidence. I am in no way disheartened and I hope one day to be able, though perhaps only after a long period of careful treatment, once more to devote my power to the service of the Fatherland."

Mr. McInerney presided at the unveiling at Limerick to-day of the memorial to the Manchester martyrs, the participants taking advantage of the funeral of a member of the League to perform the ceremony. The police did not interfere.

Lord Mayor Sullivan, who is languishing in Tullamore Jail, has received notice that he will be allowed to see visitors for two hours daily without the presence of a warden, but he must promise that no documents of any sort shall pass between him and his visitors. Mr. Sullivan will accept the concession, provided it does not emanate from Mr. Balfour.

Immigrants From Cholera Districts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The steamer Elysia has arrived at New Orleans with 614 immigrants from the cholera infected districts of Italy. There is an English surgeon on board. The vessel has a clean bill of health, and there were no cases of sickness on the voyage.

FROM GREAT BRITAIN.

THE DAILY NEWS' COMMENTS ON THE FISHERY NEGOTIATIONS.

Canadian Cattle to Scotland—Buyers Numerous and Bidding Brisk—Crofter Delegates—Death of Sir Bryan Robinson.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Daily News, commenting on the statement of a New York correspondent that the Fishery Commission is unable to arrive at an agreement because Canada insisted on a Reciprocity Treaty which the American Commissioners were convinced it was impracticable to ratify, says nobody will blame Canada for trying to make the best terms possible, but Canadians will overreach themselves if they hold out for more than they can possibly get, and so cause the failure of the Commission. If Mr. Chamberlain saw any way to a settlement consistent with the claims of justice and the welfare of the Empire, it would hardly be one that Canada would be likely to be injured by accepting.

The third cargo of Canadian cattle has arrived at Aberdeen and been sold. Two hundred and sixty-five animals fetched an average price of £10 9s. There was a large number of buyers and the bidding was brisk. The buyers of former cargoes are well satisfied. The beasts thrive well. The sale is expected to cover expenses. The second sale gave a profit of £40.

It is understood that Mr. Begg is trying to arrange for a visit of representative Scotch Crofters to Canada next year at the expense of the Imperial Government, to report on the suitability of British Columbia for Crofters in connection with the scheme recently mentioned.

The death is announced of Sir Bryan Robinson, late judge of the Supreme Court of Newfoundland.

SENSATIONAL REVELATION.

Harper, the Wrecker of the Fidelity Bank, Cincinnati, on Trial.

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 8.—The close of the Government's testimony in the Harper trial came just after two sensational revelations, that of an attempt to bribe District Attorney Burnett and the publication of Harper's and Miss Josie Holmes' love letters. The result of the first was to lead the attorneys for the defence to require a statement in court from Mr. Burnett exonerating them from any connection with the attempted bribery. There was no denial of the fact, only a shifting of the burden to other shoulders. The other revelation, the love letters, creates sympathy for Mrs. Harper, but causes hard feeling for Harper. The court, upon the close of the Government's testimony to-day, of its own motion ruled out four of the counts in the indictment as being imperfectly drawn. As there are fifty-five counts in all, these four cut but a small figure to the defendant's credit.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 9.

The local stock market was quiet this morning with sales of 116 shares. The market was a little weaker all round, Commerce dropping from 110½ to 108½.

On call on the Board of Trade to-day: No. 1 fall wheat, 85 cents bid; No. 2 fall, 2 cars sold at 84 cents, 84½ was bid for 5 cars; No. 2 red winter, 86 cents bid for 1 or 10 cars; No. 1 hard offered at 86 cents and 89 cents, 85 cents bid.

On St. Lawrence market to-day 500 bushels of barley sold at 60c to 76c a bushel; 2000 of wheat at 82c to 85c for fall, 77c to 82c for spring and 74c to 78c for wild geese; and 400 oats at 36c to 40c. Fifty loads of hay sold at $13 to $15 a ton for timothy and $11 to $13 for clover. Ten loads of straw sold at $11 to $13 a ton. Pork is still pretty stiff at $6.35 to $6.60. In other commodities prices are about stationary. Business was dull to-day.

The following prices were quoted: Beef, hindquarters, per lb, 5c to 9c; beef, forequarters, per lb, 3c to 5c; mutton, per carcase, 6c to 7½c; lamb, per carcase, 7½c to 8½c; veal, 6c to 8c; pork, $6.35 to $6.60; chickens, per pair, 30c to 45c; ducks, per pair, 50c to 75c; geese, per lb, 5c to 6c; turkeys, per lb, 7c to 9c; wheat, fall, per bush, 82c to 85c; wheat, spring, per bush, 77c to 82c; wheat, goose, per bush, 74c to 75c; barley, 60c to 76c; peas, new, per bush, 38c to 40c; peas, 63c; timothy, $13 to $15; clover, $11 to $13; straw, $12 to $13; butter, pound rolls, 24c to 28c; butter, tub, 18c to 25c; cheese, per lb, 12c to 13c.

DEAD BENEATH THE WHEELS.

An Employe of the Michigan Car Works Killed at Detroit.

DETROIT, Dec. 8.—Two young men standing on Junction-avenue, near the railway crossing, last evening, while the engine was backing toward the depot to get a passenger train, saw a man roll from under the wheels and signalled the engineer to stop. He did so, and the engineer and fireman, with the two young men, hastened to the body. No one had seen the man previous to his rolling from under the wheels. He was quite dead, having been killed almost instantly. Both legs were broken, scalp badly torn and the chest crushed by the wheels. Subsequently it was discovered that the man's name was Jacob Gelinski, employed in the Michigan Car Works.

Canoeists in Council.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Northern Division, A. C. A.—The Site for Next Year's Meet.—Favorable Financial Report.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Northern Division, A.C.A., was held in the Cox block Friday evening. The following gentlemen were present, Mr. McGachen, Vice-Commodore, in the chair:—

Messrs. McKinnon and Murphy, Orillia C. C.; H. McKendrick, Ubique C.C., Toronto; McGachen, Britton (Secretary), Hopkins, Edwards and Dobbin, Lindsay C.C.; J. Millar, Otonabee C.C.; and Messrs. Collins, Edwards, G. M. Rogers, H. C. Rogers, J. Z. Rogers, Hatton, Toker, of Peterborough; Dr. Douglass, Lakefield C.C.

A motion was passed making the meeting a general one until the Executive Committee of last year had transferred its business to the new committee.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and confirmed, the following report of the retiring committee was read:—

LAST YEAR'S PROCEEDINGS.

To the Vice-Commodore and Committee of the Northern Division, American Canoe Association for 1886:—

I beg to present, on behalf of the retiring Committee for the year 1887, the following report:—

The Northern Division of the A.C.A. was organized at a meeting held at Peterborough, Ontario, on the evening of Friday, the 18th day of March, 1887, in accordance with a resolution passed by the General Executive Committee of the A.C.A. on the 12th February, 1887. There were present over forty delegates, representing the following clubs: Lindsay, Peterborough, Bobcaygeon, Otonabee, Lakefield, Brockville, Galt, Ubique, Toronto, Deseronto and Royal Military College. The officers elected for the year were as follows:—Commodore, Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers; Rear Commodore, Lt.-Col. S. G. Fairtough; Purser, J. D. Collins; Members of Committee—Messrs. Colin Fraser, Jacques, McGachen, Minns and Dr. Douglass, the first named being nominated by the Vice-Commodore as representative members of the General Executive Committee.

The first annual camp of the Division was held at Stony Lake from the 1st to the 18th of August, Juniper, Otter, Bear and Mayeta islands being again placed at the disposal of the Association by Messrs. G. M. Roger and E. B. Edwards. The meet was a most successful one. The number of members enrolled in the Division was 137. The total number of campers including ladies and others who did not identify themselves with the Association was probably not less than 400 or 500. The races were well contested and served to bring out a number of men who had not hitherto taken part in the racing. The camp fires were most successful and enjoyable.

The total receipts for the year were $320.67. The proportion of fees paid to the General Secretary being $2 for each new member and $1 for each old member, was $112, and the refunds amounted to $4 for fees overpaid, thus leaving the total working funds of the Division $204.67. The expenditure for all purposes other than the above was $179.90, leaving a balance on hand, after paying all accounts, of $24.77, to be handed over to the incoming committee.

The General Secretary accounted to the Division Purser for the proportion of fees of members of the Division who had directly paid him. Of the total membership of the Division 43 are new members and 94 old.

H. C. ROGERS,
Vice-Com, 1887.

Peterborough, Dec. 9, 1887.

The report of the auditors, Messrs. Dobbin and Hatton, certifying to the correctness of the financial statement, was also read.

Both reports were adopted.

A MATTER OF INTEREST.

The question of the Division's limits came up, on a letter from Ottawa to that effect being read by the Secretary.

Mr. EDWARDS said that when the Division was organized it was left open for them to make their limits as large as they could, taking in any clubs in Canada and the United States. It was suggested that Kingston should be the limit in the east, and it was not intended to take in either Brockville or Ottawa, but that should not deter Ottawa from joining the Northern Division. He thought the facts of the case should be placed before the Ottawa club and a request made that they join the Northern Division.

NEXT YEAR'S MEET.

The question of a site for next year's meet next came up. The Vice-Commodore gave a brief account of the Committee's trip to Lake Couchiching, which they considered a suitable camping ground. Maps of the proposed ground for the meet were shown to the meeting. Messrs. Murphy and McKinnon, of Orillia, spoke, the latter offering the Committee every accommodation on Horse Island, and if the Committee made known their wants he would endeavor to meet their views. The people of Orillia, he said, were anxious to have the meet there. In this island enterprise he had associated with him a Mr. Pellett, of Toronto, and they would make the rental of the island as low as possible.

Mr. MCKENDRICK said their was an opinion among the Toronto men that Georgian Bay would be a preferable site. The matter was discussed conversationally.

Mr. EDWARDS thought a ground should be chosen for which there would be no charge, and pointed out that ever since the first meet the sites had always been secured. He put the question to Mr. McKinnon, who readily agreed to the proposition, and stated that he would give the Association the use of the island for a fortnight, free of charge.

On motion of Mr. HATTON, seconded by Mr. Edwards, it was decided to accept Mr. McKinnon's offer, and that the meet next year be held at Horse Island, Lake Couchiching. Thanks were also expressed to Mr. McKinnon for his gratuitous offer.

FIXING THE DATE.

At suggestion and upon motion of Mr. EDWARDS, seconded by LT.-Col. Rogers, the date of the next meet of the Northern Division was fixed for the two weeks preceding the general meet at Lake George from August 10th to 24th, 1888.

The meeting then adjourned.

IN CONCLUSION.

After the adjournment of the general meeting, a meeting of the Executive Committee was held, and matters were arranged with Mr. McKinnon for the use of his island.

The entire company then adjourned to Webb's restaurant, where a complimentary supper was tendered the visitors by the Peterborough representatives.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Inspector of Prisons for Ontario reported to the Markets and Health Committee yesterday that more jail accommodation was wanted in Toronto.

The 20th annual gathering of the Toronto Lacrosse Club took place last night at the Queen's Hotel. The champions were given their trophy, a magnificent pennant—the gift of Mr. E. S. Cox to the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

At the meeting of the Senate of Toronto University last night, the examiners for the present year were appointed. It was resolved that all undergraduates in medicine from Victoria University who were students in the Toronto School of Medicine be admitted into the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Toronto.

The County Judges' Association of Ontario met at Osgoode Hall yesterday and discussed the salary question. The judges feel that their services on the Bench are not remunerated to as large an extent as they should be and would like to see an increase all round. Resolutions to this effect were passed and Their Honors appointed a committee to lay their case before the Minister of Justice at Ottawa.

A frail scaffold at the Baptist Church building in course of erection on Bolton-avenue gave way yesterday, carrying with it three carpenters who were more or less injured.

The 4-year-old daughter of Andrew James Norway, fell against a red hot stove on Thursday. Her mother was out at the time and the little thing was so badly burned that she died shortly afterwards.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.

There is to be a lively race for the positions of liquidators of the Central Bank, to be appointed at the coming meeting of shareholders and depositors. Among the names already published are those of Mr. E. R. C. Clarkson, accountant, Mr. F. J. Stewart, and Mr. A. Campbell. The latter gentleman is as good as appointed, so that the race will be for the other two posts. Among other names mentioned yesterday were Mr. H. C. Hammond (Osler & H.), late cashier of the Bank of Hamilton, and Mayor Howland. Mr. Hammond has had a thorough experience and has many supporters for the position. Mayor Howland is also named for the position. His boom has been carefully nursed and promoted and was let loose yesterday. It seems that at a meeting of depositors on Thursday a circular was ordered to be sent to others known to be also interested in large amounts, asking them to come to an adjourned meeting to be held at the office of Scott & Walmsley, 24 Church-street, on Friday, Dec. 9. Those signing the circular represent $200,000 of deposits. The signers are:

Dr. Pattullo, James Neilson, B. Pickering, John Cooper, Ald. Jones, L. Yorke, J. Johnson, S. Hill, Wm. Mossley, Hugh Scott, F. W. Johnson, James French, R. Shaw, W. H. Howland, Thos. Walmsley, W. Armstrong.

In response to the above upwards of fifty additional depositors met yesterday afternoon and elected Dr. Pattullo chairman. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

1. That this meeting submit the name of Mr. W. H. Howland (Mayor) to the meeting of creditors of the bank to be held on Tuesday next as a suitable person to act in their interest as one of the liquidators of the said bank.

2. That Dr. Pattullo and Hugh Scott be a committee to correspond with the depositors and other creditors, especially the outside depositors and creditors, with the view of procuring their authority to act for them at the meeting, and that said committee take such measures as they deem advisable for that purpose.

After the meeting the committee met, and realizing that it would be impossible to reach depositors and other creditors by correspondence, decided to publish the proceedings of the meeting in the daily papers, with the following form of proxy, which may be written out, signed and forwarded to Messrs. Hugh Scott and Dr. Pattullo, 24 Church-street, Toronto, by the persons who are interested either as depositors or having current account balances:

GRACE RAWLING'S DEATH.

The Sorry Finale it Was Due to Inflammation of the Intestines—What Druggist Howarth Prescribed for Her.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.

The evidence adduced at the inquest last night concerning the death of the school girl Gertrude Rawlings showed conclusively that it was due to inflammation of the intestines. This fact was established by the post mortem made by Dr. W. J. H. Emery and Dr. C. R. Cuthbertson.

The feature of the proceedings was the examination into the circumstances connected with the sale of a certain bottle of medicine for the deceased by C. W. Howarth, druggist, at 243 Yonge-street. Mrs. Rawlings, mother, and Mrs. Ann Mason, a sister of the dead girl, testified that Mr. Howarth was asked for Gregory's mixture. Mr. Howarth, according to their statement, said: "I won't give you the powder, I'll make up a bottle."

Druggist Howarth said he made up part of the mixture, the balance being in stock. The mixture contained rhubarb, magnesia, carbonate essence of peppermint, tincture of ginger and bicarbonate of potash in their usual doses. Mrs. Rawlings asked for a mixture for biliousness. He did not hear her ask for Gregory's mixture or powder. She did not produce a doctor's prescription. His usual custom when people came complaining to him was to give them such remedies as he thought would relieve them upon his own responsibility. As a rule he did not look for a doctor's prescription. He entertained the opinion that under his qualification as a druggist he had the right to do what is commonly known as "counter prescribing." He had been in the habit of doing this.

At this point Mr. Howarth said he would appeal for protection, as he began to discern the object Coroner Johnson and Mr. Carson, who represented the County Attorney, were seeking to attain. The Coroner and Mr. Carson concluded that the witness had already committed himself, and his examination in this particular direction was discontinued. Coroner Johnson, however, pressed Mr. Howarth to state what particular cases he had prescribed for.

Mr. Howarth: "Well, I have very often done so when a person complained of a cold."

The Coroner: "Did you cure them?"

Mr. Howarth: "I cannot say that in all cases a cure was effected. I will ask you if you cure everybody who comes to you for treatment."

The Coroner: "You should have found out the result in each case. Are you aware that the sudden stoppage of a cold is liable to cause death?"

Both Dr. Emery and Dr. Cuthbertson expressed the opinion that the mixture furnished by Howarth would have been appropriate if the deceased had been suffering from biliousness. It was scarcely explicable however for the ailment from which deceased had been suffering. It had nothing to do with the girl's death.

The Coroner in summing up the evidence said there was a difference of opinion as to what Mrs. Rawlings had asked for. She and her daughter alleged that Gregory's mixture was the article asked for, whilst Mr. Howarth claimed they wanted something to relieve biliousness. The medicine furnished was not such as would cause death. After pointing out that the protection of the public lies in the fact that the Government endows colleges for the proper qualification of men to practice medicine, he said there would be no necessity for medical schools if Mr. Howarth's contention that druggists have the right of "counter prescribing" was correct. The jury's duty was to return a verdict as to the cause of death, but they could add a rider if they saw fit, expressing an opinion upon "counter prescribing."

The jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the facts, unaccompanied by a rider. It is said to be the intention of the Council of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons to prosecute Mr. Howarth, using the evidence given by him at the inquest to make out a case for breach of the medical law.

ANOTHER DANGEROUS ELEMENT.

The Police of San Francisco Struggling With Bands of Murderous Chinamen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Lee Way, the Chinaman who was killed in a factional quarrel between the Bo Sin Seer and Gie Sin Seer societies, was buried yesterday. The faction to which he belonged made a great demonstration and invited an attack from the enemy, but the police were out in force and had a Gatling gun in readiness to quell a street battle. All white persons were warned to keep out of Chinatown.

The Chinese Consul-General's proclamation, offering $250 for the arrest of any man discharging a pistol at another, was torn down, and the police had to protect the Chinese official who replaced it. Several Chinese bands led the funeral of Lee Way, and the grave was covered with offerings of roast duck and pork and baskets of rice, while handfuls of money were thrown in the huge fire by the grave to give the slaughtered partisan a good start in the other world.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in relieving this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Matter Of Economy.

LOCAL NEWS.

ENLARGEMENT.

Owing to the pressure upon the EXAMINER's advertising columns, this paper will, for the next two or three weeks, be published in the present size. This is the season of the year when the merchant that places his wares judiciously before the public receives a rich reward in a harvest of business. The purchasing public will save money by reading the advertisements in the EXAMINER before buying anything, and they will also find that the men who advertise their goods are more ready to do business and treat customers in a liberal spirit. Buy from those who advertise.

Lindsay Curlers.

The Post says:—"A meeting of the skips of the Lindsay curling club was held in Mr. J. G. Edwards' office on Thursday of last week for the purpose of choosing their rinks, which was done by ballot. The following chiefs comprise the rinks:—

Skip J. D. Flavelle, C. Cornell, A. McDonnell, E. Gregory, J. H. Scotheran.
Skip S. A. McMurtry, John McLennan, junr., F. Knowlson, P. Morgan, J. A. Barron.
Skip J. W. Wallace, Dr. McAlpine, Dr. Poole, I. H. Oliver, J. W. Pritchard.
Skip J. G. Edwards, J. H. Hallett, H. Gladman, F. McBurney, S. Perrin.
Skip John McMillan, J. C. Harstone, J. M. Knowlson, D. McGibbin, A. Keith.
Skip Wm. McLennan, S. Hughes, J. A. Williamson, J. Blain, J. Lennox.
Skip J. Keith, H. Ferguson, A.Lumsden, J. H. Hart, S. Armour.
Skip Wm. Needler, W. S. Milner, J. Cooper, J. McSweyn, D. Ray.

The skips having made up their teams play will commence in earnest as soon as the ice gets a little keener. The season promises to be a lively one, and we hope the club will maintain its proud record of the past. Those intending to join should do so at once. The club will soon have to face the question of a larger rink, and no doubt a skating rink will be provided."

OLD winter has come with its frost and its snow, and where is the man won't say, "Buy your boots from KIDD, the boot man, he has the best."

Personal.

Mr. T. Arnold Haultain, M. A., has been appointed by the senate of Toronto University examiner in History and Geography.

Mr. W. R. Wadsworth, for eleven years manager of the Bank of Toronto at Port Hope, was presented with a complimentary address and magnificent silver service valued at $700, by the business men of Port Hope, on the occasion of his removal to the management of the London, Ont., branch of the same bank.

Mr. Henry Toole, of Omemee, has been awarded the contract for ties on the Midland between Lindsay and Port Hope, and on the Peterborough-Millbrook section. Mr. Toole will get out from 50,000 to 100,000.

Commemorating the Fifth Anniversary.

Happy Hours With Otonabee Oddfellows—Their New Premises Inaugurated With Hearty Hospitality—An Entertaining Programme and Enjoyable Evening—The Entire Affair a Brilliant Success.

Friday night the Oddfellows of Otonabee Lodge scored a triple triumph—typical of the three links. They celebrated the fifth anniversary of the reinstitution of the Lodge; they inaugurated their enlarged and beautiful premises, and they gave a splendid evening's enjoyment to over three hundred of their friends, comprising the best citizens of the town. Only a few days ago the EXAMINER gave a full description of the new premises, which it is not necessary now to repeat.

The lodge room was seated for a large audience, and every seat was occupied. Mr. M. Mowry N.G., occupied the chair, and in the name of Otonabee Lodge made the visitors welcome. He had, however, to make apologies for the interruptions of the programme. No less than four numbers had to be cancelled on account of illness. Dr. Bell, Grand Warden, was unable to be present and give his address on Oddfellowship, and Prof. Doscot's illness made it necessary to cut out the numbers dependent on his leadership or accompaniment.

Mr. Wm. Cluxton, Past Grand, ably supplied Dr. Bell's place and gave a short and excellent impromptu address. He said he thought he would not have been called upon if he had not been the oldest Oddfellow in town, and, perhaps, in Canada. He referred to the origin of Otonabee Lodge, which was established forty years ago. In those days it was exceedingly flourishing and, indeed, ran so fast that its race was soon run. After lying dormant for many years its resuscitation in 1882 resulted in the formation of the present lodge with some half a dozen members, which had grown to nearly 140, and they possessed their present excellent premises, perhaps the finest and most complete in Canada, entirely clear of debt, with a handsome surplus in the bank.

After Mr. Cluxton's admirable address, the programme came. The deficiencies caused by illness were supplied by Messrs. John Millar and R. M. Roy, the former with a capital exhibition of mind-reading, and the latter with legerdemain and mystery, whose cleverness is so familiar to Peterborough people. Mr. T. Dunn rendered, in his brilliant and artistic style, the baritone song, "On the Rolling Wave." He richly deserved the hearty encore he received, and responded by singing "The Palms", by Faure. The next number was a gem; Miss Aggie McDonald, of Montreal, gave a most brilliant interpretation of that exceedingly difficult selection, Ascher's pianoforte setting of Rossini's Semiramis. Miss McDonald acquitted herself splendidly, and it is a pleasure to announce that another first-class pianista is to be added to those already possessed by Peterborough. The vocal duet, Denza's "Nocturne," was so delightfully rendered by Misses Vair and Cottingham that they were rewarded with an encore, to which they responded. The pianoforte duet by Misses Beck and Stevenson was very correctly and expressively given. Popular feeling regarded the singing of Messrs. Dunn, Elliott and Tierney (the Harmony Club) as the vocal gems of the evening. They sang, without accompaniment, "See the Pale Moon" with perfect harmony and excellent expression and taste. A most hearty encore brought them out again in "The Buccaneer's Bride", which was given with equal felicity. This concluded a most enjoyable programme. During the intermission the company adjourned to the supper tables, where the best of refreshments, well served and abundant, were partaken of.

At the conclusion of the programme, with "God Save the Queen" led by the Harmony Club, the chairman, Mr. Mowry, who had discharged his duties with credit both to himself and the lodge, announced that the premises were placed at the disposal of the guests. In a short time the dining halls were cleared and dancing began and was continued for some time to the great enjoyment of all participating.

The lodge room was used as a drawing room and was filled with chatting groups of those preferring social intercourse to dancing. The Encampment rooms on the fourth floor were utilized for the evening as smoking rooms. Altogether the commemorative conversazione of Otonabee Lodge was a brilliant success. The unavoidable deficiencies of the programme, were fully supplemented by the other forms of enjoyment, provided for their guests by the hospitable members of No. 13, and those who failed to secure a ticket of admission, have to regret the loss of a most delightful evening's enjoyment.

All the visitors were delighted with the beauty, extent and elegance of the rooms, but the committee wish to state that they did not look their best, the new and beautiful gas-fixtures ordered from Philadelphia not having arrived, their place being taken temporarily by ordinary fixtures.

Church Chimes.

St. Paul's Church—The series of sermons upon the "Pilgrim's Progress" will be continued to-morrow evening, Subject, "The Conflict with Apollyon.

Charlotte street Church—11 a.m. and 7 p.m., Rev. I Tovell; evening subject: "Stepping Upward."

George street church—The pastor, Rev. F. H. Wallace, M.A., B.D., will conduct the services morning and evening. In the morning he will preach the annual sermon to the Sons of England. The evening sermon will be on the life and labors of the Apostle Paul.

NO CHANGE.

MR. GEO. A. MORRISON has assumed entire management for Eastern Ontario for the "Manufacturers Life Insurance Co'y." The Business will be carried on under the old Firm name Wilson & Morrison.

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

The Busy Burglar Again.

He Startles the People of Norwood by Robbing the Post Office.

About twenty minutes to four o'clock this morning the safe in the Norwood post office, situated in the general store of Mr. J. B. Pierce, was burst open by burglars and $60 in cash, 6 registered letters and some $5,000 worth of promissory notes taken. Stamps to value of $17 were untouched. The door of the safe was drilled and gunpowder poured into the hole and ignited. The explosion burst the door open and ignited several wads of cotton, placed apparently on the safe to deaden the sound. Mr. W.H. Minaker, who lives next door, Mr. Brennan and others in the neighborhood, heard the report and reached the scene just in time to prevent a conflagration and to see two men vanishing in the distance There is no clue to the burglars.

Dress Making! We are pleased to announce that Miss Johnston, the Toronto Dress Maker at Turnbull's is delighting everybody with her work. She is introducing many New Styles in Peterborough, is prompt and obliging, and with Turnbull's extensive Range of Dress Goods at her disposal, is prepared to Satisfy the most exacting taste on the shortest notice. Prices always right and consistent with First Class work.

THE MAYORALTY FOR 1888.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of ratepayers who have promised me their support, I am before you as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1888. I beg to ask you to give me your support, therefor, on the following platform:

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

If length of public service is deserving of recognition, I may modestly claim your consideration. During the eighteen or twenty years which I have sat at your Council board, I have endeavored to faithfully advance the best interests of the Town; I have spared neither time nor work to consistently carry out my pledge to my supporters, and have worked to the best of my ability for the general good—if I have erred, I have done so unknowingly.

I offer myself as, in particular, the Workingman's Candidate. I hope to receive a solid Workingman's support. I consider I am fairly entitled to it. I am a workingman myself, and, if elected, will endeavor to repay their confidence by advancing their interests in every honest way.

I may say that, in taking the field, I am not actuated by any feeling of rivalry with the present occupant of the Mayor's chair, but I feel that, with the many demands on his time and services, the position is not sought for. Should I prove correct in my inference, you cannot fairly overlook the claim that years of service have on your consideration.

I recognize thoroughly what the necessities of the town demand. Thorough economy in all departments of municipal expenditure must be the rule, a liberal policy to encourage the establishment and growth of new and existing industries. In this regard I am opposed to any money bonus being granted but in favor of exemption from taxes and, possibly, free sites, under proper restrictions.

I shall—if elected—give particular attention to matters as outlined above.

Possibly one of the most prominent questions that will come before the ratepayers next year will be in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act. I will maintain in this regard the position relative to temperance which I have held for the last twenty-five years. So long as the Scott Act remains in force, I will, to the extent of my ability and office, see that the law is strictly enforced, and that, too, through the proper officers of the town.

Such, gentlemen, are the grounds on which I ask your support. I may not have the opportunity of personally soliciting your favor, but venture to hope that the above statement of my views will meet with your approval.

Trusting that I may have your hearty support on the basis of

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

I am, gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,
A. RUTHERFORD.

Peterborough, December 8th, 1887. dw

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
J. STEVENSON.

JULES FERRY SHOT DOWN.

A RADICAL JOURNALIST WOUNDS HIM THREE TIMES.

The Shots All Take Effect, but None of the Wounds Inflicted are Serious—The Occurrence Causes a Heated Quarrel in the Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, Dec. 10.—An immense sensation was caused in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. As M. Jules Ferry was passing through the round ante-room leading into the "Salle des Pas Perdus," carrying a portfolio under his arm, he was assaulted by a short man with blonde whiskers, who drew a revolver and fired three shots at him. M. Ferry was wounded in the breast, side and thigh. The portfolio dulled the force of the shots, but Ferry fainted and had to be carried into the adjoining offices of the Questure. His assailant was nearly lynched by the excited crowds. He describes himself as a Radical journalist. His name is Aubertin.

Owing to the fact that M. Ferry fainted the report rapidly spread that he had been seriously, if not fatally, wounded. M. Ferry was able to go to a hospital with the support of some friends. To a query of anxious friends about the severity of the wound M. Ferry replied: "It is nothing."

Aubertin has been placed under arrest. It is now said that the assailant's real name is Berckein. He states that he is one of a band of twenty revolutionists. M. Ferry was able to walk from the hospital to his home after his wounds were dressed.

Berckein Aubertin, M. Ferry's assailant, is a native of Rombach, in Moselle. When he made the attack on M. Ferry he was accompanied by an accomplice who was to have shot M. Goblet, but who funked, giving as his reason that his revolver dropped to the floor When Aubertin was searched by the police a paper was found on him which indicated that he and his confederates had drawn lots yesterday to decide who should do the shooting. The paper ends, "Death to intriguers. Our path is marked out to form an intelligent, disinterested and patriotic ministry. So be it."

In consequence of the attempt upon the life of M. Ferry there were many heated quarrels in the lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies between Moderates and Radicals. M. Rouvier joined in the discussion, accusing the Radicals of provoking weak-minded persons to deeds of violence. Several scuffles ensued, and it is expected they will lead to duels.

M. Ferry's Condition Not So Favorable.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—The doctor's bulletin, regarding the condition of M. Ferry, says that the ecchymosis caused by the bullets striking the chest, is spreading over the regions of the heart and liver, and that the patient is greatly in need of rest.

Aubertin, the Would-be Assassin.

PARIS, Dec. 11.—Aubertin, the would-be assassin of M. Ferry, is the author of various pamphlets and the inventor of several machines, the failure of which has reduced him to deep poverty, embittered his life and brought on occasional attacks of insanity. The Radical organs declare that the man is a crank. A political assassination is held to be inexcusable by the Radicals.

The Journal des Debats and La Republique Francaise charge the "demagog press" with inciting Aubertin, and they demand a new press law to modify the act of 1881.

Aubertin promises to reveal the names of his accomplices on Tuesday if the gang does not attempt to assassinate some of the members of the Rouvier Cabinet before that day.

ADJOURNED UNTIL JANUARY 4.

The Commissioners Will not Sit Until After The Holidays—Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Charles Will Spend the Christmas Season in Canada.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The fisheries negotiators, after a few hours' session to-day, adjourned till Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1888. Sir Charles Tupper will leave Washington to-morrow, en route for Winnipeg, where he will meet Lady Tupper, and the two will proceed thence to Ottawa, and Mr. Chamberlain will leave Washington on Monday, Dec. 19, for Ottawa, where he will visit Lord Lansdowne during the holiday recess. On Monday next the gentlemen connected with the fish eries negotiations will visit Mt. Vernon or one of the Government vessels as the guests of Secretary Bayard.

THE WAR RUMORS SET AFLOAT FOR SPECULATIVE PURPOSES.

The Liberal Unionists Opposed to Protection—Bismarck Taken Ill—The Crown Prince's Condition — Hicks-Beach and Chamberlain—Arrest of Mr. Hooper, M.P.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—It is not believed in military circles here that the Russian movements on the frontier are of great importance, and the rumors of war are supposed to be circulated for speculative purposes. For the last ten years the newspaper correspondents on the Continent have been getting up a periodical war scare, but nothing has come of it so far. In the present case the only real movement is the transfer of the Thirteenth Cavalry Division from Moscow to Lublin, making an addition of four cavalry regiments to the fifty-four already on the frontier, which are equally available against German or Austrian territory. In case of aggression this force must be enormously increased.

The entire tone of the preamble of the new German Military Service Bill is suggestive of the fictitious character of the outburst of the official press over the massing of Russian troops on the frontier. The chances of the immediate passage of the Landsturm Bill, which, it is estimated, will add 500,000 men to the effective force in the event of a mobilization, have been greatly hurt by Bismarck. The agitation will be sustained by the press until the bill passes, as in the case of the Septennate Bill.

There are many reasons why Germany should be on the alert towards Russia, although the Government's motive in fomenting a war scare is apparent. The reports of the massing of Russian troops on the frontier at the present time are incorrect, but the result of the movements recorded during the last three months has been to place 192 infantry battalions, 18 squadrons of cavalry and 24 batteries of artillery on the Austro-German frontier. These movements, while in progress, were not considered as an immediate menace to Germany or Austria, but were thought to be necessitated by the special difficulties of mobilization in Russia. The German Government still admits this view, but in the meantime it will justify the action of the Reichstag in making a complete reform in the military system. No fear is felt in the official circles of Berlin or Vienna of an aggressive Russian movement. The Czar still wavers between the party of peace and the Pan-Slavists, and the present agitation will make him understand the danger he runs in listening to counsillors hostile to Germany and Austria.

It is said that Catacasy, the ex-Russian Minister to Washington, is the man who produced the false letters and despatches which caused the hatred of the Czar for Bismarck. He is a resident of Paris, and he wrote the articles in Le Nord, the purpose of which was to excite the French against Germany. If the forgeries are accepted as an indubitable fact, and considering that diplomats as a rule are not experts in the art of forging, it is easy to trace the guilt to Catacasy. If the letters have been put into the hands of Prince Ferdinand of Coburg or of Princess Waldemar of Denmark (daughter of the Duc de Chartres), the latter would be quite innocent of the fraud, and yet would have given Bismarck an opportunity to incite the Orleanists at the moment when they are trying to overthrow the peace-loving Republican Government of France.

The British Medical Journal, speaking of the Crown Prince's condition, says:

"As to the progress of the disease, quite too much reticence is observed. The Crown Prince is not losing strength and the discomfort his malady subjects him to is very slight indeed. To the much-advertised views of the German doctors, who have never looked into the patient's mouth, Dr. Mackenzie says he pays no attention and attaches no importance whatsoever. When he first examined the patient's throat in Berlin there were, he asserts, no signs of cancer, but there undoubtedly were such indications when the examination was made at San Remo. The reports from the physician in charge at San Remo, Dr. Mackenzie says, are quite favorable and there has not been the slightest enlargement of the growth or any other unfavorable change for several weeks."

The Free Traders are not satisfied with Lord Hartington's reference to the Fair Trade agitation at the Union Conference, and he has offended a great number of Conservatives. The latter feel that he has spoken in the tone of a master toward their leaders, and that he did not give the Fair Trade movement the importance it deserved. On the other hand, the Liberal-Unionist press say that Free Trade is a question far more important than Home Rule for Ireland. The result of the Unionist Conference has been a prevailing sense of uneasiness which forebodes a rupture with the Tories if further developments should take place toward a fair trade policy in lieu of Free Trade.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has sent to The Times the correspondence that passed between him and Lord Clanricarde while he (Sir Michael) was Chief Secretary for Ireland. The Marquis of Clanricarde, in a letter to Sir Michael, expressed surprise at the statement of Agent Joyce that Sir Michael had refused police assistance to Lord Clanricarde unless he reduced the rents on his estates. Lord Clanricarde asked Sir Michael if a reduction of 20 per cent. would be sufficient, and upbraided him for not intimating his decision earlier, thus giving the league the credit of obtaining the reduction. Sir Michael replied that he could not notify Clanricarde because the latter had never been in Ireland. He did not refuse his assistance in the work of eviction, but he could not do any more for Lord Clanricarde than for the other landlords. He was unable to say whether or not a 20 per cent. reduction was sufficient, but he had heard that the Land Court had allowed larger reductions.

Reliable advices from Friederichsruhe say that Prince Bismarck fell suddenly ill yesterday. The physician advises his absentation from work.

The jury were unable to agree in the case of the two Murphys, indicted with five others, for manslaughter for killing Constable Whelan at Lisdoonvarna. O'Leary and the four other prisoners were found guilty. O'Leary was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, and the other four to seven years each.

Mr. Hooper, M.P., has been arrested at Cork for publishing reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League.

Michael Davitt, in a speech at Mill Pond to-night, said that Englishmen, as well as Irishmen, need protection against landlords. The Tories would soon agree upon the adoption of a fair trade policy and then landlords and protection would go together.

Chicago Printers Ask for Support.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—The Executive Committee of the Chicago Typographical Union has issued a circular to the other unions of the United States. It charges that the Chicago Typothetæ is being supported by the employing printers of the country in its efforts to destroy the Typographical Union. It says the striking printers are determined not to sign the iron-clad contract, and asks for financial aid to support them in their position.

DETECTIVES LOCKED UP.

MONTREAL'S LATEST SENSATION OF THE CRIMINAL ANNALS.

Private and Confidential Officers Accused of Robbing the Safes of the Grand Trunk Railway—Three of Them "Implicated" in the Job.

MONTREAL, Dec. 10.—The city was greatly excited this morning when it became known that Private Detective John Fahey, ex-Detective Louis Naegele, and Constable Bureau (late of the Grand Trunk force) were in the hands of the authorities, charged with having, a little over a month ago, robbed the Grand Trunk Company's safe at Bonaventure Station of about $1200.

During the past summer a house at No. 1 Drolet-street, owned by Mr. Hy. Phillips, the well-known shooting man, was broken into, and goods to a considerable amount were carried off. As the key was in the possession of Detective Fahey, the owner, for some reason or other, suspected that the guilty party was that officer himself. He therefore, communicated with a New York detective, Frank Wilson, who came to this city nearly three months ago for the express purpose of "shadowing Fahey" and the men who were supposed to be his accomplices. The American officer not only succeeded in making the acquaintance of his Montreal confrere, but impressed him with the idea that he was a pretty big scoundrel himself, and quite ready to carry out the wholesale plan of robbery which (this is Wilson's statement under oath) Detective Fahey and others were about to undertake. Louis Naegele and Constable Bureau also appeared on the scene, and as the latter was a Grand Trunk officer it was decided to make a "grand haul" from that corporation. Fahey wanted to begin with the paymaster, and alleged that the sum of $160,000 could be bagged at one fell swoop from that aged official when the next pay-day would come round. As there was a question of knocking down the employe, Wilson, to better secure the ends of justice, advised that the safe be undertaken first.

This was carried out successfully by Bureau, Fahey, Naegele, Wilson and another party who was quite innocent of what was going on. The time chosen was not Sunday night, as at first supposed, but between 12 and 1 on Sunday afternoon, while fifty people or more were standing round.

Bureau, Wilson says, had taken the key of the safe and passed it over to Naegele, who in turn gave it to Fahey, and a false key was made from it to be used at the proper time. Four days after the burglary was accomplished, Wilson notified the Grand Trunk what had been done, and also that a great scheme of robbery was contemplated throughout the city and country. The Grand Trunk authorities then gave Wilson full power to go ahead and see how far Fahey and Naegele would go. Detective Thomas Flynn of the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway, was also brought to the city, and in a few days Wilson and his comrade left for Boston, where two letters were exchanged between Wilson and Fahey—the latter asking that a full kit of tools be sent here, as they had some good things on hand. These letters are not signed, but it is alleged that they can be proved to be in Fahey's handwriting. Wilson returned from Boston, and at the same time ordered another detective from Chicago, who arrived here a week ago to-day, registering as "Mr. Craig," his real name being Maxwell. He, too, entered into the operations of the gang, which were now to be opened up on an extensive scale.

It being thought that the time had come to pounce upon the thieves, warrants were issued last evening for the three arrests, and High Constable Bissonnette and his deputy executed them between 9 and 10 o'clock. Fahey was taken into custody at the Richelieu Hotel, Naegele's arrest was made at No. 1 Drolet-street, which house has been principally used as a rendezvous by the gang, and Bureau (who was taken on to the city police force when discharged by the Grand Trunk after the robbery) was apprehended on his beat near St. Ann's market. The three prisoners were locked up for the night.

This morning they were brought before Judges Desnoyers and Duras, and remanded, while the several startling depositions were being taken. Louis Naegele had given the reporters a great many stories, but when he was asked to tell his own this morning, he winced. "It makes me sick; I am not guilty," was about all he said as he stopped before a throng of newspaper men. John Fahey was simply "crushed," and acted like a man under the influence of liquor—which quite probably correctly describes the state in which he presented himself before the magistrate. As the investigation, Mr. Kerr, Q C., appeared for the Grand Trunk.

Nothing that has taken place in police circles for a great number of years has caused half the interest and excitement which was manifest around the offices and corridors of the Court House all day. The American detectives, Flynn, Wilson and Maxwell, are burly yet intelligent looking men.

Mr. Wilson explains that the robbery at the station only occupied a few minutes, and that the plan was that if the onlookers perceived any wrong doing Fahey and Naegele (being well known to the crowd) were to seize upon the strangers, conduct them a short distance away, and allow them to escape.

John Fahey was once a member of the city police force, and Naegele is a son of Deputy Chief of Police Naegele.

More Revelations.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—Still another projected burglary in connection with Detectives Fahey, Naegele and Constable Bureau has come to light, namely, that of the robbery of Sir Donald A. Smith's celebrated picture, "The Communicants," now on exhibition in Toronto, which cost about $40,000, having been bought over a year ago at auction in New York.

A GREAT SCARE AT HALIFAX.

Dynamiters Attempt to Blow up a Gun Cotton Tank on George's Island.

HALIFAX, Dec. 10.—The correspondents called upon the high officials last night for details of the alleged attempt by dynamiters to destroy the fortifications on George's Island by blowing up the tank in which an immense quantity of gun cotton is stored. During the snowstorm Thursday night three unknown men were surprised near the tank, but before the guard could capture them they made their escape in a boat. The Imperial regulations, however, absolutely prohibit Gen. Lord Alexander Russell and his staff from giving any information to the press, but their officials admit the main facts to be true. During the day a two top-mast schooner was noticed anchored off the southeast of George's Island, and in a line with the gun-cotton tank. Late in the afternoon two men landed at the island, but as no civilian is allowed under any pretext inside any of the forts or upon the fortifications without special permit from the commanding officer, these men were peremptorily ordered off. They appear to have explained that they were strangers in port, and landed on the island by mistake.

A sentinel is stationed near the pier at which the troops land, but this is some seventy yards from the gun-cotton tank, which is on the eastern side, and a person landing there or being there would not be noticed by the sentry. The sergeant's daughter noticed the three strange men there between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday night, but paid no particular attention to it until she heard one shout to his companions, "Don't leave me here to do your dirty work." Suspecting something wrong she immediately notified the guard, who rushed to the tank, but the intruders made off in their boat, escaping under cover of darkness and the snowstorm.

The news was immediately signalled to the citadel and communicated to Lord Russell, who ordered double guards to patrol the island all night and officers to search vessels in the harbor for the dynamiters. The crew of the vessel nearest the fort said they knew nothing about it. Meanwhile Detective Power was communicated with by Royal Engineer officers and asked if he knew of any suspicious characters being in the city who would likely make an attempt to operate on the forts by dynamite. The detective knew of no suspicious strangers, but was ordered to keep a thorough watch and report all suspicious characters to the military authorities. At midnight the following message was received at Police Headquarters:

From the Officers in charge of Submarine Diving Division established on George's Island, to the Officers on duty at Police Station

Three men just now were surprised at gun-cotton tank on George's Island. From conversation overheard, they are suspected of serious designs upon the gun-cotton tank. They pulled away for a schooner lying in harbor. Please obtain information of all schooners and be on the alert at all landing places.

CAPT. DAWSON.

But the combined efforts of police and military authorities have failed to find any clue. The most stringent precautions, however, have been taken; extra guards have been placed on the forts and ammunition depots and the greatest care is exercised in regard to persons approaching these places. A reporter went to the gate of the citadel this morning to make inquiries and was inspected and examined by three officers before being allowed to pass the sentry. Col. O'Brien will only give passes to civilians going to George's Island upon urgent business, and as no one can urge that excuse, it is next to impossible for any but the military on duty to reach there.

It is officially explained that, while the cover of a new gun-cotton tank in course of construction was removed, no damage was done to the immense galvanized iron tank in which the gun-cotton is stored. This tank is covered by a sheet of galvanized iron, lined with wood. A person with an ordinary drill or gimlet could bore a hole through it in a very short time. The cut cotton is carefully stowed away in compartments, but if powder was dropped into the hole made through the cover and a burning fuse placed there, which would drop into the tank, the powder would of course explode the gun-cotton. The effect would be appalling, as there is a large supply of this explosive stored there. Not only would the fort have been destroyed, but the island is so near the shore that the whole business portion of the city, the wharves, the shipping and the fashionable residences in the South End must also have been wrecked. Lord Russell is understood to have cabled the minutest details of the affair to the officials of the War Department.

The Agriculturists Active.

Meeting of Directors of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute—Preparations for an Active Winter Campaign.

A meeting of the Directors of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held in the Council Chamber, Peterborough, on Saturday afternoon. Several of the directors handed in the names of new members, aggregating an important addition to the membership of the Institute.

Mr. J. E. Stratton, M.P.P., was present and informed the directors that two of the professors of the Agricultural College could be secured to deliver addresses to the Institute between the 4th and 23rd of January, prox. The secretary was instructed to write and make arrangements for having dates specified and the subject or subjects of the address or addresses.

Messrs. Bennet, Simpson, Bell (T. E.), Kennedy, Willan, the president, and secretary were appointed a committee to engage local practical farmers to read papers on live subjects of interest to the farmers.

Votes of thanks were unanimously adopted to Mr. J. E. Stratton, M.P.P., for the interest he has taken and the valuable assistance he has given in the formation of the Institute, and to Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., for his offer of the old music hall free for the meetings of the Institute.

Sunday School Examination.

On Saturday evening, December the 10th, a local examination for Sunday School teachers and scholars, in connection with the Church of England, was held in St. Luke's school room, Ashburnham, under the auspices of the Toronto Sunday School Committee. A number of candidates had entered for the examination both from St. John's and St. Luke's Sunday Schools. Only 12 actually sat for the examination, and these all belonged to the latter school. Their names are as follows:—Mrs. Jackson, Misses Alice Hiam, Clara Shuter, Pollie Deane, Nettie Macdonald, Juliet Orde, Katie Calcutt, Hettie Bennett, Elizabeth Price, Mary J. McAnaren, Louisa Friend and Mr. F. G. Saunders. The subjects for examination were the Church Catechism and the Wanderings of Israel in Egypt and the Wilderness, last year's Sunday lessons. Eight question were set on each paper, of which only six were to be answered. Candidates who obtain 50 marks on each subject are placed in the first class. Prizes, ranging in value from $5 to $15, are offered to the teacher or scholar ranking highest in the Scripture or Catechism paper. The questions were prepared in Toronto and the answers forwarded there. It is not of course known who has succeeded from this district, nor can it be until probably after Christmas. Some of our readers may, perhaps, be interested in reading the Catechism paper which was as follows:—

QUESTIONS ON THE CATECHISM.

N. B.—Only six questions are to be answered. If more are answered, only the first six will be counted.

1. "I will make a New Covenant."
   (1) What is this New Covenant?
   (2) On what conditions were you admitted into it, ?
   (3) What are its blessings and privileges?
2. "We have a great High Priest."
   Who is our High Priest? How does He fulfil his office?
3. What is the work of the Holy Spirit as expressed
   (a) In the Catechism,
   (b) In the Bible?
4. What are the several reasons for observing the Lord's Day, and how should it be observed?
5. "Do this in remembrance of Me." Give an account of the circumstances under which these words were spoken. What do hey mean, and how are we to obey them?
6. How are the many and great benefits of the Holy Communion expressed,
   (a) In the Catechism, and
   (b) In the Communion office?
7. What reasons can you give for
   (a) Infant Baptism:
   (b) The three Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church?
8. Give an account of the Church in England prior to the Reformation.

Complimentary Resolutions.

At the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the George street Methodist church, held on Tuesday last, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

RESOLVED—That whereas, on account of ill health, Mrs. Thos. Bradburn has tendered her resignation as President of our Society, we feel we cannot accept it without expressing our deep sorrow for the reason which makes it necessary for her to sever her connection with us. Her unvarying kindness and courtesy towards us during the three years of her Presidency, have endeared her to every member; and our earnest hope is that she may be speedily restored to health and so be soon again able to resume her work amongst us. Our united prayer for her is, "That the peace of God which passeth all understanding shall keep her heart and mind through Christ Jesus our Lord."

RESOLVED—That this Society deeply regrets the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, especially at this time when we were looking forward to a busy year of usefulness under their wise direction. We have profited by the encouragement and aid they have given us during their short stay amongst us; and hope that we may be enabled to successfully carry out the work undertaken by their advice and assistance. We would take this opportunity of expressing our thorough appreciation of the interest they have taken in our Society; and our earnest wish and prayer is that they may be long spared for the Master's service, and each at last receive the "Well done, good and faithful servant."

RESOLVED—That the deepest sympathy of the association is tendered to our sisters, the Mesdames Wilcox, who during the past week have suffered such keen bereavement in the loss of son and husband. We earnestly pray that He who has permitted this mysterious Providence, will be near to comfort when earthly consolations fail;— while clouds of sorrow darken their earthly pathway, and loving hearts lie sore, wounded by this heavy stroke, that upon the soul life, unseen by mortal eyes, the "Sun of Righteousness" shall arise afresh, "with healing in His wings."

TWO WRITS ISSUED.

Actions Taken Against Directors of the Ontario Investment Association.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 7.—This afternoon Clerk MacBeth issued, at the request of Miss Selena Crumby Graydon and Miss Mina G. Graydon, two writs each against Daniel Macdie, John Labatt, John Elliott, Isaiah Danks, W. R. Meredith, G. F. Gunthase and F. A. Fitzgerald. The writs claim damages alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiffs by the fraudulent mismanagement of the defendants as directors of the Ontario Investment Association whereby the shares held by the plaintiffs become worthless.

The amount involved is $7000. The claim set up by the defendants is that the association is liable for the moneys stolen by Taylor during the time the accused directors were in office.

The Labor Commission.

WINDSOR, Dec. 7.—The Dominion Labor Commission got to work here yesterday collecting facts relating to the working classes of Essex County and matters generally as to the relation of labor and capital. By special request of the members of the Commission, Customs Collector Benson was the first witness called to give his views. Mr. Benson gave an exhaustive review of the working of the tariff at this point, the commodities imported and exported, and the relative value of commodities on both sides of the river. Vegetables of all kinds could be bought cheaper in Detroit than in Windsor. As to clothing he thought the laboring man of Windsor had a great deal the best of his Detroit brethren. Robert Kerr, proprietor of the Walkerville foundry, and Sherman J. Miller, of D. M. Ferry & Co.'s seed warehouse, also gave evidence. The Knights of Labor Assembly decided to give what information they could to the Commission.

HIGH LICENSE IN PHILADELPHIA.

It is Thought that it Will Drive a Great Many Men Out of Business.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—The new high license law passed by the last Legislature promises to drive out of the liquor business not only those who cannot afford to pay the $500 license fee, but also many wealthy dealers who will find it impossible to secure the necessary bondsmen to become responsible for their faithful compliance with the law. Up to the close of business yesterday only 350 applications for licenses for next year had been filed. This is considered a small number in view of the fact that there are about 6000 saloons in that city. As the law has been interpreted at present the bondsmen must reside in the ward where the saloon is located. In the Fifth ward there are 309 saloons, and in the Sixth ward 260 saloons. If all these places should be re-licensed there would have to be 1138 different bondsmen, and it is a well known fact that there are not enough resident property owners in these wards to make up the number, especially among those who would go upon the bonds.

In Schuylkill County yesterday was the last day upon which liquor license applications could be legally filed. About 630 applications were made, which is 320 less than last year.

FURS

SUPERIOR QUALITY

The results as anticipated, which the cold season of September and October would have on Fur bearing animals, has been realized to the fullest extent. Their pelts have not only become earlier prime but have also been provided with a richer color of fur than many a season before. Therefore the collection of Furs bought this season from the trappers direct by us, are of a far Superior kind and we are now ready for filling Orders. There is an unusual run on PLUCKED BEAVER in Cities, and Peterborough will not fall behind in fashion. An early call has many advantages in selections as in making up at short notice. All our goods offered to the public are manufactured on the premises, the only place in Peterborough manufacturing Furs, and therefore we can recommend our make to the public. Highest price paid for Raw Furs.

A SUNDAY STABBING CASE.

Mrs. Rachel Littleton Thrusts a Knife Into Her Husband's Back — His Condition Very Serious—The Result of Family Quarrelling.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.

In a neat cottage at 22½ Stafford-street live David Littleton, a machinist in the Massey Company's employ. Rachel, his wife, and the latter's young daughter by a former husband. The couple have, so the neighbors say, lived happily till a recent period, when the husband began to ill-treat his wife.

The troubles were due to Mrs. Littleton's dislike to her husband's attentions to a young woman employed in a King-street toy store. Mrs. Littleton, it is said, reproached her husband for his conduct and, angered by her upbraidings, he then and there ended the dispute by knocking her down. Finally Mrs. Littleton called at the toy store where the young woman is employed. With her she pleaded, but to no purpose. The girl is reported to have said that she would continue to meet Mr. Littleton and speak to him as long as she chose. Subsequently she wrote Mrs. Littleton that if she came again on a like mission she would call in the police. Thereafter Mrs. Littleton discontinued her visits to the toy store.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock Littleton and his wife engaged in a petty quarrel, but in this instance the toy store girl was not responsible for the outbreak. The cause was a trivial one, but it led to a terrible ending. Littleton, becoming enraged, struck his wife in the mouth, breaking two of her teeth and felling her to the floor. Regaining her feet Mrs. Littleton seized a large pen-knife, which was lying open on a table, and stabbed her husband in the back near the region of the lungs. She then left the house, remaining away till 5 o'clock, when she returned to inquire as to her husband's condition. Detective Davis, who had been looking for her, went to the house and placed her under arrest. She was taken to the St. Andrew's Station.

Dr. Eddy, who attended Littleton, says the wound may result fatally. If the lungs have been injured and inflammation sets in, as he fears, there is no hope of recovery. Littleton's condition at a late hour last night was unimproved. He says he is to blame for the occurrence and seems to feel keenly the position his wife has been placed in.

The Thirteen Club Vote for C. U.

The Thirteen Club held its first open meeting of this, its fourth season, in the club's room in the Y.M.C.A. buildings on Saturday evening, when a number of the members' friends were present. President W. E. Willmott opened the meeting with an address on the origin, history and material of the club, stating that the reason they had chosen the number "thirteen" as the name of the club was to disprove the superstitions which prevailed in regard to it. He could not cite a single instance of fatality to any of the members. Dr. Moore took the chair during the programme. An essay on the "Life and Works of Victor Hugo," by Mr. C. E. Saunders, was followed by a debate on the question that "Commercial Union would be beneficial to Canada." The affirmative was sustained by Mr. W. B. Short and Mr. W. G. Cuthbertson; the negative by Mr. W. J. Withrow and Mr. R. T. Coates. The majority voted in the affirmative. A reading from "Pickwick Papers" was given by Mr. Rundle. Queries were handed out to be answered at the next meeting. Mr. Alex. Mills and Dr. Herbert Gallaway, honorary members, complimented the club on its progress.

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

Annual Meeting of the Association at Montreal—Election of Officers.

MONTREAL, Dec. 11.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Commercial Travelers' Association was held here last evening. The annual report showed a total income for the year of $21,993, being an increase of $3346 over the previous year. The capital of the association now is $67,775, the net gain for the year, after paying all expenses, being no less than $9859. The membership now is 1684, there being a net increase of 178 during the year. During the year 472 members were added, but 200 dropped out. Four children of deceased members are now availing themselves of the advantages of the educational fund. Relations with the railway companies are somewhat strained at the present moment, owing to the question of liability for baggage.

The officers elected were: F. Birks, of the firm of Belding, Paul & Co., President; W. Percival, Vice-President; Joseph Armstrong, Charles Hutchison, James Croil, W. Mussell and Geo. Browne, Directors.

Among the resolutions adopted at the meeting was one to provide that any applicant for membership over 55 years of age shall waive all right or claim for mortuary benefits, excepting benefits covered by the accident policy.

At the quarterly meeting in May a bylaw was passed providing that no funds of the association should at any time be used in payment for wines or other spirituous liquors, but at this meeting that bylaw was rescinded. The annual dinner and ball will take place on Dec. 22.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. sodw

CROUP AND THROAT and Lung Troubles are treated successfully with Allen's Lung Balsam. sdw

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hairs, Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature gray hairs and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and cause a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Matter of Economy.

As a matter of economy B. B. B. is the cheapest medicine in use for it takes less to cure chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood, than any other known remedy. B. B. B. is only One Dollar a bottle. 2w49d

Be Encouraged.

"Never despair," is a good motto for all. If afflicted with any lingering disease, remember "while there is life there is hope." Never despair of relief until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures diseases of the stomach, liver and blood when all other medicines fail. 2w49d

Invisible but Instantaneous

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; no poulticing or using greasy liniments. It will not blister or discolor the skin. Sold at 25c. per bottle by John McKee Druggist. Sufferers from Neuralgia assure us that they never fear it when their house contains a bottle of Fluid Lightning. eodw43

A Hint to Housekeepers.

Mrs. Robert Williamson, of Glenila, Parry Sound, Ont., says, "I could not keep house without Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand. I have used it in my family for croup, sore throat, and a cut foot, and can highly recommend it to everybody." 2w49d

A Claim Verified.

B. B. B. claims to cure all curable diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys and blood. That it actually performs all it claims, is proven by testimonials from parties which none can dispute. Send for testimonials of remarkable cures. 2w49d

Palmo-Sulphur Soap.

Is Marvelously Efficient in clearing the Skin of Impurities, and keeping it in a perfect state of health. It beautifies the complexion, while as a Healing agent for Sores or Wounds it passes all praise. There is no Form of Eruptive Disease for which this Renowned Soap has not proved efficacious. In the Bath it is as beneficial as the waters of the Renowned Sulphur Springs. Linens and Woolens washed with it have rendered superlatively white, and are disinfected when germs of disease linger in the material. The value of Sulphur as a Cleansing and Purifying agent is everywhere recognized. Ask for Palmo-Sulphur, and refuse all others, and you wont be deceived.

Great Slaughtering and Cutting OF PRICES IN DRY GOODS AT THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

Army Tactics.

The Salvation Army's street parades on Sunday were of a three-fold nature. Their corps was divided into three wings, each taking different directions and at last coming together on George street, where they joined forces and marched to the barracks. Each division kept up its own song, and as there were three drums and a number of brass instruments among them, they created a small pandemonium.

A collection to defray expenses will be taken up. Chair taken at 8 o'clock. 2d.

To Dry Goods Buyers.

If dry goods are sold at cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell at cost. If dry goods are sold under cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell under cost. They are wide awake to the state of trade, yet their business has increased every month and why? because they sell goods as cheap as they can be sold and make an honest living, and because they never put into print what they do not carry out. This week they will put their mantles down to cost price, and winter goods will be sold regardless of profit. No surrender is their motto. 3d13d

Negotiating for an Industry.

Mr. Geo. Hilliard, on Saturday, handed Mayor Stevenson a letter which he had received from G. Outram & Sons, File and Rasp Manufacturers, Montreal, stating that on account of the enlargement of their present works on the Lachine Canal they could not obtain sufficient water power. The proprietors were therefore obliged to seek a better location, and thinking Peterborough a favorable point, wrote inquiring as to the water privileges and what terms the town would give them. Mayor Stevenson replied, explaining that the water power of Peterborough was unsurpassed, and offering the usual mode of exemption from taxation. He suggested that a member of the firm be sent up to negotiate in person. The Outram manufactory is an old established and large one, and one that it would be worth while bringing to Peterborough.

"Righteousness Exalteth a Nation"

These words, taken from Proverbs xiv.,34, formed the text of Rev. Prof. Wallace's sermon to the Sons of England, who turned out about 80 strong, in the George street church Sunday morning. The sermon was a masterly and instructive address, that fanned into brighter glory the flame of patriotism glowing in the bosoms of the sons of old England, united in the bands of social fraternity, who had the pleasure of listening to it. He addressed them, Rev. Mr. Wallace said, as Sons of England, and therefore as men who loved that mother country which gave them birth; and not only England, but the whole British Empire. After enlarging eloquently upon the beauties and pleasures of England and English life, the reverend speaker came to the question, what is the true ideal, what is the source of national greatness? Was it extent of territory, military power, commercial or industrial greatness, or culture, either æsthetic or intellectual? There was another ideal, grander and more comprehensive than any, the scriptural ideal—"Righteousness exalteth a nation"—which summed up all the elements of greatness. There were, he said, three great factors in the formation of a nation of righteous men and women—the home, the school and the church. He urged those to whom he was preaching to follow out the dictates of the Bible, as did their forefathers of old, and England's star would never decline, her greatness would never perish. A practical Christianity, he said, was the hope of the British and all other nations. At the conclusion of the service Mrs. Daly sang a beautiful solo, "Consider the Lilies."

This evening, at the Grand Central Hotel, the annual supper of the Sons of England will be held.

Fifth Annual Report

Of St Paul's Auxiliary (Peterborough) of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. 5th December, 1887.

In presenting this report your Committee desires to ascribe praise and thanksgiving to the Great Head of the Church for the goodness and mercy which have been vouchsafed to the members of this society during the past year. While the President of a sister society in town has been suddenly taken from home and works of Christian love to enter the presence of the King; and the President of another has been called to pass through severe and desolating afflictions, and while from the homes of not a few amongst us, beloved ones have been removed, the members of this Society have been kept in life, and to day stand in unbroken phalanx to fight under Jehovah's banner in faith and patience against idolatry, superstition and vice, being permitted to be fellow workers with Christ in spreading the knowledge of salvation in distant parts of the earth; and while acknowledging ourselves to be indeed "a feeble folk," we can yet thank God for what He has done by means of this auxiliary.

The year 1887—a marked year in the "History of our Times"—has found us progressing. Our membership has been increased by the addition of 8, bringing the number up to 80, 48 of whom are members of the Parent Society, 4 are life members, one of the latter having, through the kindness of friends in the society, been recently presented with the Certificate of Life Membership. We said we were progressing—we said it not boastfully, for "in many things we have come short," but if activity be a proof of life, we humbly claim that we possess it; and where there is life their must be progress. That more interest has been taken in mission work, especially that by and for woman, is proved by our increased membership, by many new subscribers for the missionary leaflets, by the attendance at the monthly meetings which has averaged 20, and which, notwithstanding an exceptionally hot summer, were not abandoned; and last, but not least, as the Treasurer's statement will show, the dollars and cents have not only been up to the mark, but owing to the personal appeals of faithful, active workers have been cheerfully bestowed, causing quite an increase to our funds. In April this auxiliary was represented at the annual meetings of the society held in Toronto, by Miss Roger, who, in addition to an account of the proceedings, brought an interesting report of the addresses of several ministers in the evening, all excellent and thoroughly practical. Our delegate was commissioned to convey through the Central Board an invitation for the annual meeting of 1888 to be held in Peterborough, but owing to a prior promise made to the royal city of Guelph, the invitation could not be accepted.

The annual appeal for clothing, etc., for our Indian missions in the Northwest, had been forestalled by this Auxiliary in June, and was fully responded to and carried out later on when 12 Auxiliaries sent liberal supplies, which, after being sorted and packed by a committee who volunteered their services, were finally despatched from Peterborough, according to directions received from headquarters. Our thanks are here tendered to Mr. W. W. Johnstone, for kindly receiving and allowing all these contributions to be packed in his store. In November a pleasant and profitable evening was spent in the Sunday School room, when Mr. and Mrs. Goforth were introduced, welcomed, entertained and heartily bid "God-speed." They are going as missionaries to China early next year, with others who have been led to devote their earliest and best years to God's service, amongst those vast millions who know not the Lord, but who, happily for them, have, during the current year, been officially informed that "they are free to choose their own religion."

Our Committee at one time entertained the hope of a visit from a Syrian Christian lady now on this continent, but it cannot take place this year; the hope, however, still exists that it will yet come to pass, as all who have heard her speak, testify to her ability and earnestness, which, added to an unusually interesting personal history, lead us to look forward with great pleasure and desire to her appearance amongst us whenever it may take place. The removal of some valued members of our Society to other places of abode was cause of deep regret, but as "servants of the church" they can carry on their Master's work wherever He places them, and still be one with us in that most blessed service. Before closing our report we wish to express our thanks to the proprietors of our local papers for various gratuitous insertions during the past year, and we do so most sincerely. And lastly, this auxiliary heartily endorses the expressions of loyalty and affection conveyed to our beloved Sovereign through the Central Board on the completion of the fiftieth year of her reign, during which fifty years all that now exists and is in operation for the Christianizing and enlightenment of India's women has been done, and done through the instrumentality of missionaries, male and female, sent forth from the Christian churches Of this continent and the Mother land, for this we most humbly and heartily thank God, whose blessing has followed His servants' work.

We rejoice in the fact that what God has enabled this Auxiliary to do has been done solely in the name, and depending on the help and blessing of Him who hath taught us to pray, "Thy Kingdom come." Let us "Go Forward" in faith, with fresh consecration of body, soul and spirit, putting forth renewed efforts to hasten the coming of the Lord, the glorious Jubilee of whom it is written: "Kings of the earth shall bow before Him, all nations shall do Him service."

By order of Committee.

H. HAULTAIN,
Sec. pro tem.

Prompt Settlement.

The card of thanks to be found in another column from Mrs. J. E. and M. L. Wilson, re the payment of insurance claim of Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, shows what honorable life insurance should be—no waiting for 60 days, as with some companies. A standing rule of the above company is that all policies should be paid at once on proof of death. This company, represented by Wilson & Morrison, is deserving of public patronage, and its merits are being recognized in a most practical manner; for the company, since its recent organization, has written about two and a half million ($2,500,000) dollars' worth of business. A model insurance corporation is one which adds to undoubted security liberal policy conditions, and, above all, prompt settlement of claims; and these conditions are admirably combined in the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company. The business still continues to be carried on under the old firm name of Wilson & Morrison and the past record of the firm gives the public every reason to intrust their business in life insurance to the firm and the company so ably represented by the firm in this district.

Dr. Cardwell, after a two months' visit to the hospitals of New York, has returned to his practice at Lakefield and gave us a call on Monday morning.

Mr. McAndrew, of the firm of McAndrew & Noble, accompanied by his daughter, leaves to-morrow for Scotland, to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in the "land o' cakes", whom he has not seen for many years. Mr. T. Menzies supplied passages as a steamer of the Beaver Line.

Mr. S. J. Callaghan, Inspector for the London and Lancashire Life Insurance Company, is in town opening an agency for Peterborough and vicinity. Mr. Callaghan's brother, Mr. P. F. Callaghan, of Lindsay, has decided to open a branch office and take charge of the interests of the company in this locality, and with this object in view has been prospecting in town for the past month. Mr. Callaghan comes well recommended from Lindsay, and no doubt he will make a shrewd, sharp agent, and one that will increase the business of this Company to a considerable extent.

Dress Making! We are pleased to announce that Miss Johnston, the Toronto Dress Maker at Turnbull's is delighting everybody with her work. She is introducing many New Styles in Peterborough, is prompt and obliging, and with Turnbull's extensive Range of Dress Goods at her disposal, is prepared to Satisfy the most exacting taste on the shortest notice. Prices always right and consistent with First Class work.

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

AN OLD MAN UNDER SUSPICION.

He Says Burglars Murdered his Wife, but his Story is not Believed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Louis Brower, an old man over 60, is now lying in jail at Jamaica, L.I., awaiting the result of injuries that someone inflicted on his wife. He says that he did not commit the act which, if she is not now dead, will cause her to die within a day at the outside. The couple lived in a little hamlet about five miles east of Hempstead, L.I. For four years Brower has been drawing from his stock to make gifts of poultry, wheat and latterly a cow to a woman who lives about three-quarters of a mile from his house, and who at present goes under the name of Mrs. Baldwin, although she has previously borne the names of Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Lewis. Mrs. Brower did not live happily with her husband. He found the society of the younger neighbor more agreeable. Brower walked a mile to the house of his son-in-law early this morning and said that burglars had tried to kill his wife and himself. He didn't tell his near neighbors, but they went to the house and searched. When the story got abroad, an axe was found with blood in the eye of it. An effort had been made to clean it, but this point had been overlooked. The woman had been struck at the base of the brain. The alleged burglars, if they had done the deed, as Brower described it, must have hit her in the face. The old man had tried to make the house look as if burglars had entered it, but there were no real traces of housebreaking and there is no doubt but that he did the work himself. The woman will surely die.

Precautions Necessary Against Cholera.

THE FISHERY COMMISSION.

The Status of the Negotiations at the Present Time—A Consultation to be Held During Recess—An English Opinion.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Careful investigation has developed the status of the negotiations between the United States and Great Britain, looking to the settlement of the fisheries question, to be about like this: The Commissioners have been unable to reach an agreement. The cause of the disability is the wide difference of opinion between the United States and Canada with respect to the privileges which are to be given to Canadians in return for the right of the inshore fisheries. It is understood that the British Commissioners proposed that the United States fishermen should be permitted to take fish, not only between headlands, but within the three-mile limit of the Canadian shore. In fact, the United States vessels, under this agreement, were to have been accorded all the advantages which Canadian fishermen now enjoy. In return for this, however, it was demanded that the United States should permit the free import, not only of Canadian fish into American markets, but of many other Canadian products. In other words, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and Sir Charles Tupper demanded a Commercial Reciprocity in exchange for the fishing privileges, which the American fishermen claim they do not ask. When it was announced, therefore, in these despatches about two weeks ago that the Commissioners had failed to reach an agreement, it was understood that no further demand in this direction would be made. Since then, however, it is learned positively, that Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain have decided to confer with the authorities at Ottawa and induce them to recede somewhat from their demands, and to come back to Washington and try it over again. Sir Charles Tupper has already left for Canada, going to Winnipeg before he visits Ottawa, and Mr. Chamberlain is expected to depart for the Dominion within a few days. This is the status of the fisheries negotiations up to the present time.

Hon. John S. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice; Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Mr. Geo. Johnson and the others of the Canadian contingent who have been here in connection with the Fisheries Conference have decided to spend the Christmas holidays with their friends in Canada and left to-night. Major-General Cameron, Sir Charles Tupper's official secretary, whose family is in England, will remain in Washington during the adjournment of the Fishery Convention. Messrs. Angell and Putnam, of the American side of the convention, will return to their homes in a few days to pass Christmas. The books and documents belonging to the Canadian and English arbitrators have been stored in boxes and will be carefully guarded until the owners return to Washington on Jan. 4.

The members of the Fishery Convention were taken to Mount Vernon to-day on board the United States steamer Dispatch, as the guests of Secretary Bayard, who invited several diplomatic representatives and others prominent in official life to join the party. The customary program of visitors to Washington's tomb was followed. A cold luncheon was served on board the Dispatch, which returned to the city in the early afternoon. Besides Secretary and Miss Bayard there were Mr. Chamberlain, Minister West, the Misses West, Messrs. Angell and Putnam, Postmaster-General Vilas, Admiral Porter, Judge Cooley, Swellon Brown, the Chinese Minister, the Russian Charge d'Affaires, Messrs. Johnston, Foster, Graham, Moore and Bergue and many others.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says: "It is impossible to ignore the general feeling that the Fishery Commission has so far failed in its object. Mr. Chamberlain has of course made communications to the Foreign Office. The impression among well-informed persons could hardly be so widespread without a foundation. The long adjournment is for a double purpose, namely, affording the Governments an opportunity of considering whether further negotiations are likely to be useful and allowing time for a revision of every argument before the Commissioners' reassembling. They may feel obliged to recognise the necessity of declaring a want of agreement." This statement, from so well-informed a quarter, occasions some surprise, as the rumors of failure cabled from New York were not at first credited. There is very slight means here of judging of the accuracy of the reports, as the number of persons with special information is extremely limited. The Manchester Guardian, however, is usually very cautious in its statements. In Canadian circles here nothing is known.

ALLEGED POLICE CROOKS.

ANOTHER MEMBER OF THE MONTREAL POLICE FORCE IN CUSTODY.

The Preliminary Enquiry in the Cases of Fahey, Naegele and Bureau—Evidence Taken of the Grand Trunk Robbery—The Accused Are Unusually Grave.

MONTREAL, Dec. 12.—Detectives Fahey and Naegele and Constable Bureau were brought before Police Magistrate Desnoyers to-day, when the preliminary enquete into the charges against them was opened. Large crowds assembled outside of the court house to see the prisoners as they passed in. Upon the application of counsel for prosecution, Mr. Kerr, Q.C., it was decided to hold the enquete with closed doors.

It was afterwards learned, however, that the evidence was of a purely formal character, Station Agent Stone and another officer of the company giving details of the robbery at Bonaventure depot. The men were then taken back to jail. They all appeared to realise their position and were unusually grave.

Later in the day Constable Plante, a member of the city police force, was arrested. Plante states that he cannot account for his arrest, and denies that he is guilty of any wrong doing.

After Bureau had confessed to his part in the Grand Trunk robbery, he was confronted by Detective Fahey, when he exclaimed: "I retract all I have said."

J. M. Dufresne of Dufresne & Mongenais, grocers, to-day swore out a deposition against Naegele for stealing a valuable ring at Back River last month. Naegele admits that the ring was stolen, but says it was taken by another party. Mrs. Naegele and Mrs. Bureau visited their husbands to-day, but Mrs. Fahey is confined to her room by paralysis.

At the City Council to-day the Chairman of the Police Committee expressed the opinion that all special constables should be discharged, while another alderman said the whole police force should be discharged. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of others.

THE MONTREAL SENSATION.

The American Detectives Tell How They Entrapped Fahey and His Pals.

From The Montreal Gazette.

A reporter spent a couple of hours with Detectives Flynn, Wilson and Maxwell on Saturday evening. The three men occupy comfortable rooms at the Balmoral Hotel, Wilson and Maxwell, or Craig, as he was known in Montreal, having left the Richelieu Hotel and taken up their quarters with Detective Flynn.

Flynn is about 45 years of age, and is at present general claim agent of the Grand Trunk at Detroit, in which position he enjoys the confidence of his employers. He stands about six feet two inches in his stocking feet. For many years he was a conductor on the railway and is well known in Montreal. He became chief detective and was succeeded in this position by Maxwell, who had his headquarters at Chicago. Maxwell looks more like a ticket agent at a country depot than a detective or a cracksman. To see him walking about the office of the hotel one would take him for a well-to-do habitant. Wilson is the dude of the party. He dresses well and wears a chimney pot hat with a ponderous quantity of jewelry. He is one of Pinkerton's smartest men, and the style in which it is alleged he took in smart detectives like Fahey and Naegele will score another good point in his favor.

Detective Maxwell's Story.

I arrived in Montreal last Saturday week with a note to Wilson from Detective Flynn that I was the "good safe blower" which Fahey asked him to get to put up some jobs. That night I met Fahey in Wilson's room. No. 16 Richelieu Hotel, and was introduced to him as "Craig of Boston." We talked awhile on general matters and finally Wilson said to Fahey "the kid, Craig, is a good listener and not much of a talker." Fahey then unravelled his schemes and we got talking about the Grand Trunk robbery. He said it was a bad job, for instead of getting only $1200 they should have got $7000 or $8000.

"Frank, you weakened," said Fahey to Wilson, and I turned round and said, "Frank, what was the matter with you? I never placed you for a chicken, God d—— you." Wilson said, "I got scared of Bureau. He was drunk, and the fellow at the news stand gave us a lot of trouble. He was trying to light the fire and was fumbling around all the time that it did not look a safe job. You know, Fahey, that Bureau was kicking too much at the door and telling us to keep still in too loud a voice."

"I hope the job will be better done next time," said Fahey, "and that Craig here is not such a 'softy' as you."

Finally the three of us had a walk.

We met Naegele with Fahey in the Richelieu next night and Naegele went over to the City Hall and brought Bureau across. I was introduced to him. He gave Frank Wilson ball, and said in a French accent, "God d—— you. There was $8000 there, and you might as well have taken it as not."

Fahey's Big Scheme.

Fahey then said in our presence: "Look here, the biggest thing yet is to go for Sir Donald Smith's picture. It is as easy done as to walk across the street. It is up in Toronto now at the exhibition. We can get it when it comes back. Smith paid $68,000 for it, and the old fellow will give $5000 more to get it back. I will return the picture to him and divide the money." We then walked out and Fahey and Naegele pointed me out Lefort and Bissette's store on Notre Dame-street. I went inside and enquired for some furs at the same time. I took a look at the safe. They told me that they had disposed of the furs last Friday, and I came out and told Fahey. We went into the Bodega and the restaurant next door (Walker's), and I sized up the safes at the request of Fahey, and he then asked me if I thought I could get through the doors. The next place he took me was to the City Passenger Railway office. He said he had been in there in the morning for change of a $10, and that the safe was in the corner room. "I want you to go in and get everything right." He gave me a $10 bill, and I went in and got it changed, taking the location of the house, safe and every other particular I could. We then walked down Craig-street and went to St. Ann's Market, where he pointed out a wholesale grocery store, and said it could easily be got into, as Bureau was on that beat and he would take the watchman away while the job was being done. During all those interviews Fahey and Naegele told us that they would guarantee me against arrest, and that if the worst came to the worst and I got pulled that he had the key of the jail door, and he assured me that he would get me out. They told me to have courage. The next night Naegele pointed out a jewelry store on St. Lawrence Main-street. They sent me in there, and Wilson and they were looking in in the window until I came out. He pointed out a saloon and showed how it could be entered from the gate, in an alley-way, which was broken. Wilson then asked him what about the policeman who was on the beat, and Naegele said: "It is all right, I have fixed him." Naegele also told me it would be better not to go at the jewelry store until near New Year's, when they would have in a new stock of holiday goods, and the job would pay better. Wilson was present with me at all those interviews.

Mercier Still Gaining.

QUEBEC, Dec. 12.—The Mercier Government continues in luck. Another vacancy has occurred in the Legislative Council, Hon. E. Gingras having resigned on account of old age. When the Government shall have filled this seat with a supporter, the relative strength of parties in the Council will be: 9 Government, 9 Opposition and 5 Independents. In the Assembly, the chief Mercier organ claims, the Government will have a majority of 28 next session, the present position of parties there being 37 Ministerialists and 16 Opposition, with 5 seats actually vacant and 6 likely to be vacated by the Courts before the session, making 11 seats in all, of which Mr. Mercier can count safely on carrying 9.

A Visit to Mount Vernon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The fisheries negotiators visited Mount Vernon to-day as the guests of Secretary Bayard.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

THE NEW CABINET OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

Callan and Harkins—The Assault on M. Jules Ferry—The Crown Prince's Condition—Prince Bismarck's Health.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Callan and Harkins, the supposed dynamiters, were brought up for examination in the Bow-street police court to-day. It was proved on evidence that drafts on New York, amounting to £535, were paid in London to Melville. Part of these were cashed at the Bank of England, and later on notes signed by Cohen and Lappan were cashed at the Bank of England.

Mr. Majendie, inspector of explosives, declared that the dynamite found in Callan's lodgings was of American make. Others testified that Melville, Harkins and Cohen were associates. The prisoners were remanded.

Aubertin, who shot M. Jules Ferry on Saturday, was taken before a judge to-day. He exhibited symptoms of insanity. The examination was postponed.

M. Antoine, the representative from Metz to the German Reichstag, has sent a despatch to M. Ferry saying that the attempt made upon his life has raised the indignation of all classes.

Over 10,000 cards, letters and telegrams have been received by M. Ferry. Congratulatory notes were also received from all the foreign diplomatic representatives. Many telegrams were sent from Alsace-Lorraine.

The list of the new French Cabinet, which is to be published to morrow in the Journal Officiel, is as follows:

M. TIRARD, President of the Council, Minister of Finance and Minister of Posts and Telegraphs.
M. FALLIERES, Minister of Justice.
M. FLOURENS, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
M. SARRIEN, Minister of the Interior.
M. DOUTERME, Minister of Commerce.
M. LOUBET, Minister of Public Works.
M. DE MAHY, Minister of Marine.
M. VIETTE, Minister of Agriculture.
M. FAYE, Minister of Public Instruction.

The Ministry of War has not been filled. The portfolio has been offered to General Logerot.

Gen. Logerot has accepted the war portfolio. Of the new Cabinet M. M. Tirard, Falleres, Faye, Demahy, Loubet and Dautreme belong to the Union of the Left, and Minister Sarrien and Viette belong to the more advanced group. M. Flourens and Gen. Logerot are not members of the Chamber of Deputies.

The new Cabinet held a meeting at the Elysee Palace this evening, when President Carnot read his message to Parliament. The message is lengthy and refers to political questions, pointing out the path which the President would like to see Parliament enter. The passage relating to France's foreign policy is couched in the most pacific terms.

The Cabinet's reply to the message will declare that the Government's desire is to commence the exhibition year with peace abroad and concord at home. They will demand as a question of confidence three provisional credits.

Gen. Logerot is the commander of the Eighth Army corps, with headquarters at Bourges. He distinguished himself in the Tunisian campaign.

The lectures in the University of Moscow have been suspended and meetings of students forbidden on account of the disturbance created by the students. One student was killed and several were wounded in a recent encounter between the students and a body of troops; hundreds were arrested. The city is patroled day and night by Cossacks, and an especially heavy force is stationed around the university. The troubles are due to the objections raised by the students against the new rules, but have no connection with politics.

Prince Bismarck's health has greatly improved.

It is asserted on authority by the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung that in the event of war England will send a fleet to operate on the Baltic, and will protect the Italian Coast. "The Consent of Parliament," the paper says, "will not be asked until the moment comes for putting the agreement into effect.

The Growth of a Cancerous Nature.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A Standard's San Remo special says: "The growth in the German Crown Prince's throat is undoubtedly of a cancerous nature, but it is so small that the doctors are hopeful that it will be a long time, perhaps years, before it will impede the Prince's breathing."

CHINESE EMIGRATION.

A Resolution in the U.S. Senate to Put a Stop to It.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—In the Senate a joint resolution was introduced by Mr. Mitchell, abrogating all treaties with the Chinese Empire so far as they permit the coming of Chinese into the United States, and absolutely prohibiting the same, except as to diplomatic, consular and other officials. Also to prohibit objectionable foreign immigration, encourage desirable immigration, defend American institutions and protect American labor.

Mr. Beck offered a resolution directing the Postoffice Committee to enquire into the advisability of making the rate of letter postage one cent when letters do not exceed one ounce in weight, and asked that it be laid on the table, saying he might introduce a bill to that effect. So ordered.

Mr. Butler offered a resolution, which was adopted, for the appointment of a select committee of five to enquire into the advisability and practicability of establishing and maintaining a postal telegraph.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.

The local stock market was quiet and easier this morning with sales of 107 shares.

On call on the Board of Trade to-day: No. 1 fall wheat 85c bid; No. 2 fall offered at 85½c, 84½c bid; No. 1 red winter, 83c bid; No. 2 red winter, 84c bid, January delivery; one car of No. 3 red winter by sample, on track, offered at 86c, 85c bid; No. 1 hard offered at 89c.

On the local stock market last week there were sales of 2629 shares, of which 1751 were of bank stocks, as against sales of 3130 shares in the corresponding week last year.

HENRY TAYLOR ARRESTED

HE DECLINES TO INTIMATE WHAT HIS DEFENCE WILL BE.

Mr. H. P. Graydon, a Heavy Loser by the Failure of the Ontario Investment Association, is the Complainant Against the ex-President.

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 12.—This afternoon Police Magistrate E. J. Parke issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Taylor, late President of the Bank of London, and President and Manager of the Ontario Investment Association. The warrant was executed by Chief Williams, who arrested Taylor while he was smoking in bed in the debtors' cell of London Jail. N. P. Graydon, the complainant, laid two charges, one for the embezzlement of $1680 on July 1, 1887, the other for fraudulently appropriating to his own use $1465 on July 31, 1887, both sums belonging to the Ontario Investment Association.

When formally arrested Taylor evinced no surprise, having been warned of what would occur. The ex-president declines to intimate what course of defence his counsel will pursue and refuses to express an opinion.

TORONTO TOPICS.

W. P. Dwyer, the hotel clerk accused of stealing $140 from F. W. Tallmadge of Saginaw, Mich., was found guilty yesterday.

At a meeting of the employes of the Massey Manufacturing Company, held last night to discuss the relative merits of the respective Mayoralty candidates, about a dozen majority decided that Ald. Rogers was the proper candidate to receive their vote.

The suspected crooks arrested as vagrants were up yesterday. Martin Downs was discharged; the others were remanded.

For creating a disturbance at the Salvation Temple on Sunday night Herbert Hust was fined $15 and costs and Thomas Smith and George Maybee each $3 and costs.

The Littleton stabbing case has been enlarged until Friday, Littleton being unable to appear. His wife feels very bad over the affair. Littleton was somewhat easier last night.

At 1 o'clock this morning George Mortimer, aged 21, who says he is a commercial traveler, called at Police Headquarters and said he had just struck his brother John on the head with a sword because the latter was abusing his mother. John had been drinking. The parties live at 37 Church-street. Policeman Noble took George to the Agnes-street Station. John's wound, a deep gash, is over the right eye; it is not dangerous.

John McKenzie, aged 27, a driver in the employ of the Dominion Transfer Company, died yesterday evening at his boarding house, 35 Simcoe-street, from the effects of a fall. On Sunday evening he was visiting some friends at West Toronto, and on leaving for home appears to have taken the Weston direction, instead of making towards Parkdale. While crossing the Black Creek bridge near Carlton, he fell over—a distance of about forty-five feet. So serious were the injuries sustained that he lay in an unconscious state until daybreak, when he was picked up by County Constable Rumble and driven to his boarding house, where Dr. McPhedran pronounced his condition hopeless. He died in great agony.

When the Young Men's Liberal Club met last night it was understood that it was for the purpose of discussing Prohibition. Vice-President Donald was in the chair, and about twenty-five members were present. Mr. Chamberlain introduced a motion to the effect that in the opinion of the club the time had come when the Dominion Parliament should enact a law prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor in Canada. There was a long discussion on both sides, Mr. Andrew Baird introduced an amendment to the effect that the club should recommend to the Toronto City Council that further reductions should be made in licenses, but this was ruled out of order. Mr. Bryan Lynch moved a resolution favoring compensation. The debate was adjourned till next Monday.

Winding Up the Central Bank.

TORONTO, Dec. 13.

To-day another step will be taken towards the winding up of the affairs of the Central Bank. At 10.30 in the Board of Trade Room the shareholders will meet to nominate candidates for the three positions of liquidators. Mr. David Blain will preside. At 3 o'clock, in the same place, the creditors will meet for a similar purpose. The chairman will report the selected names to the Chancery Court, which will make the appointments out of the names selected.

Mr. Henry Pellatt is also a candidate for the position of liquidator. He has had a banking experience of over thirty years in Canada and the old country. Still another new candidate is Mr. W. A. Simpson, accountant, broker and trustee, of this city.

Another name brought forward is that of A. B. Ord, the chief accountant of the bank, whose knowledge of the books and accounts ought to prove of great service. It has always been considered desirable to retain one of the officers of the bank, as was the case in the Bank of Upper Canada. Mr. Cosier having acted then, and Mr. Campbell, who was one of the liquidators of the Consolidated Bank, was also inspector of that institution. Mr. Ord's candidacy is worthy of the consideration of the creditors as well as the shareholders of the bank.

THE FAT STOCK SHOW.

Opening To-Day at Grand's Repository—"The Roast Beef of Old England."

TORONTO, Dec. 13.

To-day the Fat Stock Show opens in Toronto, and as the matter has been taken up in the right quarter it is hoped that it will become an annual event in the city. Acting Mayor Frankland is sparing no exertions to make the show as great a success as possible considering the limited space at the disposal of those in charge. Grand's Repository, Adelaide-street west, is no doubt as good a place as is available, but by next year it is contemplated to have perfected some arrangements by which the fat stock show will be but one feature in a grand agricultural display. The show will be attended to-day by the students of the Veterinary College. They have also been invited to the City Hall, where Ald. Frankland will address them, and no doubt arouse an interest in a subject which is so closely connected with their profession.

To-morrow the show will be formally opened by the City Council, and in the evening the exhibitors, judges, city fathers, and prominent citizens will dine together at the Albion Hotel.

"THE HEARTS OF OAK."

Jovial Sons of England Feed and Fraternize.

They Celebrate Their Annual Dinner Festivities in a Becoming Manner—Toasts, Songs, and Jollification.

Never, perhaps, since the first annual dinner of the Sons of England Society of Peterborough, has there been one held at which so much enthusiasm, good-feeling and united brotherhood been exhibited as the one at the Grand Central Hotel Monday evening. Nearly one hundred loyal sons of Old England were ranged about the two long tables groaning beneath the loads of delicacies which "mine host Daly" knows so well how to prepare, and from the beginning a universal spirit of jollity and sociability seemed to prevail. Those present were brothers indeed, and, though far from the mother land in whose honor they were assembled on this occasion, their hearts were brought very near to it by glowing reminiscences and patriotic songs.

At one end of the room a large Union Jack was suspended, at the other a life-size painting of Her Majesty.

After the edibles had been disposed of, the President, Mr. I. Richardson, opened the second part of the evening's entertainment in a neat introductory speech, appropriate to the occasion, in which he touched briefly upon the progress of the local lodge. He proposed the first toast, which was heartily drank, and the National Anthem sung by the company, standing.

"THE QUEEN,"

"The Prince and Princess of Wales, and all the Royal Family" followed, and was drank with equally loyal expressions.

"The Army and Navy" was responded to by Mr. C. Forbes, of the 57th Batt., and Sergt. Johnston, the latter of whom gave an interesting account of his military experiences, which included active service in the Crimea and Indian mutiny.

"The Governor-General and Lieut.-Governor" was responded to by Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., who said that though he had not the pleasure of the Governor-General's acquaintance, yet he thought that from all reports he was an able and wise ruler. He thanked them on behalf of the Governor-General for the toast.

"OUR GRAND LODGE,"

was spoken to by Grand President Skippen, of Toronto, who expressed his pleasure at being present on this occasion, which was also the anniversary of Albion Lodge, Toronto, to which he belonged. In looking back over the past thirteen years of Society progress there was great cause for thanks, and he encouraged all members to propagate the principles of the order on every occasion. The Sons of England Order was a growing institution. Since the last Grand Lodge meeting in January, twelve new lodges had been opened, and next week five more were to be opened. (Applause). He was pleased to see that Lansdowne Lodge was participating in the general prosperity. (Applause). Referring to the origination of the Order at Toronto some thirteen years ago, he said it was not believed at that time that the Society would reach the extent it had. He touched upon the fraternal and social benefits of the Order, and a mention of the "Old Union Jack" brought forth loud applause. Referring to the beneficiary aims of the Order, he said it was the duty of every Englishman to enter the Society and lend a helping hand to unfortunate brothers. The Order had solid principles, which would never die, and which were applicable all over the whole world, as an instance of which he mentioned the fact that there were two lodges in South Africa, branches of the Canadian Order. (Applause). They intended, he said, to extend the Order still further. He had been a number of years in the Grand Lodge, and he claimed to have been a worker in the Sons of England Order. He cited Shaftsbury Hall, owned by the Lodge in Toronto, as a monument to British pluck, and said further than that, that they had purchased land in West Toronto on which to erect another $35,000 building. (Applause). There were, he said, some 16 lodges in Toronto, all flourishing. In conclusion, he thanked them for the honor of the toast, and urged members of the Order to follow out the principles inculcated, and the Society would ever continue to thrive, as in the past.

MUNICIPAL.

To "The Mayor and Corporation" Mayor Stevenson responded first, speaking approving of the objects of the Society, and loyally of the greatness of England. Referring to municipal affairs, he said, the finances were prosperous, taxes down to 12 mills, and he hoped next year they would be further reduced to 10 mills. He also spoke of the favorable standing of Peterborough in the province, which was second to none.

Mr. R. S. DAVIDSON, "finance minister," also replied briefly, dealing with the financial condition of the town. He was pleased to be present on this occasion, and thanked the members of the Order for the toast to the Council. The Order, he said, had done much to lower the taxation in relieving the poor and thus reducing the charity expense.

Mr. JOHN MCNAUGHTON said he commended the Sons of England not because they were a society, but because they were friends of the widow, the orphan and the poor. He made a patriotic reference to "Canada, our home, and loyalty to the British Empire. Recurring to municipal matters, he commended Chairman McNeil, of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, for his faithful services.

Councillor A. MCNEIL spoke next, and after a few jocular allusions appropriate to the occasion, said that he had had a great deal of experience in different Societies, and he found that the Sons of England were doing a vast amount of good; he knew of no Society in Peterborough which, in the time it had been existence, had done so much good. After causing a little laugh by a playful reference to the presence of so many councillors which might be accounted for by some by the fact that it was near election time, and they might be doing a little quiet electioneering, he referred to his own labors in the council. He said that so regarded his own department, the fire water and light, he could say that the fire system had been placed on a footing that effected a great saving to the town. He also put in a word for Mayor Stevenson as one who had always done his duty.

PARLIAMENTARY.

"The members of Parliament" was replied to by Mr. Stevenson, M.P., who said that the Dominion Government was doing its best, and while no doubt they were behind in some things yet on the whole they were doing very well.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., after briefly referring to the subject of the toast, passed on the occasion which was being celebrated. He eulogized England and the English people, enlarging upon their world-wide extent, their commercial supremacy, their bravery in defence of right, and Britain's ruling hand in European affairs. He hoped the Society would continue to prosper, and in conclusion thanked them for the manner in which the toast had been received and responded to.

LEGAL.

"The Learned Professions" brought to their feet Dr. Pidgeon, who merely thanked them for the toast, and Mr. W. A. Stratton, barrister, who held that England's greatness was due as much to the learning of her people as to their valor. He instanced several great improvements in the British constitution which were due to the good influences of the "law."

OUR NEIGHBOR.

"The Council of Ashburnham" was spoken to briefly by Mr. WM. WAND, who recounted a number of improvements which had taken place in the village during the past year.

Mr. HENRY CALCUTT also replied. He said that though for the present Ashburnham was managing its own affairs, yet it was only a matter of time when the village would annex with Peterborough. He was glad to see the village so well represented at the festive board. He made a closing reference to the growing feeling of nationality among Canadians.

"The Press" was proposed, duly toasted, and responded to.

THE LODGE ITSELF.

"The officers and members of Lansdowne Lodge" was proposed by the Grand President, and replied briefly to by President Richardson. Mr. W. Brundrette, Past-President, also spoke generally of the grand principles of the Order, and took occasion to pay a compliment to the press. The members of the Society should feel flattered in the kind words said of them this evening, and he felt sure they would live in their memories and encourage them in the future.

Bro. G. S. MILLER, responding on behalf of Vice-President R. Tivey, expressed his pleasure at being present on the occasion, and though disclaiming all power of speech-making made an address that "took" immensely.

Mr. GUNN also replied in a happy manner, giving a brief resume of the local Society's doings in the past year. In conclusion he gave a song, "Pulling Hard Against the Stream," in the chorus of which the company joined.

Bro. ELOOMS also responded briefly.

THE TOWN'S PROGRESS.

With the toast to "Our Manufactories and Industries" the name of Mr. A. Rutherford was coupled. He made a happy response. The toast, he said, was an important one, and one to which he felt proud of being called upon to reply. Thirty-six years ago, he said, he came to Peterborough, and had grown with the town to see it the finest in the province. Its growth he attributed to its manufacturing and commercial industries. He himself had been connected with the council for eighteen years, and he took no more credit to himself than he accorded to his fellow councillors when saying that the town's prosperity was due to good management. He referred also to the Sons of England and the unity among Englishmen; he hoped they would join and next election day put an Englishman at the head of affairs in the town. (Applause).

Mr. C. FORTER followed with a few words, after which Mr. Whittaker favored the company with a patriotic song, "A Rolling Stone Gathers no Moss." He was enthusiastically encored, and gave "The Girl That I Call Mine."

ROOM FOR MORE.

The Grand Secretary said that before closing he wanted to say a word to the members of the Order. He urged every member of the Society to do his best to get every Englishman in Peterborough into the Order, and from what he had heard there was room for three or four lodges in town. His mention of the probability of a lodge being established in Lakefield was applauded.

Mr. Walter Barlowe gave a solo, "The Englishman."

Mr. W. H. Bowman gave "Happy as a King" to pedal accompaniment from the entire assembly. In response to an encore he gave "Paving the Way."

The Grand President sang "The White Squall."

Mr. Geo. Hardy next gave "The Sailors' Amen," a song that created a perfect furore of applause.

IN CONCLUSION.

To the toast of "The Ladies" Mr. Carylon responded felicitously, expressing his sentiments on the subject in a pleasant manner.

"Our Host and Hostess," the last toast on the programme, was replied to by Mr. F. J. Daly, who paid a high compliment to the honor and straightforwardness of Englishmen, to which he could vouch from his own experience.

Mr. Hooper recited "Carlew" in a style that showed him to be possessed of histrionic talent of no mean order.

After singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem, the company dispersed with cheers for the Queen, Lansdowne Lodge and the Grand President.

In a Dreadful Condition.

Hattie E. Manthorn, of Mill Village, Ont., says, "My cough was dreadful, I could not sleep at nights on account of it, but when I used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam I had rest and was quickly cured." All druggists sell this invaluable cough remedy. 2w49d

A Postmaster's Opinion.

"I have great pleasure certifying to the usefulness of Hagyard's Yellow Oil," writes D. Kavanagh, postmaster, of Umfraville, Ont., "having used it for soreness of the throat, burns, colds, etc., I find nothing equal to it." 2w49d

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. STEVENSON.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

A Vigorous Defence of the Movement—Interesting Letter of a Buffalo Correspondent.

BUFFALO, Dec. 12.—A correspondent of a local paper to-day replies to a letter written by Captain Bates, in which the captain argued that Commercial Union would destroy the lake ship building trade of the United States and put that important industry almost wholly in Canadian hands. The correspondent, whose reply is given to-day, says: "Suppose Canada has some local advantages for the building of vessels, what is to prevent American capital being employed in their construction and American ownership of them? Why should this line of industry differ from that of the immense lumber business of Canada, which, it is well known, has been largely operated by Americans and American capital for years? No business man can fail to see that with the enormous increase in the carrying trade which Commercial Union would bring about by a free market on both sides of the lakes, American shipping would do a largely increased business; and that instead of the woeful picture which Mr. Bates in his nightmare has conjured up, there would be just as great an increased prosperity for our borders. That Canadian vessel owners would share in this is evident, but what objection is there to that so long as we do infinitely better than we are doing now? Mr. Bates has gone back a hundred years to hunt up old animosities and old bitterness to add emphasis to his arguments. What business man viewing Commercial Union from a strictly business standpoint wishes to raise these old ghosts or revive these old feuds, which ought to have been buried in oblivion long ago? It is rather a curious element in the situation that in both countries the fear exists as to the competitive strength of the other. The Canadian manufacturer and jobber dreads the competition of the superior finish of American goods, and the large capital and facilities of our business houses; while Mr. Bates sees nothing but ruin and desolation for our lake marine. The truth is that neither of these apprehensions have any substantial basis. It is time the barriers were down between two peoples speaking the same language, of the same original stock and with the same habits and customs in every way. We are substantially the same people, and next-door neighbors. Why should we not trade with each other to our mutual profit and advantage? The North American Continent is the great loadstone of the world to-day, attracting all as the highest type of civilization. Disturbed by no wars or rumors of wars, but abounding in peace and prosperity, we ought to aim at the perpetuation of this. The greatest enemy to war is trade. Let us complete the American Union in fact, if not in name, by bonds of amity and commerce with our neighbors—silken ties, but stronger than bands of steel to maintain relations of peace and good will.

BRIBERY BY AN AGENT.

The Election of Dr. Willoughby, M.P.P. for East Northumberland, Declared Void.

TORONTO, Dec. 13.

Mr. Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Osler yesterday gave judgment in the matter of the petition asking that the election of Dr. Willoughby to represent East Northumberland in the Ontario Legislature be declared void on the grounds of corrupt practices.

In reading his judgment the Chancellor said that it had been decided to unseat Dr. Willoughby because of bribery by an agent. Bribery had clearly been committed, and the chief and in fact the only agent proved to have done so is Dr. Nicholas Richards, who had bribed John Noonan and Michael Shaughnessy. The chief question that was considered was whether or not Dr. Richards was an agent, and it was found that he was, for he was at the convention which nominated Dr. Willoughby, who urged his nominators to work for him. And Dr. Richards did work. Besides, he had been in personal contact with the respondent and had been seen driving about with him. The Chancellor said:

No better agency for securing voters at all times and in various directions can be devised than the utilization of a country physician's opportunities as he drives to and fro in visitation of his patients. This consideration probably explains why the medical element has cropped up so strongly in many of the recent election trials.

The Chancellor thought that perhaps Dr. Richards was guilty of more bribery than had been proven. No other agents were guilty of bribery, but many other corrupt practices had been proven, such as the bribery done by Richard Philip, although he was not proven to be an agent. The Chancellor thought that in the case of Willett Palmateer there was evidence of bribery, but from this opinion Mr. Justice Osler dissented. The incident of the spy-glass, where a certain voter was to hold his ballot up to a window, so that how he had voted could be seen by a spy-glass from a house half a mile away, was also evidence of corruption. There was also the case of Spence Ventrim who, on election day, paid Joseph Robinson $2 and then sought to prove that it was in payment of a debt due Robinson's son.

The report to the Speaker of the Legislature will certify that the election is voided because of bribery by an agent without Dr. Willoughby's consent; that Dr. Nicholas Richards, John Noonan, Michael Shaughnessy, John Calberry, Spence Ventriss, Joseph Robinson and Richard Philip, are proved guilty of corrupt practices; that there is no reason to believe that these practices extensively prevailed; and that there was no d by either candidate.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Organ Recital.

An organ recital will be given in St. Paul's Church on Friday evening, 16th inst., when a very fine programme of classical and sacred music will be performed, under the direction of J. S. Parker, organist, to commence at 8 o'clock p.m. Silver collection at the door. 4d140

Crash Exploded!

Nobody hurt. Everyone satisfied that Sheppard's is the place to save money. Boy's suits $1.95, really choice goods; Men's overcoats, a long way the cheapest goods in Peterborough. Sheppard downs them all. CHEAPSIDE. 6d

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

To Dry Goods Buyers.

If dry goods are sold at cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell at cost. If dry goods are sold under cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell under cost. They are wide awake to the state of trade, yet their business has increased every month and why? because they sell goods as cheap as they can be sold and make an honest living, and because they never put into print what they do not carry out. This week they will put their mantles down to cost price, and winter goods will be sold regardless of profit. No surrender is their motto. 3d139

Commercial Law at the BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Real Estate Transfer.

On Saturday last Dennis Hurley, of Asphodel completed the purchase of that two story white brick store with dwelling and outbuildings, situate on the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel streets, making the fourth property which this enterprising farmer has purchased in town within a few years, athough he lives twenty miles distant. His purchases are paying him, by rents and increased values, from ten to fifteen per cent. interest. Farmers can see that this is better than money in the bank at three or four per cent.

A Magnificent Fruit Trophy.

The observant passer-by will observe in the show window of the Palace Grocery a triumph of decorative display, the work of Mr. M. Tierney, one of the enterprising proprietors. The design is elaborate and tasty, and calculated to display at a glance the varied assortment of seasonable fruits exhibited. The display includes currants in barrels and half-barrels; raisins in Black Baskets, Bunch Dehesas, Vegas, Sultana Valencia Layers and other varieties; natural figs, French plums, Malaga grapes; lemon orange and citron peels, oranges, apples, lemons, and California apricots, peaches, pears and cherries; essences and extracts of all kinds; Crosse & Blackwell's fine jams and jellies, and Gordon & Dillworth's preserved fruits. The display is a really excellent one, substantial and attractive, comprising as it does the very best and freshest goods exhibited at an advantage.

A New Steamer for our Back Lakes.

The increasing popularity of our system of back lakes as summer resort leads to a demand for increased steamer accommodation. A step which promises well is being taken in this direction. Mr. Wm. Powers, an experienced shipbuilder, of Kingston, who has been engaged in building the gates for the new locks on the Trent Canal system, has had his attention drawn to the need of a steamer capable of meeting the travel requirements of the northern lakes. He is engaged at present in organizing a company for the purpose of building such a steamer. He has received considerable encouragement in Lakefield and will solicit stock subscriptions from the numerous gentlemen in Peterborough interested in Stony and other lakes. The proposed new steamer will be capable of carrying, according to government regulations, 300 passengers with comfort. Her side wheels will be of peculiar construction enabling the shaft to be placed below the deck out of the way of passengers. She will be of light draught and completely equipped in every way, with particular reference to meeting the demand of steamer travel on our back lakes. This subject is of the greater importance because the completion of the locks greatly increases the area of navigable waters. The scheme is one in which, no doubt, Peterborough gentlemen who are so largely interested in Stony Lake will take an active and substantial interest. Mr. Powers is a thoroughly practical shipbuilder. The steamer he proposes to build is just the kind adapted to the back lakes and a steamer of a capacity of 300 is one of the urgent needs of the beautiful lakes to the north of us.

"Manly Men."

A Place Claimed for Them in Municipal Politics.

The Opera House was well filled last night to listen to an address from Mr. Gibson, of Ingersoll, on the subject of "Manly Men"—really upon the enforcement of the Scott Act. The proportion of ladies present was about the usual as the number of lady voters on the municipal list compared to the males. Dr. Fife occupied the chair and stated that Mr. Gibson's subject was of especial importance on the eve of the municipal elections, and his remarks might be helpful in the selection of proper candidates—"Manly Men." It was time the friends of law and order should be moving. Our present Mayor had been elected twice by acclamation and his record was before us. The Mayor and corporation had neglected their duty in the enforcement of the Scott Act and it was time there was a change. (Cheers.)

MR. GIBSON began by defining the duties of citizenship—the giving up of a certain degree of personal liberty, and the gaining of something infinitely more important. The people in their elective capacity were law makers and they should be law observers and the responsibility resting upon a mayor or councillor was a heavy one. No matter if nine tenths of the town opposed the Scott Act, the moment he or they take the oath of office they are bound to carry out the law. The majority must rule—if the minority felt aggrieved and thought they were in the right, they could appeal to the people for redress. A law must prove inoperative when the instruments are hostile to it. The Scott Act could be enforced and was enforced in the town of Ingersoll. The temperance cause was the winning one. Manly men must expect and would suffer something for the right, for the benefit of the community. About half of Ontario was under license law and the other under the Scott Act, and in the former the convictions for crime in 1886 were 7,923, in Scott Act counties 1940 (cheers). The speaker said he believed the Ontario Government was doing its best to enforce the Scott Act, and it gave him all the more pleasure to say so because he was politically opposed to the Government (cheers). The cause of temperance was progressing and commanding more of public respect, and the time was coming when no self-respecting man could afford to give his opposition to so great a moral question (cheers).

Peterborough County Court.

Fall Sitting of the Court Before His Honor Judge Weller.—A Light Docket.

County Court opened at the Court House, Peterborough, this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, His Honor Judge Weller presiding.

The members of the bar present were Messrs. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., E. B. Stone, E.B. Edwards and John Burnham.

The Grand Jury was empannelled as follows:—

GEO. MUNRO, Foreman.

T. Armstrong,	J. Buck,
R. Bonner,	W. Boyes,
P. P. Cope,	R. Clifford,
R. Deyell,	Robt. Darling,
E. Dunlop,	W. S. Deacon,
Wm. Forster,	A. Graham,
P. H. Green,	W. Thompson,
Wm. Hudson,	M. J. Johnston,
D. J. Lundy,	Jos. Lindsay,
A. McMillan,	Jos. Masson,
S. Payne,	J. J. Richardson,
J. Smith, jr.

THE ADDRESS.

His Honor, in addressing the Jury, congratulated them on the general absence of crime throughout the county, as shown by the fact that there were no criminal cases at the present court requiring their investigation, and at the other courts held in Peterborough, he was informed, there had been none of a serious nature at all. In the Magistrate's and his own court (without Jury) there had been only one case this year. Referring to the duties of Grand Juries, and the contention of some, that Grand Juries should be dispensed with, His Honor said he did not think this could be safely done unless some other adequate provision was made for the performance of the functions of the Grand Jury. His Honor referred to the termination of the lengthy litigation between the county and the Grand Junction Railway, and congratulated the county upon the successful result. He then dismissed the Grand Jury to their duties.

An Important Switch Line.

The C. P. R. Company Proposes to Run a Branch of Their Railway up the River to the Mills on the Dickson Race.

Monday afternoon surveys were taken for a work which, if carried out, will be of immense benefit to the factories along the Dickson race. Mr. A. L. Hurtzberg, Engineer of the C. P. R., and Mr. W. M. Wells, Solicitor for the Company were in town and made surveys and estimates of the probable cost of constructing a branch line continuing from the switch running into the new iron bridge works, between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie streets, across to the low lands in the centre of the river by a handsome iron bridge; touching the edges of these and crossing again to the Peterborough shore just in rear of the new woollen mill alongside the bridge on Hunter street; across the street on the west side of the mill and up along the Dickson race as far as Haslitt's mills, connecting with each factory en route.

It is proposed, after the line crosses the river in the first place, to the islands by means of a bridge, to form a massive embankment up the middle of the river to meet the shore again, as it curves outwards, excavating the low islands in the centre for filling-in purposes. This will practically alter the current of the river, which at present splits at these islands and circles around on either side, to meet again near the present C. P. R. bridge. If the plans of the C.P.R. company are completed, as they are very likely to be, the current will hug the Ashburnham shore, while the narrows on the Peterborough side and the cove where are situated Dease's flour mills and English's boathouses, will be dead water. To prevent it from becoming stagnant, however, a small sluice will be cut through the embankment at the northern end where the track returns to the Peterborough shore, admitting sufficient current to keep the water pure. It is considered probable that in the course of time the pond thus enclosed by the track will be all filled in, forming what may be called an esplanade.

This scheme, if carried out to completion, would be of inestimable value to the factories along the race, which would then have shipping facilities unsurpassed.

The engineer and solicitor spoke favorably of the probability of the plan being consummated. Mayor Stevenson and a number of councillors were consulted in regard to the right of way, etc. Of course the town will give the company every reasonable inducement, and the company will then only have to deal with private parties, from none of whom any serious obstruction is expected.

Go direct to Turnbull's, The Cheap Dry Goods House, for Fine Wool Goods, Heavy Scotch Shawls, Table Linens, &c., &c., for the Christmas Trade.

Personal.

Mr. Jaques has resigned the position of organist, etc., of the George Street Church, and has been appointed organist and choirmaster of St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

At the Binghampton, N.Y., meeting of the State Board of Pharmacists, Mr. S.B. Down, a graduate of McKee's drug store, town, and of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, was awarded a druggist's diploma. Mr. Down is at present a resident of Rochester.

THE CENTRAL BANK.

A STORMY MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS.

Over a Million Dollars Lost in Three Years—Startling Disclosures — Shareholders Will Be Out to Double Liability—Prospects of Depositors—How the Money Disappeared.

TORONTO, Dec. 14.

At the meeting of the shareholders and creditors of the Central Bank held yesterday some startling facts were elicited. It is believed that in its three years' operations the bank has lost over one million dollars; that the shareholders will have to pay up $500,000 in addition to their paid-up stock, $500,000; that the depositors may be thankful if they realize the bulk of their deposits; that the bill holders will receive 100 per cent., and the notes can be redeemed as fast as they are presented; that the bank increased its circulation above the legalised circulation; that all the directors except one are debtors of the bank; that a clever sharper, R. J. G. Bennell, "did" the bank out of $100,000; that the directors lay the blame on the manager; that the main losses were in "big accounts."

Names mentioned during the meeting as big debtors of the bank:

D. Mitchell McDonald	$112,000
D. M. McDonald and D. Blain, jointly	21,000
E. S. Cox	138,000
Kenneth Chisholm	24,000
C. B. Robinson	23,000
Henry O'Brien	4,000
R. L. G. Barnett	100,000
Georgian Bay Lumber Company	113,000
Niagara Central Railway	100,000

The extent to which these amounts are secured was not announced. Some of them are known to be all right.

At 10.30 President D. Blain took the chair and announced that he was there to preside over the meeting by order of the Court of Chancery to nominate candidates for the three offices of liquidators, and the court would choose the men from the nominees.

The President made a short address to explain the trouble. The market had become so stringent that money could not be had, and the only course was to suspend. The directors, it had been charged, had moved too slowly, but immediately upon suspension they had found it impossible to get assistance to carry things through. He had called Mr. Campbell of Montreal to audit the accounts, and he (Mr. Campbell) was given sole charge of the institution.

Mr. Joseph Simpson asked Mr. Blain to give details of his reasons for calling Mr. Campbell without consulting the board. Mr. Blain said it was not advisable to discuss those reasons in public as it would endanger the shareholders, and Col. Gzowski said, "Hear, hear!" The heavy losses were not the fault of the board.

On motion of Mr. Frank Turner Mr. Campbell was unanimously nominated as a liquidator.

S. H. Janes nominated T. Sutherland Stayner, one of the bank's largest shareholders ($19,000), a man of wealth and leisure who would do the work without remuneration. Samuel Boyd nominated Wm. Gooderham, and W. B. Hamilton nominated E. R. R. Clarkson. There was no seconder to the nomination of Mr. Clarkson, and his name was dropped. Finally Mr. Stayner and Mr. Gooderham were made the unanimous nominees of the meeting.

Ald. Millichamp moved:

That a full list of all shareholders that have and do now appear upon the stock books of the Central Bank, and the dates of all transfers of such stock, be supplied to the meeting.

Then the meeting was resumed as an ordinary meeting and Mr. Blain took the chair. Ald. Millichamp's motion was carried unanimously. Mr. Campbell was called upon and read this report:

Gentlemen,—My first effort in connection with the affairs of the Central Bank was to make arrangements with the other banks for the redemption of the notes of this bank in circulation, then very much urged by holders. Failing to make satisfactory terms, I decided upon taking as much as our funds then on hand and to come in would cover, and commenced doing so, with the sanction of the directors, on Dec. 1, afterwards sanctioned by the Court.

We have redeemed since over $200,000, and we have on hand as balance to our credit in banks here about $130,000 available to pay notes as presented. I have now no doubt that our funds will keep pace with any demand of this kind that is likely to be made upon us. The outstanding circulation is now less than $300,000. It will of course be necessary to accumulate and hold an amount equal to this before any can be set aside for the general creditors, and you will observe we would fall short of that yet.

Much of the discounted paper held by the bank is not promptly paid. I am, and have been, kept extremely occupied looking after the redemption of the circulation and attending to inquiries and application of various kinds from debtors and creditors of the bank, consequently my time for investigation into the position of the bank has been very limited indeed.

I am therefore unable to present to this meeting a statement showing an estimate of the value of the assets as I would desire. Such a statement would require much time, as any person in the least acquainted with the mass of a bank's assets, amounting in this instance to $2,300,000, known of how multifarious a character they are. They consist, for instance, chiefly of notes and bills made by almost all sorts of people in every kind of business, and some not in any kind of business, ranging in amounts from $10 to $40,000 or more, spread over the entire Dominion, and extending into the United States. Some of such paper is secured by collateral, and other notes made by different parties, of course, if possible, still harder to arrive at their value. Some are secured by collateral of warehouse receipts of goods of almost every description and quality, stored at many various places in the province; some by mortgages on real estate and stocks, values of which can only be ascertained by frequent enquiries and communications with experts. There is also some real estate held, which the bank had to take for debts otherwise unrealizable, on the most favorable terms it could be got.

Mr. Campbell also submitted this general statement:

Notes in circulation		$ 289,000
Due to other banks in Canada	$127,300
Due to banks in United States	21,400
Due to banks in London, Eng.	20,100
		169,700
Outstanding drafts, held principally by other banks		1,000
Deposits		1,722,300
Profits accrued and reserved		65,000
Capital stock		500,000
Rest		65,000
Total liabilities		$2,806,000
Notes and cheques of other banks on hand		$ 23,900
Due from other banks in Canada		142,700
Dominion Government stock		20,700
Loans		2,251,200
Bank furniture		16,500
Total assets		$2,806,000
Assets immediately available from other banks		$130,000

The amounts owed by officials were stated to be as follows:

President Blain	$ 16,000
Vice-President Trees	6,300
Director D. Mitchell McDonald	120,000
Director C. Blackett Robinson	20,000
Director Kenneth Chisholm	21,000
Solicitor Henry O'Brien	6,000
Total	$189,000

President Blain repudiated the insinuation that the directors had prepared themselves for a fall. He could explain only for himself. He had gone away last spring because of illness and when he returned in the summer he was no better and not able to attend to business.

A voice: You should have resigned.

Mr. Blain continuing said that the Friday before the suspension he put into it the last $10,000 of his wife's money that was available. This he thought, vindicated him. He would not speak publicly for the board at this time, as certain irregularities were being attended to, which it would not do to make public at present. But any shareholder might get the information privately from the provisional liquidator, Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Blain personally owes the bank $16,000 and he and Mr. McDonald together owe $21,000 without special security.

Vice-President Trees said: I hope I have always had a reputation as an honest and truthful citizen. I have been accused of wrongdoing, but I did nothing wrong. If the truth must be told it is that we have had a bad manager, and I cannot express my contempt for him. He knowingly and falsely misled us and withheld from us this outside kitefying of his. I was never notified that there was trouble, and I want to say that a few days before the crash I put $6000 into the bank to carry it over. Gentlemen, I even pawned my life insurance to help them! The wrong has not been done by the directors, but by an incompetent manager, who is not fit to walk on the earth. I never sold my stock, and I hold $4,500 receipts on that $6000! These things were never divulged to the directors till the doors were closed. I can't conceive of any sane banker doing the insane things that that insane man did, lending money all over the country. He lent $120,000 to this broker, who has been mentioned, without consulting the directors. This broker gave his wife's and brother-in-law's names as security. Cashier Allen never informed us of this. I was not aware that D. Mitchell McDonald's account was overdrawn to the extent of $100,000 or more. Allen never furnished a report of this account.

Mr. Trees almost cried as he spoke, and so strongly did he impress his hearers that he was greeted with much applause as he sat down. Ald. Millichamp voiced the meeting in expressing faith in him.

Dr. Martin, also affected, said that Trees could talk as he liked, but he was not the man for vice-president. The directors talk about being ruined by their manager! It was ridiculous. He wanted to know who swore to that report sent to Ottawa six months ago saying that all was nice and lovely!

President Blain did not give an explanation, and at 1 o'clock the meeting broke up.

At the afternoon meeting the crowd of creditors was so large that a great number had to remain outside of the rooms. President Blain proceeded to explain how matters stood, but was interrupted by those standing in the rotunda. After vainly trying to make himself heard, the President threatened to name to the court any man who interrupted. "I am trying," he said, "to get an expression of opinion from this meeting that I may report to the court the decision at which you may arrive.

A voice from the rotunda: Then come out here and give us a chance.

It was agreed that the rotunda would afford more accommodation and with great confusion those who were assembled in the council rooms managed to wade their way through the surging mass who had taken up positions at the door, in their anxiety to hear. The galleries of the rotunda were quickly filled, as was also every available space in the room.

President Blain, mounted on a chair, resumed his address; which was like that at the morning meeting, explaining the cause of the proceedings.

A voice: Some weeks ago you declared a dividend at 6 per cent., and now you coolly tell us that the bank is half a million in debt. How is that?

Mr. Blain said that the dividend was declared bona fide, but that the bank suddenly got into difficulties and there was a call which crippled the concern.

Then yelled a man: Is it not a fact that $120,000 was given out to one man without a farthing security?

Mr. Blain said that the securities were in the bank. He appealed to the meeting to confirm the appointments of the morning meeting.

Mr. W. M. Hall moved, seconded by Mr. S.H. Janes, that the meeting approve of the appointment of Mr. Campbell as one of the liquidators. Mr. Hall was asked if he was a shareholder, and replied in the affirmative, saying "I hold the proxies in my hand."

Mr. J. J. Wright, Port Perry, said there were poor widows present who would be ruined by the transaction, and who were anxious to know what had become of their money.

Mr. Wright proceeded to quote from The Port Perry Standard in support of his assertion that Mr. Campbell should not be appointed, not having given satisfaction in his connections as liquidator with the Exchange Bank. If the statements in that paper were incorrect, the writer should be prosecuted; if not Mr. Campbell was a criminal.

Mr. Campbell mounted a chair and explained that he was not to blame in the matter. He was appointed to overhaul the books, and if they were wrong the directors were to blame, and not he.

Mr. Wright asked Mr. Campbell what he thought of the state of affairs in connection with the present failure.

Mr. Campbell: My opinion is that the depositors will be paid in full, but they may have to wait for some time. That is my opinion so far as I can at present judge.

Mr. Wright thought the answer unsatisfactory, and said that the information they sought—information which ought to have been supplied—was how they lost their money, why they lost it, and what were their chances of getting it back. [Applause and cries of "That's it."] He moved the appointment of Mayor Howland.

Mr. Joseph Tait said he would second the nomination at the proper time, but he asked that Mr. Campbell's nomination should be first ratified.

Mr. Blain: I hope the meeting will be unanimous, and then there will be no necessity for a vote.

A gallery voice: You'd liquidate it and lick it all up. [Laughter].

Mr. W. Robins, accountant, stood up to second the nomination of Mr. Hammond, and no sooner had he announced his decision that there was a strong effort to shout him down. There were vociferous cries of "No broker, no broker." Mr. Robins, to make himself seen as well as heard, ascended a chair, but still the uproar continued. In vain the chairman appealed for order.

Mr. Tait: If this man is going to give his reasons he had better do so and not keep us here all day.

Robins: I have not come here for political purposes.

A voice: No, but for business; would you take the appointment if you got it? [Laughter.]

Robins: I might take it if I get it, but I am not looking for it. [Cries of "Sit down," "Shut up," etc.] I am not keeping anybody here. Those hounds are keeping me by their baying. [Great uproar.]

A gallery voice: You can't get your elbows in knee-deep in this institution. Laughter and a general uproar followed.

Robins: Howl away. You are only delaying yourselves.

Tait: Say what you have to say or sit down.

Robins: If I get an opportunity I will, but I won't be hounded down.

Ald. Ritchie: He'll withdraw as soon as he makes his little speech.

Robins: Who told you so? I'll be heard here!

A voice: Has he any right to be heard? Is he a creditor?

Robins: I am! I have a right to be heard here, and I will be heard!

One more of the many voices said: He only wants to disturb the meeting. Say what you have to say and be done with it! He is a coward to do so! [Confusion.]

Robins: You are a fool.

The excitement here became so intense that it was feared the speaker would be set upon.

Robins: Go home and wash your face, you dirty blackguard! This is not a Grit crowd, you vagabond!

The still small voice: Get a shave; it'll do you good! There were cries for Robins to withdraw his statements.

Robins refused to withdraw the expressions and continued to say that he protested against the appointment of Mr. Campbell as there were men in Toronto quite as competent to undertake the work. With this little speech Mr. Robins hopped off his perch, and subsequently withdrew his nominee.

Mr. Scott, on taking the chair, was fairly inundated with questions from every quarter. As a solution of the problems put he suggested that Mr. Campbell should read his report as to the affairs of the bank as he found them. The report submitted to the morning meeting was then read. Having read his report Mr. Campbell was simultaneously called upon by a couple of dozen speakers to explain why it was the bank got into such a condition. The reply was: "By advancing money on promissory notes which were not recoverable." The statement was received with an outburst of indignation.

The chairman cautioned the meeting against going too minutely into detail. It would not be in the interests of any of the parties concerned to do so.

Mr. Meyers of Guelph asked if any of the directors had been drawing money from the bank.

Mr. Campbell replied in the affirmative. Mr. D. Mitchell McDonald had drawn $112,000, and between the latter and Mr. Blain there were $21,000 to be accounted for.

Then followed groaning and hissing.

Mr. Scott said that a number of mortgages were held as security for the McDonald advances.

A voice: Are those first or second mortgages?

Mr. Campbell: I believe second mortgages. They are now being examined as to title by our solicitor.

Mr. Meyers: And what about Cox, the broker?

Mr. Campbell replied that Mr. Cox had had $123,000. There were notes to the extent of $45,000 accommodation. He had some $16,000 in notes in the bank as well.

Some one said in effect that the security in the Cox case was poor.

Mr. Campbell advised the speaker not to say that, as he thought there was something in the security.

The meeting broke up in confusion, and for hours afterwards little groups of the victims might be seen discussing probabilities and possibilities at every street corner in the vicinity.

LIABILITY OF SHAREHOLDERS.

Fat Fees For The Solicitors—How Barnett Did up the Bank—Notes of the Meeting.

In the event of the property and assets of the bank becoming insufficient to pay its debts and liabilities, the shareholders of the bank shall be liable for the deficiency so far as that each shareholder shall be so liable to an amount over and above any amount not paid up on their respective shares) equal to the amount of their shares respectively; and if any suspension of payment in full in specie or Dominion notes, of any or all of the notes or other liabilities of the bank shall continue for six months, the directors may and shall make calls on such shareholders, to the amount they may deem necessary to pay all the debts and liabilities of the bank, without waiting for the collection of any debts due to it or the sale of any of its assets or property; such calls shall be made at intervals of thirty days and upon notice to be given thirty days at least prior to the day on which such call shall be payable; and any such call shall not exceed 20 per cent. on each share, and payment thereof may be enforced in like manner as for calls on unpaid stock, and the first of such calls shall be made within ten days after the expiration of the said six months; and any failure on the part of any shareholder liable to such call to pay the same when due shall operate as a forfeiture by such shareholder of all claim in or to any part of the assets of the bank, such call and any further call thereafter being nevertheless recoverable from him as if no such forfeiture had been incurred.

Fat Fees for the Solicitors.

The winding up of a bank is a fine bird for the solicitors to pluck, and any number of legal firms are anxious to undertake the work. The thing gets into the shape of an estate; the liquidators proceed to realise but they do so through the solicitors. The poor shareholders are individually proceeded against and each "proceed" is charged for at the regular tariff. Next the debtors of the bank are proceeded against at so much a "proceed." The liquidators do nothing without taking advice at so much "per consult." Not less than $15,000 is what the lucky lawyers ought to have in fees before the bird in this case is properly plucked.

How Barnett Did Up the Bank.

Roland Israel Gideon Barnett is a Hebrew from London whose varied career has been given in these columns before. He appeared here two years ago as a theatrical manager; at that time he got into the bank for a comparatively small amount. He worked some scheme in the way of acceptances and let the bank in for a few thousands. This summer he returned here a greater swell than ever, opened out over the Quebec Bank as a broker and diamond merchant, furnished a swell house and did the grand. Somehow or other he again ingratiated himself into Manager Allen's favor and by some clever scheme or another got a large amount in cash in the way of acceptances or bills. Just how it was managed has not yet been fully made known, as the entries in the books covering the transactions are of a very involved character. But the fact remains that the rascal got away with a clear $100,000 or more.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

A CONFERENCE OF LAND OWNERS HELD IN DUBLIN.

Ferard's Cabinet Not Likely to Stand—President Carnot's Message—A True Bill Against Dan Doherty—The Raising of the Tax on Wheat and Rye Rejected in the Reichstag.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—A special from Paris to The Times says M. Ferry's wounds do not seem to be serious, the bulletins to the contrary notwithstanding. The attempt on his life has made him, for the time being, more prominent than the new President himself. It is publicly said that if the shooting had been done a day or two before Congress, it would have made his election certain. Despite the opinion of La Republique Francaise and all the reactionary papers that it was necessary to suspend the press laws, muzzling The Lanterne, L'Intransigeant and the other Anarchist papers, it is not likely that such a thing will be seriously proposed. Rumor says Ferard's ministry will not last out the week.

The Grand Jury found a true bill for murder against Dan Doherty for killing George E. Graham. He will undoubtedly be sentenced to be hanged at Newgate, the execution taking place the second Monday after sentence. His trial will take place early in January.

Harris Goldstein, Isaac Hoff and Adolph Silverstein, have been convicted of smuggling tobacco into Liverpool inside of cotton bales and fined $900.

M. Hoeteinstein has been elected President of Switzerland and M. Hammervice Vice-president.

At a conference of landlords held in Dublin to-day the Duke of Abercorn presided and made a speech in which he condemned absenteeism. A delegation was appointed to submit to the Government that the land owners of Ireland should be compensated for their losses through greater reductions of rens than were justified by economic causes. The delegation will claim that the land owners should be compensated by a direct pecuniary grant, and should receive indirect relief by way of a grant to them of advances within limits, which would involve no risk to the Government.

The Imperial Parliament will meet on Feb. 7.

General Wilkoughby, until recently ambassador of Madagascar in London, has been convicted of embezzlement of £72,000, on his return to Madagascar, and sentenced to imprisonment.

President Carnot's message was read in the Chamber to-day.

The proposal of the German Government to raise the tax on wheat and rye to 6 marks was rejected by the Reichstag after a prolonged debate. A proposal to make the duty 5 marks was adopted.

The Coming Town Elections For 1888.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The voters of the town have but a short time longer to make up their minds what they ought to do. Besides the good government of the town there will be another very important element to deal with in the contest which is about to take place. The Scott Act has, hereafter, got to be dealt with in our municipal elections, and the result will be to change the vote of the people a good deal and to cause the electors to forego some things in order to secure or defeat the candidates who may be in favor of or against the law. And the people must thus make up their minds what they ought to do in reference to it. The opponents of the Scott Act no doubt, feel the importance to them of the coming elections, and it will be safe to assume that they will be well prepared for the contest. Will the friends of this Act be equally prepared? I doubt it very much, and I question if, in some wards at all events, they will even take the trouble to bring out candidates in support of the Act. As a rule they are fonder of talking than doing, and then when it is too late, they complain and they blame everybody but themselves. But what, may I ask, are the women doing? It is said that there are some three hundred women voters in the town, and might make a great change of councillors and therefore a great change in the acts of the council. If these women voters are, as I suppose they are, in favor of maintaining the Scott Act, they will all come out on the day of the election and vote for temperance candidates. If they do not do this then let them hereafter hold their peace and take the consequences of their indifference and neglect. And they should also be honest in their profession and give up the farce of women's temperance unions, and be satisfied to put up with their wasted means and their poverty and abuse. And when they are suffering from the harsh treatment of their drunken sons and husbands let them just reflect that it is all owing to their own neglect of their own duties, and that they might have made things better had they chosen to do so. In Toronto the women are taking an active part in their approaching municipal elections, and, as a matter of course, they will do a great deal of good. They are acting up to their professions, and whichever way the elections terminate they will have the satisfaction of feeling that they nobly did their duty. In Peterborough we have what is called women's temperance unions, and I believe some few of the young ladies have one of these unions also. But who ever hears of any of the members of either of these so-called unions doing

ANY GOOD THING IN THE WAY OF TEMPERANCE

outside of their comfortable meeting rooms. I, for one, never did. I suppose they meet together to, perhaps, tell how they would like to see the Scott Act enforced, but what do they do to enforce it? Their meetings, no doubt, give them an opportunity of discussing the latest fashions and of talking about their neighbors, and then they adjourn and imagine that they have done great things to help in the cause of temperance. But let me tell them they have got to do a great deal more than this if they do any good. They have got to visit the voters and enlist them in the support of the Scott Act, and get them out to vote, and they have got to come out and vote themselves also. Otherwise they may as well stay at home and let the Scott Act take care of itself, as I guess it will have to do. They must remember that they have wily and powerful and active opponents to deal with and they may rely upon it that energy and activity will win the day. And if they fail in their duty and get beaten then every time, their drunken husband beats and kicks them and puts them out of doors, they should thank the Lord, for the fault was all our own. If the women and all those favorable to the Scott Act, would allow me to suggest what they ought to do in the coming elections I would advise them to look to it and secure a majority of councillors favorable to their wishes and to concentrate all their force upon the accomplishment of this one thing. They or they may fail in everything. If Mr. Stevenson will accept the mayoralty let him have it. He makes a good mayor, and he looks well after the financial interests of the town. And this is more than can be said of most mayors. The mayor can do nothing to defeat the operation of the Scott Act if you have a majority of councillors to support it. The mayor must obey the orders of the council. Now then, we will see what the Scott Act people and these Women's Temperance Unions will do in this matter. And if they are going to act, they must act quickly, before the ground is cut from under their feet, and is occupied by their wily opponents. They have the four wards of the town to canvas and they should canvas them at once. I don't think there is a Scott Act man in ward number one. The only Scott Act man in ward number two was, I believe, Mr. Stenson, but I am told he is not going to offer again. In ward number three, Mr. Yelland is a strong Scott Act man, and I am inclined to think that Mr. Douglass will stand by Mr. Yelland in respect to this law if asked to do so. Mr. Douglass is an honest man and is a man of the people and will do his duty as far as he can. Mr. Moore is an admitted and active opponent of the Scott Act. And he can, if elected, do this law a great deal of harm. Mr. Moore is not, properly speaking, a man of the people. He looks a little higher. He thinks he knows just what to do and he will do his own will if he can. He said, when the present council was going to appoint John McNaughton a member of the court of revision, that if they appointed him he would not act.

MUST NOT UNDERTAKE TO DO TOO MUCH

JOHN, YOU KNOW, IS A MECHANIC.

I hope the mechanics and work-people generally will thus learn, if they did not know it before, Mr. Moore's high appreciation of their respectability and worth. Time will tell. In Ward No. 4, John Hartley and Thomas Menzies are Scott Act supporters, but whether Mr. Kendry is, I cannot say, though I rather think he is not. The temperance people must put no faith in the promises of any one who hitherto has not been one of them. For if they do, they will be deceived. And they will deserve to be deceived. They can get true temperance men if they look for them, and these alone they must get. And when they get them they must work for them and elect them. It is stated that Mr. Arthur Rutherford is a candidate for the office of Mayor as a Scott Act man, and that he is soliciting votes upon this ground. This Mr. Arthur Rutherford was in the Council for many years, and every body knows that he was a dear councillor, and paid no attention to the wishes of the people when they conflicted with his own. He was always the advocate and mouthpiece of the Water Works Company, and, when this company was first organized, he was in favor of the Council taking eighty hydrants at the first start, the cost of which to the ratepayers would have been four thousand dollars. A little flattery goes a long way with Mr. Rutherford. He was always anxious for reasons best known to himself, to get into the Council. And, in consequence of the electors last year left him at home. Now, however, he is making a higher flight and he wants to become mayor. And to strengthen his claims for this office he professes to be a champion of the Scott Act. Even supposing that Mr. Rutherford was all that he professes to be as a temperance man, which some people say they doubt, still he ought not to be mayor. His qualifications for that office are not what are required for it. He is very vain and he might be easily flattered to pass over things which the interests of the town require should be well looked after. For my own part, without meaning any disrespect to Mr. Rutherford, I should be sorry to see him mayor of our town. The duties of our mayor are various and important. A vain, thoughtless man would overlook a great many things which an active, watchful mayor would not do. And I happen to know that Mr. Stevenson has been very watchful and active over the town affairs and that he has saved the town many hundreds of dollars. And although I have no particular personal leanings to Mr. Stevenson, yet I would like to see him elected mayor again, because I know he is a good man for that office. And I hope he will be re-elected mayor. And if the people take care to have they will have done all that is necessary to have their interests protected and their wishes carried out. And they will find they will have enough to do to accomplish that. The temperance people must not forget that the mayor's duties are for other purposes besides temperance. They must not sacrifice or weaken the interests of the town for the sake of temperance alone. And they must remember that a bad mayor in other respects work great injury to the town in many ways. There is no comparison between the merits of Mr. Rutherford and Mr. Stevenson in this respect. Mr. Rutherford, after his election, would not be afraid to show his hand, and he would be the same wasteful, extravagant man in the council that he was before. The people can call to mind many acts of this kind on the part of Mr. Rutherford, for instance the dynamite and wheelbarrow job, some years ago, on Smithtown hill for the purpose, as he said, to give work to the poor, which cost the town a great deal of money and did no good to any one. Now, no one can say such things of Mr. Stevenson, and everybody knows that he is a plain, practical man in every thing he has to do. I want to see Mr. Stevenson elected mayor because I believe he will be the right man in the right place. If he were a Scott Act man I would like him better. But his other qualities and careful attention to the interests of the town outweigh all other considerations.

HIS PAST RECORD AS A COUNCILLOR,

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. STEVENSON.

THE MAYORALTY FOR 1888.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of ratepayers who have promised me their support, I am before you as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1888. I beg to ask you to give me your support, therefor, on the following platform:

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

If length of public service is deserving of recognition, I may modestly claim your consideration. During the eighteen or twenty years which I have sat at your Council board, I have endeavored to faithfully advance the best interests of the Town; I have spared neither time nor work to consistently carry out my pledge to my supporters, and have worked to the best of my ability for the general good—if I have erred, I have done so unknowingly.

I offer myself as, in particular, the Workingman's Candidate. I hope to receive a solid Workingman's support. I consider I am fairly entitled to it. I am a workingman myself, and, if elected, will endeavor to repay their confidence by advancing their interests in every honest way.

I may say that, in taking the field, I am not actuated by any feeling of rivalry with the present occupant of the Mayor's chair, but I feel that, with the many demands on his time and services, the position is not sought for. Should I prove correct in my inference, you cannot fairly overlook the claim that years of service have on your consideration.

I recognize thoroughly what the necessities of the town demand. Thorough economy in all departments of municipal expenditure must be the rule, a liberal policy to encourage the establishment and growth of new and existing industries. In this regard I am opposed to any money bonus being granted but in favor of exemption from taxes and, possibly, free sites, under proper restrictions.

I shall—if elected—give particular attention to matters as outlined above.

Possibly one of the most prominent questions that will come before the ratepayers next year will be in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act. I will maintain in this regard the position relative to temperance which I have held for the last twenty-five years. So long as the Scott Act remains in force, I will, to the extent of my ability and office, see that the law is strictly enforced, and that, too, through the proper officers of the town.

Such, gentlemen, are the grounds on which I ask your support. I may not have the opportunity of personally soliciting your favor, but venture to hope that the above statement of my views will meet with your approval.

Trusting that I may have your hearty support on the basis of

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

I am, gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

A. RUTHERFORD.

HOWLAND AT NEW YORK.

A LARGE AUDIENCE GREETS TORONTO'S MAYOR AT STEINWAY HALL.

He Delivers an Address on "The Sabbath and Temperance," and Utters Sentiments Which the Assemblage Applauds —A Reception at Col. Shepard's Residence.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Steinway Hall was crowded to-night with a large and representative audience to hear Mayor Howland on the subject of "The Sabbath and Temperance."

Col. Elliot F. Shepard, introducing the speaker, said: "We are favored in having before us a magistrate who believes in acting squarely and feels the great responsibility of his office. When I visited Toronto I was struck with its beauty, order and brilliancy. I learned that the reason of this was it kept the Sabbath and excluded from it the rum seller. Trade has not languished on this account. On the contrary, the city has risen in a few years from 80,000 to 145,000 and is growing rapidly."

Mayor Howland said he did not come from a place that thinks itself the best in the world, just as many good people of New York or anywhere else, who believed in great cities and their influence for good in the world, didn't believe this great municipality would remain a centre of corruption and vice. All that was necessary was for good citizens to put their shoulders to the wheel and show the poor they took an interest in them, and prove it to the rum sellers that they could not rule. We have only four saloons in Toronto. All the other places where liquor is sold furnish accommodation to travelers. There are 8000 saloons in New York where 100 would be sufficient. Out of these 8000 keepers 3426 are ex-convicts. Saloons are popular educators. Then what must be the education of New York's men and women. No opposition need be feared from the German element. The Germans are the most law abiding citizens of Canada. That moral suasion is of no avail is proved by the cities of Europe. In Canada we have taken the power from municipalities to issue licenses and vested it in the Government. The law compels all saloons to close at 1 o'clock on Saturday and to remain closed until 6 on Monday. No liquor dealer can hold any public office. Since the local option act passed the greatest average amount of liquor per head drunk in any province of Canada is seven gallons and three-quarters and the lowest three-quarters. Christian people are to blame for Sunday street cars. After a man reads an American Sunday paper he is certainly late for church, and then he sees street cars leading to pleasure resorts and concludes to cast in his lot with the Sabbath breaker, no matter what good resolutions had been made before. The breaking of the Sabbath means seven days' work and no rest. This would tell in time, and if persisted in the New York population would soon be as degraded as that of London and Paris. When I first ran for Mayor there was a proposition to pass a law permitting Sunday cars. Liquor dealers ruled the city and said it was foolish for me to run, but I was elected and re-elected by a large majority, and have succeeded in being a terror to evil doers and in establishing law and order where there was nothing but confusion.

The Mayor then called attention to the motto, "Except the Lord Keep the City the Watchman Waketh in Vain," which he said was painted in living colors in the Council Chamber and which no man now would dare remove, though at first there was great opposition to its being put there.

His Worship spoke at great length and held the attention of the audience throughout as was manifested by the hearty applause which greeted his sentiments.

This afternoon an informal reception was tendered Mr. Howland at the residence of Col. Shepard. About fifty leading clergymen and temperance workers of New York were present.

THE WEST MIDDLESEX ELECTION.

The Beginning of the Trial to Unseat Dr. Roome, the Conservative Member.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—The Strathroy Town Hall was packed to-day by an audience eager to hear the proceeding in the trial of the petition to unseat Dr. Wm. F. Roome, M.P. for West Middlesex. Mr. Justice Falconbridge presided. Messrs. S. H. Blake, Q.C., and Mr. Holman of Toronto, and Alex. Stuart of Glencoe, appeared for John McNeil, the petitioner, while H. Becher, Q.C., and W. R. Meredith of London represented Dr. Roome. There are forty-eight charges in the case, No. 37 being the first dealt with, in which it was attempted to show that W. J. Johnston, a Strathroy merchant, had promised Samuel Carroll of Adelaide money or a valuable consideration if he would vote for the respondent, and that Carroll or his wife did get $6 on that account.

Carroll was subjected to a close examination. He denied being paid any money for his vote, but stated that he received a promise from D. M. Cameron for $2.50 for his vote on the Morgan election. Cameron, however, did not keep his word and witness complained to Dr. Roome, who said he would pay whenn the $2.50.

Other witnesses examined on this charge were Mrs. Carroll and John McIntosh.

The defence of this charge comes on to-morrow, when the respondent will give evidence that Carroll is a perjurer and went about trying to sell his vote.

Charge 34 was then taken up, which alleges that James Henry Marsh of Ekfrid paid Gustave Helm $5 for his vote.

Helm testified that Marsh never solicited his vote, but gave him $5 with which to bet.

W. D. McGregor and Mr. Swaist, both of the West Middlesex Conservative Association, testified that no money was given out by them and that James H. Marsh was not even a member of a committee.

In defence of charge 34, Angus Campbell testified that Marsh was not a member of the Conservative committee.

Dr. Roome's evidence clearly stated that Marsh was not authorized to work for respondent and was connected in no way with the organization of the riding.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature greyness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and cause a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Matter of Economy.

Robbing the Farmers.

Mr. George Stevens is shipping large quantities of ashes by G.T.R. to the United States, to be used upon the worn-out lands of the New England States. This is all right so far as Mr. Stevens is concerned, but it is hard on the farmers. It is submitted that the farmers are a little blind to their own interests in allowing so valuable a fertilizer to go to the United States, when it could be used to great advantage at home. This is the worst kind of annexation.

In the grocery line W. J. Morrow is always taking the lead. Holiday Goods must be sold cheap and as he is carrying a large stock now is the time to buy New Fruits, Raisins, Currants, Peels, Lemons, Oranges, Figs, Prunes, &c. Try our Blended Black Teas, Japans and Hysons. The steady advance in Sugars is making no difference with him in the prices owing to the large stock he carries. Opera House Block. dw

Christmas Presents.

There is no need for Peterborough people to go out of town now for fine goods in china, silver, etc. China Hall has a stock equal to any in Canada. Chamber sets from $1.00 to $32.00, tea sets from $2.00 to $50.00, dinner sets from $3.50 to $65.00, silver pieces from 25c. to $200 in value. Every article in the two show rooms suitable for 'Xmas presents. A magnificent city stock at town prices. dw

We notice that Messrs Breeze & Bain are showing a very nice assortment of Tea Trays in sets and singly, for the 'Xmas trade. dw

Downs Them All.

Very heavy all wool ribbed Cashmere hose, full sizes, in seal brown, navy blue and black really worth 50c., for 25c., at Sheppard's Cheapside. 6d

New Oyster Parlor.

Chamberlain's oyster parlor is now open for the season. Oysters will be served at all hours in styles to suit the tastes of our patrons. After this week shell oysters will be kept constantly on hand. Porter-house steaks, chops, etc., prepared on the shortest notice.

I go to Turnbull's for my Dry Goods; I find he sells Cheap all the time, and has a First Class Stock to select from. Don't you?

Mrs. Youmans To-Night!

Direct Shipments.

New fruits for the Xmas trade at the Palace Grocery. New table raisins, all kinds cooking raisins, currants, peels, figs, French plums, nuts, oranges, lemons, fresh goods, finest qualities, LOWEST prices, at Elliott & Tierney's. 1d

"Local Hits," from Grip's Cartoon Maker at the Opera House to-morrow night.

Coal Oil.

China Hall keeps the highest grade burning oil in town. If you are troubled with bad oil try it. It costs no more than the ordinary article and will be delivered free to all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn. dw

Goods Actually Compared

And the judges, to all intents and purposes, thoroughly disinterested parties, they say Sheppard's prices are fully 20 per cent cheaper than the goods examined by them. 6d

I am going to Turnbull's to buy my Dry Goods; he always sells Cheap, and just now he has 100 Mantles to dispose of at less than the usual cost.

Organ Recital.

An organ recital will be given in St. Paul's Church on Friday evening, 16th inst., when a very fine programme of classical and sacred music will be performed, under the direction of J. S. Parker, organist, to commence at 8 o'clock p.m. Silver collection at the door. 4d140

Crash Exploded!

Nobody hurt. Everyone satisfied that Sheppard's is the place to save money. Boy's suits $1.95, really choice goods; Men's overcoats, a long way the cheapest goods in Peterborough. Sheppard downs them all. CHEAPSIDE. 6d

A New Sensation at the "Soo."

The Algoma Pioneer gives particulars of the discovery of a very rich silver mine a few miles from the "Soo". Specimens of quartz assayed $43 to the ton, pure silver and a fair percentage of gold. The result of the assay was to advance the shares in this mine 200 per cent. This will be of great interest to Peterborough real estate owners at the "Soo."

To Dry Goods Buyers.

If dry goods are sold at cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell at cost. If dry goods are sold under cost H. S. Griffin & Co. will sell under cost. They are wide awake to the state of trade, yet their business has increased every month and why? because they sell goods as cheap as they can be sold and make an honest living, and because they never put into print what they do not carry out. This week they will put their mantles down to cost price, and winter goods will be sold regardless of profit. No surrender is their motto. 3d139

Where the Shoe Pinches.

A man may walk along through the world for years, unconscious that he has a boot upon his foot, till he is made aware that at some point the shoe pinches, then he squirms and squeals. Business men jog along in the old slow-going rut, selling a few goods at high prices and making a fine living out of a confiding public. Everything goes along finely till some live man wakes up, invades the community and gives the death blow to high prices and big profits, and furnishes cheap goods to the public. Then the shoe pinches, and a huge howl is raised. gough, the wonderful cheap man, came to town to benefit the people; he put first class goods on the market at low prices, and ever since his opponents have been down on him with everything but the right thing. They have used everything in the line of abuse and detraction and mud-slinging, but they have never tried to hurt him with low prices for first class goods. That's gough's stronghold, from which small dealers and high-price commercial cormorants can't dislodge him. He's entrenched behind a fortress of a $20,000 stock of dry goods offered for 50 cent on the dollar, and the cheapest, biggest and best stock of ready-made clothing in Canada. And he'll hold the fort while there's a shot in the locker. That's a way he has.

Peterborough County Court.

Full Sitting of the Court Before His Honor Judge Weller.—A Light Docket.

The Grand Jury made the following presentment, after which they were discharged:—

The Grand Jurors of the the county of Peterborough beg to present to your Honor that they fully agree with your Honor that it is a matter of congratulation that this county has at last been freed from the duty of defending themselves against the payment of the unjust claim put forward by the Grand Junction Railway Company and Mr. Blckford.

We also deem it a matter of congratulation that this county is, as it has been for many years past, free from the commission of any serious crime.

We have examined the jail and jail premises, and find everything clean and well kept, and everything needful is being done and provided for the comfort of those therein confined. (Signed)

GEO. MUNRO,
Foreman.

Peterborough, December 13, 1887.

JUDGMENT REVERSED.

The appeal case of Rubidge vs Fuller, against the decision of Justice of the Peace Hall fining the defendant $20 and costs for assault, was the first case called Tuesday afternoon. The particulars of this case are too well known to the readers of the EXAMINER to require a re-hash of the evidence, which was substantially the same as given in the first trial. A few new witnesses, Rev. Mr. Clementi, Messrs. Badden and Aylmer, were examined. Mr. John Burnham conducted the case for Mr. Fuller, and Mr. E. B. Edwards for Mr. Rubidge.

The Judge after explaining the points of the law to the jury said that in looking at the case in a general way he could not help referring to one point. He did not know what Mr. Rubidge might think of it, but he could not help that. When Mr. Rubidge told the milk boy not to pass that way, and when the boy persisted in going on to Mr. Fuller's or his employer's to see what he had to say about his right to use the path,—Mr. Rubidge whistled for Peter Phalen. Now, what did he want Peter Phalen for? He wanted his assistance; what for? To commit or cause to be committed a breach of the peace. Any man of common sense could see that it could be for nothing else. He wished to put the boy off the path if he came back that way. If he merely wanted to order the boy off it would not have been necessary to have called Phalen. His Honor thought it was strange that this right of way had never been disputed before by Mr. Rubidge. Mr. Fuller had been a tenant of the Canada Company for five years before Mr. Rubidge had claimed the land, and for three years previous to last May he had been living there as a tenant of Mr. Rubidge's, at a nominal rent of $1.00 a year. All this time he had been using this way out. Mr. Rubidge had never before prevented him using it. Mr. Fuller had used it, the milk boy had used it, and in fact all parties going to Fuller's house; and that Mr. Rubidge should have chosen this Sunday evening, when all these people were living quietly together and had been living quietly, to cause a disturbance—for he must have known, after calling Phalen, that if the boy came back a breach of the peace would be committed—was very wrong. The rest of His Honor's charge was in the same strain.

The jury, after ten minutes absence, returned with a verdict in favor of the defendant, Mr. Fuller, thus quashing the former conviction.

LINN VS. ROSE

The parties to this action live in the township of Dummer on adjoining farms.

In the month of July the defendant set out fire on his farm to a log lying across a cattle-path, which smouldered until about 7th September, when it spread to the plaintiff's farm and burned his swamp. The plaintiff charges that the defendant wrongfully set out this fire and negligently permitted it to burn and spread, and claims $200 damages for loss sustained. E. B. Stone, for plaintiff: John Burnham, for defendant.

The case is going on this afternoon.

A Masonic Farewell.

Tuesday evening the Past Masters of Peterborough assembled in the spacious and comfortable lodge rooms on Water street to do honor to a departing brother, Mr. E. J. Toker, who leaves for Toronto. Supper was served in the dining room by Mr. F. Hall, who showed his abilities as a caterer on this occasion. The committee of management, W. Bro. R. E. Wood and W. Bro. H. Rush, deserve great credit for the manner in which they perfected the arrangements. The chair was taken at 9 o'clock by V. W. Bro. J. J. Lundy, chairman of the Past Masters' Association, with the guest of the evening on his right.

There were present R. W. Bro. B. Shortly, D.D.G.M., R. W. Bro. C. D. Macdonald, P. D.D.G.M., R. W. Bro. E. H. D. Hall, P.D.D.G.M., V.W. Bro. J. J. Lundy, W. Bros. Chas. Cameron, H. C. Rogers, W. Brundrette, R E. Wood, D. Belleghem, Dr. Pidgeon, John Kincaid, Geo. McWilliams, H. C. Winch, A. E. Peck, R. A. Morrow and James Alexander. After the supper, toasts were the order of the evening. The usual loyal and Masonic toasts were duly honored. To "the guest of the evening" Bro. Toker feelingly replied. The assembly broke up at a late hour, the jolly Past Masters expressing a unanimous wish that annual suppers be held by the Association.

We Notice Messrs. Breeze & Bain are showing a very nice assortment of Tea Trays in sets and singly for the Xmas trade. dw

The Locks Completed.

The locks at Burleigh, Lovesick and Buckhorn are completed, Mr. Wm. Powers, of Kingston, putting on the finishing touches in erecting the lock gates. Mr. Geo. Goodwin, the contractor, began the work in 1883, but work was delayed till Sept. '85 when it began in earnest. The following staff was engaged in the work:—Mr. Geo. Goodwin, contractor, (Mr. J. S. Aylmer, resident engineer,) Mr. Ed. Wade, general superintendent of constructions, Mr. Ed Dawson, superintendent of works at Lovesick, Mr. Wm. Loughraine, superintendent of stonework; Mr. Levi T. Wade, foreman of carpenters; Mr. Brophy, stores-keeper; Mr. Joseph Timbers, book-keeper and superintendent of labour supply; Mr. H. P. King, time-keeper; Mr. Joseph Fillion had the contract for the dam at Burleigh. Mr Wm. Young, lockmaster is on hand ready for his duties at Burleigh, and Mr. Matthew Young at Lovesick.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Chas. Carlyle, who has been milling down east, is home for Christmas holidays.... Miss Ella Pickens, of Orillia, is home to spend Christmas..... Miss Lilly Udy, who has been attending the Model School in Norwood, has returned home in poor health. ..... Miss Burnham, of Cobourg, is visiting friends in Bridgnorth..... Mr. Moore, blacksmith, has closed business here and gone to Peterborough. We wish him success.

Mr. W. B. Kelly has purchased the Chamberlen property, comprising about 190 acres, on which stands a lot of fine timber. He paid a good round sum of money and got the worth of it.

The saw mills have shut down for the season.

Mr. Dean's mill has been enlarged and millwrights are now at work putting in full roller process. He intends manufacturing flour for shipping purposes.

Skating has been immense on the lake this year and our girls can skate. One girl started out and made eleven miles and return, a round distance of twenty-two miles, not seeming very tired either. A certain young man lost his skate and struck the lake so hard as to split his chin.

The members of the Bridgenorth Sabbath School are preparing for a big time at their Christmas tree on the 23rd. May success attend their efforts.

Church Entertainment.

An entertainment will be held in the Lakefield Baptist church on Thursday evening, Dec. 22nd, in aid of the organ fund. Tea will be served from six o'clock, after which addresses will be delivered by resident ministers and others. A choice musical programme will add to the enjoyment of a most pleasant evening. Admission, 25 cents.

Gathering of the Grange.

The annual meeting of Northumberland and Durham Division Grange is being held to-day in the Foresters' Hall, George street. There is a full representation present. Mr. Hugh Davidson is in the chair; Mr. James Brock, of Millbrook, secretary. There will be an evening sitting of the Grange.

Personal.

Mrs. Youmans, the well known temperance advocate, has arrived in town and is the guest of Mrs. James Kendry.

Mr. Robert Vance, Ida, representative of this district, was present at the meeting of the Council of the Agricultural and Arts Association in Toronto on Tuesday. The place of holding the next exhibition was referred to a committee.

Mr. T. B. Braden of the Calgary Daily Tribune, is in town, and gave us a call to-day. It is four and a half years since Mr. Braden left Peterborough for the West, and he seems to have grown up, so to speak, with the country, and seems to have taken on personally the expansive nature of his surroundings. His friends here are pleased to see him.

BULLETS DOWN THE LINE.

AN AWFUL SCENE ON THE C.P.R. PLATFORM AT MYRTLE.

George Brown, a Port Perry Bartender, Shot Down By a Scott Act Detective—Three Bullets in His Body—No Hopes of His Recovery—A Lively Three Minutes.

MYRTLE STATION, Dec. 14.

One of the most dramatic and lively scenes that ever occurred in these parts took place on the platform of the railway station at Myrtle at just exactly 7.00 last evening. Myrtle is composed of a station house and a watertank, and is in a lonely spot on the Ontario and Quebec Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, forty miles east of Toronto. At 6.30 last evening half a dozen or so persons were gathered in the little public room of the station waiting for the up express for Toronto, which passes Myrtle at 7.12. These were Mr. J. A. Mulligan, President of the Toronto Branch of the Irish National League (Mr. Mulligan had gone down on the 5 o'clock train to meet his wife, returning from home); an elderly and stout old lady; James Forest, an old English farmer; W. C. McCrea and J. S. Dennen, Scott Act detectives; Joseph Scott, the station agent, and a reporter. There were one or two loungers beside who were probably at the station merely out of curiosity.

Outside on the platform two men were walking up and down with measured pace. One of them was enveloped in a great coonskin coat. He was a large sized man. The other was a small man, well dressed, with an ordinary overcoat and a cloth cap. They seemed to be discussing some subject with considerable earnestness. They had not been at the station long, having arrived, shortly before the reporter noticed them, in a buggy, coming from the direction of Port Perry, which is seven miles to the north.

Inside the station house McCrea and Dennen paced the floor nervously. McCrea said on one or two occasions: "Well, I will sleep in Toronto to-night, and not out in this God-forsaken country." Both he and his companion seemed very anxious for the arrival of the express which was to carry them to the city. They were well-dressed men and both carried watches, which they consulted every few minutes.

Presently the small man who was pacing the platform came to the waiting-room door and beckoned the two Scott Act officers towards him. They responded and stepped outside.

Then followed the scene. The little man caught Dennen, who is a stout, well-built fellow of 27, by the lapel of the coat and said: "Come and take a walk with me." This Dennen positively and peremptorily refused to do, and jerked himself loose of the other man's hold. Quick as a flash two revolvers were drawn, one by each man. McCrea, who was standing near by, also drew a revolver. There was a rapid clatter of exploding fire arms, which much resembled the popping of a bunch of firecrackers. Just who fired the first shot the reporter, who was an eye-witness to the affair, is unable to say. Dennen and his antagonist began peppering at each other at close quarters. Then the antagonist sank to the platform with three bullet holes in his body, two in the breast and one in the leg.

Three or four men rushed from the back of the station, all with revolvers in their hands. Click, click, click, click went the weapons. Over a dozen shots were fired. And it was all over in less than three minutes. The wounded man lay groaning on the platform. His supposed companions fled in the darkness behind the station. McCrea and Dennen rushed into the waiting-room with their smoking weapons in their hands. Dennen also carried the revolver of the man who had fallen, having wrested it from his grasp. The little crowd inside didn't know which way to turn or what to do. The station agent had locked his office and was nowhere visible. All attempts to get into his apartment proved futile.

The affair was so sudden, so startling and so mysterious to the people in the waiting-room that they were paralyzed with fear.

In the meantime the man in the coonskin coat picked up the wounded man and carried him to the back of the station, and he sank down on a doorstep. He groaned heavily and gasped for breath. Then it became known that he was George Brown, bartender at the St. Charles Hotel in Port Perry. Light began to dawn on the reporter and the others around the platform. It had been a lively fusilade between liquor men and two Scott Act detectives. The reporter asked the man in the coonskin coat what Brown was doing at the station. He said: "Oh, he came over from Port Perry to see a friend off on the Toronto train. I drove him over in a buggy."

"Who were the parties that ran off?"

"I don't know anything about them," replied Mr. Coonskin.

Then Mr. Coonskin held a lamp before the wounded man's face and said "Poor George." Brown lay there still breathing heavily and groaning.

"Go for a doctor," shouted three or four people. No one seemed to know where a doctor was to be had. The nearest one was at Brooklin, five miles distant. Mr. Coonskin had a buggy tied to the platform but he made no move toward summoning a doctor.

No one can imagine how it was, considering the number of shots that were fired, that only Brown was wounded. Perhaps some of those that ran off had bullets in them.

While all this lively commotion was going on, and while the bullets were yet flying in the air, the headlight of the express train could be seen down the track. She came thundering along and soon reached the water-tank. McCrea and Dennen were preparing to board her. They had their tickets, and no effort was made to prevent them going on board. There was no officer of any kind around. The train pulled up from the water-tank. All the Toronto passengers got aboard, and McCrea and Dennen took seats in the smoking car. Some one yelled to Agent Scott: "Telegraph to Toronto to have them arrested." These instructions Agent Scott carried out.

The train sped on to the city and the greatest excitement prevailed amongst the passengers, the word having been passed around that a murder had been committed at Myrtle Station and that the murderers were on the train. Old Farmer Forest, who was very much excited, was surrounded by a large crowd in the smoking-car, and kept repeating the story of the shooting. About all he could say was that it put him in mind of a bunch of firecrackers going off. Conductor Rogers and his crew walked up and down past McCrea and Dennen, eyeing them suspiciously.

The reporter, after the train left Myrtle, put himself in active communication with the two detectives. They talked freely. Dennen claimed that if it were his bullets that struck Brown, it was done in self defence.

"Brown drew on me first," he said, "and I had to shoot in self-defence. Seven or eight shots were fired at me, and one of the gang struck me with a club. They certainly wanted to kill McCrea and myself. There must have been four of them altogether."

"Who were they and what was the trouble?" asked the reporter.

"Well," began Dennen, who displayed no signs of nervousness, "you see my partner and myself have been making numerous Scott Act convictions in the County of Ontario. We have been at work a couple of weeks and have scared the life out of the whole liquor trade of the county. We finished our work in Brooklin to-day with several convictions and we were going to start in at Port Perry to-morrow. You know the Whitby and Port Perry railroad runs through Myrtle, and when the evening train passed through for the Port the brakesman saw us standing on the platform. As soon as he got to Port Perry he reported that the two Scott Act detectives who had been doing Brooklin, and who were due in the former town on Thursday, were at Myrtle station. It was then that the gang was organized at Port Perry to come over to Myrtle to murder us. It is not their fault that they did not succeed. You saw yourself how near they came."

McCrea and Dennen held several close conferences as to what they should do when they got to Toronto. After the train left Green River they called the reporter over to them and said: "We have determined to give ourselves up when we get to Toronto. There is one thing we dread, however. We will be taken to Whitby for trial, and it as much as our lives are worth to be locked up in that jail. We would be mobbed or lynched. Besides, we might be kept in jail for six months waiting for a trial, and it was all done in self-defence. Brown and his gang tried to murder us. We know we would get no justice in Whitby and it is a pretty hard matter to think of giving ourselves up."

Dennen especially reviewed the case with intelligence, and he stoutly maintained that the shooting was done in self-defence. He freely answered all questions put to him by the reporter.

At Agincourt, the first station east of North Toronto, the men made a move as if to leave the train. They could easily have done so. No one would have prevented them. However they took up a position at the forward end of the smoking car, evidently intent on making the best of an emergency. Then they took another walk down the car, and McCrea said to Dennen: "We will get off the train, take a walk around for an hour or so, and then give ourselves up." Dennen replied that he expected that there would be plenty of police at North Toronto depot to arrest them. The pair then went outside and stood on the north steps of the car. The train was nearing North Toronto. The brakesman stood on the city side of the train ready to spring to the platform and inform the officers that the pair had jumped from the other side.

Slish went the train over Yonge-street. She began to slacken. Dennen and McCrea jumped and the latter stumbled. Detective McGrath, G. T. Detective Spence and half a dozen policemen were scurrying about the yard. McCrea and Dennen had taken to their heels. Policeman Archibald was quick enough to grab McCrea, but Dennen got away. McCrea, surrounded by the entire force, was escorted to the North Toronto Station and locked up. He had given his revolver to Dennen, and in the little satchel that he carried was a number of "patented" appliances, which he said he used for Scott Act infringers. These he explained to the police in the station. McCrea said he was sure Dennen would give himself up, but up to an early hour this morning he had not done so, nor had he been arrested.

The telegram from Myrtle to the police to be on the look out for McCrea and Dennen was slow in reaching the city. It was sent to North Toronto. The station master here telephoned down to the Yorkville Station, and from there a message was telephoned to Headquarters. Detectives McGrath and Spence were in the station, but they did not reach North Toronto until the train was just swinging over Yonge-street. By this time the men had jumped. The detectives were not up soon enough to surround the train.

It is impossible for Brown to recover. He has two bullets in his breast and one in his leg. Dr. Starr of Brooklin arrived to his assistance about 9 o'clock and was doing everything in his power for him. At 1.30 this morning The World received a message from Myrtle saying that Brown could not possibly live through the night. His wounds were undoubtedly fatal. He was being cared for in the office of Agent Scott.

1.30 a.m.—Brown is sinking rapidly and cannot recover.

The news had spread rapidly throughout Ontario County, and word was received in the city that the most intense excitement prevailed throughout the district. The great question asked was: "Who were the men that accompanied Brown to Myrtle and where did they come from?"

Geo. Brown, the man who was shot, was at one time a bartender in a Market-square hotel here. He came originally from Whitby, where he was born, and where his family reside. He has a brother a bartender in Whitby, while another is a barber there.

A Toronto gentleman who reached the city from Whitby last night said that the excitement there when he left was intense, and that if McCrea or Dennen could be got hold of they would undoubtedly be killed. That a man who was so well known there should be shot by a "whisky detective" was considered an infamous crime, and there were people there who would wreak quick vengeance. The first intimation that was received at Whitby was at 8 o'clock, when Brown's brother received a telegram telling of the shooting and asking that Dr. Warren, a popular physician of that town, proceed to Myrtle at once. Dr. Warren was at that time in consultation with a gentleman at a hotel, but he immediately started for Myrtle.

McCrea and Dennen are not unknown in Toronto. Both have been employed by License Inspector Dexter for work in this city, and they are described as being men of much intelligence, good writers and sharp-witted. Mr. Dexter had employed McCrea for three months past, and Dennen for two months. McCrea had been in the sewing machine business in Buffalo, Hamilton and Toronto. They did liquor detective work in Toronto lately, and it is recorded that out of thirty cases only three had to be fought out. Two others worked with them here and they went in pairs.

McCrea and Dennen have been working South Ontario for two weeks past. Both went to Whitby on Monday night. They had worked up about fifty cases in the constituency, and were securing many convictions. McCrea has a wife living at 26 Emily-street, and Dennen boards, when in town, in Adelaide-street west.

A LEAGUE OF ASSASSINS AND DYNAMITERS.

The Crown Prince's Condition—A Letter From Boulanger—The War Scare Abating—Critical Condition of the Crown Princess of Portugal.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—It is stated in The Times, on the authority of a Parnell follower, who stipulates that his name must be kept secret, that O'Donovan Rossa is succeeded by Dr. Hamilton Williams of New York as the leader of the extreme Nationalists in New York, and that Williams has £200,000 at his disposal to organize murder and dynamite explosions by sending Irish-American agents to England. These do not work directly, but endeavor to find men among the criminals of large towns to murder public men and conduct dynamite explosions. These men are actually at work and have plenty of money. The same informant also says that 300 weight of dynamite has been stored in London, but he could not tell the exact spot. The Times trusts that, on the strength of this statement, the police will discover the dynamiters.

The war scare has entirely subsided. A protest is being raised in The National Zeitung and other newspapers against the semi-official papers that continue to disturb the public mind to the detriment of business. "The only apparent object," says the National Zeitung, "of the recent press campaign was to startle Austria from her comfortable military optimism."

At the conference of landlords in Dublin Mr. Trench, agent of Lord Lansdowne, advocated state advances to landlords to pay mortgages, accepting rentals as security. Mr. Everard was in favor of the scheme, and stated it was the last chance the landlords had.

It is reported that the Nepaul Army is supporting the exiled Prince Rumble Jung, who is marching upon Khatmandoo, the Nepaulese capital.

Symptoms of a fresh growth and an increase in the swelling of the throat were discovered on examining the Crown Prince yesterday. It was determined to hold a consultation of medical experts. At the request of the Crown Prince, Dr. Mackenzie will be present.

The Crown Princess of Portugal was to-day delivered of a daughter. The infant lived two hours and the mother is in a critical condition. The Princess, a daughter of the Count de Paris, is 23 years old. She was married May 22, 1886.

The St. Petersburg Nuova Vremiea publishes a letter from Gen. Boulanger to M. Susini, member of the Chamber of Deputies, declining the offer of the latter to surrender his seat in favor of Gen. Boulanger's. Boulanger's patriotism will not allow him to leave his military post when he expects war and concludes by declaring that France has more need of generals than of Deputies.

The Crown Prince's symptoms are alarming, a despatch from San Remo says. The rumor has spread rapidly with deplorable results.

DID SHE DOSE HER MOTHER?

Mrs. Eliza Burke Dies From Poison Said to Have Been Administered by Her Daughter.

TORONTO, Dec. 15.

Coroner Duncan yesterday evening opened an inquest on the body of Mrs. Eliza Burke, wife of a gardener residing at 209 Wellesley-street, who died under suspicious circumstances on Tuesday night. On Saturday Mrs. Burke became suddenly ill, showing symptoms of poisoning. The symptoms increased, and on Tuesday Dr. Brent saw the sufferer. His diagnosis confirmed the impression of poisoning, and as one of Mrs. Burke's daughters, Annie Burke, had hinted at "a dose" having been given to her mother, she was arrested. The prisoner was in custody at the inquest. She is sickly and peevish looking, but betrayed no signs of insanity, as had been reported. A deathly pale face was rendered more ghastly by a white Tam-o'-Shanter hat, a light shawl and a white cotton dress. She listened attentively to the evidence of her sister and cross-examined her cleverly. The jury having viewed the body proceeded to No. 313, the house of a married daughter of deceased.

Ellen Burke detailed the circumstances. On Saturday night her mother first took ill and vomited a great deal. She was given some medicine and otherwise attended to. Annie laughed at her mother's illness and said: "She won't be up as soon as you think she will, and you'll soon be lying by her side." Annie further said that she had given her mother a dose, and her father a dose and that she would dose the lot of them. This was told to Mrs. Burke, who did not attach much importance to it, saying: "Don't mind her; she only wants to frighten you. I saw what she had—a powder in a paper, but it is not dangerous. I don't believe she gave me any of it." The deceased died on Tuesday night, and throughout her illness suffered greatly from cramps, vomiting and thirst.

To County Crown Attorney Badgerow witness said the prisoner was very troublesome and violent at home, refusing to eat with the rest of the family and displaying a bad temper. Last summer she was arrested for throwing a knife at her father.

The prisoner was asked if she wished to put any questions to the witness, and readily accepted the invitation. "Didn't I complain, the same as my mother, for the past couple of weeks?" was the first question. This was answered in the negative, and the prisoner proceeded: "I did, and you put it down that I drugged her, but that is a confounded lie. They are trying all the summer and winter to get me out of the house. Didn't my father caution my mother, time and again, against walking about in her bare feet and night dress in the mornings and getting cold? It was cold she caught, the same as me."

The prisoner explained the powder mystery. About a month ago, she said, her sister got her four Sedlitz powders, one being that which her mother saw her with. She said she threatened to dose her sister because she was constantly annoying her.

The inquest was adjourned until Friday, Dec. 23, so as to afford time for a post mortem examination and an analysis of the stomach. The girl will remain in custody.

CENTRAL BANK AFFAIRS.

PRESIDENT BLAIN SENDS IN HIS REPORT TO THE COURT.

Ex-Cashier Allen Ill at Home—Broker Cox Will Not Give Particulars—The Solicitorship—Echoes of the Grab.

TORONTO, Dec. 15.

The report of President Blain who presided at the meeting of the shareholders and creditors of the Central Bank on Tuesday by order of the Court of Chancery, was handed in yesterday and filed. The report merely states that Archibald Campbell, T. Sutherland Stayner and William Gooderham are the unanimous choice of the shareholders as liquidators, and that Mr. Campbell, Mr. Gooderham and W. H. Howland are the nominees of the creditors.

The matter will come up in the Chancery Court to-day when it is expected that the court will name the three gentlemen who are to act as liquidators.

The name of Mr. Allen was in everyone's mouth yesterday, and his haggard appearance of the last few weeks commented upon as an indication that he must be ill. He did not appear down town all day. A reporter called at his residence, 187 Gerrard-street east, in the evening and asked to see him, but was informed that his physician had ordered that Mr. Allen should see no callers and avoid any conversation upon business matters. A young gentleman who opened the door said that Mr. Allen was not desirous of making any statement whatever at present.

Mr. Allen has, it is understood, severed his connection with the bank.

Mr. E. S. Cox refused to give particulars as to the nature of his transactions with the manager. He feels quite happy over the matter and hints that at the proper time he will speak. Those who know claim that the account will come out right.

Said one broker: Mr. Cox was called in "professionally" at the last hours of the bank. He was given certain securities wherewith to raise money—whether notes of the bank, or shares, or what I cannot say. At all events he got these securities. Whether he realized on them, or whether he still has them and will restore them at the proper time I cannot say, but I am pretty sure the thing will come out better than the public imagine.

Another report is that Mr. Cox got large checks of his on the Central marked good in order to manipulate certain things for the bank, and while these amounts are charged to his account, the checks were not paid by the bank, Who holds them is not known.

The racket over the solicitorship to the Central Bank liquidators was being worked yesterday for all it was worth in the respective interests of Robinson & O'Brien and of Bain & Laidlaw, with the former firm the favorites. Messrs. Howland and Gooderham may be supposed to favor the claims of Mr. O'Brien, all three being swimmers in the great moral wave that has lately been set rolling. And if not for that reason, there would seem to be justice in retaining the solicitor of the defunct bank. Mr. Clarke Gamble, solicitor to the Bank of Upper Canada, also acted for the liquidators of that concern.

The Roland Israel Gideon Barnett swindle of the Central Bank is still the great topic. The latest estimate places the bank's loss by him at $144,000. Probably his Toronto lawyers could tell about it if they would. It is also hinted that Barnett did not take all the plunder with him. Revelations are promised.

The bank managers who met on the night of the last day of the Central's business, asked for a statement and an inspection of the books. If these were found right they promised money sufficient to assist the Central through. The Central people preferred to suspend rather than comply.

In justice to Mr. Wallace, the present manager of the Central Bank at Brampton, it is only fair to say that the loss referred to in Mr. Campbell's report at the meeting on Tuesday, was contracted before he (Mr. Wallace) took charge of that office.

Emigration to British Columbia Scheme Adopted—Canadian Share Certificate—Sugar Bounties Conference.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—Mr. Begg's emigration proposal on behalf of the British Columbian Government have been accepted by the British Government. A COOL DISCUSSION.

A correspondent of the Detroit News very coolly undertakes to settle the question of the immediate destiny of Canada. He inclines to favor annexation as the more profitable form of union, for the United States, as contrasted with commercial union. According to this genius, the advantages to the United States of annexation are as follows:—

FIRST—The existence of two bordering nations like the United States and Canada is always attended by the danger of misunderstandings and the possibility of war with each other. Commercial union would have this danger existing. Annexation would do away with it. As we are now and as we would be under commercial union, we may be drawn into war with Canada at any time. This may occur, too, without any fault whatever on the part of Canada, from any serious misunderstanding with Great Britain. Surely the prospect of perpetual peace is worth something to a nation.

SECOND—In case of annexation we would add to our population four millions of excellent people, very like our own, and a territory of almost fabulous wealth. This addition means in case of war nearly a million of able-bodied men to aid in fighting our battles. Under Commercial Union they will not only not be with us, but may be against us. Is such a yeomanry of no value to a nation?

THIRD—If we had Commercial Union we would still regard Canadians as aliens and life in Canada as exile. With annexation immense territories would furnish a natural home for our surplus population and a natural field for our enterprise. The wealth which Canada would accumulate would be our own subject to the general needs of the whole nation, while under Commercial Union it may be poured into the treasury of the enemy.

FOURTH—We would need no war steamers on our inland seas, which must come if the nations remain separate. Canada would bear her portion in improving the now dividing rivers, while at present she does nothing towards it. This would save us a great deal of money.

FIFTH—Annexation would give us a common interest in Canadian canals, and would save the expense of building others, which we must eventually have if the nations remain apart.

SIXTH—Annexation would make the St. Lawrence an American river and an open highway for our commerce on the sea. This could, perhaps, be secured by Commercial Union while it lasted—and this leads me to the greatest of all distinctions.

SEVENTH—Commercial Union is, or may be, temporary. It cannot in any form be more than a treaty, and treaties are ropes of sand. A treaty may be abrogated or disregarded at any time. It may be ended by war. Annexation would be permanent. It would round out our nation, remove the menace to our peace, extend our trade and add wonderfully to our resources in men and money.

TO-DAY the nomination in East Northumberland for the vacancy in the House of Commons representation took place. Dr. Mallory is the Liberal nominee and Edward Cochrane, who represented the riding in the previous parliament, is the candidate of the Government party.

EVEN dentists have annual dinners. The Toronto School of Dentistry held its third annual banquet the other day. The only point of interest arising out of this fact is whether the dentists on this occasion used their own teeth. The doctors, we know, have a prejudice against taking their own medicines, and it would be interesting to know if dentists use the teeth they manufacture and so confidently commend to use by the public, on the occasion of their professional dinners.

IN these moving modern days we have great improvements on everything enjoyed in the good old days. In naval matters of the belligerent type we are infinitely in advance of the maritime munitions of former years, but the advance in cost has kept pace closely with the advance in effectiveness. It is stated that at the grand review at Spithead after the Russian war there was no finer line-of-battle ship to be seen that H.M.S. Duke of Wellington. This powerful and beautiful three-decker carried 131 guns, the heaviest of which were 68-pounders, than which no more effective gun was then in use in the navy. And these 131 guns of H.M.S. Duke of Wellington, with their mountings and ammunition and all the stores of the vessel, cost the country under $67,000. For the sake of comparison let us take H.M.S. Benbow, one of the newest "Admiral" class of ironclads. The Benbow has only twelve guns, and yet these with their mountings and ammunition and the vessel's stores generally have cost the country close upon $1,037,500. In 1866 the heaviest round of ammunition used for a service gun required a charge of only 16 lbs. of gunpowder to fire it, the cost of shot and powder being $3.75. To-day every time one of the great ton-weight armor-piercing steel projectiles is fired off 950 lbs. of powder are used, and the cost of each round is not less than $1,200.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

Our town has presented a lively appearance since Saturday last with Salvation Army Jubilee and Hallelujah Weddings, attracting large crowds to witness them. The weddings, however, were failures, causing great disappointment. The contracting parties for some reasons cancelled their engagements.

The confectioners and hotels have had quite a harvest the last few days.

Considerable sickness, fevers, colds, etc. Our Dr. Thompson, together with the other two local physicians, are kept on the hound.

Our Main street is now well lit up by street lamps supplied independently by some of our enterprising citizens.

Messrs. Evans & Redpath have a contract for supplying Brighton with one of their celebrated fire engines. More towns to follow.

Christmas Presents.

There is no need for Peterborough people to go out of town now for fine goods in china, silver, etc. China Hall has a stock equal to any in Canada. Chamber sets from $1.00 to $32.00, tea sets from $2.00 to $50.00, dinner sets from $3.50 to $65.00, silver pieces from 25c. to $200 in value. Every article in the two show rooms suitable for 'Xmas presents. A magnificent city stock at town prices. dw

WARD No. 1.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

In accordance with the expressed wish of many influential citizens in your ward, I have the honor of announcing my intention to stand as a candidate for Councillor at the forthcoming Municipal Elections.

My platform is

JUSTICE,
TEMPERANCE,
ECONOMY,

and will, if elected, do all that is in the power of one man to do for the people who intrust their work to me.

Should a personal canvass be impossible, I trust that those who desire my election will do all in their power to further it.

Very respectfully,

dw DANNELL SAWYER.

To the Electors of

No. ONE WARD

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the request of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to be a candidate for Councillor for No. One Ward. Believing that I can promote your interest and being willing to give my best abilities and attention thereto, I respectfully solicit your support.

Yours Respectfully,

dw HARRY WINCH.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavored to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. STEVENSON.

HOW TO SOLVE A PERPLEXING PROBLEM.

What shall I buy for a Present? There is nothing nicer for a Gentleman friend than A Silk Handkerchief.

A Silk or Woollen Scarf.
A Pair of Warm Gloves.
A Set of Sleeve or Shirt Studs.
A Pair of Linen Cuffs.
A Box of Linen Collars.
A Dress Necktie.

or, better still, a Nobby Suit of Clothes—his measure can be taken on the sly.

LUMBERMEN'S GRIEVANCES.

A Deputation of Lumbermen Waits upon Mr. Mowat and Objections to the Increase in Timber Dues and Ground Rent.

TORONTO, Dec. 13.

A deputation of lumbermen waited upon Mr. Mowat and Crown Lands Commissioner Pardee yesterday to present objections to the increase in timber dues and ground rent. The deputation was a representative one, including lumbermen from all parts of the Province.

Mr. A. H. Campbell presented the lumbermen's grievances in a good speech. They regretted no notice had been given to them of the proposed change, believing that if they had not succeeded in inducing the Government to modify its action they might have suggested a method of obtaining the object. The principal objection urged was the unsettling of values by the addendum of the right of the Executive of the day to assess the ground rent and dues at a figure which might be prohibitory, and which would virtually amount to a resumption of the ownership by the Crown. He advanced the argument that under the existing regulations and conditions of sale it was generally understood in the trade that the dues were of a fixed nature, or otherwise business men would not invest capital to the large amount now represented by timber licenses and the mills dependent on them.

Were this not so, it is hard to believe that bidders could have offered their money and the Government accepted it on a common understanding that the timber should only be cut at such price, even if it entailed a loss, as the Government chose to fix. It is much more probable that both parties to the contract considered the price paid and the rent and dues then chargeable the fair value of the timber, and that legal construction of the conditions of sale, which the Government is now endeavoring to establish, was never contemplated by either of the parties to the original sale.

Raising the rent and dues is simply equivalent to increasing the price bid at the sale, and in consideration of which the Government undertook to convey the right to cut the timber, a right which it would be unjust to infringe upon or invalidate by an increased impost on the product. About twenty years ago an increase was made in the ground rent and dues on timber cut under licenses, but the mode of levying was made more convenient, whilst a valuable consideration in the shape of exemptions from the obligation to cut under each separate license was given to the licensees, who were, it is believed, quite satisfied with the arrangement. Were some similar consideration now given to license holders in the shape of fixed rates of dues and ground rent for a term of say twenty years, the lumberman would, without prejudice to their legal position, be willing during that period to pay the increased rates now demanded, and would suggest that the condition under which the sale is to be confirmed on Thursday should be altered accordingly. Lumbermen, in addition to the large amount of their investments in limits and mills, are often obliged to become borrowers from the banks to carry on their operations, and anything which tended to throw a doubt on the value of their limits as a valuable security would have a most prejudicial effect upon their standing and credit and would inevitably injure an industry, so important to the province, and from which so large a portion of its annual income is derived.

Messrs. Maclaren, Charlton, Bronson, David Gilmour, Cook, Heath, Boyd and Scott followed in support of the objections raised.

Commissioner Pardee said the Government had only raised the dues and ground rent three times in the last fifty years. If the uncertainty as to the Government's action would, as contended, remove the competition of American buyers, then the Canadian lumbermen, it would appear, would be benefited by it.

Mr. Mowat said it must be remembered the Government had no pecuniary interest in this matter, but in dealing with it had to consider all interests. It was suggested that raising the dues may be unfairly exercised, but the past policy of the Government was, he thought, an evidence of the desire of the Government to deal justly. The recent increase showed there would be no immediate addition to the dues. The difficulty is to fix a specific period before the dues can be raised. The Government, therefore, was unable to comply with the request that the changes asked for should be made at the sale to-day.

Mr. Boyd said as an intending purchaser he would not attend.

Mr. Pardee: Well, we will have to bear it as best we can.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 14.

The local stock market was slightly weaker this morning than yesterday. Only 15 shares were sold.

On St. Lawrence market to-day 25 loads of hay sold at $24 to $16 a ton for timothy and $12 to $14 for clover. Straw was quoted at $11 to $12. On the grain market 300 bushels of wheat sold at 84c to 85c a bushel for fall, 86c to 88c for spring, and 74c to 75c for white geese; 1,000 bushels of barley at 49c to 52½c, and 200 bushels of oats at 32c to 36c. On the general market prices were steady and trade dull.

The following were the ruling prices: Beef, hindquarters, per lb, 6c to 8c; beef, forequarters, per lb, 3c to 5c; mutton, per carcase, 6c to 7½c; lamb, per carcase, 7½c to 8½c; veal, 6c to 8c; pork, 6½c; chickens, per pair, 35c to 55c; ducks, per pair, 60c to 80c; geese, per lb, 5c to 6½c; turkeys, per lb, 6½c to 8c; wheat, fall, per bush, 84c to 85c; wheat, spring, per bush, 86c to 88c; wheat, goose, per bush, 74c to 75c; barley, 46c to 49½c; oats, new, per bush, 32c to 36c; peas, 63c; timothy, $14 to $16; clover, $13 to $14; straw, $11 to $12.50; butter, pound rolls, 24c to 28c; butter, tub, 18c to 20c; cheese, per lb, 12c to 13c.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is no cheap cure way to get rid of them. That is to take Hodder's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

Great Slaughtering and Cutting OF PRICES IN DRY GOODS AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

Obituary.

The Late Robert Rowe—A Venerable Landmark in Peterborough Passes Away.

Citizens who saw Mr. Robert Rowe walking about the streets yesterday afternoon with his usual activity and apparently in his his usual health, were startled this morning to hear of his death. Yesterday Mr. Rowe consulted Dr. Pigeon who found him suffering from weakness of the heart but there was no organic affection. This morning Mr. Rowe arose about seven o'clock, and at once, as he entered one room from another, was attacked with syncope from which he never rallied. Dr. Pigeon was immediately summoned, but when he arrived the vital spark had fled. The deceased has recently been subject to fainting fits, brought on by bodily weakness.

Mr. Rowe was a native of County Wexford, Ireland. He was born in the town of Camolin, nearly 70 years ago. He came to this country when a lad of about eight years of age. He resided for some years in St. John, New Brunswick. When he left that city he came westward and lived for some years at Demorestville, Prince Edward County. In 1840 he came to Peterborough, where he has since remained one of its foremost citizens. On his arrival he pursued diligently his calling carpenter and contractor. His record in this capacity is well known in town. He erected or superintended the erection of most of the best buildings in Peterborough, up to the time of the erection of the Nicholls-Hall block, Simcoe street, which was the last contract of any importance with which he was actively connected. Thus there are standing in Peterborough numerous monuments to Mr. Rowe, and they will long remain; for Rowe worked the honest, conscientious fibre of his own character into the buildings he erected, and he carried the same principles into all his dealings. He was inclined to be insistent in exacting his own, but he was equally scrupulous in fulfilling his obligations and carrying out his agreements. In the course of his business career in Peterborough he amassed a very large amount of wealth, much more than any person not acquainted with his affairs would suppose—he is entitled to rank among the wealthiest citizens of Peterborough.

About the year 1846 he was united in marriage to Miss Marshall, eldest daughter of the late Christopher Marshall. There were no children born of this union. Mr. Rowe leaves behind him a widow, and two sisters in St. John's New Brunswick, and two nieces, one the wife of Mr. Charles Paisley, formerly of Peterborough.

Mr. Rowe never sought public honors, although he was for many years town assessor and time after time he filled the position of deputy returning officer at elections. In political faith Mr. Rowe was a strong Conservative, though he did not take any very active part in practical politics. In religion he was a Methodist, and, since its organization, an active member of the Charlotte street church congregation.

The late Mr. Rowe was a most devoted Oddfellow. He was admitted to the membership of Otonabee lodge at the age of 64 years, on the 30th of April, 1883. He has, in spite of his advanced years, ever since been one of the most active members of the lodge, one of the most regular in attendance on all the meetings. He was elected Treasurer in 1884 and has held the office ever since, having been elected on every occasion by acclamation. He has also served with unusual fidelity on many important committees. He was held in the highest respect and veneration by every member of the lodge, and was particularly popular with the younger members. He always strove to carry out the principles of the Order. In all his services in connection with lodge affairs he got on smoothly, and he always was ready with the wisest advice, when any source of friction required to be smoothed over. He was a faithful member, a wise counsellor, and a model embodiment of the true principles of Oddfellowship, and his death will be deeply lamented by every member of Otonabee lodge.

DEAR people do not buy Cotton boots and shoes, but buy KIDD'S boots, they are surely the best.

Be Ready.

The boy or girl who wants to be ready to fill a good position will do well to go to the Business College for special training.

Otonabee Lodge.

Owing to the sudden death of Brother Rowe, there will be a special meeting of Otonabee Lodge this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The attendance of every member is requested.

Newspaper Reporting.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, editor of the Review, gave a talk on the above named subject to the Business College students yesterday. It was very interesting, well delivered and received deserved applause at the close.

County Court Concluded

The autumn sitting of the county court closed Wednesday evening. The last case, Linn vs. Ross, occupied from 10 a.m. on Wednesday till 11 p.m., when the court adjourned. At 8 p.m. the jury retired, and it took them three hours to agree on a decision. A verdict was given for the plaintiff for $35 damages.

Hymeneal.

St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, was, on Wednesday afternoon, the scene of a happy social event, the wedding of Mr. James Nethercutt and Miss Tillie Chrow, daughter of the late Edward Chrow. Rev. W. C. Bradshaw tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a number of friends. Miss Florence Chrow was bridesmaid and Mr. Jas. Harper, groomsman. The bride received a great many handsome and useful presents, including an elegant silver cream jug and combined sugar bowl and spoon-holder, with a dozen spoons, from the employees of the EXAMINER office. Miss Chrow has for a long time been connected with the EXAMINER bindery department. After the wedding, the assembled company repaired to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nethercutt on Edinburgh street, where a pleasant evening of social enjoyment was spent. The happy young couple are kept busy receiving and responding to the congratulations showered upon them.

Temperance Address.

Temperance Address on the Temperance Question—Alcohol as a Poison—An Instructive Discourse.

The Opera House was filled to the doors Wednesday evening, one half the audience being ladies. Dr. Fife occupied the chair, and opened the meeting about eight o'clock. After singing and prayer, the chairman made an introductory address, charging some of the members of the Council with neglect of duty as regarded the enforcement of the Scott Act; and it was for the electors to see that they were replaced by men who would do their duty. He introduced the speaker of the evening,

MRS. YOUMANS, who began by saying that she was there merely to state the truth and get it down into the heart. One of God's sayings was, "the drunkard shall not inherit the kingdom of heaven." What did that mean, in the face of the fact that some 7,000 persons, at the lowest estimate, die annually in Canada from drunkenness? There was one place, she said, where she was constrained to believe they realized that truth, and that was Oberlin, Ohio, where there is no whiskey allowed to be sold. What was alcohol? Scientists tell us, she said, that it is a poison with a special affinity for the brain, and the smallest portion taken into the system deranges, more or less, the functions of the brain. Alcohol was a poison as much as strychnine, and if the sale of all dangerous drugs or poisons was restricted, why not alcohol? The people of Peterborough have, she said, placed a restriction upon it in adopting the Scott Act, and the speaker urged the people to continue it. Opponents to the Act, which was the law of the country, she characterised as rebels to Canada. Mr. Youmans enumerated several exploded theories as to the uses and virtues of alcohol such as its warmth, its courage-giving, nourishing and medicinal qualities, etc. On each of these points she dwelt at some length, quoting the opinions of renowned scientists and physicians in support of her arguments. But alcohol was in the land, and what was to be done? Some say "regulate it!" But the very fact that it needed regulating implied that it was dangerous. Endeavors had been made to regulate it for the last eighty years, and the more regulating there was done the more irregular it became. It was, she said, utterly impossible to regulate it. Others advocated a high license system, and grumbled about the invasion of British rights in preventing the drinking of liquor. The Scott Act, she said, never intended to say what a man should eat or drink. It said,—"eat and drink anything you like—if you can get it." But how many other things were restricted? The game laws and a dozen other protecting legislations were mentioned as parallel cases with the Scott Act as far as "restriction" went. The Scott Act, she said, did not intend to prohibit drinking by act of parliament; but if people must sell liquor and must get drunk, they must do it contrary to law, and not upheld by the strong arm of the law. It had been said that the Act could not be enforced; but that implied that the people of Canada were all rebels. Mrs. Youmans cited the case of Halton county, in which the Act had been tested and gave such satisfaction that the people would not repeal it. Mrs. Youmans next touched upon the license law, and showed how poorly it was enforced. Her heart, she said, was with the prohibition movement. Could it be enforced? Yes! In proof of this she said that during her sojourn in Maine she only saw one drunken man. She refuted the stories that the prohibition law was not observed in Maine, and backed her statement by facts and figures. The town of Westbrook, Ireland, where no liquor has been sold for thirty years, was also mentioned. There were no gaols, no poor-house, no pawn-shop, no constables, no magistrates required in Westbrook; it was always quiet, even during the most extensive Irish agitations. In the North-west, too, the prohibitory law was in force, and she cited the statements of a number of residents that it was observed and of great benefit to the country. Mrs. Youmans said she could multiply instances showing that prohibition did prohibit, and the beautiful results of prohibition. Then, the license law was in direct opposition to the spirit of the British constitution, which was founded upon the Bible. Mrs. Youmans said she believed the prohibition question would soon be settled at Ottawa, and if they would just let the W.C.T.U. (Women Constantly Troubling Us, as she rendered it) attach the penalty they would soon stamp out the traffic. She urged the electors with all solemnity when the day came for them to elect their municipal officers for next year, to remember that their votes were recorded above. The ladies also she urged to attend the polls and vote for "just men, and men that fear God."

Personal.

Mr. J. W. Bengough, "Grips" of Toronto, is at the Oriental.

Mr. Geo. A Cox is expected to occupy the chair at Bengough's lecture at the opera house to-night.

Mr. W. J. King, of Lindsay, has been engaged by the Y.M.C.A. at Port Hope as a permanent Secretary.

Mr. Bengough, Grip's clever cartoonist, gave us a call this afternoon. Every person should go and hear him in the Opera House this evening.

Messrs. M. Boyd, J. M. Irwin and D. Ullyot, prominent lumbermen of this district, attended the sale of timber limits by the Ontario Government at Toronto Wednesday.

A correspondent at Canton, Durham county, sends the Port Hope Times an account of a farewell supper and address to Mr. Joseph Jones and family, of that village, who are about to remove to Peterborough. The correspondent says:—"In him, Canton loses a valuable citizen, an active and efficient choir leader, and a mechanic who has few equals, and no superior, in the millwright line in this province."

Mr. Geo. Sherin, of the floral drug store, has purchased a business at Essex Centre, Ont., and will remove thither next week, taking his stock with him. Though sorry to lose Mr. Sherin, who has proved himself an enterprising and thoroughly reliable citizen and business man, the EXAMINER hopes he will be entirely successful in his new home.

St. Peter's Society.

The regular weekly meeting of St. Peter's Literary and Debating Society was held Wednesday evening. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved, that married life is preferable to single." The affirmative was supported by Mr. Thos. Cahill and Mr. Begley, sr., the negative side of the case was conducted by Messrs. J. J. Sheehy and Dr. Collins. After the various speakers had set forth their arguments, pro and con, the decision was left in the hands of the ladies, who were in the great majority of those present, and the affirmative won by an almost unanimous vote. The balance of the programme was as follows:—

Solo—"I am Waiting".....Mr. M. Dunn.
Solo.....Miss Annie Dunn.
Recitation—"The Battle of Fontenoy"...Mr. Jno. O'Meara.
Reading—"Father Phil's Sermon"...Dr. Collins.
Solo.....Miss McDonnel.
Song.....Miss Mary Dunn.
Solo—"The Old Buck-saw".....Mr. R. Begley.
Solo—"The Old Arm Chair".....Dr. Collins.
Miss Katie Dunn and Miss Aggie McDonald, accompanists.

The debate for the next evening will be: "Resolved, that the execution of Charles I. was justifiable."

Go direct to Turnbull's, The Cheap Dry Goods House, for Fine Wool Goods, Heavy Scotch Shawls, Table Linens, &c., &c., for the Christmas Trade.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Mr. Rowe leaves behind him a widow, and two sisters in St. John's New Brunswick, and two nieces, one the wife of Mr. Charles Paisley, formerly of Peterborough.

Mr. Rowe never sought public honors, although he was for many years town assessor and time after time he filled the position of deputy returning officer at elections. In political faith Mr. Rowe was a strong Conservative, though he did not take any very active part in practical politics. In religion he was a Methodist, and, since its organization, an active member of the Charlotte street church congregation.

The late Mr. Rowe was a most devoted Oddfellow. He was admitted to the membership of Otonabee lodge at the age of 64 years, on the 30th of April, 1883. He has, in spite of his advanced years, ever since been one of the most active members of the lodge, one of the most regular in attendance on all the meetings. He was elected Treasurer in 1884 and has held the office ever since, having been elected on every occasion by acclamation. He has also served with unusual fidelity on many important committees. He was held in the highest respect and veneration by every member of the lodge, and was particularly popular with the younger members. He always strove to carry out the principles of the Order. In all his services in connection with lodge affairs he got on smoothly, and he always was ready with the wisest advice, when any source of friction required to be smoothed over. He was a faithful member, a wise counsellor, and a model embodiment of the true principles of Oddfellowship, and his death will be deeply lamented by every member of Otonabee lodge.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

PORT HOPE, ONT., Sep. 6, 1887.

D. J. Bansell Sawyer, Esq.,

DEAR SIR.—Having completed a course in the Sawyer Business College, it is my pleasure to state that I have derived great benefit through my attendance.

The course is throughout a source of pleasure and improvement, and I believe that a thorough course in such an institution must prove of great value to any intending to follow a mercantile life.

Wishing you continual success, I remain,
Yours respectfully,
S. E. K. WALKER.

Turnbull is selling heavy Costume Dress Goods, 54 inches wide, for 45c. a yard, which beats anything I've had thrown at me at supposed Cost Prices. I always find Turnbull has the Bottom Prices.

AMONGST THE FAT STOCK.

The Opening Day—Civic Congratulations—A Real Old English Dinner.

TORONTO, Dec. 15.

The fifth will rank as the best of the Toronto fat stock shows of the Ontario Agriculture and Arts Association. In capacious premises at Grand's Repository, Adelaide-street, the show is housed, and bunting and evergreens lend a charm to the scene. The formal opening yesterday left nothing to be desired. The attendance was large, principally from the country; the city fathers shed their lustre on the proceedings; and, as in duty bound, all and every one interested in the show did the proper thing in assisting in the discussion of the good old English fare which Host Holderness provided at the dinner at the Albion Hotel last night. No baron ever received more lordly honor than did "Sir Loin" of beef last night, and as the lordly baron made the tour of the disingroom the rafters, not metaphorically, but literally rang. And what could be wished for more save a permanent abode and local habitation for a society which has done, and is expected to do, great things in its special department.

Yesterday The World enumerated the chief exhibitors, and without anticipating in any way the awards of the judges, it may be said that the cattle are decidedly first-class, while the sheep classes are really grand, though limited in number. And what should be said of the hogs and poultry, in which Canadians take legitimate pride, further than that in many more numerous competitions better quality has not been seen.

President Snell briefly and cordially welcomed the farmers and visitors to this year's exhibition. Although the show was not on so large a scale as the executive desired, he was glad to state that the uniform quality of the exhibits was excellent. [Applause.]

Ald. Frankland then, in the name of the City of Toronto and under the reign of our good Queen Victoria, declared the show open.

Ald. Boustead having briefly spoken in reply to loud calls, the band played "God Save the Queen," cheers were given for Her Majesty and Ald. Frankland, and the party dispersed to view the exhibit.

VALUABLE TIMBER LIMITS.

THE PROVINCE REALIZES $1,312,712 ON ABOUT 450 SQUARE MILES.

Big Bids and Lively Sales—The Ottawa Men Hold Themselves Aloof—A Flow of Champagne—Two Michigan Buyers.

TORONTO, Dec. 16.

The Ottawa lumbermen watched the sale interestedly, but made no bids. This was in pursuance of their determination to boycott the sale in the event of the Government's second refusal to fix a period wherein no increase of dues or ground rent shall be made. The Chaudiere owners had hoped to have influenced others in sufficient numbers to make the boycott effective. But when the Government yesterday morning gave another decided refusal to the demands of the lumbermen, the Ottawa men found it impossible to gather any large following in their attempt to defeat the sale. They determined, though, to abstain themselves from bidding. Mr. Joseph Riopelle, although a resident of Ottawa, is not a lumberman, nor did he join the boycott. Mr. Alex. Fraser, one of the largest buyers, lives in Westmeath, near Ottawa, and his action was commented on unfavorably by the Ottawa men, although they acknowledged that Mr. Fraser was not bound further than by his agreement to join in the original movement, started on Wednesday night, to boycott the sale, but which was abandoned.

The amount realized was $1,312,712.00. The largest price paid per square mile was $8350, by Callahan & Montreuse of Alpena, Mich., and the next $5500, by Albert Pack, another Michigan lumberman, one of whose limits cost him $123,062.50. Mr. Alex Fraser's investments amounted to $262,025, or an average of $42,004 for the six limits bought. All the limits offered were sold except one.

CLOSE OF THE FAT STOCK SHOW.

The Prizes Awarded—Some of the Winners —Ald. Frankland Congratulated.

This exhibition closed yesterday. It has been a thorough success and the management are sanguine that the City Council and the agriculturists of the district will, before the next show, provide more suitable accommodation. The subject has been urged by members of the Corporation and the council of the Ontario Agriculture and Arts Association, and has been received with approbation by many prominent citizens. The judges did not complete their duties until yesterday afternoon, and considering the limited extent of the show the opinion was general that it would be desirable that the awards should be given before the admission of the public. The principal prize-winners were as follows: Cattle —J. Oke, Alvinston; Graham Bros., Ailsa Craig; Jas. Deans, Paris; John Kelly, Woodville; J. Dencon, Milton; Arthur Johnstone, Greenwood; George Keith, Elora; Jas. Hunter, Alma; J. Russell, Brougham; Jas. King, Brampton; J. Kelly, Shakespeare; and J. & W. B. Watts, Salem. Sheep—Messrs. Rothwford, Laidlaw & Jackson, Oliver, Murray, Kelly, Johnstone, Dencon and Beatty. Hogs —Messrs. Dencon and Dorsey & Son. Poultry —Jas. Toulmin, Toronto.

During the show these gentlemen called on Acting Mayor Frankland at the Mayor's office and congratulated him upon the success of his efforts in making the show so interesting and profitable: Ira Morgan, Vice-President of the Agriculture and Arts Association; Joshua Legge, ex-Warden, Leeds; Mr. John Miller, Brougham, an extensive importer for the past fifty-two years; Mr. Maskell, Oshawa, exporter of cattle; Mr. P. Reanie, cattle breeder, Fergus; Mr. Downing, cattle exporter, Forest; Mr. Snell, President Agriculture and Arts Association; Mr. Drury, M.P.P.

Canadian Draught Horse Society.

At a numerously-attended meeting of agriculturists at the Albion Hotel yesterday afternoon a Canadian Draught Horse Society was formed. Mr. Charles Drury, M.P.P., was in the chair, and Mr. Henry Wade was secretary. The latter read a paper advocating the establishment of the society, and a similar statement was made by Mr. A. Fraser of Toronto. Petitions were presented signed by 136 farmers asking for the formation of such an association. Mr. Lawrence, Collingwood, and others, spoke in its support, and after due discussion the society was formed with the following provisional officers: Presidents, Charles Jackson, Cookeville; Vice-Presidents, A. Fraser, Toronto; F. T. Coleman, Arthur; Thomas Nattress, Meadville, and H. Wade, Secretary. The object is to keep a true record of the pedigrees of Canadian draught horses. Another meeting for further organization will be called at an early date.

BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH

THE VICTIM OF THE MYRTLE STATION AFFAIR STILL LIVES.

Intense Excitement in the County of Ontario—The Party Who Accompanied Bartender Brown—They Claim They Were Unarmed.

MYRTLE STATION, Dec. 16.

Hovering between life and death, and tossing nervously on a couch in a darkened room in Vernon's little hotel, near Myrtle Station, was to be found George Brown, the victim of the platform fusilade, at 7 o'clock last evening. All day long Brown had given unmistakable evidences of the pain he was suffering, notwithstanding that he had been put under powerful opiates. The reporter had seen him at 10.30 in the morning, and his condition was unchanged when he called in the evening at the hour named. Dr. Starr and Dr. Warren of Brooklin and Dr. Clemens of Port Perry had been with him from late Wednesday evening until early yesterday morning. Dr. Warren was the last to leave yesterday. In answer to the reporter's enquiries as to Brown's chances of recovery, he shook his head ominously. All efforts to find the bullets which entered the chest have proved ineffectual. The doctors make no secret that his chances of recovery are very, very doubtful. He may live for some days. His wife, little boy and two brothers were at his bedside almost throughout the day.

There is still a wide diversity of opinion as to how the shooting started and how many were engaged in it. Even the eye-witnesses of the affair, so sudden and unexpected was it, are puzzled about its origin. As far as we could learn yesterday, it was the original intention of the liquor men of Brooklin to give McCrea and Dennen a good thrashing ere they left that town, but the "detectives" managed to give them the slip, and then to reach Myrtle. It is now said that a commercial traveler carried the word to Port Perry that the two men were at Myrtle chuckling over their success in Brooklin and their prospective conquests in the Port. This seems to have exasperated the wet apostles in the Port, and so the party was organized to go to Myrtle and warm the "detectives."

The party, as far as could be learned, was composed of William Lattimore, Fred Corbin (better known as the "Jersey Lily"), Tom Trebell and the wounded man. All of these men, except Brown, stoutly maintain that they were unarmed, and that they ran off the platform as soon as the firing began. They say that the spectators of the affair were so confused with what was going on that they could not tell who was really firing. Trebell claims that while he was running from the platform McCrea deliberately fired at him. He also says that he had taken no further part in the row than to catch hold of Dennen and try and make him desist firing. Trebell says he was unarmed.

County Crown Attorney Kerswell sent a [illegible] to Myrtle during the day enquiring whether the wounded man was in a condition to make a statement. No favorable answer having been sent Mr. Farewell did not put in an appearance. However, during the afternoon Magistrate M. G. Robinson of Port Perry went to Vernon's Hotel and took the wounded man's statement. To The World in the evening Brown gave a similar statement, adding that he "might never live to see morning." He said Dennen wrested his revolver from him before he had a chance to fire. "Besides," added the wounded man with great pain, "my pistol was not loated. I had cartridges in my pocket, but there were none in the revolver. This is the truth. I was shot by both men. Dennen shot me first in the chest, then McCrea shot me a second afterwards, an inch below Dennen's wound. I was not hit in the leg as the doctors at first supposed. I had a scuffle with Dennen, but did not mean to shoot him. I merely wanted to ask him why he intended to prosecute me after I had used him so well."

"Were your companions armed and how many shots did they fire?" asked the reporter.

"If they had revolvers I did not see them fire. I think the people on the platform were so excited that they did not know who did the firing."

To a friend of his who called in the morning, the wounded man complained very bitterly about his companions deserting him when he had become disarmed and was in close quarters.

Numerous comments were elicited during the day from the Scott Act element in different parts of the county. Many of these were prone to believe that more of the Port Perry crowd than Brown were armed. They took the ground also that the party had no right to go to Myrtle to even threaten the "detectives" by their presence. The fact of Brown having a pistol at all was an indication that they means mischief and intended harm to Dennen and McCrea. Said one prominent Scott Acter: "They should have allowed the 'officers of the law' to depart in peace."

The affair has engendered a more bitter feeling than ever between the wet and dry parties.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Dennen entered the detectives' room at Toronto Police Headquarters and surrendered himself, handing over a "Defender" revolver with all the seven chambers loaded, and which he said was his own; also a "Lone Star," with five of seven chambers emptied, which he said he had taken from Brown. Dennen said that Brown had three times snapped a pistol in his face without it exploding. McCrea and Dennen appeared in the Police Court yesterday and were remanded to jail to await warrants from Ontario County.

A great deal of speculation was indulged in throughout the county because of Dennen and McCrea being so heavily armed. The men claimed at Myrtle, after the shooting, that they had been told by Police Magistrate Herap that they could "carry all the guns they wished in the county."

A message from Myrtle received at 1.30 this morning says that the wounded man was then "resting easy." A doctor was in attendance.

Absconder Again Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—Jas. Knight, bookkeeper of the Manufacturers' National Bank, was taken before the United States Commissioner to-day charged with stealing from the funds of the bank between $60,000 and $70,000. It is said that Knight has been appropriating to his own use the bank's money for nearly twenty-five years.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The French Ministry in Session Once Again.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—M. Carvalho, the Manager of the Opera Comique in Paris, was today sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 200 francs, for negligence in the administration of the Opera on the issue of the fire in that building. Firemen Andre was sentenced to one month's imprisonment and the others were acquitted.

The discussion of the supposed revolutionary plotting among the members of the Municipal Council of Paris was adjourned for a month on motion of M. Sarrien, Minister of the Interior.

M. Sarrien declared that the facts were exaggerated. The Government would enforce respect for the laws in Paris, and in every other part of the country.

The declaration of the Ministers was read. It declares that the Cabinet's sole ambition is to continue the work of concord begun on Dec. 2. The country will perceive that this policy will ensure the pledge of internal peace. The declaration cites the military, financial and economic administrative and social measures that the Government will submit.

The declaration promises a financial equilibrium through retrenchment in expenditures, measures for the repression of frauds injurious alike to the treasury and to French trade, bills dealing with the responsibility for accidents in workshops and factories, and the regulation of the hours of labor of children and women, bills providing for a superannuation fund for miners, reform of the bankruptcy laws and the safety of miners, and bills relating to benefit societies, savings banks; organized poor relief in rural districts, and for the extension of agriculture and the completion of the rural code. Finally the declaration demands the united Republican vote upon the ministerial scheme of military legislation. The reading of the declaration was received with indifference.

The Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 531 to 13, passed the appropriation asked by the Government.

In the Reichstag today the second paragraph of the Cereal Bill was approved. It includes the proposal of Dr. Windthorst that the bill take effect from Nov. 26 last, and contains a provision that importations under contract before that date be admitted at the old rates until Jan. 15.

The Bundesrath has approved the recommendations of the committee for amending the Socialist law, including a provision for the exclusion from the Reichstag of men proved to be Socialists.

The Queen has received a reassuring report from San Remo to the effect that the telegrams about the Prince's condition are inaccurate or exaggerated.

The Queen will visit San Remo either the middle of next month or about the third week in March. Prince Christian, who has gone to Berlin, is charged by the Queen with a private mission on family affairs to Emperor William.

The board room of the Board of Guardians, Kilkenny, has been offered for a meeting of the National League, in defiance of the police authorities. The meeting will be held with closed doors.

The suit of McHenry against Mr. Bischoffsheim, the banker, has been dismissed by the magistrate, who held that the charges of false pretences were not proved.

The dissenting ministers held a mass meeting at Manchester to-day, to protest against the British Government's action in relation to Ireland.

The Marquis of Hartington received the freedom of the City of London to-day, in recognition of his services in defence of the Empire.

It is stated that Alexander Morrison, leader of the Land Law Reform movement in Lewis, has been asked by the Government to proceed to British Columbia to report upon the province as a colony for the settlement of the Crofters. Some surprise has been expressed here that British Columbia should be the first to secure the co-operation of the British Government in State-aided emigration among the number of big schemes previously urged on the Ministry. The explanation is that the ground was well prepared for Mr. Begg's proposals by the previous schemes for Crofter emigration submitted to the Ministry, who, however, would rather deal with a Government than with a private company. It is rumored that Mr. Chamberlain, after his visit to the Crofters, strongly urged their emigration on the Government.

The Times' Paris correspondent reports the story that M. Grevy destroyed two of the Limousin letters because his name appeared in them and says that the scandal once was dismissed to avoid implicating Grevy.

A DISASTER IN CHINA.

Two Cities Completely Inundated by the Overflowing of the Yellow River.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—The steamship City of Sydney arrived to-day from Hong Kong and Yokohama. Chinese papers give details of a disaster occasioned by the Yellow River overflowing its banks in the Province of Hanan, and describe it as one of the most appalling disasters in loss of life and property recorded in recent times. The river broke its banks on the evening of Sept. 28, southwest of the city of Ching Chow, and not only completely inundated that city, but also ten other populous cities. The whole area is now a raging sea ten to thirty feet deep. It was once a densely populated and rich plain. The former bed of the Yellow River is now dry and the present lake was the bed of the river centuries ago. The loss of life is incalculable, and the statement is made by missionaries that millions of Chinese are homeless and starving.

THE WAR CLOUD IN RUSSIA.

IT IS NOT AS OMINOUS AS MANY HAVE SUPPOSED.

The St. Petersburg Military Gazette Says there —Austria, While Maintaining a Strong Lookout on the Frontier, Will Wait Developments.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The St. Petersburg Military Journal, commenting on the recent concentration of troops on the Austrian frontier, says: Notwithstanding evident dangers, Russia thanks a European war would be a great misfortune to all mankind. While her neighbors were increasing their forces, she was decreasing her defensive forces, having reduced her peace effectives, in 1881 and 1883, by nearly 100,000 men. The Afghan affair and the necessity of improving her mobilization system forced her to raise her effective forces when her neighbors raised their fighting strength. Yet the Russian army has 75,125 less men at the present time than in 1881, and during the same period, her neighbors' peace effective have been raised 75,000. In case of war, Russia would doubtless raise a powerful army, but she would have to overcome difficulties of concentration on the frontier which her neighbors have reduced to a minimum. 2625 kilometres of railway have been constructed in the provinces of Russia during the last ten years.

In the German and Austrian Eastern Provinces during the same period 5200 kilometres have been built. Moreover, the area in which Russia has constructed railways is twice as large as that in which her neighbors have built such lines. The Russian railways nowhere pass outside the [illegible] lines of the triangle formed by St. Petersburg, Warsaw and Odessa. Our neighbor's lines, however, run straight out to the Russian frontier. It is easy to understand that these are not constructed for advanced posts, but for the concentration of troops. A glance at the map will suffice to show that a close network of railways covers the district along the Russian [illegible] Compared with the insignificant number of railways that Russia can rely upon, only from the German, but from the Austrian frontier Russian territory is menaced by rapid invasion. The most effective [illegible] against this danger would be to construct Russian railways until they attain the proportions of our neighbors. But for this an expense time is required and, therefore, there is only one course, to improve our [illegible] and fortresses and increase the number of troops on the frontier and thereby guard against surprise.

Our neighbors, increased military [illegible] tions in 1886 compelled Russia to [illegible] counter measures, which will be [illegible] executed. The transfer of a few cavalry [illegible] ments on the Vistula might certainly be the pretext to excite the press and [illegible] opinion to charge Russia with warlike intentions. German and Austrian military [illegible] tities understand the defensive character of this measure. They can calmly calculate how many corps Russia will have to send to the frontier while peace is undisturbed, so as to [illegible] concentrating at any given point the troops and means at her disposal might [illegible] place Russia on a footing of equality with her opponents. They can also calculate the strength of the forces with which in the event of war Russia could be rapidly invaded. They can still hope by sudden action to win [illegible] paratively cheap laurels, but high [illegible] military officers, who do not fear the [illegible] issue of a conflict even if the whole forces of the Peace League moved out against Russia, nevertheless openly recognize that the defensive Russian territory is not yet secured, and if the Peace League considers itself justified in developing its defensive measures so far as to bring certain Russian districts under the range of the guns of its most advanced forts, Russia has the undoubted right to provide for her defence and to take every measure to uphold the honor and maintain the inviolability of her territory.

The article of the Military Journal has created a sensation in Vienna. The opinion is expressed that it will not change the attitude of Austria. Active measures of defence will be taken until it is shown that Russia is [illegible] her threatening preparations. Count Kalnoky and the German Ambassador had a long interview together and it led to an agreement between their respective governments on the decisions of the Austrian Military Council. The grave character of the situation has not been underestimated in Austria. The decision passed to the Austrian Government by the German Alliance have never been lost sight of, and the authorities have not remained idle, although they have been anxious to avoid as much as possible measures calculated to be interpreted by Russia as acts of [illegible] Reinforcements of cavalry are ready to be sent to Galicia at a moment's notice, and in the event of fresh movements of Russian troops Huts are being built along the line of defence and accommodation for reinforcements will soon be provided.

Collision on the L. & N.W. Railway.

HAMILTON, Dec. 15.—Two freight trains collided on the Northern and Northwestern Railway at Allandale this morning. Both engines were considerably damaged and the driver of one, Thomas Moore by name, was seriously injured.

Gen. Laurie Has a Small Majority.

HALIFAX, N.S., Dec. 15.—Full returns from Shelburne County give Gen. Laurie, the Government candidate, a majority of six over Thomas Robertson.

Hamilton's Morality Candidate.

HAMILTON, Dec. 15.—Mr. A. Brown, President of the Moral Reform Association, was nominated to-night by that association as a candidate for mayoralty of this city in the coming municipal elections.

HALIFAX, N.S., Dec. 15.—Lovitt, Liberal, is elected in Yarmouth. Total votes: Lovitt 1546; Crosby, Conservative, 963.

The Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1887.

THE United States have at length got almost even with Canada—they, too, have got a Senator Plumb—almost even, for the Yankee imitation is not a post, but he's a protectionist and in that sense he is equal to our own especial supervising legislator—the original Plumb. The Yankee political prune is out with a proposal to provide for the disposing of the United States surplus by building post offices in the minor towns and cities of the Union. Here he is behind our Plumb again, or rather behind the party of which our Plumb is is so prominent an ornament. The Tory party has managed to keep down the Canadian surplus by building post offices in every town where political capital could thereby be gained. In fact, so great was the anxiety to see that there was no surplus left to tempt our easily tempted ministers, that, as in Peterborough, the public money was spent to buy two sites for a post office, when, according to all known architectural principles, the building of one post office on two separate sites was an engineering feat beyond the resources of modern engineering or architectural skill Anyhow, the deed was done. The surplus is gone, and the question of disposing of it does not rob our Finance Minister of much sleep. With all our high taxation, there is no surplus. An extravagant administration has a spending or, rather, a squandering capacity, beyond the tax-paying powers of the people.

Re Municipal Matters.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I see by your issue of Wednesday that an "Elector," sometimes known as the good Samaritan, is again paying me marked attention. As might be expected from his diffidence and known modesty, he "dips beneath the rose" to conceal his genuine name, attributes, character and various, if not always appropriate, aliases.

Much of the public are aware that he has delivered numerous homilies and sermons on the apt subjects of morality, purity, piety, religion, and now lastly on the Scott Act. The uncertainty in his mind how far the influence of his writings might be affected by the subscription of his real name, has, no doubt, decided him to withhold it from publication. A few months ago he posed as the "Poor Man" or "Poor Man's Friend", and paid his regards to me, as a member of the Court of Revision for hardness of heart and insensibility to his pathetic appeal to have a $4,000 lot assessed for $1,000 and other property assessed in like ratio. Another writer at the time repudiated his answering for the "poor man", and asserted broadly that he was a rich lawyer. This, perhaps, it was that caused him to remain corked up (so reference to the Scott Act is meant) till the present, which is about the proper season to make another nameless effort, to cast me out from the good opinion of ratepayers, and to constitute a Council that will give him protection from that spectre he has lately suffered from, known as Town Taxes. Being a "poor man" and never having borne much of the burdens of the general public, I can understand that he thinks it harsh and oppressive that he should, at this late day, have to submit to a higher responsibility than he has hitherto experienced.

In conclusion permit me to say that the statements in the letter of "Elector" regarding my views and position on the Scott Act are altogether unwarranted.

I am very decidedly of the opinion that all the laws of our town should be strictly enforced.

At the request of ratepayers I am again a candidate for councillor for the Third Ward. I do not seek the position from any selfish motive, for I have no personal interests to advance. If elected I will perform my duties, as in the past, without fear or favour either as a member of the court of revision or any other responsible place assigned to me.

I can assure "Elector" and all other citizens that he and they will receive from me fair handed justice, however disagreeable that may be, as far as my ability and influence will extend.

I think I may safely assert that the affairs of the town during the past year have, if the low rate of taxation and the improved condition of our streets, etc., are an indication, been conducted in an economical and judicious way. Fortunately this has been done without incurring a debit, but instead a very substantial credit to our account for the coming year. The fines from enforcement of the Scott Act admittedly have aided much in reducing taxation, and I believe I may claim a great deal of credit for securing this money for the town, and in not allowing it to be diverted to County purposes.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,
W. H. MOORE.

Peterborough, Dec. 15, 1887.

Farmers For Commercial Union.

Annual Session of the Northumberland, Durham and Peterborough Division Grange—Unanimously in Favor of Commercial Union.

The annual session of this Grange was held in the Foresters' Hall, Peterborough, on Wednesday, 14th inst.

The Committee on Credentials reported the following members entitled to a seat in the Division Grange:—

G. J. Galvin, Gavin Preston, Wm. Nicholls and wife, No. 605, Lakefield; W. A. Glover, J. F. Clew, 116 Oak Hills; Martin Parker, 921 Bellfiebero; John Doyle and wife, Wm. Robbins, E. Weir and wife, 599 Ennismith; Thos. Medd, James Brock, 383 Millbrook; T. B. Carlaw, Wm. Moore, W. J. Wiggins, 516 Warkworth; Thos. Johnson, D. D. Henderson, 520 Otonabee; Jas. Moore, 520 Hastings; James Tindle, Andrew Young, 598 Smith; John Kent, 591 Plainfield; D. Kennedy and wife, John Doyell, 592 Smith.

The honorary members present were Wm. Graham, 598 Smith; John Garbutt and wife, 592 Smith; H. C. Garbutt, R. H. Henderson and wife, 598 Lakefield; Robt. Doyell, 592 Otonabee, J. R. Rogers, Oshawa.

There were also several visitors from Granges in the Division present.

At precisely one o'clock p.m. Worthy Master Hugh Davidson called the meeting to order and addressed the members at considerable length on the state and prospects of the Order in the Dominion. He congratulated the Grange on the large and influential representation present, and hoped they would earnestly devote the time at their disposal to the consideration of the best interests of the tillers of the soil. He referred to several topics of interest to the agricultural people, the most prominent among them at the present time being the great question of Commercial Union, upon which he said a committee of prominent members were appointed whose report would be discussed at the evening session of the Grange.

The several committees were then appointed.

D. Kennedy and W. J. Wiggins, auditors, reported the finances of the Grange in a satisfactory condition, there being a balance on hand of $20.52.

The reports from the different Granges in the division showed a more satisfactory state of things than was expected.

The following officers were then elected, and Peterborough selected as the next place of meeting:—

Hugh Davidson	Master
Wm. Brisbin	Overseer
T. B. Carlaw	Lecturer
E. Weir	Steward
G. J. Galvin	Asst. Steward
Thos. Johnston	Chaplain
James Tindle	Treasurer
James Brock	Secretary
James Davidson	G. Keeper
Mrs. John Garbutt	Ceres
" Hugh Davidson	Pomona
" D. Kennedy	Flora
" Wm. Nicholls	Lady Assistant

Executive Committee—Thos. McCamus, Thos. Medd, H. C. Garbutt, D. D. Henderson, J. F. Clew, Edward Weir.

The officers were installed by D. Kennedy of the Dominion Grange.

EVENING SESSION.

On the assembly of the Grange at 7 o'clock p.m., Messrs. D. Kennedy, Otonabee; T. B. Carlaw, Warkworth, and James Moore, Hastings, the Committee on Commercial Union, reported in its favor, and recommended the members of the Grange not to allow politics to divide them upon this question, but to unite their influence with Farmers' Institutes and others who are endeavoring to secure a reciprocity of trade with the United States.

The reading of the report brought nearly all the members to their feet, and elicited one of the best discussions that ever took place in Northumberland and Durham Division.

The Worthy Master, Mr. Davidson; J.B. Rogers, Oshawa; James Brock, Cavan; Wm. Brisbin, Roseneath; T. B. Carlaw, Warkworth; James Moore, Asphodel; Andrew Young, Smith; G. J. Galvin, Lakefield; D. Kennedy, Otonabee, and J. F. Clew, Oak Hills, spoke at considerable length. The debate was well maintained throughout the whole evening, and many of the members who had attended commercial union meetings expressed themselves well pleased at the intelligence and skill with which the subject was handled. It is evident that the farmers are better acquainted with this subject than they generally get credit for.

The vote was taken at a late hour, and resulted in the unanimous adoption of the report.

Christmas Presents.

There is no need for Peterborough people to go out of town now for fine goods in china, silver, etc. China Hall has a stock equal to any in Canada. Chamber sets from $1.00 to $32.00, tea sets from $2.00 to $50.00, dinner sets from $3.50 to $65.00, silver pieces from 25c. to $200 in value. Every article in the two show rooms suitable for 'Xmas presents. A magnificent city stock at town prices. dw

FACTS, Sir; Nothing But Facts!

GOUGH

Is hard up and must raise the wind—he has too many Overcoats on hand, and he must, like the Waggon-Maker who has too many Sleighs on hand in an open Winter, sell them at any price.

Lots of other fellows have got the Stomach Ache—because GOUGH sells so cheap. Witness how the Dry Goods tumbled when the Wonderful Cheap Man took a hand in—One Chap over in the wholesale Fish District, has his ads written in Penntown, where the sewers run on top of the Stock. He feels so bad he don't know how to describe it, so says: "He's crippled in Price;" we don't doubt it. Then there is another one he is tied up to Crowbar Bros. of Gotham—these fellows are as stiff on their prices as a Crowbar, and squeeze 50 per cent, profit out of their poor victims, but the victims are under the thumb of Crowbar Bros. and can't help themselves—Then there is the fellow who cannot advertise, It makes him nervous, he uses a whole quart of Camphor a day, and tells customers, "GOUGH is selling so Cheap, it is perfectly demoralizing to trade; I don't know how all this is coming out"—It merely comes out that the customer steers straight for the Wonderful Cheap Man--Then there is another fellow, if he sees one of GOUGH'S men on the street he yells "give aways;" he knows GOUGH gives away more than the high-priced fellows sell.

In the interest of the public I want $10,000 and I must have it. I am after a big Bankrupt Stock the biggest yet, and it requires the cash to get it. Therefore I will from now until January 1st, give ON OVERCOATS AND SUITS A DISCOUNT OF 20 PER CENT. on my former low prices. If this is not the truth I will forfeit $500. Here is a chance now for any one who doubts it to bribe my salesmen and make $500. In addition to the 20 per cent. discount, I will present any person who buys $25 worth or over, with a beautiful Tweed Rubber Coat for a Christmas present.

WARD No. 1.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

In accordance with the expressed wish of many influential citizens in your ward, I have the honor of announcing my intention to stand as a candidate for Councillor at the forthcoming Municipal Elections.

My platform is

JUSTICE,
TEMPERANCE,
ECONOMY,

and will, if elected, do all that is in the power of one man to do for the people who intrust their work to me.

Should a personal canvass be impossible, I trust that those who desire my election will do all in their power to further it.

Very respectfully,
dw DANIELL SAUNDERS.

To the Electors of
No. ONE WARD

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the request of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to be a candidate for Councillor for No. One Ward. Believing that I can promote your interest and being willing to give my best abilities and attention thereto, I respectfully solicit your support.

Yours Respectfully,
dw HARRY WINCH.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavored to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

J. STEVENSON.

Magistrate Dugas Makes Public His Evidence Against the Montreal Detectives.

MONTREAL, Dec. 15.—Constable Plante, who is accused of conspiracy in the robbery of a ring from Mr. Dufresne with Detective Nagele, and who has been admitted to bail, has been suspended from his functions as special constable and night watchman.

Detective Maxwell concluded his evidence to-day and Detective Flynn and Judge Dugas have also been examined.

Judge Dugas has made his evidence public. It is in effect that the witness had been informed that Bureau wanted to see him and he was consequently taken into the witness' private room, where, after being warned that every admission he would make would be voluntary and would be used against him, he stated that Fahey had one day asked him for the key of the vault and subsequently Nagele got the key. The robbery was committed on that day, and Nagele afterwards gave him (Bureau) $25, but he got no share of the money. Bureau afterwards withdrew his admissions in Fahey's presence, stating that he had been influenced by Flynn and others to make that confession. That he had been offered his liberty in four days if he would do so and was also promised money for his wife if he would say that Fahey and Nagele were guilty.

Mr. C. Glackmeyer, jr., Clerk of the City Registration Office, was called before Judge Desnoyers and made a verbal deposition and explanation of the circumstances surrounding the safe robbery in the registration office, and the alleged connection which Fahey and Nagele had with it. Before leaving the room the magistrate enjoined silence upon him as towards the press.

MAD IN A PLAY-HOUSE.

A Young Woman Becomes Insane During a Performance in a Theatre.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—There was quite a scene at the Grand Opera House here to-night. At the end of the first act of the play "L'Article 47," where Miss Clara Morris, as the creole girl Cora, is shot by her lover, Miss Annie Hunter, a member of the audience, suddenly became insane. It will be remembered that several years ago this young woman went to the Treasury Department, where George Morgan, a son of Senator Morgan, was at his desk, and, calling the young man out in the street fired at him repeatedly with a revolver. The shots, however, inflicted only slight wounds and the young clerk refused to prosecute her. It is thought that the shooting scene she witnessed at the theatre to-night recalled her trouble with young Morgan and affected her mind.

MAYOR HOWLAND AT NEW YORK.

Over Five Hundred Guests Assemble to Greet Him at a Brooklyn Reception.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The impression made by Mayor Howland of Toronto in New York has been most satisfactory. His address before an immense audience in Steinway Hall was most successful and is likely to have an important influence upon future movements here in regard to observance of the Sabbath and the regulation of saloons in this city. The Mayor was entertained on Tuesday evening at a reception at the house of Elliot F. Shepard, son-in-law of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and last evening a splendid entertainment was afforded him in Brooklyn at the house of Mr. Robert J. Kimball, the well-known banker. Over 200 guests were invited, including the leading people of this city and Brooklyn, and nothing could exceed the heartiness and kindness with which the Mayor was received in both cities.

J. W. Roots Committed for Trial.

GUELPH, Dec. 15.

The preliminary hearing of the case against J. W. Roots, charged with manslaughter, was finished at Guelph on Wednesday. Roots, who lives in Parkdale, was the Toronto agent of the Dome Insurance Company of London, and in that capacity put into the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, one of the company's furnaces. The hotel was burned down recently and a man perished in the flames. It is now alleged that the fire was due to the defective construction of the furnace and that Roots was criminally careless in the matter, hence the charge of manslaughter. The Guelph Magistrate heard evidence on Tuesday and Wednesday and committed the accused for trial. Bail was refused but it will be applied for at Osgoode Hall.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dennerault's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and cause a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Hope Remember.

"Never despair," is a good motto for all. If afflicted with any lingering disease, remember "while there's life there is hope." Never despair of relief until you have tried Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures diseases of the stomach, liver and blood when all other medicines fail. 2w49d

Invisible but Instantaneous

All pains or aches will be instantly removed by a few drops of Fluid Lightning applied over the affected parts. No time lost; no nauseous medicines needed; no poultices or using greasy liniments. Cutting Prices.

On Saturday, Dec. 17th, you will find, on the counters of H. S. GRIFFIN & Co., goods at prices unsurpassed in the live town of Peterborough. Winter goods must be sold even at a loss, and it is the decision of H. S. Griffin & Co. to do so. Mantles at and under cost. Goods marked down to suit the times. When out buying call at the Crystal Block. 2d

DEAR people do not buy Cotton boots and shoes, but buy KIDD'S boots, they are surely the best.

Two Days' Devil-Licking.

The Salvation Army yesterday and to-day are having a big "jubilification" which they call a "two days' devil licking." The parades Thursday were of an imposing nature, while the street procession to-night is expected to eclipse them all. Over forty officers from all parts of the division are expected to participate. Adjutant Bolton is in command. The barracks meetings are drawing large crowds.

Newspaper Reporting.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, editor of the Review, gave a talk on the above named subject to the Business College students yesterday. It was very interesting, well delivered and received deserved applause at the close.

Go direct to Turnbull's, The Cheap Dry Goods House, for Fine Wool Goods, Heavy Scotch Shawls, Table Linens, &c., &c., for the Christmas Trade.

Always Taking The Lead

In the grocery line W. J. Morrow is always taking the lead. Holiday Goods must be sold cheap and as he is carrying a large stock now is the time to buy New Fruits, Raisins, Currants, Peels, Lemons, Oranges, Figs, Prunes, &c. Try our Blended Black Teas, Japans and Hysons. The steady advance in Sugars is making no difference with him in the prices owing to the large stock he carries. Opera House Block. dw

The Cartoonist at the Opera House.

There were full seats at the Opera House last night to hear and witness the illustrated lecture of Mr. J. W. Bengough, the celebrated and clever cartoonist of Grip. His subject was intended to prove the assertion that mirth and humour are innate in human beings, and that laughter is an exhibition of the possession of this sense, necessary to happiness. The text of Mr. Bengough's address was full of wit and humour, and almost every sentence contained some lurking witticism or incisive satire. It is possible that so subtle and delicately suggestive were many of his "jokes" that the audience, as a whole did not "catch on". Of course there was abundant laughter and applause, but many of the best points were allowed to pass without any demonstration of approval. His wonderful sketching powers were worthy of all praise. All the sketches were done in color and as the picture grew under the artists deft fingers, there was breathless admiration till the finished picture showed some well known politician or local character, when loud applause greeted the crayonist's triumph. The most successful sketch was that of Sir Charles Tupper, to illustrate the "evolution" of man. The artist began at his feet and built his work upward, and when he came to the right hand extended suggestively in the rear, the whole of the story of how Dr. Tupper has grown rich in office was told, and when the finished picture brought out the features and perfect portrait of the Great Stretcher, there was loud applause. The completion of the cartoon was the best part of it. It represented Mr. John Carnegie in a very belligerent attitude, shaking his clenched fist in Sir Tupper's face, and saying, "If you don't build the Trent Valley Canal there'll be a row." Not one in a hundred in the audience, perhaps, understood the point, for it was only two or three hours before that, at the Trent Valley Canal meeting, Mr. Carnegie declared his lack of confidence in Sir Charles Tupper in reference to the canal, and roundly denounced him. The mimetic portions of the lecture were excellent. The rendition of the Mother Hubbard sermon pleased many better than the same burlesque by Stuart Rogers. The imitations of Mark Twain and Henry Irving were excellent, and the musical burlesque of Brignoli's lovemaking was exceedingly well done. Altogether the lecture was a delightful three hours' fun. If the large audience was an evidence of Bengough's power to draw, his holding their attention for three solid hours was an evidence of the strength of his "Grip."

Meeting of the Delegates—An Association Formed—An Overwhelming Mass of Evidence to be Placed Before the Commissioners.

The Council Chamber was well filled on Wednesday afternoon with delegates, assembled to consider Trent Valley Canal matters. Mayor Stevenson occupied the chair. Among those present were :—

LINDSAY—A. Hudson, J. Dobson, Thos. Walters, Col. Deacon.

TRENTON—G. W. Ostrom and A. Urquhart.

FENELON FALLS—Rev. J. Logan and S. Swenton.

BOBCAYGEON—G. W. Bick, Capt. Bottom, J. L. Read, W. Kennedy, J. Jenkin, A. McIntyre, A. Trotter, J. F. Robinson.

VERULAM—Chas. Fairbairn.

LAKEFIELD—C. Carveth, Capt. Dion, Geo. McIlmoyle.

NORWOOD—John Findley.

HARVEY—Jos. Hicks.

PETERBOROUGH—Geo. Hilliard, Ex-M.P.P.; J. Carnegie, Ex-M.P.P.; Councillors Manloll, Cahill, Moore, Kelly; Mr. J. E. Belcher, county engineer; Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Geo. Giroux, D. W. Dumble, E. E. Bowle, A. Allen, D. Allison.

ASHBURNHAM—John Barnham, Reeve; Messrs. H. Calcutt, H. T. Strickland.

OTONABEE—Geo. Stewart, Warden of the county.

Letters regretting their unavoidable absence were read from Messrs. W. H. Cross, of Barrie; M. Boyd, Bobcaygeon; and H. W. Day, Trenton.

MAYOR STEVENSON called the meeting to order and announced that they had been called together to consider the best means of laying evidence before the newly appointed commissioners in regard to the continuation of the Trent Valley Canal. He understood the Commissioners were also to consider what portions of the work it would be best to take up next. He presented a copy of the official instructions given the Commissioners as to their duties.

At the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Logan, those present organized themselves into a society called the "Trent Navigation Association."

The copy of instructions to the commissioners was then read, and copies of the orders-in-council authorizing the appointment of a commission "to consider and determine the question of the expediency of extending the line of water communication as at present existing between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario (Bay of Quinte), by way of the Trent Valley Canal, and of constructing additional works for the benefit of local navigation which might ultimately form part of an enlarged scheme," etc.; and appointing Judge Clark, Frank Turner, C.E., and J. Kennedy, C.E., commissioners, each "at a salary of $20 a day for each day on which he is actually in session or engaged in travel in connection with his duties as commissioner, together with the actual amount of the travelling expenses incurred by him on such duty."

MR. HILLIARD thought the government were casting a slur upon the canal scheme when, after so much had been done, they appointed a commission to consider the "expediency" of continuing it. His heart was in the thing, he said, and, though he had been a life-long Conservative, he was willing to lay aside all political bias, and vote for the party that built the canal.

Rev. Mr. LOGAN said he was in the same position and entertained the same opinion as Mr. Hilliard.

Mr. BURNHAM suggested that a small committee be appointed to procure the proper evidence to place before the commissioners. This idea was acted upon and the following committee was appointed :—John Carnegie, Peterborough; M. Boyd, Bobcaygeon; Mr. Cross, Barrie; Mr. Murphy, Trenton; R. C. Strickland, Lakefield; Rev. J. Logan, Fenelon Falls; J. Dinwoodie, Campbellford; H. Fowlds, Hastings; Col. Deacon, Lindsay; the Orillia and Midland representatives to be selected afterwards.

On motion of Mr. MOORE the committee was enlarged by making the Mayors of towns along the route, and the Wardens of the counties of Hastings, Victoria, Peterborough, Ontario and Simcoe, ex-officio members. It was also moved and carried that five members be quorum, the first named on the committee to be chairman and convener.

Mr. CARNEGIE said that though some people expressed great faith in the government, yet he thought the Minister of Railways and Canals was trying to work a scheme to wriggle out of the Trent Valley Canal business in appointing a commission to consider the "expediency" of finishing it. For his part he wanted to see such an overwhelming mass of evidence placed before the commission that they would have no alternative but to report favorably. To that end there must be funds raised, and the committee had an important work to do.

Mr. BURNHAM said the committee would have to fight against the misleading report of Engineer Rubidge, who had made such an excessive estimate, over twenty millions, that the government were frightened.

The question of raising funds was next discussed, the majority thinking as the government had put them in this position it was better to ask them to stand the expenses of securing evidence than the municipalities. On motion Mayor Stevenson was requested to make the proposition to the government.

REV. MR. LOGAN moved, seconded by Mr. Carnegie, "that we express our entire approbation with regard to the appointment of Judge Weller in place of Judge Clark."

Mr. MOORE raised the objection that the motion, if carried, might look like a reflection upon Judge Clark. This view of the matter was taken by the movers and the matter was dropped.

Mr. D. W. Dumble offered some valuable suggestions to the committee regarding the nature of the evidence that should be placed before the Commission.

After a little further discussion the meeting adjourned.

Upon the adjournment of the general meeting the executive committee met and appointed Mr. J. Stevenson, M.P., chairman, and Mr. John Carnegie, secretary.

Farewell Presentation.

Miss Winter, who has been for the past five years head milliner in Mr. Jas. Alexander's establishment, is about to leave town and take residence in Newmarket, where, it is rumored, she intends to permanently reside. Her employer and fellow-employees have not allowed the occasion to pass without giving Miss Winter some practical token of their esteem and regard. Thursday evening they, with a number of other friends, assembled at the residence of Mr. Alexander, Stewart street, and during the evening, which was spent in social enjoyment, Miss Winter was presented with a beautiful silver tea set comprising six pieces, purchased from Mr. W. A. Sanderson, accompanied by the following address, read by Mr. Alexander, to which she briefly but feelingly replied :—

PETERBOROUGH, ONT., Dec. 15.

DEAR MISS WINTER,—It is with sincere regret that we, your employer and employees, have heard of your intention to leave us. During the five years you have remained in our midst we have always found you faithful in the discharge of your duties and one whom it is a pleasure to claim as a friend. We cannot allow you to depart without giving you some tangible expression of esteem. We have much pleasure in presenting you with the accompanying silver tea set as in some degree manifesting our regard for you, and trust that it will serve as a pleasant reminder of the many kind friends you are leaving behind you in Peterborough.

Trusting that you may have a bright future before you full of happiness and prosperity, and that the Most High may keep you under His protection all the days of your life.

THE ROBBER DETECTIVES.

SOME OF THE EVIDENCE TAKEN AGAINST FAHEY AND HIS PALS.

Wilson, the Other Detective Concerned in the Case as a Witness, Is a Theatrical Man—Constable Plante Re-Arrested on Another Charge.

MONTREAL, Dec. 16.—The evidence of Detective Maxwell of the Grand Trunk Railway was furnished to the public by Judge Desnoyers to-day. The evidence gives details of the Bonaventure Depot robbery and from the time he registered at Balmoral as J. H. Craig and was introduced to Fahey and Naegele as a cracksman. Naegele had afterwards said it had been badly managed, but said they would do better next time. Fahey came in while Naegele was in the room, and all four of them, viz., Fahey, Naegele, Wilson and Maxwell engaged in conversation. During the talk Fahey said that where they only got $1200, they should have got $7000 or $8000, attributing the failure to Wilson, who, he said, had weakened. Fahey also detailed how they went to Phillips' house. Witness told how Fahey and Naegele took him and Hayner, otherwise Wilson, and showed them all the places they could burglarize. The witness was subjected to a very severe cross-examination, but it failed to shake his evidence in the least.

Detective Flynn was the next witness, and in his evidence he gave Detective Wilson's right name as Frank Hayner, and stated that he was an actor and was also formerly employed as shop-walker in Lord & Taylor's, New York. He admitted that he was not in the city at present; that he had left to enjoy a little repose from the annoyance and worry incident to this case, but that he would be forthcoming so soon as his evidence would be required in the Court of Queen's Bench. He also played in a theatrical troupe at the Royal here in 1885 under the name of Mitchell.

Plante, the policeman who is charged with being connected with the robbery of a ring from Mr. Dufresne, and who was admitted to bail, was re-arrested to-day, charged with being concerned in the robbery of Lefebre's jewelry store in 1883.

TYPHOID FEVER IN OTTAWA.

An Analysis of the City Water Shows it to be Pure and Wholesome.

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—Professors Marsan and Tourchot have made their report on the analyses made by them of four samples of Ottawa River water taken at the front of the screen of the supply pipe at a depth of 11 feet 6 inches, two at the outlet of Rochester Creek (which has been charged with emptying a great quantity of sewage into the river), three at the waterworks pump house, and four at the Ottawa College. The results with the four samples were found to be practically identical. The analyses show a considerable percentage of organic matter, but this is found to be of a woody nature and due to the forests through which the river flows and the quantity of timber annually floated down the stream.

The professors say: "The quantity of ammonia is too small to show direct pollution of the water from sewage, as it does not equal the amount often found in rain water. Moreover, it is a well-known fact that snow precipitates ammonia from the atmosphere, prevents the evaporation of that developed in the soil, and in consequence concentrates it in the streams that drain the country. In the presence of a large amount of vegetable organic residue the sure detection of small quantities of animal matter becomes very difficult, but we are safe in concluding that the amount of it present in the water analyzed is so insignificant that it can have no deleterious effect."

In conclusion they say: "It does not belong to the chemist to determine whether a certain sample of water may contain germs of certain diseases. These do not change the chemical composition of the water and may be developed in the purest water. The only thing which we can conclude from the above analysis is that in respect of chemical purity the water supplied to the city may be ranked among the best potable water."

It would thus appear that impure water is not the cause of the epidemic of typhoid fever from which the city is suffering and the cause must probably be looked for in the drains.

New Mexican Robbers are Disposed of.

NOGALES, Ariz., Dec. 16.—An engagement has taken place between the Mexican troops under General Loiezon and several of Bernals's band. A number were wounded on both sides and one of the band was captured. Bicuri, the prisoner, refused to tell the hiding place of Bernals and was tied to a tree and shot. A scouting party afterwards found three of the robbers near Chacala and shot them.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

ALMOST A PANIC ON THE AUSTRIAN BOURSE.

The German Army Bill—Illness of the Marquis of Lorne—The Crown Prince's Condition—A Bill for the Expulsion of German Socialists.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The unanimous opinion of the Austrian Press is that the article published in the St. Petersburg official Military Jazette has increased the tension of the situation. The Pesther Lloyd says that Austria will be obliged to make military preparations which will involve heavy expenses. The same paper says it is not true that Roumania, in the event of war, will place two army corps on the Russian frontier. In any case the Roumanians will remain neutral. Persons who pretend to know believe that Russia may threaten, but will not venture to challenge the triple alliance.

The Marquis of Lorne is seriously ill with disease of the throat.

Lord Randolph Churchill, speaking at Stockport, said that the statement of Lord Hartington that the alliance between the Unionists and Conservatives would continue to be a close one was the chief feature of the recess. He was sorry to say that every sign of age, except wisdom, could be noticed in Mr. Gladstone's course. Referring to retrenchment, he said that an estimated surplus of from £2,000,000 to £3000,000 would be shown in the next budget, and that next year's expenditure would be reduced to £85,000,000, or £5,000,000 less than the figures given by Mr. Gladstone.

In a speech at Hull last night, Justin McCarthy said that before the last election Lord Carnarvon negotiated with the followers of Parnell with the intention of ousting Mr. Gladstone. Lord Carnarvon and himself were the sole negotiators, the former agreeing that the Conservatives should be prepared to concede any measure of Home Rule laid down by Mr. Parnell and himself. The negotiations fell through because of the perfectly true report that Mr. Parnell believed Mr. Gladstone was the best man to deal with.

On examination of the Crown Prince's throat to-day a very slight increase of the swelling was discovered. The British Medical Journal says that a few days ago an excrescence the size of a hemp seed was detected on the left ventricular band, which had previously been free from disease. A second tiny speck was noticed near the first two days later. They soon became fused and formed one warty looking mass growing so quickly that the vocal chord on that side is now concealed from view. No immediate danger exists, and the Prince does not suffer, but the case in its purely medical aspect is one of great complexity.

A new bill introduced in the Reichstag authorizes the expulsion of all Socialists who have incurred penalties for violations of the anti-Socialist law, or by belonging to secret societies. This will enable the Government to expel most of the Socialist members from Germany. The bill also provides for the punishment of anyone taking part in a Socialist congress.

According to Dr. McKenzie's opinion the appearance of the Crown Prince's throat is better than when he examined it in November. A small growth has formed higher up in the throat, but it was not the malignant appearance of the growth which appeared about the close of the Prince's stay at Bevero, but which has since decreased.

Dr. Mackenzie is about to make a professional visit to Algiers. He will return afterwards to San Remo. He would not go to Algiers if he considered the Crown Prince's case urgent.

There was almost a panic at the opening of the Vienna Bourse to-day on the announcement that Premier Von Tisza of Hungary had been summoned to attend a council of Ministers at Vienna.

LATER.—The Journal de St. Petersburg's article disclaiming Russia's responsibility for the present state of affairs in Europe helped the recovery of the market. Still Austrian rentes closed at a decline for the day of 2 per cent., and Hungarian rentes at a fall of 1½ per cent. Anglo-Austrian bank shares, which sold yesterday at 103, opened at 94, but recovered to 96. Credit Anstalt, Lombards and Lombergs fell 2 florins.

In the Reichstag to-day the Minister of War said that the object of the German Army Bill was that the Empire should become so strong that it could meet every danger calmly, from whatever quarter it might come. The Empire was strong, but in war it had to depend only upon its own strength. The bill aimed to increase the numerical strength of the army by the extension of the term of service in the landsturm. With this additional strength and the physical hardiness of the Germans, no difficulty will be experienced in putting the bill into force. He felt sure the Germans will not spare their powers when they will be called to beat off the enemy. The Minister in conclusion said he hoped the day when it would become necessary to put the measure to practical use was far off. Still everything must be in readiness, if an attack were made, for the German army to go to the front fully equipped in the most perfect manner, in order to again lead the German flag to victory.

MR. SHEEDY AGAIN ARRESTED.

The M.P. Sentenced to Three Months' Imprisonment in Clonmel Jail.

DUBLIN, Dec. 16.—Mr. Sheehy, M.P., who was arrested under the Crimes Act, was to-day sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labor. Notice was given of an appeal and Mr. Sheehy was admitted to bail. Upon being released he was again arrested on the charge of having participated in a meeting at Clonmel. Bail was refused and the prisoner was taken to Clonmel Jail.

A Political Secret Revealed.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Justin McCarthy speaking at Hull last night, said before the last election Lord Carnarvon negotiated with Parnellites, with the object of ousting Mr. Gladstone. The negotiations were conducted solely by Lord Carnarvon and himself. The former agreed to the stipulation that Conservatives should be prepared to concede any measure of Home Rule desired by Mr. Parnell and himself. The negotiations collapsed because of the perfectly true report that Mr Parnell considered Mr. Gladstone the best man to deal with.

The York Roads.

MARKHAM, Dec. 16.—A mass meeting of the ratepayers of Markham will be held at Unionville to-day to consider the question of the future maintenance of the York roads.

Mr. Chamberlain Cannot Accept.

MONTREAL, Dec. 16.—On Dec. 13 the Board of Trade telegraphed an invitation to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to attend a banquet in this city. Mr. Chamberlain replied yesterday, thanking the board and explaining that as he would be unable to stop at Montreal on his way to Ottawa, he was unable to fix a date for the banquet.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION LEAGUE.

An Address by Mr. Sandford Fleming on Commercial Union.

OTTAWA, Dec. 16.—At a meeting of the local branch of the Imperial Federation League here last night, Mr. Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., president of the branch, delivered an address. Regarding Commercial Union with the United States, he said that if it could be obtained on favorable terms he would welcome it with satisfaction. They all desired free commercial relations with that country. They desired it not only in Canada but in every British possession. Throughout every part of the British Empire there existed the most cordial and friendly feelings towards the United States, and the universal desire was that such feelings might be perpetuated. Such being the case, the Commercial Union which had been brought under our notice was much too narrow in its aim. They wanted one broader and farther reaching. It might well be asked, why should not Commercial Union embrace every country under the British flag? The considerations of Commercial Union would in no way interfere with the federation of the British possessions. It might, however, tend to widen the discussion and influence the consideration of a greater question—re-union of the two great English-speaking nations. Professor Mason read a paper on the Customs Union with England, and a resolution favoring Free Trade between Canada and Great Britain was, on motion of Mr. John Kean, tabled for discussion at the next meeting.

THE FINANCIAL NEWS' PROPOSAL.

Lord Rosebery's Opinion of Mr. Goldwin Smith.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The Financial News comments editorially on the rumor that the Canadian Government are about to take over the Canadian Pacific, giving in return a perpetual guarantee of 3 per cent. on the stock. It suggests that instead of the Government taking over the road the shareholders should retain it, with its land rights, and as a fair price for the perpetual guarantee should surrender to the Government the railway monopoly, the telegraphs, the right to transport troops, control the rates and one-half the profits beyond 3 per cent. on the stock. It continues that this would be quite fair, and that the Government should not be too hard on the shareholders.

Lord Rosebery, at Huddersfield, said Mr. Bright's doctrine that if Canada were independent she would knock under to the States and become perfectly happy, does not recommend itself to Canadians, who are a proud and independent people. Goldwin Smith, Lord Rosebery said, was the greatest disintegrator in the Empire, as he asserted that the colonies should leave the Mother Country and set up for themselves.

CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATORS.

The Names of the Nominees Submitted to Chancellor Boyd—Judgment Reserved.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.

In the Chancery Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall yesterday, Chancellor Boyd heard the argument on the report of President Blain of the Central Bank as to the meetings of the creditors and shareholders held on Tuesday. Mr. John Bain, Q.C., appeared for Mr. Robert Green, the original petitioner; Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., and Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C., for the bank; Mr. Hugh Scott and Dr. Pattullo represented the creditors, and Mr. Wm. Kersteman spoke for the shareholders.

Mr. Bain argued that as the creditors alone were interested in the bank's liquidation their nominees, Messrs. Campbell, Howland and Gooderham, should be appointed. Mr. Blake gave assent for the bank. Mr. Kersteman objected that, while the report made it appear that the shareholders desired that Mr. Gooderham and Mr. Stayner should be advisory liquidators with Mr. Campbell, the intention was that the three should have equal powers. Mr. Bain suggested that Mr. Campbell should be bound in $50,000 and the other two in $5000 or $10,000 each.

The Chancellor reserved judgment as to the nomination of the liquidators and also as to the form and amount of the bonds.

COLLISION ON THE NORTH RIVER.

A Steamship Collides With a Ferry Boat, Injuring Many Persons.

JERSEY CITY, Dec. 16.—A collision occurred on the North River to-night between the steamship Breakwater and the ferry boat Pavonia. The guards and a portion of the stern cabin on the gentlemen's side of the Pavonia were demolished. Three men were caught in the wreck and seriously injured. Frank Moriarty, 30 years, of Meaford, Mass., was hurt about the hips and chest; ex-Assemblyman David Henry, aged 50, was crushed about the knees and abdomen; Richard Coughlin, 75 years old, was hurt about the side and head and both of his ankles were broken. The excitement among the uninjured passengers on the ferry boat quickly subsided when it was ascertained that she was in no danger of sinking. Several of those who were slightly hurt left the boat as Jersey City with improvised bandages of handkerchiefs.

Presentation to Superintendent Gilkinson.

BRANTFORD, Dec. 16.—At the Indian Council House at Ohsweken, the other day, Superintendent Lieut.-Col. J. T. Gilkinson of the Six Nation Indians, in the presence of a large number of warriors and women, was highly honored. It was the occasion of the completion of twenty-five years of service as their chief head, and he was presented with a congratulatory address and an Indian sash of honor. The address alluded to the successful efforts of the Superintendent in the promotion of various projects for the advancement, welfare and prosperity of the Six Nations, and the general feeling of satisfaction and friendship toward that gentleman.

Superintendent Gilkinson made a happy reply, and shook hands with all the chiefs, warriors and women present.

SAFE IN THE WHITBY JAIL

DENNEN AND McCREA TAKEN TO THAT TOWN YESTERDAY.

The Preliminary Examination to Take Place To-day—Bartender Brown's Condition at Midnight—Reported That the Companions are to be Arrested.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.

High Constable Calvelry and Constable Dodds of Ontario County presented themselves before Ald. Baxter, J.P., in the Police Court yesterday and claimed custody of W. C. McCrea and J. S. Dennen, the Scott Act "detectives" who shot Bartender George Brown during the affray at Myrtle Station on the evening of Dec. 14. The officers were armed with three warrants: One issued by Major (not a military major) Harper, Police Magistrate for the County of Ontario, charging them with wounding with intent to kill; and two by Magistrate M. G. Robson of Port Perry, one charging them with wounding with intent to kill Burns and the other with shooting at with intent to wound Thomas Trebell of Port Perry. Ald. Baxter backed the warrants and the "detectives" were handed over to the officers from Whitby.

They were taken to that town on the 1 o'clock train. The preliminary examination, it is expected, will take place at Whitby this afternoon, when Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow will defend the prisoners and make application for bail. Major Harper will be the presiding magistrate. Mr. Bigelow says he has no fear of a fair trial in the County of Ontario. "South Ontario," said he to The World last evening, "is composed of a rich, well-informed, intelligent class of people. We will get justice there."

McCrea yesterday exhibited to the Whitby officers a hole on the left side of his overcoat, in the region of the heart. He claimed that it was a bullet puncture.

All Quiet at Whitby.

WHITBY, Dec. 16.—McCrea and Dennen arrived here this afternoon in charge of two constables. There was a large crowd at the Grand Trunk Station, but no attempts were made to molest the prisoners. They were locked up in the county jail without any interference.

Burns' Condition Unchanged.

MYRTLE STATION, Dec. 16.—Midnight—George Brown, the wounded bartender, still lies at Vernon's Hotel, just across the path from the station. At this hour his condition is not materially changed, but he is very low and weak. No trace of the bullets has yet been discovered. Dr. Starr, who is in attendance, says he cannot tell much about the man's exact condition.

Arrests To Be Made at Port Perry.

PORT PERRY, Dec. 16.—It is reported here this afternoon that the three men who accompanied Brown to Myrtle Station, are to be arrested on a charge of attempting to wound or kill the two "detectives." The excitement in this part of the county is still great.

The West Middlesex Election Case.

STRATHROY, Dec. 16.—The trial of the petition against the return of Dr. Rosone, Conservative, M.P. for West Middlesex, closed to-day. All but two of the charges were dismissed. Judge Falconbridge will give his decision on those two in Chambers at Toronto.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.

The number of municipal voters in the city has more than doubled in ten years. In 1878 the total vote was 7169 and in 1887 it was 16,058.

Mrs. W. H. Sanderson of 270 Wellesley-street was visiting at the home of a relative at 82 Bond-street yesterday afternoon. She left her $175 sealskin sacque hanging on the rack in the hall, but it was stolen between 6 and 7 o'clock by some sneak thief. The detectives desire to warn citizens against leaving their front doors unlocked at any time, and especially after six in the evening.

The talk of commercial people yesterday afternoon was the reported failure of Joseph Kidd of Dublin, Perth County, Ontario. Mr. Kidd was engaged in several lines of business: General store, drugs, grain and flour, lumber, etc. His liabilities are said to be over $100,000. Some Torontonians are said to be involved.

For several nights past Messrs. Impey and Sloan, night inspectors of the Waterworks Department have been doing their work over the Don. Between 1 and 2 yesterday morning they were opening a water plate on one side of Blong-street when suddenly a shot was fired from across the street. The inspectors had two lights with them, and of course were surprised at being taken for burglars. The bullet passed quite close to the men, and scared them not a little.

A short time previous to this incident they were testing the service opposite the house of a man named Brockinton. The plate of the service was frozen, so that it took some vigorous hammering to get it opened. During the process Brockinton was aroused from his chambers, and suspecting that the inspectors were burglars hunted up his revolver. Fortunately for the men, their inspection had concluded before the weapon was secured. Otherwise it would have been used at near range, and no doubt with injurious if not fatal effect. They had crossed over to the other side of the street when the shot was fired.

The Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number, for the United States, 254, and for Canada 34, or a total of 288, as against a total of 251 last week, and 244 the week previous to the last. The figures for the corresponding week of 1886 were 283, 200 in the United States and 28 in Canada. The large increase in the numbers of casualties this week over the previous week arises almost altogether in the Western States.

Reply to Mr. Moore.

To the Editor of the Examiner :—

I merely intend to answer that part of Mr. Moore's late letter which relates to the question of the taxation of my park lots. In 1884 they were assessed for $5,000. In 1885 they were assessed for $6,000. In 1886 they were assessed by the very same assessors for $12,600. And in 1887, by the same men, with Mr. McKee as third assessor, for $11,400. In 1886 I appealed to the court of revision, of which Mr. Moore was chairman, against the assessment for that year and my appeal was dismissed. I then appealed to the County Judge, but as I omitted to bring to his notice the fact that there were two park lots, each being under ten acres, and therefore assessable as farm lands, he did not feel at liberty to interfere, although on other appeals of the same kind, when his attention was called to this fact, he made the necessary reductions. The consequence was that for that year, owing to the hostility of Mr. Moore, I had to pay some $140 more than I should have done. In 1887 I again appealed to the court of revision against the assessment for that year, of which Mr. Moore was still chairman, and although he did all he could to dismiss my appeal the other members of that court reduced the assessment down to $7,000. I again appealed to the County Judge, who reduced it still further to $5,200, thus showing that I was right and Mr. Moore was wrong. I may mention here that, although my appeal to the County Judge was against the conduct of the Court of Revision, of which Mr. Moore was chairman, he had the bad taste to come before the Judge, bringing with him the three assessors, and do all he could to influence the Judge in favor of his own decision. Why did Mr. Moore do this? Who ever heard of the judge of a lower court going before the judge of a higher court sitting in appeal upon his own judgment, and there assume the character of an advocate in order to uphold his own decision? Nobody ever did hear of such conduct until Mr. Moore, in my case, set the bad example. Had the appellant been any other than me, it is hardly likely he would have done so. But he wanted to vent his personal spite against me, and therefore he went out of his way, and in a very unbecoming manner, too, to do so. I never imagined, until the occurrence of the above events, that Mr. Moore was possessed of such a bad disposition. I will now give the oath of office which Mr. Moore took, in both years, before taking his seat at the the Council board, and then I will have you to judge between us.

"I do solemnly promise and declare that "I will truly, faithfully and impartially, to "the best of my knowledge and ability, ex-"cute the office of councillor for which I "have been elected."

As regards my payment of my taxes I may just say that those appeals above mentioned, are the only instances in which I ever complained, and I am sure you will say justly complained, and I have paid taxes into the town treasury, through myself and my property, more taxes in one year than Mr. Moore will pay in his lifetime. As far as personal matters are concerned I leave them all to Mr. Moore. I close with calling attention to the fact that Mr. Moore has managed to get published his address to the electors free of charge under cover of a letter to me.

E. BURNHAM.

A Correction.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

In your report of the T. V. C. delegates' meeting in yesterday's issue, Mr. Burnham makes a misleading accusation, and I beg a short space in your columns to make a correction or two in justice to the accused. He said "the committee would have to fight against the misleading report of Engineer Rubidge, who had made such an excessive estimate, over twenty millions, that the Government were frightened." Surely Mr. Burnham had not availed himself of the Engineer's report, easily obtainable, or he would not have made such a blunder. I have seen and carefully read his report, which is in printed form, and I find no figures there to justify any such statement as Mr. Burnham makes. If I read correctly, and figures have'n't taken to lying, Mr. Rubidge's estimate is less than one-half the amount stated by Mr. Burnham, and I incline to the opinion that all fair minded men when they have carefully read his report will agree with me that so far as the Engineer's report is concerned, the Trent Valley Canal has been treated fairly and impartially at his hands. It now remains to be seen whether the Government has been frightened at the report of the Engineer. By giving this publication you will be but doing justice. "Fair play is bonnie play," say the Scotchmen, and so say I.

Yours,
JUSTICE.

Temperance in Municipal Matters.

Mrs. Youmans Says it is the only Live Issue. Mrs. Kendry's Call to Women.

The Opera House was not so well filled on Friday evening as it had been at Mrs. Youman's Wednesday evening address, though the lecture on this occasion was even more interesting than the previous one. Mrs. Jas. Kendry occupied the chair, and after an opening hymn had been sung by the audience she read a chapter from the Bible.

Mrs. KENDRY then made a brief address, in which she said it was an unusual thing for a woman to preside at a public meeting, but it seemed to her that since the publication of a recent letter in the EXAMINER every woman was challenged to do temperance work. Hitherto it has been charged that it was unwomanly for woman to have anything to do with affairs of government, but after this letter every woman who has a heart for the temperance cause—and who has not?—should work. The writer, of the letter, she said, made a sad mistake in numbering last. He said that if the women didn't vote for temperance candidates who would use to enforcing the Scott Act, and if afterwards their husbands came home drunk, they would have themselves to thank; whereas the fact was that these women who vote have no husbands. She concluded by urging the women to shoulder the burden in the cause of temperance.

Mrs. Youmans then began her address, which was founded upon the Bible story of Haman and Mordecai. Haman she likened to the demon drink, and his terrible end she predicted was but a fore-runner of the just death of the liquor traffic and those who engage in it. The men who granted liquor licenses, she said, were equally guilty with the liquor seller. Mrs. Youmans said she had been reading in the local papers that there were other questions to be considered besides temperance. So there were; but, she said, the was temperance (Applause). Once settle this liquor question, she said, and the tramp, poor house, strikes and other questions were settled. In conclusion Mrs. Youmans expressed her faith in coming prohibition.

Rev. I. Tovell spoke briefly on the subject, with which he said he was in full sympathy, and moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Youmans. Mr. Thos. E. Bell seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Tovell brought the meeting to a close.

Refreshments served from six o'clock. Admission, 10 cents. All are invited. 2d144

Organ Recital.

The organ recital in St. Paul's Church, Friday evening, attracted one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the church on a similar occasion. The silver collection amounted to about $40. There were thirteen numbers on the programme, comprising anthems by the choir, arias by Misses Vair and Cottingham and Mr. Baguley, and organ solos by Mr. J. S. Parker, organist and accompanist. The thirty voices in the choir blended most harmoniously in the anthems, an effect due probably as much to careful training and rehearsal as natural talent. The solos organ and vocal, were very pretty and brilliantly rendered. A the conclusion of the programme the members of the choir were entertained at supper in the school room by the ladies of the church.

Farewell to Father Fayolle.

Rev. Father Fayolle, French priest of the parish of Peterborough, left this morning for Cookstown, Minnesota, where he expects to enjoy better health than he has in Canada. He has secured charge of a large parish there, comprising two churches. A large number of friends said farewell to him at the station this morning. Friday afternoon a deputation of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, consisting of Messrs. E. C. Crevier, V. S.; H. LeBrun, T. Kelly, T. Cahill, F. Potvin, P. Brosseau and T. Dolan, waited upon Rev. Father Fayolle, and in the name of the congregation presented him with a handsome purse and wished him "God-speed." Messrs. Cahill, Crevier and LeBrun made farewell addresses, to which Fr. Fayolle replied feelingly, expressing the hope that he might at some future date be able to return to Peterborough to reside permanently.

FACTS, Sir; Nothing But Facts!

GOUGH

Is hard up and must raise the wind—he has too many Overcoats on hand, and he must, like the Waggon-Maker who has too many Sleighs on hand in an open Winter, sell them at any price.

Lots of other fellows have got the Stomach Ache—because GOUGH sells so cheap. Witness how the Dry Goods tumbled when the Wonderful Cheap Man took a hand in—One Chap over in the wholesale Fish District, has his ads written in Penntown, where the sewers run on top of the Street. He feels so bad he don't know how to describe it, so says: "He's crippled in Price;" we don't doubt it. Then there is another one he is tied up to Crowbar Bros. of Gotham—these fellows are as stiff on their prices as a Crowbar, and squeeze 50 per cent, profit out of their poor victims, but the victims are under the thumb of Crowbar Bros. and can't help themselves—Then there is the fellow who cannot advertise, It makes him nervous, he uses a whole quart of Camphor a day, and tells customers, "GOUGH is selling so Cheap, it is perfectly demoralizing to trade; I don't know how all this is coming out"—It merely comes out that the customer steers straight for the Wonderful Cheap Man--Then there is another fellow, if he sees one of GOUGH'S men on the street he yells "give aways;" he knows GOUGH gives away more than the high-priced fellows sell.

In the interest of the public I want $10,000 and I must have it. I am after a big Bankrupt Stock the biggest yet, and it requires the cash to get it. Therefore I will from now unti January 1st, give ON OVERCOATS AND SUITS A DISCOUNT OF 20 PER CENT. on my former low prices. If this is not the truth I will forfeit $500. Here is a chance now for any one who doubts it to bribe my salesmen and make $500. In addition to the 20 per cent. discount, I will present any person who buys $25 worth or over, with a beautiful Tweed Rubber Coat for a Christmas present.

POWDERLY IS VERY ILL.

The Belief is That He is Much Worse Than His Attendants Desire to Make Known.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 16.—Grand Master Workman Powderly's condition has not improved during the past twenty-four hours, and the belief exists that he is much worse than his relatives and the attending physician desire to make known to the public. The intelligence from the bedside of the labor chief has been unsatisfactory for two reasons. In the first place reporters have been loth to annoy the members of Mr. Powderly's household by frequent visits and pressing questions which would have no other result than causing pain and distress where grief already rests heavily. The physician in the case, Dr. W. E. Allen; has, therefore, been relied upon chiefly for information concerning the sick man, and the secretiveness which is generally characteristic of members of the medical profession has been a formidable barrier to the inquisitiveness of the men of the press, who have taken Dr. Allen's statements concerning Mr. Powderly's condition as an indication that the patient's illness is of a trivial nature, and that complete recovery is but the question of a day or two.

The fact of the matter is that he is in a critical condition and has been so since his arrival here last Tuesday. Yesterday the symptoms were alarming, a severe attack of hemorrhage having set in, which continued with distressing effect until early this morning. Dr. Allen says this morning that Mr. Powderly is suffering great pain, the result of a rupture of a small blood vessel, but that if he remains quiet for a few days and gets rest he will probably recover.

Sudden Death of a Comedian.

TROY, N.Y., Dec. 16.—John Howson, the comedian, dropped dead of heart disease in his room at the American House at 6.30 o'clock this evening. He has been playing as leading man for Lotta in "Pawn Ticket No. 210" this season, and the company was to have appeared at Rand's Opera House this evening. Howson was born in Australia 44 years ago.

Fire at Georgetown.

GEORGETOWN, Dec. 16.—This morning about 4 o'clock a fire broke out in Mr. Jackson's grocery, a wooden range occupied by W. T. Jackson, grocer; Mrs. McMaster, millinery and fancy goods, and J. Cane, barber. The building was completely destroyed. It was owned by Dr. W. J. Roe and was insured in the Caledonian and Norwich Union, $900 in each, and the contents in the Lancashire and Glasgow and London. The loss is unknown.

Five Men Killed by an Explosion.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., Dec. 16.—The explosion of a boiler in the Edison Electric Company's works to-day caused the death of five persons and the injury of three others. The dead are Walter Embree, superintendent Elwood Beckett, Edward Schofield, Wm. H. Richardson and Wm. Allison.

There Was Poison in the Cake.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Dec. 16.—Twelve or fifteen persons were poisoned last night by eating poisoned cake at a party. The victims were all badly affected and a number are still in a serious condition.

To Establish a Parcel Post.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Mr. N. M. Bell, Superintendent of Foreign Mails, has gone to New York to meet Mr. McLelan, Postmaster-General of Canada, for the purpose of negotiating a parcel post convention between the United States and Canada.

A $20,000 Horse Dead.

VERSAILLES, Ky., Dec. 16.—Messenger Chief, a noted trotting stallion, died from rupture Wednesday night. He was a bay horse, foaled in 1870 by Abdallah Pilot, dam by Mambrino Messenger, and is the sire of Maud Messenger, 2.16¼, and others.

Messenger Chief was owned by George A. Singerly of Philadelphia, who paid $20,000 for him and valued him at $30,000.

THE BOGUS CHECK GAME.

A Granger Meets Two Gentlemen at the Union Station—He Got the Wrong Train.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.

The old, old confidence game was worked, or an attempt was made to work it at Union Station yesterday. The workers were two men named John Moran, aged 29, printer, and John Roach, aged 32, railroad engineer, both of Montreal, as registered at Police Headquarters.

The pair caught a granger who was on his way to the Western States. One told the old story of having a freight account to pay and presented a check, while at the same time his partner came up and demanded payment of the bill.

The granger was not to be caught and he quietly let the pair slide by. But instead of getting on a Grand Trunk Railway train he got on board a Canadian Pacific Railway train and did not discover his mistake till he reached West Toronto Junction. Then he came back to the city. No sooner had he got on the platform than he identified the two "flucks" who had attempted to swindle him. He pointed them out to Constable Reburn, who arrested them and took them to Agnes-street Police Station. They threw away some bogus checks which were subsequently found by G.T.R. Constable Shields at the station. The charge against them is vagrancy.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healthand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

THE METROPOLITAN GROCERY

T. W. ROBINSON, Manager.

THE MAYORALTY FOR 1888.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of ratepayers who have promised me their support, I am before you as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1888. I beg to ask you to give me your support, therefor, on the following platform:

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

If length of public service is deserving of recognition, I may modestly claim your consideration. During the eighteen or twenty years which I have sat at your Council board, I have endeavored to faithfully advance the best interests of the Town; I have spared neither time nor work to consistently carry out my pledge to my supporters, and have worked to the best of my ability for the general good—if I have erred, I have done so unknowingly.

I offer myself as, in particular, the Workingman's Candidate. I hope to receive a solid Workingman's support. I consider I am fairly entitled to it. I am a workingman myself, and, if elected, will endeavor to repay their confidence by advancing their interests in every honest way.

I may say that, in taking the field, I am not actuated by any feeling of rivalry with the present occupant of the Mayor's chair, but I feel that, with the many demands on his time and services, the position is not sought for. Should I prove correct in my inference, you cannot fairly overlook the claim that years of service have on your consideration.

I recognize thoroughly what the necessities of the town demand. Thorough economy is all departments of municipal expenditure must be the rule, a liberal policy to encourage the establishment and growth of new and existing industries. In this regard I am opposed to any money bonus being granted but in favor of exemption from taxes and, possibly, free sites, under proper restrictions.

I shall—if elected—give particular attention to matters as outlined above.

Possibly one of the most prominent questions that will come before the ratepayers next year will be in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act. I will maintain in this regard the position relative to temperance which I have held for the last twenty-five years. So long as the Scott Act remains in force, I will, to the extent of my ability and office, see that the law is strictly enforced, and that, too, through the proper officers of the town.

Such, gentlemen, are the grounds on which I ask your support. I may not have the opportunity of personally soliciting your favor, but venture to hope that the above statement of my views will meet with your approval.

Trusting that I may have your hearty support on the basis of

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

I am, gentlemen,
Yours faithfully,

A. RUTHERFORD.

Peterborough, December 8th, 1887. dw

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1889, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,

J. STEVENSON.

WARD No. 1.

To the Electors of Ward No. 1:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

In accordance with the expressed wish of many influential citizens in your ward, I have the honor of announcing my intention to stand as a candidate for Councillor at the forthcoming Municipal Elections.

My platform is

JUSTICE,
TEMPERANCE,
ECONOMY,

and will, if elected, do all that is in the power of one man to do for the people who intrust their work to me.

Should a personal canvass be impossible, I trust that those who desire my election will do all in their power to further it.

Very respectfully,

DANIELL SAWYER.

dw

To the Electors of No. ONE WARD

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

At the request of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to be a candidate for Councillor for No. One Ward. Believing that I can promote your interest and being willing to give my best abilities and attention thereto, I respectfully solicit your support.

Yours Respectfully,

HARRY WINCH.

AT HOME AT LAST.

Hall, Innes & Co. Enter Upon Possession of Their New Premises.

A Perfectly Appointed Business Establishment—Brief Description of the New Premises—An Immense Stock Worthy of the New Buildings.

To-day Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. resumed business in their enlarged and beautified premises in the old situation, Nicholls' block, Simcoe street. The firm has just reason to be proud of the magnificent mercantile premises they now possess. There may be larger, and there are larger, establishments of the kind in Ontario, but it is safe to say there is not one more complete in every detail, not one better adapted to every demand of the business, not one more elegant and sumptuous in its appointments than the new and beautiful premises of Messrs. Hall, Innis & Co.—which it is no misnomer nor extravagance of eulogy to denominate palatial. Both the convenience of employes of the firm and the customers have been consulted in every department of the business.

THE EXTERIOR.

All who were familiar with the appearance of the former premises will be struck with the great improvement and modernization of the front of the building. A good general idea of the change in the old front and the appearance of the present, can be gathered from the above cut of the new premises. It will be observed that this portion of the block has been considerably raised, and that the two first stories are practically of plate glass. On the first floor there is a stretch of plate glass 75 feet in length and about 14 feet in height. The middle portion of the second story has six large plate glass windows. The first and second stories are divided horizontally by a moulded cornice, and a similar one divides the second and third stories, except that the cornice rises over the middle window of each of the two triple sets of plate glass that form the lighting to this part, in the form of an arch with richly carved keystone and with the semi-elliptical panel also filled with rich carving. Surmounting the whole is a panel bearing the firm name in huge block letters in high relief, finished in gold. There is only one front entrance, twenty feet in width at the outside and ten deep, recurving inwards with a semicircular sweep, till it narrows down to six feet, the width of the lofty and richly carved entrance doors. The transom bar over these doors, which are each 6 ft. x 8 ft. 6, are also enriched with elaborate carving. The convexity of the entrance vestibule is filled on each side with huge plates of curved plate glass, made in England expressly for this purpose.

Passing through the entrance doors, admission is gained to the main shop, a BEAUTIFUL AND SPACIOUS APARTMENT,

75x67 feet, splendidly lighted and most completely equipped. The ceilings are fourteen feet in height, and are plastered and remain a dead white; they are relieved by beautiful and ornate centre-pieces in stucco, from the centre of which depend splendid gasaliers. Running through the centre of the shop is a row of pillars supporting a richly moulded beam, upon which rests the walls that divide the other two stories above. These pillars are painted a light green, and terminate in richly moulded Corinthian capitals, done in green bronze picked out with gold. The walls are covered with exceedingly beautiful and costly paper of an unique pattern and the result is extremely beautiful and pleasing. The shelving is done in mahogany and divided at intervals with square fluted pillasters and the ranges of shelving terminate above in a low railing in Queen Anne style. The counters are in mahogany also with solid walnut tops. On the west side of this floor there are two counters, divided by the staircase and elevator well (to be noted hereafter). The front one of these counters serves the dress goods and silks department, the rear counter serves also for less expressive dress goods and, in season, for prints, etc. The counter parallel to the rear on this side extends eastward to the office and serves with its shelving for staple goods, cottons, sheetings, etc. On the east side are the shelving and counters devoted to the gents' furnishing, and tweed and cloth department. This extends from the front to the rear of the shop, except a sufficient space reserved for the cutter's room and the office in the rear. These are screened off from the main shop, the screen being formed of mahogany base and sash enclosing frosted glass bearing the monogram initial letters of the firm. In the middle of the shop is a line of double shelving opening out on two sides, devoted in the front of the shop to hosiery, gloves, buttons, and other small wares, and in the rear to fine and fancy flannels. The shelving is surrounded by an elliptical range of counter completely enclosing it. In the middle of this shelving and counters is a passage. On one side of this is situated the cash desk, well elevated. At the cash desk converge six lines of the Merchants' cash railway system leading from six counters. The cashier receives in a little cup from the salesman the cash and bill of sale, makes change and returns balance due to the salesman to be transferred to the customer. No salesman is thus required to make change and business is greatly facilitated.

The flooring of this department is of narrow planks of hard maple, oiled. An important feature of this shop is the for direct lighting. In addition to the front plates already mentioned, all along the rear wall extend a row of sash plate windows six feet in height. Both sash are counterpoised by weights and are protected on the outside by parallel iron bars placed perpendicularly. The front show window spaces are most elaborate and beautiful. The chief show window is twenty-two feet in length, ten feet deep and fourteen feet in height. The ceiling and ends are ceiled with wood in panels and painted a snow white. Both the outer and inner walls are formed of plate glass, the latter fitted in sash hung on weights and capable of being raised and lowered. The great weight of these sash is shown by the fact that leaden weights, had to be used to counterpoise each sash, weighing nearly 200 lbs., or the six sash in the three divisions, 2,400 lbs. or nearly a ton and a quarter. The show window this morning presented a magnificent appearance; its whole length was filled with a splendid encarpment of striped velvets and plushes ornamented here and there with bright hued silks, the contents of the windows aggregating in value the worth of the whole stock of many an ordinary dry goods shop. Additional show room space is afforded on each side of the curved, plate glass lateral walls of the entrance vestibule. These are dressed and adorned with equal elegance and profusion with the main show window and the effect is most beautiful. Nothing but an actual visit and actual inspection can give any idea of the extent, beauty and completeness of this spendid shop.

To the right of the main entrance a wide doorway gives entrance to the carpet rooms 75x22 feet. Down the whole of the two sides of the shop extend rows of shelves three or four in number, on which are found rolls of carpeting standing on end, consisting of thousands of yards of the finest Brussels, tapestry, and other carpets. In the front of this department there is also a show window 10x22 feet, richly decorated with elaborate and tasteful displays of velvet, Wilton, Brussels and tapestry carpets. The extent of this room admits of the most complete display of carpets to the purchaser, and opportunity for judging of their effects when laid.

Returning to the main shop and going to the middle of the western side, the visitor or customer comes to the stairway, of wide, easy slope, which winds upwards from the basement to the third story, and the well thus enclosed constitutes the route of the elevator, one of the most perfect pattern built, entirely secure, and capable of carrying up or down twelve or fifteen ordinary persons or a ton weight. The elevator is controlled by a water motor situated in the basement. The staircase is provided with heavy, moulded, black birch railings and handsomely carved newels at each landing. The "cage" of the elevator, about six feet square, runs inside a frame consisting of upright bearings of cherry wood. This frame is enclosed by a grating of brass wire, and both the "cage" and the "well" are provided with folding doors or iron grate work, so that while the cage is up or down no one can accidentally step down the opening to the well from different floors or out of the "cage" while in transitu between two floors. The water motor does its work most effectually, one stroke of the piston, consuming about 60 gallons of water, sending the "cage" from the bottom to the top and vice versa. The motion is as smooth and even as going "up in a balloon." The elevator, which is provided with pneumatic bells for signal purposes, was erected by the Fensom Elevator Company, Toronto, and gives every satisfaction to the present owners.

THE SECOND FLOOR

is in no way inferior in elegance and beauty of appointment to the floor below. What difference there is, is one of kind, not degree. The first apartment on this floor, 22x75 feet in area, is lighted in the front by three plate glass windows, filling the whole front and extending from floor to ceiling, and in the rear by three ordinary large sash windows. The windows are shaded by rich curtains of lace, oriental or Turkish stuffs. The floor in front of the elevator and stair landing is covered with oilcloth, and the rest of the room with beautiful Brussels carpet manufactured to order. The ceilings are enriched with cornices and ornate centre pieces, while the walls are laid on with rich patterned paper. This department is devoted—the front portion to millinery goods and is provided with suitable tables and other accessories for their display, including several large plate glass pier mirrors in heavy gilt frames. The portion in rear of the stair landing is the mantle department, containing ready-made mantles and allied goods. Both these departments have shelving well supplied with stock suitable for their respective demands. From the central space a wide doorway opens to a passage, having on the left two large, elegantly-furnished fitting-rooms, one for mantles and the other for dresses—the intention being to add dress-making to the other departments of the business. At the further end of the passage above spoken of, is the work room for the operatives in the mantle, millinery and dress-making departments, 22x75 feet in area and excellently lighted and exceedingly comfortable with well fitted up lavatory, retiring rooms, etc.

Opening from the millinery rooms by folding doors is the ladies' parlor, for the use of customers waiting their turn to be served, waiting for train time or waiting on friends. This is a beautiful, cheerful appartment, with walls elegantly papered and hung with choice pictures, among which are portraits of Mr. Robert Nicholls and Mr. Wm. Hall, the founders of the firm. The ceiling is also covered with beautiful paper with a centre piece in stucco, enriched with bronze and gold. The triple plate glass front of this room is richly curtained. The rear wall is formed by a beautiful screen of ground glass separating this room from the retiring and dressing room, with lavatory, etc. Convenient to this parlour is a well fitted up lunch room, where, on Saturday, Mr. F. Hall has secured the privilege of supplying luncheon to those desiring it.

Ascending by stair or elevator to another large apartment is reached. The walls of this room are papered with the same elegance that marks all the others. It is devoted principally to reserve stock and the display of lace and other curtains in other materials. It is also provided with counters and shelving.

Adjoining this on the east is another room of similar size. This is the room for the storage and display of floor oilcloths, mats, rugs, etc. From one of the rear windows a hoist is rigged for elevating heavy rolls of oilcloth or other heavy goods. On this same floor is another large room, 22x75, but unconnected with the other rooms, the work room for the tailoring department, reached by an independent entrance and stairway.

THE BASEMENT STORY

is elaborately fitted up for its intended use. It is floored throughout with brick and thoroughly drained with Scotch tile pipe and lighted in front with rough groundplate glass in iron sash let into the pavement. The easternmost compartment contains the boiler of 30 horse power, made by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, for generating the steam used in heating the entire building. A chimney flue, two feet square, reaches from the basement to the roof. A coal bin, capable of holding 43 tons of coal, is conveniently placed with respect to the boiler. The heating apparatus of the entire building, which was put in by Messrs. McAndrew & Noble, who also did the gas-fitting and plumbing, is of the most complete and satisfactory character. In the coldest weather every part is kept at a comfortable, unvarying, even heat, a condition conducing to comfort, and—conjoined to the best of ventilation—to health. The other portions of the basement are used for storage purposes and for surplus staple stock, such as cottons, steamlooms, winceys, etc.

It is to be regretted that space will not admit of a fuller and more detailed description of this verily palatial dry goods premises. With its elegance of construction and superb appointment, goes what is equally characteristic of the commercial standing and character of the firm, solidity. While much credit is due the architects, Messrs. Gordon & Helliwell, Toronto, for their admirable plans, both in general and detail, it is hardly possible that such a satisfactory result would have been attained with a less experienced, careful, conscientious and vigilant overseer than of the work of re-construction. The task of re constructing an old building into this model of architectural completeness and solidity of structure, was a most difficult one. The removal of the lower portion of high and heavy walls and replacing them in another form was a difficult one. The lower story of the central wall was removed, and, though it was fourteen inches in thickness and reached to the top of the third story, its removal was effected without so much as a crack or flaw giving evidence of so great a change of conditions. While Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. are in every sense thoroughly satisfied with the manner in which Mr. Douglass has performed his duties in connection with the portion of the work visible, they have the satisfaction of knowing that in the more important, the hidden portion, where strength and durability lie, these conditions have been amply secured in every part of the structure. In these days of flimsy building and scamped work, it is satisfactory to enter upon possession of a structure, in which the vigilance of oversight of the superintendent has rendered such things impossible.

But excellence of business premises are not the only conditions which this firm have upon which to claim public attention. The magnificent stock they have in every department is the chief point. That it is of infinite variety and extent is shown by the fact that every foot of space in their extensive new premises is called into use. The solid commercial reputation which the present firm inherited from the founders of the house, Messrs. Nicholls & Hall, has been maintained and strengthened since they came into full possession, in 1875, and the public can rely upon the present stock, purchased under the most favorable conditions, deserving all the confidence and attention which first quality and reasonable prices can inspire or attract.

NOTES.

The following are the names of the parties having a share in the work of re-construction:—Brickwork, J. J. Hartley; tuck-pointing, Schubert & Co.; plastering, George Brown; McAndrew & Noble, plumbing, steam and gas fitting; Adam Hall, galvanized iron work; painting and paper hanging Mr. Wm. Lillie; Edward Green, patent closet-slat window blinds. The Lindsay-Seldon Company did the wood carving found in different parts of the structure.

The papering required 650 rolls of first-class heavy wall paper, supplied by Messrs. A. L. Davis & Co.

The ventilation of the building is excellent. All the windows have transom lights capable of being opened by means of improved New York transom lifters, the only ones of the kind in town.

There are over two thousand square feet of plate glass used in the building.

There are 45 persons employed regularly in connection with the conduct of the business.

In addition to the gas fixtures, four electric lights are brought into requisition, two inside and two outside.

On the day that Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. occupy their new premises, the remains of Mr. Robert Rowe, who superintended the construction of the original building, were conveyed to their last resting place.

The EXAMINER has much pleasure in wishing Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. increased business prosperity, a MERRY CHRISTMAS to them personally and to their employes and a prosperous NEW YEAR.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

D. J. Bannell Sawyer, Esq.,

DEAR SIR.—Having completed a course in the Sawyer Business College, it is my pleasure to state that I have derived great benefit through my attendance.

The course is throughout a source of pleasure and improvement, and I believe that a thorough course in such an institution must prove of great value to any intending to follow a mercantile life.

Wishing you continual success, I remain,
Yours respectfully,

OF

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

INTO A RIVER OF DEATH.

FRIGHTFUL CATASTROPHE ON A NEW BRUNSWICK RAILWAY.

An Engine and Snow-Plow Plunges Into the Water and Eight Men Lose Their Lives—Who the Victims were, Their Ages and Conditions.

BATHURST, N.B., Dec. 18.—A terrible accident occurred on the Caraquet Railway Saturday afternoon. While the train which left Caraquet at 2 p.m. for Gloucester Junction, in charge of Conductor Daniel Kearney and Driver Michael Lanigan, was near McKintosh's Cove bridge three miles west of Caraquet, the train men noticed heavy drifts of snow on the west side of the bridge. The train consisted of one passenger car, engine and snow plow. They had with them eight section men for the purpose of assisting in clearing the road of snow which fell during Friday's storm. They left the passenger car on the east side of the bridge. The section men, conductor, Brakeman Loudon and a young man named Frank Miller, with Driver Lanigan, and Fireman Boucher, thirteen in number were on the engine. They then started, but when they got on the bridge the plow and engine left the track and fell over into the river. Only five men could be found. The rest, eight in number, were pinned down under the engine, which was lying bottom up in the river.

The train was running slow at the time.

The following is a list of the killed:

Conductor Kearney of Douglastown, Miramichi, single, aged 25.

Driver Lanigan, Bathurst, married, four children, aged 31.

Felix Boucher, fireman, Bathurst, single, aged 24.

Joseph Viennean, section man, Bathurst, married, five children, aged 30.

John Poulin, section man, Caraquet, married, large family, age 36.

Octave Pinit, section man, Caraquet, single, aged 23.

John Carney, Bathurst, married, 5 children, age 30.

Frank Miller, Bathurst, single, aged 23.

Section men D. Patterson, Cormier, Fullam and E. Hackey escaped, as did also Fr akeman Louden, who jumped through the cab window. They are all more or less injured, but not fatally.

As soon as the news reached Bathurst Drs. Meahan and Bishop were at once sent to the scene. By noon to-day all the bodies had been recovered. The wounded are doing well. Supt. W. H. Chisholm, Engineer W. Mann and P. H. Melvin of the Caraquet Railway were present and did everything that was possible. The bridge is a good one and is uninjured.

THOSE MYSTERIOUS LETTERS.

The Case of the Accused Detectives—Documents Procured by "Wilson."

MONTREAL, Dec. 18.—The only new feature in connection with the case of the accused detectives yesterday is the fact that the letters which are alleged to have passed between Wilson and others interested have been given to the public. The following are copies of the documents:

EXHIBIT B.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25, 1887.

SIR: YOUR NOTE of Nov. 24 to hand, and in answer would state that everything is O.K. The road is clear, without any obstructions whatever. Come in at once with your partner, which, I understand, knows the business thoroughly. Bring on a small kit, as we may want to do some work in that line. That party's house is still vacant, and you can make use of it in Ste there, etc. The girls are anxious to see you, and, no doubt, you will make it pleasant for them when you come.

P.S.—A newspaper was addressed to you to the Adams House as well as the letter at the time; it was The Montreal Star.

EXHIBIT C.

BOSTON, Nov. 26, 1887.

DEAR SIR: YOURS of Nov. 26 to hand. I will arrive in Montreal Wednesday evening. Answer as soon as you get this and tell me if you think it best for me to go direct to the house. If so I will meet you at Harvey's the same evening. I would start to-day but have to wait to see my friend. Don't you think we can do that business with P.M., or perhaps you have other business that will pay you better. However, we will decide after my arrival. Remember me to Nangelo. Tell him I am coming and I would like to see him the same night with you. Yours,

F.H.

Adams House, Boston, Mass.

EXHIBIT L.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29, 1887.

I only received yours of Nov. 28 this morning, and hasten to reply. As you request, I will be at Harvey's on Wednesday evening, waiting for you, and will endevor to have our friend there. If you can possibly smuggle in the necessary outfit to do up a fire-proof, do so. Come on at once with your friend, or arrange things with him so that he can come on if we wire him.

UNITED STATES HOTEL, BOSTON, Nov. 22, 1887.

THOS. FLYNN, Esq.: DEAR SIR: Find letter enclosed that I found at Adams House. You see it is dated Nov. 3. Although it is not signed it is from Fahey. I have just written him a long letter and will have an answer by Friday. I think I shall want you here on Friday; if so I will telegraph you on Thursday. Yours in haste,

FRANK HAYNES.

P.S.—The letter is just as I received it, with notice cut from Montreal paper. Write me on receipt of this to let me know if you can come on next week.

With reference to Plante's arrest the accused states that he gained the watch from Naegele at a game of cards, and the ex-detective reports that the watch was given him by Mr. Archambault. Mr. Lefebvre's clerk, in order that the officer might know if he should come across others of the same mark. Mr. Archambault says such a thing might possibly have been done, but he does not remember it. Mr. Kellert received the watch from Plante on Oct. 20, 1886. The dealer said out all his pledges to Mr. Hirsh last July, and the year having arrived Oct. 20, 1887, the watch was disposed of at a pawnbroker's sale with a lot of other goods, and in this manner came into possession of the man who took it to Lefebvre's store for repairs.

ARRESTS AT PORT PERRY.

THE COMPANIONS OF BARTENDER BROWN LOCKED UP.

The Fate of a Professional Party that Assembled at Myrtle Station—Physicians at Loggerheads—Two Constables' Midnight Drive in Search of Game.

WHITBY, Dec. 18.—The excitement over the Myrtle shooting affray on the night of Dec. 15 was further intensified in this town and in Port Perry by the arrest of the three men who accompanied Bartender Brown to Myrtle Station, at an early hour this morning. They were all taken in their beds at Port Perry and locked up in the county jail this morning.

Yesterday afternoon Lawyer N. Gordon Bigelow came down from Toronto just to look around and see what steps were to be taken in connection with the case. Mr. Bigelow has been retained to defend Dunean and McCrae. When he arrived here he found County Crown Attorney Farewell busily engaged at the Court of Quarter Sessions, which have been in session all week. Mr. Bigelow stepped over to the jail and had a conference with the prisoners.

On Friday Judge Burnham granted an order directing Mr. James Rutledge, barrister of this town, to proceed to Myrtle with a magistrate and examine the wounded man. The order was made under Sec. 239 of the Criminal Procedure Act, which permits of the taking of evidence of persons who are dangerously ill and unable to attend court. The accused, however, must have a full opportunity of cross-examination, otherwise the deposition is of no use. Upon being served with this order at the jail, the prisoners were informed that they would be taken to Myrtle to attend if they wished. However, they thought their presence was quite unnecessary at Myrtle, and said the, were perfectly satisfied to leave their interests in Mr. Bigelow's hands.

When the Quarter Sessions adjourned last evening Mr. Rutledge, Mr. Farewell, Mr. Bigelow, Major Harper, Police Magistrate, and Dr. Warren drove over to Myrtle to make the examination under Judge Burnham's order. The party arrived there at 7.30 and found Vernon's Hotel full of the wounded man's relatives and friends. They peremptorily refused to allow any of the lawyers or magistrates to see Brown. Even Dr. Warren, who has been one of the physicians engaged in the case, was denied admission to the room. This, one of Brown's female relatives explained, was Dr. Clemens' explicit orders.

The party then awaited the arrival of Dr. Clemens, who was expected shortly from Port Perry. Dr. Clemens came along, and, on meeting Dr. Warren, a wordy war took place between these two gentlemen over the patient and the visitors from Whitby. The two physicians are apparently considerably at loggerheads as to who is really the attending medical adviser. Both of them, it may be mentioned, have had considerable to do with the case since Brown was shot.

Dr. Clemens told Mr. Farewell and Mr. Bigelow that the patient was totally unfit to make a statement. The lawyers were in a predicament. Brown had been in a comatose state all day, accompanied by frequent fits of vomiting and weakness.

"What if he should die without telling his story?" they asked. They had Judge Burnham's order to see the wounded man, and they could have lawfully done so, but they did not want to create any undue excitement among his friends.

Then Lawyer Bigelow drew up this certificate, which was signed by Dr. Clemens and endorsed on the back of Judge Burnham's order:

I, George H. Clemens, of the village of Port Perry, a duly licensed medical practitioner, do hereby certify:

1. That I am the medical practitioner in attendance upon the within named George Brown.

2. That in my opinion he is not at present able to give a complete statement referring to the matters within mentioned and submit to cross-examination on the same, no matter how leniently soever it might be conducted.

Dated at Myrtle, Dec. 17, 10.30 p.m.

This settled that part of the program and the party returned to Whitby. Before leaving Vernon's Hotel it is said Brown told one of the Whitby party who did go into his room that it was McCrae, and not Dennen, who shot him.

Then the next great step in the case was taken. When Lawyer Bigelow got back to town he went straight to the jail and drew up an information against Wm. Lattimore, Thos. Trebell and Fred Corbyn ("the Jersey Lily") on the strength of statements supplied by Dennen and McCrae. Magistrate Harper subscribed to the information. It charged the three men with "unlawfully, wickedly and maliciously conspiring to assault and wound and do grievous bodily harm to C. S. Dennen and W. G. McCrae, and in pursuance of his conspiracy did wound and shoot at those two persons."

The warrant was placed in the hands of Chief of Police McByrne and Constable Calverly, who at once secured a buggy and set out "ostensibly for Pickering." [This to throw the friends of the men in Whitby off the scent.] The officers started out in the direction of Pickering and drove to the first sideline, when they turned the horses' heads towards the Port, where they arrived one hour after midnight. Under the cloak of dense darkness they wended their way through the quiet streets of the town to the different homes of the three men, who were all found in bed. They were greatly surprised on being confronted by the officers.

Lattimore, Corbyn and Trebel were allowed a little time to consult their friends, after which they were handcuffed and put into the rig and a start was made for this town, where the party arrived at 7.30. The men were locked up in the county jail, and seemed considerably surprised when informed that they could not get bail until after the preliminary examination. When it become known that they were behind the bars there was considerable excitement in town, and up till a late hour to-night it was the sole topic of conversation.

If nothing unusual happens the preliminary examination in all the cases will begin at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon before Magistrate Harper.

After Dennen and McCrae were locked up Friday night they sent down to the hotels to have their meals furnished at the jail, but all of them persistently refused to serve the detectives with grub. To-day, before Lawyer Bigelow left for Toronto, he saw some of the leading hotelkeepers of the town and told them they were acting indiscreetly in refusing the men meals, and the hotel men seeing it in this light promised to send them anything they wished.

Excitement at Port Perry.

PORT PERRY, Dec. 18.—When it became known here to-day that Lattimore, Corbyn and Trebell had been arrested there was considerable excitement and talk. Their friends are organizing to see them through.

Brown Feeling Better.

MYRTLE STATION, Dec. 18.—Midnight—The wounded man has had an easy day and night, and is feeling much easier now. Mr. Farewell saw him to-day and, it is understood, took a statement, which, however, would not be necessarily binding on the prisoners or Mr. Bigelow. It is understood that he said it was McCrae who shot him, that his pistol was unloaded and that he was disarmed by Dennen before there was a shot fired.

A Defaulter to Arrive at Halifax.

HALIFAX, Dec. 17.—The young defaulter, Frank C. McNeally of Saco, Me., is expected to arrive at Halifax on the steamship Polynesian, which left Liverpool on Dec. 8. What negotiations the Saco Bank will make is a matter of conjecture, but it is believed that the institution would gladly relinquish all claim on the cash stolen if thereby the securities could be recovered.

HALIFAX, Dec. 18.—The Polynesian arrived at 2.30 p.m. to-day.

He Brought Stolen Money Into Canada.

WINDSOR, Dec. 17.—This afternoon Alfred Chase (colored) was arrested and taken from the Grand Trunk train about to leave for the east. He is charged with stealing $2000 worth of securities and $27 in cash from Enos S. Rice of Livonia Township, Wayne County, Mich. Chase declined to return to Detroit, and he will be tried for bringing stolen property into Canada.

HENRY TAYLOR'S PROPOSITION.

He Will Turn Over His Wife's Property to Those That He Robbed.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—A number of informations were laid against Henry Taylor this morning by the shareholders of the Ontario Investment Association, but it is understood that warrants were not issued in consequence of an offer made by Taylor that on condition of his release from jail and the stopping of all legal action against him all the property now held by his wife, valued at $20,000, should be turned over to the association which he is alleged to have robbed.

The offer was yet only in verbal form, but there can be no doubt of its being bona fide. It has not been laid before the directors officially, but they will doubtless consider it and call a meeting of the shareholders to decide what action will be taken. Opinions vary as to the value of the property held by Mrs. Taylor, but it is believed in some quarters that if Taylor makes a clean yield up the association will benefit to the extent of $40,000.

GREAT MEN TALK OF WAR.

The Vienna Military Council—The Increase of Forces in Poland and Galicia.

VIENNA, Dec. 18.—The Military Council in this city to-day was presided over by the Emperor Francis Joseph. There were present Herr von Tisza, the Hungarian Prime Minister; Count von Taafe, Minister of the Interior; Count Kalnoky, Count Bylandt Rheydt, Imperial Minister of War; Herr von Kallay, Imperial Minister of Finance; Archduke Albrecht, Count von Wilversheimer, Minister of Defence of Austria, and Baron von Sepersary, Minister of Defence of Hungary.

Previous to and after the council Herr von Tisza had a conference with Count Kalnoky.

The council resolved that the unexpended portion of the credit of 32,629,000 florins, voted last spring, shall be applied to the purchase of equipments and the construction of huts for the troops in Galicia. No increase of the forces in Galicia has yet been decided upon, and if there is no further augmentation of Russian troops on the frontier Austria will adhere to the policy of observation.

Another military council has been summoned for to-morrow.

It is semi-officially stated that the Cabinet shares in the belief that good relations with Russia will be maintained. No differences exist except with respect to Bulgaria. Austria is ready to assist in a pacific solution of the question, but the announcement in The Invalid Russe that Russia proposes a whole series of military measures, of which the recent increase of forces in Poland is only a part, enjoins increased military vigilance. Austria must keep pace with Russian plans.

Count von Taafe and Herr von Tisza agree that the summoning of the delegations in the meantime would be inopportune.

The Bearer of Conciliatory Instructions.

BERLIN, Dec. 18.—The National Zeitung says that Gen. von Schweinitz, the German Ambassador to Russia, returns to St. Petersburg with conciliatory instructions. Prince Bismarck, the paper says, counsels Austria while strengthening her military positions to avoid giving provocation to Russia. It is officially explained that the court circular announcing a meeting yesterday between the Emperor and Count von Moltke and others created the erroneous impression that a Military Council had been held. The Emperor, it is stated, did not hold a council, but merely gave a reception to Gen. von Moltke and other officers.

Will Put Up in Case of War.

VIENNA, Dec. 19.—It is reported the delegations will vote 20,000,000 florins to the Government in the event of preparations being made for war.

Couldn't Raise a Loan.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 18. Russia's endeavors to raise a loan here and at Amsterdam have failed.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Thomas Pargeter, 45 or 50 years of age, was killed on Friday on the second concession of Westminster by a falling tree. His nephew, who was with him, was also seriously hurt. Pargeter leaves a wife and two grown up daughters.

LATEST EUROPEAN NEWS.

EXCHANGE OF COURTESIES BETWEEN THE QUEEN AND THE POPE.

A Collision on the Clyde—A Royal Visitor at San Remo—Adjournment of the Reichstag—The Money Bests—St. Peter's Anniversary.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The Duke of Norfolk received an audience from the Pope to-day. The Duke bore Queen Victoria's congratulations on the occasion of the Pope's jubilee, and her thanks for the mission of Mgr. Stella, the representative of Leo XIII. at her own jubilee.

The Pope replied that he was deeply moved by these proofs of friendship on the part of the Queen, and hoped that the exchange of sentiments of affection would not be limited to the present exceptional circumstances, but would also make its influence felt on other occasions. He was animated, he said, by feelings of the greatest affection for the English people.

The Pope recalled the friendship displayed by Queen Victoria in 1866, when at the conclusion of his nunciature at Brussels he delivered to her a letter from King Leopold.

Cardinal Howard has been stricken with apoplexy. He is a relative of the Duke of Norfolk.

The Duke of Edinburgh arrived at San Remo to-day and was greeted at the railway station by Prince Henry and the Crown Princess. In the evening he took dinner with the Crown Prince and his family.

In the course of a conversation with the Duke, Dr. Mackenzie again stated that he was favorably impressed by the Prince's condition. He declared that the existence of cancer was more doubtful than on the occasion of his last visit, and in fact had never been proved.

Dr. Mackenzie will return to London in a week.

The Reichstag, after passing the Cereal Bill, by a vote of 208 to 116, adjourned until Jan. 17. On the reassembling of the House, the Military Bill will be brought up, and then the amended Socialist Law, the Five-Year Parliament Bill, and the measure for the assurance of old and invalid workmen will follow.

The British steamer Manitoban, Capt. Dunlan, from Philadelphia, collided last night on the Clyde, during a gale, with the British steamer Akides, Capt. Rolfe, from Baltimore. The bows of the Manitoban were stove in and the Akides was cut down to the water line.

Aubertin, the crank who shot M. Ferry, was arraigned for preliminary examination to-day. During the progress of the examination the prisoner was seized with madness and had to be removed to a madhouse. To-night he is delirious and his life is despaired of.

It is reported that the British Government will create the post of Minister of Agriculture, and that Right Hon. Henry Chaplain (Conservative), M.P. for the Sleaford Division of Lincolnshire, will receive the appointment.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—From intelligence received in London from Loyalty Islands, it is learned that Missionary Jones has been expelled by a force sent especially from New Caledonia. He has landed at Sydney, N.S.W., and has formally protested to the Governor against his expulsion.

Surgeon-Major Cross of Cork, having been found guilty of poisoning his wife, has been sentenced to death.

The Crown Prince took a long walk to-day. He was accompanied by Prince Henry and the Duke of Edinburgh.

During the past week discount was quiet. On the London Stock Exchange business was active and there was an upward tendency until the selling orders recived from foreign bourses, owing to the war rumors, checked the improvement. The reaction yesterday extended to every department. American railroad securities showed steady improvement under buyings for investment; yesterday, however, they were rather neglected, sharing in the common depression.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—During the past week business on the Bourse was dull. Prices were weak and the closing quotations yesterday showed a general decline.

BERLIN, Dec. 18.—On the Bourse during the week business was depressed. At the close yesterday there was a sharp fall in prices, the quotations being the lowest reached during the week.

FRANKFORT, Dec. 18.—Prices on the Bourse were very weak. Yesterday foreign securities declined ½ per cent., and Austrian Credit fell 6 florins.

Lizzell, who died from injuries received in Trafalgar-square, was buried to-day.

Farmer Sexton, at whose house Constable Whelehan was killed, has received a letter threatening him with death for not standing loyal to the accused.

The report that Mr. Henry Chaplain will be appointed to the Ministry of Agriculture is without foundation.

While out shooting at Sandringham yesterday, the Prince of Wales was slightly wounded by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of one of the sportsmen.

Another account states that the accident was caused by a defective gun, and that the shots scattered in several directions, the gentleman handling the weapon having himself been slightly wounded by the explosion.

Horse Breeders Want Legislation.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—A meeting of horse breeders, presided over by J. H. Sanders, held here to-day, formulated a bill exempting importers from liability for past infractions of the tariff law as recently construed requiring duty upon all breeding animals not kept by the importer for his own exclusive use. The amount of money involved is considerable, one firm alone being liable to be mulcted $17,000 for a single year's importations. A committee of five, with Alexander Galbraith as chairman, was appointed to select a representative to present the bill to Congress and urge its passage, and to solicit contributions from breeders to defray all necessary expenses.

CHARLOTTE, N.Y., Dec. 15.—The schooner Annandale, with 14,000 bushels of barley, arrived here safely this morning after a thirty-hour passage from Port Hope. This is the latest arrival in many years.

Municipal Interests.

MR. A. RUTHERFORD :—

SIR,—I would like to know by what right you assume to be the workingmen's candidate. And whom do you mean by workingmen? Why do you thus patronizingly refer to the workingman? Do you mean to say that he has interests outside and beyond the interests of other people of the town and that you would advance those interests at the expense of the rights of other people? If you do not mean this then you mean to say that in advancing the interests of others you will at the same time advance those of the workingman. You must use then the phrase, "the working man," as words signifying nothing. And of course you do so and meant to do so when you wrote those words, and you only used them on purpose to gull and humbug the working man. Mr. Rutherford, I want to tell you that the working man does not want your fine, soft words and that he is just as able and as willing to make his way successfully in the world as you are. He may not have so high an opinion of himself as you appear to have, but he stands on just as high grounds as you do, to say the least. And the working man might say to you as King Agrippa said to St. Paul, "much learning hath made thee mad." In your future canvass, Mr. Rutherford, I hope you will drop the words, "the working man" and that you will speak of him and treat him precisely as you may speak of, and treat the other people of the town. Because to address me exclusively as a workingman, pre-supposes that I am different from and beneath other men, and that I need to be treated differently from other men. You must understand, Mr. Rutherford, if you did not know it before, that labor is honorable. That everybody labors in one form or another, and that God has decreed that all men shall earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. And I take leave to tell you that I am proud of being "a working man", and proud to be able to say that, as "a working man", I can be, if I will, one of the best and most independent men of the community. So much for your improper use of the words, "the working man."

You state in your address, Mr. Rutherford, that "the necessities of the town demand thorough economy in all departments of the municipal expenditure." You are right in saying this, because the necessities of the town do demand thorough economy in the municipal expenditure. It is easier to say a thing than to do it. You have before, when canvassing for the office of councillor, said the same thing. But what became of this vaunted economy when you became councillor? Will you point to one single act of yours which was done with this view of economy alone? Was it for the sake of economy that, some years ago, in the middle of a very cold winter, you put the town to a large expenditure in providing dynamite and wheelbarrows, in order, as you said, to give employment to the poor, and then abandoned the silly work because you were unable to perform it, because you were unable to overcome nature and do impossibilities. But what became of the dynamite and wheelbarrows I never knew. That was one way of shewing your economy, Mr. Rutherford. Another way was your championing of the water works from the first day of their creation and all time afterwards until you was put out of the council. What ever induced you to do this I don't know, but it is strange that a man in your circumstances and living so far away from the centre of the town should be such a strong advocate for forcing these works upon the people. Their present taxes for these water works are about $3,300 a year, and if you were in the council again, and had your way, they would, in a few years, be twice that sum. And surely Mr. Rutherford you do not imagine that the ratepayers have forgotten that some two or three years ago the council with your assistance as chairman of the committee on fire and water, forced a by-law upon the people for their adoption, greatly extending that water works, and greatly increasing the taxes therefor, and at the same time you suspended the ballot and compelled the people to use open vote, so as to enable yourself and others to compel them to vote for the by-law, and you, by means of that by-law, made every ratepayer on the outskirts of the town pay taxes for those water works, the use of which works they have never had and probably never will have. Is this the way, Mr. Rutherford, you show your love for economy and fair play, and your friendship for the workingman? And don't you recollect, Mr. Rutherford, how, some two years ago, in order to induce the people to vote for you, you told them that you would cease your advocacy of the water works and that you would practise strict economy for the future, and how, just as soon as they trusted you and you got back into the Council again, you were worse than ever. And how, at the next election, you were elected to stay at home. And you can't have forgotten that, some years ago, when some of the ratepayers wanted the Council to collect a large amount of police court fines, which they believed rightfully belonged to the town, you opposed their efforts and ultimately succeeded in defeating them altogether. I suppose this is another instance of your love of economy and fair play, and another instance of your friendship for the workingman. In saying what I have said of you, I have said it from a sense of duty and in what I conceive to be the best interests of the town. I have no other than a good feeling towards you, I assure you, and it is by no means pleasant to me to say what I have said of you. You are a public man now, and I have dealt with you as such. I think you made a mistake when you became a candidate for the mayoralty, but this is a free country and you have a right to do so if you think proper. You are a good and useful citizen and you are, in your private capacity, worthy of respect. But you are not intended for a public man. When in office you are hard to restrain. You are extravagant and lavish of the people's money, much more so than you are of your own. The ratepayers of the town have necessarily to pay high taxes enough in carrying on the business of the town properly and economically, without having their money wasted or put to unnecessary use. And you will excuse me for saying that until you learn to practise the lesson of economy thoroughly and show by your acts that you have done so thoroughly, you will have great difficulty in persuading the ratepayers to trust you with the expenditure of their money.

A FELLOW WORKMAN.

Come to the bridal chamber, Death!
Come to the mother, when she feels
For the first time, her first born's breath,
And then art terrible!

The untimely death which annually carries off thousands of human beings in the prime of youth, is indeed terrible. The first approach of consumption is insidious, and the sufferer himself is the most unconscious of its approach. One of the most alarming symptoms of this dread disease is, in fact, the inconsolable hope, which lurks in the heart of the victim, preventing him from taking timely means to arrest the malady. That it can be [illegible] beyond question, as there has been a host of well authenticated cases where Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup has effected complete cure. 4

The Head of Gold.

Rev. Mr. Langley's Anniversary Sermons —Canada, the "Head of Gold"—The Evening Sermon to Young People.

The anniversary services of the George Street Methodist Church were preached Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Benj. Langley, of Toronto. The morning discourse was on the words, "Thou art the head of gold," taken from the 38th verse of the 2nd chapter of Daniel. The reverend speaker related the circumstances of King Nebuchadnezzar's dream of the image with head of gold, arms and breast of silver, belly and thighs of brass, legs of iron and feet of clay, and its interpretation by Daniel, who told Nebuchadnezzar that he was the head of gold surrounding the body of lower materials or lesser kingdoms. God revealed the vision to him, the preacher said, in order to show him the extent of his own greatness and power, and the great possibilities there were in using all his greatness for the glory of God, and his accountability to God. The preacher impressed upon his hearers that in this age, in this Gospel dispensation, that while other men, other nations and other dispensations may be justly typified by the feet of clay, we of to-day were the head of gold. Going on to test this idea, he likened poor benighted Africa to the feet of clay, Japan, China and India to the legs of iron; Austria, Russia, Italy and Spain to the brass; and Germany to the silver; where could the head of gold be found? The preacher passed over both England and the United States as unworthy, and fixed upon "Canada our home" as the fitting head of all the countries. "O, thou dweller in this age, in this land, thou art the head of gold!" The people of this age were more powerful than king Nebuchadnezzar of old, he said, in having the electricity, the steam power, the newspapers, and the many other modern improvements at their bidding. After a patriotic eulogy of the freedom and national virtue of Canada, he applied the principles to religion, and proceeded to build an image out of the religions of the world, making the feet the ghastly rites and cruel creeds of the Pagan: the limbs of iron the somewhat more refined idolatry of the Greek church; the brass the Mahommedan faith; the head of gold, the religion of Christ Jesus, the Savior of the world. The reverend speaker in commenting upon the fact that Peterborough people felt rather disappointed in not being able to secure the services of some celebrated evangelists, said he almost felt pleasure at their disappointment. He said he didn't believe in getting other people to do our work, because it could not well be done by proxy; and, he said, "I believe that in just as far as we teach ourselves and our churches to lean upon these outside agencies we are undermining in the long run the true foundation of our own strength." In conclusion he urged each one present to be true kings and queens in their own little realms and live to the glorification of God.

THE EVENING SERMON

was from Proverbs xxvi, 13: "The slothful man sayeth in his heart, there is a lion in the way." The sermon was specially to young people, the preacher urging them to face the lions of opposition to be met with in everyday life and fight for the right; not to turn aside from the path of duty even if they fell.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obedient Servant,

GOUGH

Is hard up and must raise the wind—he has too many Overcoats on hand, and he must, like the Waggon-Maker who has too many Sleighs on hand in an open Winter, sell them at any price.

Lots of other fellows have got the Stomach Ache—because GOUGH sells so cheap. Witness how the Dry Goods tumbled when the Wonderful Cheap Man took a hand in—One Chap over in the wholesale Fish District, has his ads written in Penntown, where the sewers run on top of the Street. He feels so bad he don't know how to describe it, so says: "He's crippled in Price;" we don't doubt it. Then there is another one he is tied up to Crowbar Bros. of Gotham—these fellows are as stiff on their prices as a Crowbar, and squeeze 50 per cent, profit out of their poor victims, but the victims are under the thumb of Crowbar Bros. and can't help themselves—Then there is the fellow who cannot advertise, It makes him nervous, he uses a whole quart of Camphor a day, and tells customers, "GOUGH is selling so Cheap, it is perfectly demoralizing to trade; I don't know how all this is coming out"—It merely comes out that the customer steers straight for the Wonderful Cheap Man--Then there is another fellow, if he sees one of GOUGH'S men on the street he yells "give aways;" he knows GOUGH gives away more than the high-priced fellows sell.

In the interest of the public I want $10,000 and I must have it. I am after a big Bankrupt Stock the biggest yet, and it requires the cash to get it. Therefore I will from now unti January 1st, give ON OVERCOATS AND SUITS A DISCOUNT OF 20 PER CENT. on my former low prices. If this is not the truth I will forfeit $500. In addition to the 20 per cent. discount, I will present any person who buys $25 worth or over, with a beautiful Tweed Rubber Coat for a Christmas present.

BURIAL OF THE ANARCHISTS.

Followed to the Grave by Wives, Women and Lovers—Sympathizers as Pallbearers.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The four Anarchists who were hanged Nov. 11, August Spies, A. R. Parsons, Adolphe Fischer and George Engel, and Louis Lingg, who cheated the gallows by committing suicide the day before, were placed in their final resting place in Waldheim Cemetery to-day. There was no disorder. The only dramatic feature of the occasion was brought about by Mrs. Parsons. She had kept in the back-ground at the cemetery during the preliminary exercises. A few moments before Capt. Black, chief counsel for the Anarchists, concluded his address, and while the spectators were in a manner spell-bound by the Captain's rhetoric, some one shouted: "Make way for Mrs. Parsons." A passage was made and Mrs. Parsons, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holmes, came forward. The nearest coffin to her was that of August Spies. Her husband's was the second from this. Mrs. Parsons' eyes seemed to pick out the casket in which she was most interested. At the moment her gaze caught it she gave voice to a wail which startled the crowd. Capt. Black paused in his speech and the throng was startled. Then came a scream from Mrs. Parsons which reached to the outer circles of the crowd. She strove to speak, but the words refused to come out and she sank fainting into the arms of her friends.

Capt. Black came to the rescue by saying, in a commanding tone, "Some one please take some fresh snow and rub the lady's face." Three men made soft snowballs, rubbed Mrs. Parsons's temples, and when she showed signs of consciousness she was carried away from the scene.

The funeral arrangements, as arranged by the committee, consisted of two parts. The immediate relatives of the dead men left the city at 10 o'clock in carriages. The public went by train from the Wisconsin Central Depot. The first train to start was the regular suburban one. It consisted of six cars partially filled. Half an hour later the special funeral train of ten cars pulled out of the yard. These cars contained not over 800 people. There was no sorrow displayed by the occupants. In fact the demeanor of the people was that of a picnic party.

When the train arrived at Waldheim station a stampede was made for the cemetery. The crowd gathered around a lot situated about 1200 feet from the entrance. The vault in which the bodies had been kept was situated a few hundred feet to the north. Quickly the coffins were taken from the vault and carried to the spot where the expectant crowd were assembled. Spies' casket came first, borne by six members of the Aurora Turn Verein: Fischer's second, the pall bearers being members of Typographical Union No. 9. Parsons' was in the hands of members of his old assembly, 1267, K. of L.; Engel's was taken care of by the German Fresco Painters' Union and Lingg's remains were carried by a committee of the Carpenter's Assembly No. 931. On Spies' coffin were flowers and red ribbons. Fischer's was similarly decorated. On Parsons' were bouquets of red and yellow roses, and these modest emblems served to bring out in bold relief the red cloths which covered the caskets of Engel and Lingg. The undertakers removed the lids from the coffins at the same time that the mourners took their places. Among the latter were Chris. and Ferdinand Spies, with their sister Gretchen and their aged mother; Nina VanZandt with her father; Ella, Lingg's sweetheart; Mrs. Fischer with her daughter; Mrs. Engel and Mrs. Schwab. All of the women were dressed in heavy mourning. Nina Van Zandt was a study; not a sign of emotion appeared on her features. She chatted continuously with Capt. Black. The only one who shed tears at this time was Gretchen Spies.

The remains were placed in position. While this was being done the relatives came down the inclines. The first emotion from Nina Van Zandt was displayed when the last coffin was lowered. Gretchen Spies was sobbing violently when Nina broke down, but her tears were quickly staunched, and during the rest of the time the young woman showed no violent grief. The grave diggers then began to place the big granite copings in position. A moment before this was accomplished two wreaths which had just been brought to the cemetery were placed in the grave. They were ordered by The New York Freiheit, Herr Most's paper. The capstone was lowered, cement was spread over it and the crowd walked quickly out of the cemetery.

The Belfry Burned at Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Dec. 17.—A man named John Bradshaw from Orono, who has been working on the new skating rink building, now in course of construction, had a narrow escape from death this afternoon. He was on one of the beams, and was in the act of hauling up a scantling, when he fell about twenty feet, breaking some of the small bones of one of his legs, as well as receiving other injuries.

Several Toronto ladies attended the closing concert of the season in the Domill Ladies' College last evening. The attendance was large, many of the elite of the town being present. The classical music rendered by some of the lady students was pronounced the best ever heard in Oshawa, and the singing was excellent. Many, especially those from Toronto, were more than satisfied with the entertainment.

Otter and staff and the officers of the 13th were entertained at supper at Englewood, the residence of Mr. John Stuart, where Col. and Mrs. Otter were guests during their stay here.

The 'Xmas Holidays

Special Announcement From the Great No. 3

Dry Goods House of M. Sullivan

During the holiday season we intend to offer our Splendid Stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods and Notions at in order to keep pace with the times. All our goods will be reduced in price in order to give our customers a good 'Xmas Box in the way of a bargain. We don't throw out a bait in thereby goods in order to make the loss on finer goods. Our goods are all FIRST CLASS, NEW and STYLISH, and will be sold as low in price as any house in town, and a nice selection to choose from and first-class salesmen to wait on you.

—SPECIAL.—

We are clearing out a line of CROMPTON'S CORSETS at 35c. per pair worth $1.00, in odd sizes.

Don't fail to call and see the great bargains we are offering in SILKS and SATINS.

LOCAL NEWS.

1 Xmas Cards.

A job lot of Xmas advertising cards to clear off—cheap—at the EXAMINER office.

Come to the Xmas Tree Entertainment to-night in the George street Methodist Church. An attractive programme and rare chance to procure Xmas gifts.

Cleanliness

Made easy; just buy a carpet sweeper from A. Clegg. A handsome and acceptable present for wife or daughter. 2d

Piano Tuning.

Mr. Geo. Gaspricht is in town. Orders may be left at T. Mdzie's or Messrs. Taylor & McDonald's stores.

Situations.

No fewer than three applications were made at the Business College this week for students to take good positions in leading town firms.

I am going to Turnbull's to buy my Dry Goods; he always sells Cheap, and just now he has 100 Mantles to dispose of at less than the usual cost.

It Attracted Crowds.

Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co.'s new store was crowded with visitors Saturday and Saturday evening. At night the band serenaded the premises.

After the Holidays.

Parties intending to enter the Business College as students after the 'Xmas holidays would do well to make early arrangements. Quite a number have already registered for the New Year term.

Old winter has come with its frost and its snow, and where is the man won't say, "Buy your boots from KIDD, the boot man, he has the best."

Overcoats and Suits for Men and Boys at Prices that were never beaten, at Turnbull's. Call.

Newspaper Reporting.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, editor of the Review, gave a talk on the above named subject to the Business College students yesterday. It was very interesting, well delivered and received deserved applause at the close.

Mr. Rowe's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Robert Rowe Saturday afternoon was largely attended. The members of Peterborough and Otonabee lodges, and Mount Hebron Encampment, I. O. O. F., turned out on the occasion and did honor to their deceased brother.

Of Unsound Mind.

Charles Maguire, of Harvey, was last week committed to the gaol here as a lunatic. Arrangements are being made to have the unfortunate man transferred to the asylum.

The "Giant T" in Front.

Ahead of all competitors, the proprietor of the "Giant T" announces that he will deliver to all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, the best brands of coal oil at the following very low prices: The best water white American, at 25 cents the imperial gallon; the best brands of Canadian oil at 15 cents per gallon. dw

Xmas Tree Entertainment.

A grand Christmas Tree Entertainment will be held in the George Street Methodist church Monday evening, 19th inst. The articles on the Xmas tree, will comprise a varied list of suitable Christmas gifts, and will be disposed of at reasonable prices. A good musical and literary programme will be presented. Refreshments served from six o'clock. Admission, 10 cents. All are invited. 2d144

If You want Pointers

In prices of gift books, see A. L. Davis & Co.'s immense stock—Xmas card prices call forth exclamations of surprise and delight every time. 6d145

Go direct to Turnbull's, The Cheap Dry Goods House, for Fine Wool Goods, Heavy Scotch Shawls, Table Linens, &c., &c., for the Christmas Trade.

Always Taking The Lead

In the grocery line W. J. Morrow is always taking the lead. Holiday Goods must be sold cheap and as he is carrying a large stock now is the time to buy New Fruits, Raisins, Currants, Peels, Lemons, Oranges, Figs, Prunes, &c. Try our Blended Black Teas, Japans and Hysons. The steady advance in Sugars is making no difference with him in the prices owing to the large stock he carries. Opera House Block. dw

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

You in by asking the great crowds that the opening of the Clearance sale of Mason Bros. is to be given to-night. Mason's Opera House, on Aug. 31st, 1887. Special programme in preparation. 10c, 25 and 35 cents.

Y. W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the "Y" will be held in the hall, George street, on Monday evening, Dec. 19th, at 7.30, when the study of some of Mrs. E. B. Browning's poems will be commenced, and all young women will be cordially welcomed. M. POOLE, Secretary.

I go to Turnbull's for my Dry Goods; I find he sells Cheap all the time, and has a First Class Stock to select from. Don't you?

Coal Oil.

China Hall keeps the highest grade burning oil in town. If you are troubled with bad oil try it. It costs no more than the ordinary article and will be delivered free to all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn. dw

We Take no Back Seat

In low prices, and if you want a good substantial Xmas present, pleasant to the eye and beneficial for the mind, inspect A. L. Davis & Co.'s stock. 6d145

Lamps! Lamps!

China Hall opens out to-day (Monday, Dec. 19th), fresh from the factory, its second immense importation (for this season) of handsome hanging lamps, consisting of over two hundred and fifty of the newest patterns in Parlor, Hall and Library Hanging Lamps and Chandeliers. All imported direct from the manufacturers, and which will be sold at prices that no other dealers can approach. We will positively undersell all other dealers. dw

Come to the Xmas Tree Entertainment to-night, in the George Street Methodist Church. An attractive programme and rare chance to procure Xmas gifts.

33⅓ Cents on the Dollar.

Sheppard has purchased at auction brand new goods, as well as a part of a bankrupt stock averaging about 33⅓ cents on the dollar. It comprises nice, new and novel Xmas goods in albums, children's china tea sets, boys' tools, scrap albums, dry goods, clothing, etc., etc.; and this entire stock will be slaughtered at a small advance on the above. Sheppard's noted cheap store, George street, Peterborough. 6d145

Xmas Goods.

Do you want a lovely china tea sett, complete? It is china, in gold, cardinal and white, and gold and brown and white; sold elsewhere for $1.50. Sheppard's price for this beautiful Xmas gift, only 50c. per set. Also sets of boys tools cheap, jewelry cheap, puff boxes cheap, albums cheap. Fancy, if you can, a $7.50 album, in solid leather cover, heavy brass mounting, newest design, for $3.50; also $3 goods for 99c.; scrap albums, regular price $1, for 25 cents each. You might well say all these goods are being sold for next to nothing. Go straight to Sheppard's noted cheap store, George street, Peterborough. 6d145

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

A. L. Davis & Co.'s Trade Booms

On as it has done in the past, and our customers can rely on securing from us all bargains offered in other stores. We are perfectly alive to the times. A merry Xmas. 6d145

PORT HOPE, ONT., Sep. 8, 1887.

D. J. Bannell Sawyer, Esq.,

DEAR SIR.—Having completed a course in the Sawyer Business College, it is my pleasure to state that I have derived great benefit through my attendance.

The course is throughout a source of pleasure and improvement, and I believe that a thorough course in such an institution must prove of great value to any intending to follow a mercantile life.

Wishing you continual success, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
S. E. K. WALKER.

Turnbull is selling heavy Costume Dress Goods, 54 inches wide, for 25c. a yard, which beats anything I've had thrown at me at supposed Cost Prices. I always find Turnbull has the Bottom Prices.

Arrested for Robbery.

Andrew Faulkner, a young man from Omemee, was arrested Saturday afternoon at Snowden's hotel by Acting-Chief Adams and Constable Mitchell, of Omemee, on a charge of robbery. It appears that one night last week Faulkner and another man named Mills (who has also been arrested) assisted Mr. Ingram, a citizen of Omemee, to his home while intoxicated, and put him to bed. Next morning Mr. Ingram missed $126 in cash. Mills and Faulkner were suspected of the theft, and both were arrested, the former in the village and the latter in Peterborough. Mills, when arrested, had some jewelry in his possession which was identified as having been stolen from Mulligan's store a couple of weeks ago. Faulkner was taken back to Omemee Saturday evening.

The Passing Pioneers.

In his sermon on Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Tovell made feeling references to the removal of two of the oldest members of the church by death. Within a week Mr. Andrew Statt and Mr. Robert Rowe had been called away. The speaker referred to the great interest Mr. Statt had for a long time taken in the success of Charlotte street church. Before the present church building was erected, the present site was largely in a state of nature, and Mr. Statt had been active in preparing it for a church building by removing stumps and refuse and otherwise fitting it for its intended use, in the hope, which had been fully realized, of seeing a church built thereon. The speaker had visited the late Mr. Statt in his last illness and found him ripening for a better life, full of hope of a happy future—anxious to depart and be with Christ. Only one short week after Mr. Rowe had helped to consign Mr. Statt's remains to their last resting-place, he, too, was suddenly summoned to the spirit world. Thus the grey-haired pioneers of the church and the community were rapidly passing away—called home to the reward of their long labours.

A Christmas Present

We strongly advise our readers to look at SAUNDERS' 'Xmas Cards, Gift Books, Albums, etc., before giving orders in all other lines. We believe we can give the best value in town. dtf

The Cheapest Morning Paper in Canada.

The Toronto World now makes a claim, not without foundation, of being the leading paper of that city. It is a bright and newsy sheet and should have widespread patronage. It gives all the news of the day in concise form, free from bias. Write to them for their special terms. Address, The World, Toronto.

DEAR people do not buy Cotton boots and shoes, but buy KIDD's boots, they are surely the best.

Christmas Presents.

There is no need for Peterborough people to go out of town now for fine goods in china, silver, etc. China Hall has a stock equal to any in Canada. Chamber sets from $1.00 to $32.00, tea sets from $2.00 to $50.00, dinner sets from $3.50 to $65.00, silver pieces from 25c. to $200 in value. Every article in the two show rooms suitable for 'Xmas presents. A magnificent city stock at town prices. dw

Personal.

On Thursday last Mrs. Thomas Bradburn took the first stage of a journey to Los Angeles, California, where she intends spending the winter, for the benefit of her health. Mr. T. Bradburn goes to Toronto to-day to join Mrs. Bradburn in Toronto and continue the journey. It is expected they will return to town next May. At Kansas city they will join some Port Hope friends on their way, also, to Los Angeles to spend the winter.

Mr. James Bolton leaves town to-day for Detroit to superintend the manufacturing of Bolton's celebrated patent Hot Water Boilers for the Detroit Heating and Lighting Company.

Mr. H. S. Kirby, for a number of years with Mr. John McKee, druggist, left to-day for his home in Ottawa. After spending a couple of weeks there he goes to Winnipeg to enter the drug store of Mr. W. C. Mitchell. Mr. Kirby during his stay in town has made many friends who will view his departure from the town with great regret.

Police Court.

James Healy and John Powers, two Saturday night drunks, were dismissed with a warning.

Saturday afternoon P. M. Edmison delivered judgment in the Scott Act case against Mr. H. Calcutt, fining the defendant $50 and costs.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Wallace will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday evening.

The system of pulpit exchange between the two Methodist churches after next Sunday will be discontinued.

Highly successful evangelistic services are held in the Charlotte street church after the regular Sunday evening services.

A Mystery Solved.

If you want a first class heating stove that uses little coal, guaranteed to you, buy the "POPULAR MYSTIC" at Breese & Bain's. d

Postponed.

The entertainment to be given by the St. John's Church Sunday School has been postponed until Thursday, Dec. 22nd. See advertisement to-morrow for particulars. 1d

Come to the Xmas Tree Entertainment to-night, in the George street Methodist Church. An attractive programme and rare chance to procure Xmas gifts.

Consented to be a Candidate.

In deference to the earnest solicitations of his friends Mr. J. T. Norwood Lodge of Oddfellows.

The following is the corrected list of the Charter members of the new Oddfellow lodge about to be installed at Norwood:—Dr. G. A. Pettigrew, Rev. James Carmichael, Henry Bewell, R. T. Stewart, W. E. Roxburgh, Archibald Scott, John Finlay, John Davidson, C. Waters and Ira M. Camsaigs. The information is given that the petition is now completed and will at once be forwarded. The prospective members of Norwood lodge are anxious to have the lodge instituted on Friday, December 30th, should the Executive of the Grand Lodge be pleased to grant the dispensation in time for that date. It is confidently expected that the institution of the lodge will be conducted, at the request of the Grand Master, by Bro. Dr. Bell, Grand Warden, assisted by Bro. J. R. Stratton, M. P.P., District Deputy Grand Master, and prominent members of Otonabee Lodge. It is also expected that Grand Secretary King will be present. It is arranged that the formal inaugural ceremonies will take place in the afternoon, and the remaining work in the evening, when the degree team of Otonabee Lodge will give its valuable assistance in the admission of new members. The members of Norwood Lodge are making diligent efforts to have their hall completed and all arrangements perfected by the date mentioned. The names and standing of the charter members give the assurance that the new lodge will be a credit to the Order, one to which Otonabee may well be proud of being the parent lodge.

PT. PERRY MEN COMMITTED

PRELIMINARY TRIAL OF LATTIMORE, TREBELL AND CORBYN.

"Detective" Dennen Swears he Did Not Shoot Brown—The Case Against the Incendiaries—Two Witnesses Say They Saw Dennen Fire at the Bartender—The Scene at Myrtle Station.

WHITBY, Dec. 19.—The first legal step in connection with the Myrtle shooting affair was taken here this afternoon, when a preliminary examination was held in the grand jury room of the County Court House. Major Harper was the presiding magistrate. The Court House was surrounded by a large crowd during the afternoon, but only a few were admitted to the room, greatly to the discomfiture of those who stood out in the yard and peered in through the windows.

When the court met Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow of Toronto said he was present to defend Dennen and McCrea, and Mr. S. H. Dowd of this town appeared for Wm. Lattimore, Fred Corbyn and Thomas Trebell. Mr. J. E. Farewell, County Crown Attorney, was also on hand. As is well known, Dennen and McCrea are held on a charge of shooting Brown, while Corbyn, Trebell and Lattimore are charged with "conspiring to maliciously and wickedly" hurt and wound Dennen. The cases are so closely identified that it is hard to separate them.

Mr. Bigelow said he would request that the charges against Corbyn, Dennen and Lattimore be taken up first.

All five prisoners were in the courtroom. Mr. Dowd objected to proceeding with the case until the arrival of Mr. N. F. Patterson, Q.C., of Port Perry, who was in Toronto. Mr. Dowd said he had had but twenty minutes to consider the case, and he insisted that the investigation be not opened until Mr. Patterson arrived from Toronto.

Magistrate Harper overruled the objection, and the investigation was proceeded with. Mr. Patterson arrived in town at 3 o'clock, and took part in the proceedings after the adjournment at 7 o'clock for dinner.

John S. Dennen told the story of the shooting after he had been sworn. He said that on the night of Dec. 14, at about 7 o'clock, he was in the waiting-room of the C.P.R. station at Myrtle. He and McCrea had come over from Brooklin, where they had been prosecuting Scott Act cases before Magistrate Horne. There were many angry demonstrations against witness and McCrea in the Brooklin courtroom and they got out of Brooklyn to escape violence, which they anticipated. At the hour named witness was called out of the waiting-room by Brown, the wounded man. Brown said to witness: "Where have you been all day?" Witness replied "In Brooklin." Then Brown put his hand on witness and said: "Come with me you ——." Witness said he had his hand in his right pants pocket and Brown told him to take it away.

Dennen continued his story: "I refused to go and jerked away from Brown. Brown put a pistol up to my head and repeated with an oath, that I should go with him. At this time we were on the platform, in the corner of a bay window, inside of which were the telegraph instruments. Brown and I clinched and we struggled all over the platform, possibly covering a space of fifteen feet. Then Trebell came up and I was forced by him against the station house. Brown clicked his pistol in my face two or three times, but he didn't fire. I finally wrenched the pistol from Brown. Brown was then on his knees or partly stooping. Trebell took a cane from Brown and began hammering me over the head. He also kept pushing me against the building.

"While we were struggling in the corner of the window three or four shots were fired from the west (the Toronto end) corner of the station. It was dark at the corner and all I could see was the flash of pistols. I do not know who fired them, as I could see no one. I do not know who the shots were fired at. When I saw I was getting in close quarters in the corner of the window I called for McCrea to come and help me. I finally escaped from the corner and ran into the station.

"I had two revolvers in my hand when I got inside, my own and the one I took from Brown. Brown and Trebell were "full" when they came up to me first, at least their breaths smelt strong. This, I thought, was an indication of trouble.

"When I got into the station Mr. Mulligan, Mr. Maclean, Mr. Forest and the station-agent were present. I said to Mr. Mulligan: 'Examine this pistol that I took from Brown. If the trigger had been pulled once more I would have been shot.'"

Witness positively could not identify any of the parties on the platform who had done the alleged shooting. He said there were a number of shots fired. He did not think that Brown's pistol exploded at all. After he had struggled with Brown and got his pistol away, and when Trebell began to club him on the head, Brown disappeared and he did not see him again. He positively stated that he did not see Brown fall or when he fell. Dennen said further that he had purchased a seven-chambered pistol in Toronto three months ago and loaded six of the chambers just after buying it. The hammer was left in an empty cell for safety. "I have never fired the pistol since I purchased it," said the witness.

Detective Inspector Stark of Toronto was examined. He said that on the morning of Dec. 15 Dennen came to Police Headquarters. He surrendered himself and handed two revolvers to the inspector. One, Dennen explained, was his own, and the other he had taken from Brown. Brown's pistol had two cartridges in it. Being asked if he thought Brown's pistol had been recently fired, the inspector said: "No, I do not think so. I don't believe that pistol had been fired for the past twenty-four hours." The chambers exhibited evidences of rust and were not clean, as they would have been had they been recently fired. Brown's pistol was of the "Lone Star" make of 32 calibre.

The pistols were both put in as exhibits.

Mr. Dowd cross-examined Dennen at length. His story was not materially altered. He repeated that he could not tell who fired, where Brown fell, how many were on the platform or how many shots were fired. He went over the struggle in the corner of the bay window. Dennen also said: "McCrea and I entered the Myrtle Station of the Canadian Pacific Railway from the west end. We had walked over from the Grand Trunk Station, having just arrived from Brooklin. When I wrenched Brown's pistol from him I don't know in what position he was. I do not think however he was lying on his back. I think there were three or four revolvers at the corner of the station." Witness said further to Mr. Dowd that he did not fire off Brown's pistol after he had gained possession of it. He handed it to Inspector Stark in just the same condition as he had wrested it from Brown. Dennen said the reason he did not surrender himself to the Toronto police when he reached the city on the Canadian Pacific Railway train was because he was hungry and tired and wanted to get refreshment and rest.

J. W. Meharry, hardware merchant of Port Perry, testified that on the night of Dec. 14, at about 6 o'clock, he lent Brown a revolver and he purchased fifty cartridges. "I had no idea for what purpose Brown wanted the revolver, nor do I know if a party of men left Port Perry for Myrtle that night," said Mr. Meharry.

Harry Conn, livery stable keeper at Port Perry, testified that the rig in which the party drove over to Myrtle was obtained at his stable. He did not think Corbyn was in the rig when it left the stable. Mr. Conn's evidence was unimportant.

Thomas H. Doucaster, proprietor of the Hotel St. Charles, Port Perry, where Bartender Brown worked, testified that on the afternoon of Dec. 14 a commercial traveler was stopping at his house. A number of persons were gathered around the traveler, who was telling them about seeing a crowd following Dennen and McCrea that day. The traveler was also telling about the Scott Act trials which had taken place. Mr. Doucaster then related about receiving a letter from 102 Adelaide-street west, Toronto; [Dennen boarded at 102 Adelaide-street west.—Reps.] offering to withdraw the charge against him on payment of $15. The traveler told that the "detectives" who had worked Brooklin were at Myrtle, and witness said Corbyn, who keeps an hotel across the street from the St. Charles, wanted him to go to Myrtle and see them about the letter and the charges. Witness replied: 'I would not give them 50 cents to compromise. They would give us the double cross. I would sooner pay $50 into court than 75 cents to the 'detectives.' Brown told witness that he was going to Myrtle to have a talk with the "detectives," and witness advised him not to go, as he (witness) thought it would do no good.

Richard Colmer, aged 20, a hostler at Vernon's Hotel, was on the platform at Myrtle at the time of the shooting. He told a story that completely upset Dennen's evidence. Colmer is a Cornish youth and made some choice contortions with his mother tongue. He insisted on speaking of Dennen and McCrea as the whisky conformers. Colmer stated positively that he was at the west end of the depot when the shooting was going on.

Before the firing he saw Brown, Corbyn, Lattimore and Trebell in consultation. He thought they were going to arrest Dennen and McCrea. He saw Dennen fire three shots from a revolver and he saw the flash of two of them on Brown's breast. The men were in the corner of the bay window. There were no shots fired from the west end of the depot. "If there had been I certainly would have seen them," said the witness to Attorney Farewell, who had him in hand.

Witness proceeded: I did not see Trebell strike Dennen with a club. Brown had a cane in his hand but he did not give it to Trebell. He never left go the stick during the scuffle. I found the cane beside Brown when we picked him up on the platform. I helped to carry him into the depot after he was wounded. I did not see Brown fire a shot at Dennen. I am positive Dennen fired three shots. I did not hear any more than three shots fired during the row. I saw Trebell and Lattimore on the platform during the firing.

Nelson Griffin, foreman at Conn's livery stable in Port Perry, told about sending a rig to the Oriental Hotel. He thought it was ordered by a young man named Burton. The rig was charged on the books to Corbyn. Witness said he was going at first to Myrtle with the party. He afterwards declined to go and Tom Trebell went in his place as teamster. He did not see Corbyn in the rig.

The Court then adjourned for an hour, and after resuming Inspector Stark was recalled. The Inspector said he did not think either of the pistols (Brown's and Dennen's) in the hands of the Court had been fired within a week. To Mr. Patterson the Inspector said he was an expert in firearms, having been one of the drill instructors of the Toronto Police force.

W. McCrea was the next witness. He was examined at length, and told pretty much the same story as Dennen. The men have been together ever since they were under arrest. McCrea said he saw Brown place a revolver at Dennen's head and ask him to come with him. Witness saw three or four shots fired from the west end of the station. He did not know who fired them.

Under the advice of Mr. Bigelow McCrea refused to answer several of Mr. Patterson's questions in cross-examination. He would not say whether he had a revolver or not. McCrea said he lived at No. 53 Emily-street, Toronto, and that he had been a Scott Act informer for about a year.

After other evidence, Magistrate Harper said he would commit the three prisoners on the charge of conspiracy to wound and harm Dennen and McCrea.

Mr. Patterson made an emphatic denial that there had been any evidence of a conspiracy. There was no evidence whatever that Lattimore or Corbyn were mixed up in any way with the row.

The magistrate seemed disposed to grant bail, and Mr. Patterson will make application to-morrow.

The charge against "Detectives" McCrea and Dennen of wounding with intent to disable George Brown was then gone into.

Station Agent Scott of Myrtle was the first witness. He was on the platform on the night of the shooting. Witness saw Dennen, Brown and Trebell in a struggle in the corner of the bay window. He saw Dennen fire two shots at Brown and he thought the bullets struck Brown in the breast. He also saw McCrea fire a pistol; besides these three shots he heard two others, but he did not know who fired them.

Witness did not hear or see any shots at the west end of the depot. Brown did not fall on the front of the platform. He walked around to the back of the depot, and as he walked away Brown said, "My God, I am shot." Witness did not give a very clear account of the actual occurrences, but he assured Mr. Bigelow, in cross-examination, that he was not the least bit frightened or nervous.

Inspector Stark was called in this case, and repeated that he thought that neither of the pistols given him by Dennen had been discharged within a week.

Mr. James A. Mulligan, President of the Toronto branch of the National League, was examined next. Mr. Mulligan heard plenty of shooting out on the platform, but he saw none of it. After the shooting Dennen and McCrea came into the station. Witness thought that both of them had smoking revolvers in their hands. Dennen came up to him and said: "Mulligan, you know me; you won't see Toronto men done up, will you?" Mr. Mulligan proceeded: "I went around to the back of the station and saw Brown lying there. When I came back I asked Dennen to let me see his revolvers. He did so. One was larger than the other. Before I got a chance to inspect them, McCrea insisted that I should return them to Dennen and I did so. Dennen said one was the larger revolver belonged to Brown and the smaller one to himself. Dennen said he had wrenched one of the revolvers from Brown. I did not hear Dennen say that he had shot Brown with one of the revolvers.

"Dennen said to me: 'Mr. Mulligan, I never fired a shot; McCrea shot. Rogers lost his life in self defence.' McCrea said to me that those men intended to murder them. McCrea did not admit to me that he had fired the shots."

To Mr. Bigelow: "The reason Dennen handed me the revolvers was because I asked for them."

Mr. Mulligan could not identify the revolvers in Court as those handed him by Dennen. He said they looked very much like them, however.

To Mr. Bigelow: "The suggestion that I should return the revolvers to Dennen came entirely from McCrea. Dennen seemed willing that I should keep them."

James H. Madison of Toronto gave similar evidence to Mr. Mulligan. James Forest, a farmer of Ashburton, was the last witness. Mr. Forest is a good old Scotchman. He was on the platform and saw all the affair, but got so badly rattled that he could tell absolutely nothing about the case.

The court adjourned at 1.30 a.m.

A YOUNG MAN'S SUICIDE AFTER A PROTRACTED SPREE.

Toronto's Assessment—The Central Bank Liquidators Getting Ready to Work—Sunday Night Burglars—Fatal Accident to a Child.

TORONTO, Dec. 21.

As Mr. Peter Keiller of Patton's-avenue was passing along St. Helen's-avenue about 8.45 yesterday morning, he found the prostrate body of a young man lying across the path. The face and neck were covered with blood that flowed from a large hole in the side of the head. Life was extinct. Mr. Keiller notified Coroner McConnell, who had the body removed to Thomas O'Neill's hotel, Dufferin and Bloor streets. A 44 calibre British bulldog revolver was found beneath the corpse. Examination revealed a large bullet hole through the right ear and side of the skull. In deceased's breast pocket were a number of old envelopes each bearing the name "G. Woodhouse." Subsequently Mr. William Woodhouse, baker, of 282 Queen-street west, identified the body as that of his brother. A heart-rending scene followed, Mr. Woodhouse and his son, who accompanied him, bursting into tears and loud lamentations.

Coroner McConnell held an inquest at O'Neill's hotel last night. Peter Keiller testified that he found the body as above described. William Royle gave evidence that he met deceased, revolver in hand, about 8.45 a.m. on Jarvieon-avenue, when suddenly he stopped and commenced talking. Witness heard him say: "If I had time this morning I would have shot him." Witness asked, "What are you going to shoot, Mallon's dog?" Deceased replied, "No, my brother," and ran across a field. Wm. Woodhouse, brother of deceased, testified that his brother, George Frederick Woodhouse, came to Toronto from Ottawa about three months ago, that deceased was a brass finisher by trade and worked at Morrison's. He had been off on a spree for the past ten days, was hopelessly demented and frequently attacked by delirium.

The jury deliberated about an hour and returned a verdict of suicide.

Mr. Robert Davies of the Davies Brewing Company has sworn out writs against the corporation of the City of Toronto, Ald. Boustead Gillespie and Fleming, who form the City Council's Special Committee re the Fleming Bylaw, to restrain them from publishing and submitting to the electors the proposed bylaws for the reduction of tavern and shop licenses. City Clerk Blevins, representing the city, and the three aldermen named have been served with notices to the effect that the motion for an injunction will be made at 10 to-day before Mr. Justice McMahon. The ground taken is that the Council has not the power to submit such a bylaw to the people, but that they must take action themselves: that the expense incurred in connection with the submission is unauthorized and therefore illegal, and that the taking of the said vote will tend to prejudice the vote to be taken on the question of increased license duties.

The Mayor is not at all alarmed by the action, but is confident that his side will come out ahead. City Solicitor McWilliams and W. A. Foster, Q.C., will look after the city's interests, while McCarthy, Osler, Hoskin & Creelman are Mr. Davies' solicitors. It will be a pretty nice question of law.

A shocking and fatal accident befell the 8-year-old son of Mr. John Sharpe, master plasterer, 74 Edward-street, last night. With several other boys he mounted an empty timber lorry belonging to the Sheddon Company, which was in charge of Frank Lipsto, of 105 Teraulay-street. When near the latter street he slipped off and one of the wheels passed over his body. He, however, picked himself up, ran some thirty feet and fell down dead. He was carried home and two doctors were promptly at the house. The child was found sadly mangled. Coroner Duncan will decide as to the inquest this morning. Deceased was a sharp, clever boy and had been maimed through being run over when 2 years old. He is a nephew of Ald. McMillan. The driver of the team was arrested and lodged in the Agnes-street Police Station.

Burglars were busy on Sunday. Among the visits of those gentry reported was one to the store of Mrs. Cook, Wilton-avenue and Parliament-street. No booty was secured. The residence of Mrs. Poucher, 11 Winchester-street, was robbed of $5 in money, three gold brooches and other jewelry. A satchel and $1 in money was taken from the house at 46 Granville-street, and by aid of a false key an entrance was effected into O'Neil's provision store, Hackney and Queen streets, the thieves carrying away several hams.

The liquidators of the Central Bank yesterday had a brief consultative meeting. They have not yet received the order of court appointing them to their official position, and until this formal proceeding they cannot enter on their onerous duties.

WAR SCARE IN EUROPE.

THE ENTOURAGE OF THE CZAR SYSTEMATICALLY DECEITFUL.

Two Russian Army Corps to be Mobilized—Salisbury's View of the War Panic—Doherty's Trial at Old Bailey—A Czech M.P. Gets Two Months.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The Emperor Francis Joseph presided at the Military Council in Vienna to-day. The session lasted two hours.

The Political Correspondence of Vienna publishes a letter from Berlin to-day observing the entourage of the Czar with systematic deceit towards the Czar and with intention to him to give decisions he would not sanction if he knew the truth. The letter the recent article in The St. Petersburg Official Gazette which reflects the false military reports submitted to the Czar, is the latest proof of this state of affairs. The secluded life the Czar leads and the unscrupulous flattery of the diplomats around him facilitate the work of deception and give an explanation of the Czar's incomprehensible attitude on the most important questions of the day. The hope of averting war depends mostly upon whether the misrepresentations of the Czar's entourage can be successfully exposed and the truth be revealed.

The council decided to grant the Minister of War a credit of 14,000,000 florins. The sanction of the grant is held to be proof that Austria does not intend to take aggressive measures.

From semi-official circles in Bucharest it is learned that in view of certain features of the political situation, preparations are quietly being made to meet any sudden emergency. It is also said that the Government will act in harmony with Germany and Austria. The interview between M. Giers-kowski, the Austrian Minister, and the Government has become active. Two army corps are ready for mobilization and concentration on the Russian frontier. The subsidy of $3,000,000, which was intended for a strategic railway between Jassy and Dorohy, will be kept in reserve as an emergency fund.

In the course of a speech at Derby to-day, Lord Salisbury said that there was no ground, at least so far as known in diplomatic circles, for the war panic that had seized the business and papers of Europe.

No body of troops have moved westward from Moscow recently except the thirteenth division. The resolute tone of The Invalide Russe has created great enthusiasm in Moscow.

In an inspired article criticising the article in The Invalide Russe, The Cologne Gazette says there was no increase of the German forces on the Russian frontier until last spring. Germany was obliged to leave in the Reichland troops really belonging to the eastern provinces. When Russia transferred the greater part of her forces westward in 1873 and a tone of bitter hostility to Germany was displayed in the Russian press, Germany, for the first time, pushed battalions and squadrons towards the eastern frontier, which until then had almost been denuded of troops.

The article denies the accuracy of the statement of The Invalide Russe regarding the extension of German railways to the eastward. The German system was planned, the paper says, not with a view to strategy in the East, but solely for commercial purposes, to facilitate traffic between Russia and German ports on the Baltic. It is not true, it says, that the fortresses at Thorn, Posen Deutsch and Koenigsberg were created as a menace to Russia. These fortresses have been long existent and are now as ever the guard of the frontier. The article concluded as follows:

"The Invalide Russe seeks to minimize the extent of the Russian preparations. In the autumn the Russian reserves were called out. Have they been dismissed yet? What is the object of increasing the rifle brigades? What is the meaning of the raising of cavalry regiments to six squadrons? What means the placing of batteries attached to cavalry upon a war footing? The Russian railways serve only military purposes. In the construction of fortresses Russia is exceeded only by France; with Germany all is open."

Mr. John Hooper M.P. for Cork, was to-day sentenced to two months' imprisonment for publishing reports in The Cork Herald of meetings of suppressed branches of the league.

Daniel Doherty, charged with the murder of Geo. Graham, a fellow American, was put on trial at Old Bailey to-day. After the completion of the evidence for the prosecution, he said he had known Graham for fifteen years, and that they had always been on the best of terms. On the day of the shooting Graham and he had had many drinks together. He took Graham home with him; he wanted to show him a revolver. When they reached the house, the wife of the witness said he was drunk. He took down the revolver, which was on the mantelpiece, and started to go out. The weapon went off when he reached the door. He called God to witness that he had never had a word with Graham. From other evidence it was learned that the shooting was accidental, the result of Doherty's drunken state.

Mad Central Bank Creditors.

GUELPH, Dec. 19.—The Guelph creditors of the Central Bank have appointed Messrs. Innes, M.P., McKiderry, Howitt and Guthrie a committee to watch the proceedings in liquidation and co-operate with shareholders in other places. The liquidators will be requested to watch and see if any act of a criminal nature be discovered, and if so that they take action at once and prosecute the guilty parties to the utmost limit of the law.

Never Put off till To-Morrow What can be Done To-Day.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Examiner.)

If people knew the value of time and the dangers and uncertainties of delay, they would lay down a better rule for themselves and would do differently. Punctuality is essential to man's success. Instant and thorough punctuality in all things. The man who is not punctual is not to be trusted. Sometimes a moment's delay leads to the most fatal results. The fate of a nation, or the safety of many lives, often hang in the balance. In times of war, a short delay leads to the defeat of great armies. Had Napoleon's general only known the value of time and had promptly obeyed orders, the fate of the battle of Waterloo might have been different. But with him, as with others, an opportunity once lost is lost for ever. Nature teaches us the value of time. Teaches us to be exact and punctual. Her laws are obedience and promptitude. With Nature, not one moment is lost and everything works on in harmony. The laws of nature are the laws of God. But with man it is different. Man is left to his own will, and he seldom does right. In matters of great importance he does not properly estimate the value of time. He waits a little longer, and yet a little longer, and then, when he is ready to act, the opportunity is gone. The world does not stand still. It does not wait for the slothfulness of man. And the man who delays is left behind. With him, to-morrow will do, and to-morrow never comes. A vessel, heavily laden, crossed Lake Ontario several years ago, and came within a mile of a safe harbor just as a calm night was settling down upon the water. Her captain thought there was no danger, and he cast anchor near the shore to wait till to-morrow. In the night a great storm of wind and snow arose, and his vessel was driven upon the shore, and there amidst the breakers with hundreds of people in plain sight, every soul on board perished. Every effort was made to save them, but all in vain. People threw themselves into the breakers with a view of establishing connection between the vessel and the land, and men on horseback tried hard to do the same but the angry waters took them up and cast them half dead back again upon the shore. They could see one poor little boy crying and frantic with fear, clinging to his father for help. But they all soon perished amidst the frozen waters and snow. It was a sad sight to look upon, but it was the result of putting off till to-morrow what could be done to-day. Everywhere and amongst all people the same deplorable carelessness and delays take place. They never look before them, and they let to-morrow take care of itself. The farmer delays putting his grain into the barn as soon as it is ready. He thinks it will be time enough another day. In the meantime the rain comes, and the fruit of his long year's toil is injured or destroyed. A sick person thinks he will consult the doctor to-morrow, but when to-morrow comes it is too late. A man once said that as soon as he had made money enough and he was rich, then he would become religious and save his soul. But he was soon called for and was gone. And his money was left behind for others to enjoy. He put off till to-morrow what should have been done to-day, and to-morrow never comes. It is always a little longer, yet a little longer, and the daylight is gone and the night cometh when no man can work. A person is struggling hard to save. To lay up something for a rainy day, to provide for himself and family in their old age. His wife wants present enjoyment and the husband has no peace. She wastes his substance in useless gratification, and finds fault because he cannot give her more. She will not be put off. She is asked to wait till another day. She is told that the present time is the time to work and save. But she will not wait. She must have her enjoyments now. The end comes at last. Hard times are upon them, and old age is near. Her means of further enjoyment are gone. Her time to save is gone. Her opportunity is gone. She would not put off her pleasures till to-morrow and work to-day, when she could work and save. The night has come and repentance is too late. Now in poverty and solitude she mourns her past follies and wishes she had worked and saved while it was day. Wishes she had taken good advice and done better. Thus it is that people are always pursuing a shadow, always seeking for something which is afar off and which they cannot obtain. Imagining themselves great and looking for empty applause, which, at most, can only last a day, and then is gone, leaving behind trouble, and sorrow and hard times. Leaving behind an old age of poverty, and distress and misery. It is an old and a true saying that time once past never returns. Good opportunities thrown away never return. Young people little know the trials and disappointments and troubles of old age. There the light has gone out. And the temptations and smiles of the world have ceased. The pleasant warmth of the sun is nearly over. The view forward is short, the view away back is long. Old age is like winter setting in after a pleasant summer. Its future worldly prospects are oftentimes dark and gloomy. It is too often left in solitude to its own meditation. It hears the loud laugh in the places for amusement and pleasure of the young, it thinks of the time of its own youth, and this thought only brings sorrow, and it leaves an aching void. It must now look beyond the setting sun where there is an eternity without end and a peace and joy for the good and the just. People little know the value of time. Little know how important it is to make hay while the sun shines. Little known what a day may bring forth. They are always saying a little longer, yet a little longer, and to-morrow comes and goes and it is always the same, a little longer yet, a little longer. And thus their lives go out and their opportunities are gone. And their places are taken by others who follow the same course, and are always waiting, waiting, always saying to-morrow will do, and to-morrow comes and finds them still waiting. And by-and-bye their sun of life goes down, leaving lost opportunities and broken promises behind. No wonder there is so much poverty and misery in the world. No wonder people cry out for help when they refuse to help themselves. They blame the world, they blame others, they blame everyone but themselves. That is human nature. They call the world hard and cold. They will not see that the Great Creator has made every thing for their comfort and happiness, because they wilfully throw away His gifts. They forget that they are travellers and strangers passing through a life which has not before it peace in this world and joy and happiness in the world to come. They will not look beyond the present hour. And when sickness and sorrow and hard times overtake them they complain, because God does not feed them, and demand a share of those who have looked out for a rainy day, and who have not put off work till to-morrow. This earth is a pleasant home to live in to all those who do right. There is abundance for all who do their duty to themselves and who are thankful for the mercies bestowed upon them. Man was not sent into

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavored to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,

FACTS, Sir; Nothing But Facts!

GOUGH

Is hard up and must raise the wind—he has too many Overcoats on hand, and he must, like the Waggon-Maker who has too many Sleighs on hand in an open Winter, sell them at any price.

Lots of other fellows have got the Stomach Ache—because GOUGH sells so cheap. Witness how the Dry Goods tumbled when the Wonderful Cheap Man took a hand in—One Chap over in the wholesale Fish District, has his ads written in Penntown, where the sewers run on top of the Street. He feels so bad he don't know how to describe it, so says: "He's crippled in Price;" we don't doubt it. Then there is another one he is tied up to Crowbar Bros. of Gotham—these fellows are as stiff on their prices as a Crowbar, and squeeze 50 per cent, profit out of their poor victims, but the victims are under the thumb of Crowbar Bros. and can't help themselves—Then there is the fellow who cannot advertise, It makes him nervous, he uses a whole quart of Camphor a day, and tells customers, "GOUGH is selling so Cheap, it is perfectly demoralizing to trade; I don't know how all this is coming out"—It merely comes out that the customer steers straight for the Wonderful Cheap Man--Then there is another fellow, if he sees one of GOUGH'S men on the street he yells "give aways;" he knows GOUGH gives away more than the high-priced fellows sell.

In the interest of the public I want $10,000 and I must have it. I am after a big Bankrupt Stock the biggest yet, and it requires the cash to get it. Therefore I will from now unti January 1st, give ON OVERCOATS AND SUITS A DISCOUNT OF 20 PER CENT. on my former low prices. If this is not the truth I will forfeit $500. Here is a chance now for any one who doubts it to bribe my salesmen and make $500. In addition to the 20 per cent. discount, I will present any person who buys $25 worth or over, with a beautiful Tweed Rubber Coat for a Christmas present.

NOTES FROM GREAT BRITAIN.

The Suspicions Visit Mr. Chamberlain Considered in Cabinet Meeting—Commissions for Canadian Officers.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The London correspondent of The Manchester Guardian states that the chief occupation of the Cabinet on Saturday was considering despatches from Mr. Chamberlain. It is believed that the character of these is too simple to need much deliberation on the part of the Ministers, who have only to record the investigation of the diplomatists. It is said that when the Fisheries Commission next meet Mr. Chamberlain will be in a position to communicate an expression of Lord Salisbury's regret that the Commissioners have not succeeded in settling the difficulty, which he hopes may be speedily referred to arbitration for compulsory arrangement.

The War Office recently granted two commissions in the British army to officers of the militia of certain colonies, excluding Canada. As a result of representations the War Office has now decided to grant six commissions to officers of the Canadian militia on the same conditions as in the other colonies. The details will be announced shortly in a general order.

A large consignment of Canadian turkeys arrived by the Etruria for the Christmas market.

LONDON THE LESS.

A Rumored Irregularity in the Waterworks Department Explained.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—There was somewhat of a flutter in civic circles to-day caused by reports of irregularities in the Waterworks Department, and a special meeting of the commissioners was held to-night in regard to the matter. It seems that Secretary Burke had charged the board $200, expenses of a business trip to Montreal and New York, which, at the instance of Auditor Jewell, was cut down one-half, although it had been passed by the board. The money, however, having been already drawn, it left the secretary $100 behind.

Added to this the Secretary and two other office employes had been allowed an increase in salary of $100 each by the chairman, which the board would not endorse, and part of this increase had been drawn on the strength of the chairman's actions. This item the auditor also declined to endorse. This left Secretary Burke's cash $173 short on Dec. 6, and the matter was reported by the auditor, although the amount was made good at once. After a full explanation of the circumstances, the board by a resolution exonerated Secretary Burke. Commissioner George Hiscox alone dissenting.

Henry Taylor's case came up before the Police Magistrate to-day, but the hearing was postponed till next Saturday. The prisoner is said to be in better health now than he has been of late.

The whisky informers, Thomas and Thomas E. Williamson, who are charged with perjury in a recent Scott Act case, were to-day committed for trial.

The City Council to-night voted a bonus of $1000 toward the erection of the proposed new medical college. They also agreed to sell three lots of the Central School Grounds to the faculty at $60 per foot as a site for the institute.

SAID TO HAVE KILLED HIS MAN.

Further Developments in the Montreal Detective Case.

MONTREAL, Dec. 19.—In the examination in the case of the robber detectives to-day another one of Mr. M. Lefebvre's fine watches supposed to have been stolen in the robbery from his jewellery store in 1884, was produced. It was in the keeping of Detective LaPointe of the force, who gives the following account of how it came into his possession:

"One day I was standing near Naegele at the Central Police Station when he opened his drawer. I noticed a number of watches there and asked him where he got them. He said they were only samples and gave me one of them for my boy. I suppose people will begin to try to implicate me in the matter too, but they should remember that after being shot by Fantaux on Mignonne-street on Nov. 19, I did not leave my house until Dec. 5 following. The robbery was committed on Dec. 17. I handed the watch to High Constable Bissonette to-day."

Detective Flynn of the Grand Trunk Railway finished his evidence to-day. It corroborates that of Detective Maxwell and gives the following additional information: Wilson was threatened with being shot like a dog by Fahey if he was found to be a traitor, and therefore he could not notify the Grand Trunk authorities before he did. Fahey also said Naegele had already killed a man. Naegele also told Burgess that if he weakened he would shoot him. Flynn also believed that Conroy, the carter, was in reality not a carter, but was assisting Wilson to expose Fahey.

ANOTHER BIG DEAL.

Fusion the Government and the C.P.R.—The Monopoly Clauses to be Surrendered.

MONTREAL, Dec. 19.—The cable rumors from London, the jump that has taken place in the Canadian Pacific Railway shares, and the re-election of Sir Charles Tupper at Winnipeg, all go to show that a deal is on between the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The Government proposes to enter into an arrangement with the Canadian Pacific Railway with a view to inducing them to forego their monopoly clauses, and, as a consideration for they, it is rumored, propose to give them an additional guarantee of ten millions to be added to the amount already guaranteed, and [illegible] sanction and security [illegible] other, which will enable them to raise more money. If the ten millions additional is given, it will enable the Canadian Pacific Railway to build additional elevators, supply additional rolling stock, put on the new steamers that are projected both on the Atlantic and Pacific, and place the company in a position to serve the interests of Manitoba and the Northwest. The new bonds will be put on the market after the new year.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with [illegible] And what they [illegible] pneumonia, consumption, [illegible] family of them. [illegible] long obstructions, [illegible] to get rid of. [illegible] to get rid of them. The [illegible] German Syrup, which [illegible] result you at 75 cents a bottle. [illegible] if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

To Avoid Baldness or Gray Hair.

Use Dr. Dennerwurd's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and cause a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Keep It in Good Humor.

This injunction applies not only to the mental but the physical system. Sick headache, dyspepsia, and all obstinate humors of the blood are perfectly curable by Burdock Blood Bitters. 2w51d

Bear It in Mind.

That pure blood is the life nourishment of the body, and means perfect health to one can deny. Cleanse the blood from all impurities with B.B.B., the best blood purifier known. 2w51d

A High Valuation.

"If there was only one bottle of Haggard's Yellow Oil in Manitoba I would give one hundred dollars for it," writes Philip H. Kraut, of Monteith, Manitoba, after having used it for a severe wound and for frozen fingers, with, as he says, "astonishing good results." 3w51d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A CRYING EVIL.—Children are often fretful and ill when worms are the cause. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup safely expels all Worms dw

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF.—Cleanse the scalp with Prof. Low's Magic Sulphur Soap. A delightful medicated soap for the toilet. dw

Great Slaughtering and Cutting

OF

AT

THOMAS KELLY'S

After considering the matter over carefully I have decided to force the sale of my large and well assorted stock of Dry Goods. This means a loss, but, rather than carry goods over until another season, I feel justified in taking this course. It is not my practice to make random statements misleading to customers, therefore when I say the prices will be cut down you will find that the prices WILL be cut down. Remember that price alone is no criterion of cheapness. You should see the goods and judge of their values. What we say we do, and more than that we reduce seasonable goods, not old goods lying around the shelves from season to season. A few quotations will serve as a guide, and possibly startle you into the advisability of calling.

Xmas Cards.

A job lot of Xmas advertising cards to clear off—cheap—at the EXAMINER office.

A choice stock of Overcoats and clothing of all kinds for boys at remarkably low prices, at Turnbull's.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. Geo. Gaspright is in town. Orders may be left at T. McKenzie's or Messrs. Taylor & McDonald's stores.

Situations.

No fewer than three applications were made at the Business College this week for students to take good positions in leading town firms.

Sold En Bloc.

Mr. C. E. Starr's household furniture having been purchased en bloc by Messrs. J. H. Barnham and A. J. Belcher, the auction sale as advertised has been cancelled.

After the Holidays.

Parties intending to enter the Business College as students after the 'Xmas holidays would do well to make early arrangements. Quite a number have already registered for the New Year term.

THE very best Christmas present is a pair of nice plush, velvet or leather slippers bought from KIDD, the boot man. dw

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

The "Giant T" in Front.

Ahead of all competitors, the proprietor of the "Giant T" announces that he will deliver to all parts of the town, Ashburnham and Auburn, the best brands of coal oil at the following very low prices: The best water white American, at 25 cents the imperial gallon; the best brands of Canadian oil at 15 cents per gallon. dw

Be Ready.

The boy or girl who wants to be ready to fill a good position will do well to go to the Business College for special training.

Now Open.

Chamberlain's oyster parlor is now open for the season. Oysters will be served at all hours in styles to suit the tastes of our patrons. After this week shell oysters will be kept constantly on hand. Porter-house steaks, chops etc., prepared on the shortest notice.

Long or short Mantles, Dolmans and Ulsters at closing out prices at Turnbull's.

If You want Pointers

In prices of gift books, see A. L. Davis & Co.'s immense stocks—Xmas card prices call forth exclamations of surprise and delight every time. 6d145

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Discharged Cured.

Three of the children of Mr. J. J. Turner, which have been confined in the Nicholl's Hospital, have been discharged cured and returned to their home. Mr. Turner speaks in the highest and most grateful terms of the excellent medical attention and careful nursing his children received while in the hospital; he also wishes to deny the report that he lost one of his children. All are alive and well.

Always Taking The Lead

In the grocery line W. J. Morrow is always taking the lead. Holiday Goods must be sold cheap and as he is carrying a large stock now is the time to buy New Fruits, Raisins, Currants, Peels, Lemons, Oranges, Figs, Prunes, &c. Try our Blended Black Teas, Japans and Hysons. The steady advance in Sugars is making no difference with him in the prices owing to the large stock he carries. Opera House Block. dw

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Oysters, Oysters.

Oysters in every style served at all hours at the Rob Roy Restaurant. d

The Palace.

Trade is trending to the Palace Grocery. Why? Because Elliott & Thorney keep the largest assortment of staples and fine goods in Peterborough, and sell at the lowest prices. See their new 'Xmas Fruits. 1d

Xmas Goods.

When buying Xmas gifts you will find useful goods at H. S. GRIFFIN & Co.'s. Silk handkerchiefs, fancy handkerchiefs, kid gloves, ties, collars and cuffs, toilet sets, brush and comb bags, plush table mats, decorating scarfs, etc. Also special value in silks for Xmas week. 2d

A Two Thousand Dollar Robbery.

Mr. Philip Pearsall, cheese-maker of Westwood factory, Asphodel township, and wife are visiting friends in Toronto. Sunday afternoon they visited the Salvation Army temple, and in the crowd Mrs. Pearsall's wallet, containing $120 in cash and notes to the value of nearly $2,000, was stolen. No arrests have yet been made.

Ladies! Remember Turnbull's is the right place to look for beautiful Fascinators and Clouds in all the new tints.

We Take no Back Seat

In low prices, and if you want a good substantial Xmas present, pleasant to the eye and beneficial for the mind, inspect A. L. Davis & Co.'s stock. 6d145

Lamps! Lamps!

China Hall opens out to-day (Monday, Dec. 19th), fresh from the factory, its second immense importation (for this season) of handsome hanging lamps, consisting of over two hundred and fifty of the newest patterns in Parlor, Hall and Library Hanging Lamps and Chandeliers. All imported direct from the manufacturers, and which will be sold at prices that no other dealers can approach. We will positively undersell all other dealers. dw

33⅓ Cents on the Dollar.

Sheppard has purchased at auction brand new goods, as well as a part of a bankrupt stock averaging about 33⅓ cents on the dollar. It comprises nice, new and novel Xmas goods in albums, children's china tea sets, boys' tools, scrap albums, dry goods, clothing, etc., etc.; and this entire stock will be slaughtered at a small advance on the above. Sheppard's noted cheap store, George street, Peterborough. 6d145

China Hall.

China Hall's stock is now complete and an invitation is hereby extended to the Peterborough people to pay it a visit and see the large and varied stock of new goods contained in the two show rooms. The store will be open till 10 o'clock in the evening from now until after 'Xmas, and as very few have yet seen the "basement show room" we would like every lady and gentleman in Peterborough to pay us a visit now and inspect our Christmas stock and at the same time make a note of anything likely to suit them for a Christmas purchase. No one asked to buy. dw

THE best boots are always the cheapest. Get them at KIDD'S. dw

A Shift among School Teachers.

A meeting of the Committee of Appointments of the School Board was held Monday evening, at which Mr. W. H. Walkey was appointed second master in the central school in the place of Mr. A. E. Scott, resigned. Miss Keele's resignation of her position, of second teacher in the west ward school, on account of her family's removal to Toronto, was accepted, and Miss Richardson promoted to the position, while Miss Sim was appointed to Miss Richardson's place. This leaves a vacancy on the teaching staff. The committee adjourned for the purpose of investigating the qualifications of a number of applicants for the position.

Fine Scalettes made to order at greatly reduced prices this week and next week, at Turnbull's.

Presentation and Address.

At the close of two years' teaching in the Central Public School, Mr. A. E. Scott received a very gratifying evidence of appreciation of his services and of the esteem in which he has been held by his pupils. At the end of the term he was presented by a very complimentary address from his fellow teachers and the pupils of his room, setting forth his many good qualities and expressing regret at the severance of their associations. The address was accompanied with the present of a handsome and completely equipped "Gentleman's Companion" in plush. Mr. Scott made a suitable and feeling reply, giving his thanks for the gift and the appreciative and kindly words which accompanied it. Mr. Scott has been a successful teacher. At every promotion examination he sent up the whole of his room, and on every occasion two thirds of the class succeeded in passing. Mr. Scott enters the employment of Mr. W. H. Hill's "Sun Life" and Fire Insurance Agency, and he will no doubt be a most successful and energetic representative of the several companies comprising this important agency. The EXAMINER wishes both Mr. Hill and staff, and the new member thereof, every success.

Christmas Presents.

Such as Bibles, Prayer and Hymn Books, Story Books, Albums, Satchels, Purses, Plush Goods, Gold Pens and Pencils, Desks, Work Boxes, Toilet Cases, Companions and Xmas Cards in large variety at lowest prices at A. L. Davis & Co.'s. 6d145

A Local Political Scandal.

It will be a surprise to the people of the town to know that the Trent Valley Canal has developed a political scandal, equal in magnitude to, the great Pacific scandal. "Send me another $10,000," with a local application, explains why so little progress has been made. If all the money appropriated had been devoted to the legitimate purposes of actual canal construction, there would have been far greater progress. But from a local source (and it will not be without response) comes the cry, "Send me another $10,000," for the party who is after "another $10,000" is no less a person than gough, the wonderful cheap man. A gigantic bankrupt stock has been sighted, and gough wants $10,000 cash so that he can lay hands on it and give the public something hitherto unheard of even in his career in the way of big bargains. To tempt the people to benefit themselves and to get this $10,000, gough has decided to give a discount off of 20 per cent. on his huge stock of overcoats and suits. Low as were the prices before, they are now 20 cents lower on the dollar than before. Don't fail to take a hand in this great bargain jubilee.

Walking advertisements for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy are thousands it has cured.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice in your impression of yesterday that a self-styled working man deals or intends rushing to drill severely with Mr. Rutherford in his capacity as a Mayoralty candidate. The larger part of his letter is exaggeration of petty matters into deeds of disastrous magnitude. It is all very well to indulge in clamours for economy, but there is economy, and economy—the true and the false. It is all very well to keep down the items, but there are necessary expenditures which must be made and which a town like this cannot avoid. Cheese-paring is not economy.

There are other considerations entering into the qualifications of a chief magistrate equally important. Moral questions outweigh mere matters of money. A mayor, to be well qualified for the position, must be in sympathy with the people he represents, and, in more ways than one, Mr. Stevenson fails in this respect, "he fill the bill." A very large portion of the rate-payers of the town cannot sympathise with Mr. Stevenson's too active co-operation with Dr. Kane and Smith, the emissaries sent out to dictate to Canadian electors how they should vote, to dictate to them to vote adversely to the principle of Home Rule and to injure unhappy Ireland's chances of securing the boon of self-government, which we in Canada enjoy and prize so highly. Mr. Stevenson is "dead-set" against Home Rule and the constitutional justice of Home Rule, and in this respect he is not in sympathy with (I make bold to say) the majority of the electors. It may be argued that Home Rule has nothing to do with our municipal elections. But it cannot be denied that the principles of a man, who seeks to represent a people, have a good deal to do with his constituents, and if this were not the case there is one point where Mr. Stevenson runs counter to the wishes of (again I venture to say) the majority of the electors.

It is known that he is an out-and-out opponent of the Scott Act, and that, as mayor of the town, he has not done his duty in seeing that the Act was properly enforced. Without specific instructions—and I will not be positive that these were wanting—the officials of the town could take their cue for neglect of duty from the chief magistrate. This is a serious situation for those who have the interests of morality and the happiness of hundreds of our citizens at heart. Mr. Stevenson can have the most burning sympathy with the enforcement of law in Ireland—and that, too, the most cruel, coercive Act ever concocted outside of Russia—but when it comes to enforcing an Act, designed, if properly observed, to do away with the misery the drink traffic causes in our homes, then Mr. Stevenson's burning desire to see law enforced, disappears. If the highest official of the town sets an example of disrespect for the law and winks at, if he does not overtly encourage its violation, what can we expect from those men directly interested in its violation? And if disrespect for one law is taught from the highest places, will not the lesson be applied to other laws, thus opening the way to a reign of lawlessness? It is well enough to save a few cents in taxes but it is better to have sober, law respecting and law abiding citizens (by virtue of these conditions more able to pay taxes), and Mr. Stevenson, as mayor, is not the man to give us the latter.

Besides, Mr. Stevenson has too many irons in the fire to make a good mayor. If he attends properly to his parliamentary duties he can't look after the town's affairs and vice versa. I am not, Mr. Editor, a ward politician but I believe that the people should look at this mayoralty matter in the right light and not because a man is wealthy and a member of parliament, overlook the fact that he holds sentiments and opinions on vital questions contrary to the dearest interests of our homes and to the moral tone of a Christian community, which, if he has opportunity of carrying into effect, will have a far more injurious effect than the few cents of extra taxes, which the placing of an additional hydrant, might entail.

Yours, ect.,
VOX POPULI.

Peterborough, Dec. 20th.

An Explanation Wanted.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—In the late assault case of Rubidge vs. Fuller, Mr. Rubidge under oath said that he had been kindly relieved by the government of the charge of the construction of the work on this canal, so that he might devote his attention wholly to the survey, and that he was now chief engineer of the Trent Valley survey.

On looking over the report made by Mr. Rubidge to the Minister of Railways and Canals, dated the 10th of November, 1886, over a year ago, I find he says, "It is submitted, that sufficient information has now been obtained to enable me to makes final report to the Chief Engineer. An estimate of the entire line, as surveyed, has already been prepared, which, with the plans, &c., now in hand, will be forwarded with the report as soon as completed."

Which are we to believe—his statement under oath, or his report to the Minister?

In a letter from "Justice", in Saturday's EXAMINER, it appears that Mr. Rubidge's report is in circulation in printed form; if so, what Trent Valley survey is he now chief engineer of?

Yours, etc.,
TRUTH.

Only a Technical Error.

The local contemporary of the EXAMINER is moved to deny the statement that Mr. John Carnegie denounced Sir Charles Tupper at the Trent Valley Canal meeting, and says the EXAMINER is mistaken. Technically the correction is just. Of course Mr. Pope is the present nominal Minister of Railways and Canals, but he is such a mere figure-head and nonentity in his position that there is no error in considering Sir Charles Tupper, the actual Minister. Sir Charles Tupper in 1882 stood godfather to the canal and solemnly pledged his government to its speedy construction, so that Mr. Carnegie's denunciation of the Minister of Railways and canals was virtually a condemnation of Sir Charles Tupper. He is the most influential and brainy member of the Cabinet, and he could have prevented, if he had chosen, the adoption of a retrogressive policy in reference to canal construction. The EXAMINER knows that Mr. John Henry Pope is nominal Minister of Railways and Canals, but it and the public know well that he is a mere figurehead, and that when Mr. Carnegie was laying the lash over Mr. Pope's weak shoulders he was really castigating Sir Charles Tupper. It is certainly a new experience for Mr. Carnegie to denounce a member of the Government, and it is no wonder that he shrinks from the true application of his remarks which the public make. It's all very well to show indignation against the government (over the shoulders of some nominal member of the Cabinet) but the indignation is of little use unless it marks the ballot right at election time. The government doesn't care a rap for hostile talk, but it is terribly afraid of hostile votes, and such no Conservative (politician), canal or no canal, is prepared to give. The sole object of indignation is not the government, but the Conservative electors of this district. No matter how the Government neglects this district, the Conservatives are ever ready with a solid support at election times. The canal would have been before this well near completion if the Conservative electors had voted as they talked, and showed the government that they meant business—not wind.

Inadvertently Omitted.

In the EXAMINER'S notice of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co.'s new premises mention was omitted of the facts that Mr. D. Bellegham, supplied the solid walnut top counters and Mr. E. Courtney the cash desk. It did not occur to the reporter's guide on the occasion to mention these facts.

Women's Work.

Belleville has a large and well organized and aggressive Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which, the Intelligencer says, is about to test its strength by grappling with the liquor license problem in that city. It is understood that the ladies will strain every nerve to get aldermanic candidates in the field pledged to use the municipal right under the statute, to grant only the minimum number of liquor licenses in the city. The union has had this end in view for some months and a short sharp fight may be looked for.

CHINA HALL

The Christmas Tree.

If it hadn't been for the large crowd of people who deposited dimes at the door as they entered, the delicious and abundant refreshments disbursed by pretty waitresses, the elegant presents suspended from the branches of the two Christmas trees, the sale of which brought in considerable coin to the coffers, and last, but not least, the excellent musical and literary programme presented, the entertainment in the George street church Monday evening would have been a dismal failure. But as all these requisites to a perfect success were there, of course the affair could not but be a success. The school-room was tastily decorated with bunting and evergreens. After the refreshments, which included oysters, coffee and cake, a la European plan, provided by the ladies, had been served, the sale of the Christmas tree articles was conducted by Auctioneers Keadry and Shortly. The following brief but well-rendered programme brought the proceedings to a close:—

DENNEN AND M'CRAE ALSO

THE SCOTT ACT DETECTIVES COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT WHITBY.

The Port Perry Party Admitted to Bail in $1600 Each—License Inspector Dexter of Toronto to Become a Bondsman for the Other Two Men.

WHITBY, Dec. 20.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Dennen and McCrea, which has been the sole topic of interest in these parts for a week past, was concluded at 5.45 this evening by the committal of the prisoners for trial. Before Magistrate Harper closed his court he accepted bail for the Port Perry party, committed for trial last evening, in $800 each and one surety of $800 each. Fred Corbin was bailed out by his partner in business at the Oriental Hotel, George Walker; Adolphus Wheeler, butcher, Port Perry, justified for Thomas Trebell, and T. H. Doncaster, proprietor of the Hotel St. Charles at the Port, for Wm. Lattimore. The Port Perry party, after the bonds were assented to, hastily left the Court House and took the evening train for home. They seemed greatly elated at being outside Jailer Decker's clutches.

County Crown Attorney Farewell called five witnesses for the prosecution, the examination of which lasted from 10 a.m. until 5.30 p.m. They were the three Port Perry prisoners, Thos. Brooks, a clerk in Ledenham's store at Myrtle, and James Dixon, a young farmer living near Myrtle, who was at the station last Wednesday night when the firing took place. The Crown Attorney said he had two more witnesses, J. S. Vernon and David L. Elleby of Myrtle, ready to put in the box, but Mr. Bigelow and Magistrate Harper were satisfied to stop the case here, and agreed that enough evidence had been adduced to commit. Mr. Bigelow however made an appeal for McCrea's discharge, on the ground that the evidence against him was very meagre. Mr. Farewell said he could not do this. He declined to think of such a thing in view of Bartender Brown's condition. "But," continued Mr. Farewell, "I have a strong personal feeling in the matter which I am not privileged to express in court." From which the reporters gathered that Mr. Farewell sympathized to some extent with the detectives.

Briefly summed up, to-day's evidence was far more pointed against Dennen as the man who shot Brown than against McCrea. There is still considerable confusion about the actual occurrence on the station platform, and it is not likely that a true statement of the shooting will ever be forthcoming. The opinion is quite current in this part of the county that the Port Perry party was organized to go over to Myrtle, not to shoot the detectives, but merely "to do them up," as it was put to The World this evening, and that Dennen and McCrea, getting into close quarters, were forced to use firearms. The "doing up" was to consist of administering a sound thrashing to the two detectives.

The principal county officials and the lovers of law and order generally sympathize with the detectives, while the "wet" party are very sore on them. The evidence adduced in court to-day pointed towards Dennen as the man who shot Brown, and it was on these grounds that Mr. Bigelow asked for McCrea's acquittal.

Thomas Trebell, who is in no way connected with the liquor business and who seems to have been a victim of circumstances, was examined at great length by Attorney Farewell and cross-examined by Mr. Bigelow. Trebell testified that both Dennen and McCrea fired at Brown. He (Trebell) had taken part in the scuffle before the shooting, but as soon as the bullets began to fly he jumped from the platform and ran off, leaving his friend Brown alone. Trebell said some one fired a shot at him as he jumped on to the railway tracks, but he did not know who it was. He only joined the Port Perry party, he said, at the last moment, and did not even know where they were going when he got into the rig to start for Myrtle.

Thos. Brooks, clerk in Ledenham's store at Myrtle, said he was in the station just after the shooting. He heard Dennen say to several people in the room: "That is the revolver I shot Brown with." At the same time he pointed to one of two revolvers which Mr. Mulligan was holding. None of the other witnesses examined so far could corroborate this statement.

William Lattimore (now better known as "Mr. Cocaskin") was the next witness. Lattimore is the "Jesse James" of the Port Perry district, and is said to be very dexterous with the revolver. He was in rear of the station when the firing began, and by the time he got around the front it was all over. He did not know who shot George Brown. Lattimore, it is said, was brought along as the principal in the "doing up" part of the program, he being one of the bullies at the Port.

Fred Corbin testified that he saw Dennen reach in his hip pocket for his revolver. He (witness) saw the hilt of a pistol. He heard Brown say, "Don't shoot." Brown and Dennen engaged in a struggle in the corner of the bay window. Witness saw McCrea fire a shot towards Brown. When the firing began he (Corbin) ran away. He heard two more shots after the first one, but he did not see them. In evidence he stated that Lattimore paid him and his partner $20 per week rental for the bar in the Oriental Hotel.

James Dixon, a young farmer living near Myrtle, was on the railway platform on the night of the shooting. He stated positively that Dennen fired three shots. Two of them at least took effect on Brown. McCrea fired a shot at Trebell as the latter jumped from the platform and ran off. Witness did not see Trebell use a stick or club on Dennen.

No further evidence was called, Mr. Bigelow saying that he would be satisfied with copies of the testimony of the two remaining witnesses whom Attorney Farewell proposed to call.

Magistrate Harper at once said he would admit the prisoners to bail in $800 each and one surety of $800 each, the same amount as the Port Perry party put up.

"Will you be satisfied with License Inspector Thomas Dexter of Toronto as bondsman?" asked Mr. Bigelow.

"Oh, yes," quickly answered Mr. Farewell.

"I will have him here to-morrow morning," said Mr. Bigelow.

Then this little conversation took place:

Mr. Farewell: "I want these two gentlemen to linger around here for a while yet. I have some important Scott Act cases to try and I want their evidence. I will have them all tried in Whitby, where they will get every protection."

Detective Dennen: "That's what we were given to understand at Brooklin. How were we protected? By attempted assassination. Had we received the promised protection there would have been no shooting and we would not have had to lay in jail for a week. Even our revolvers did not protect us. I think we were perfectly justified in carrying firearms."

Magistrate Harper: "If I were you men, while in the execution of your duty I would carry double-barrelled shot guns."

Mr. Bigelow: "Double-barrelled pistols at least."

A big constable in the room arose and said: "I will see that you get all the protection you want."

Brown Easier Last Night.

MYRTLE, Dec. 20.—Brown is easier to-night than he has been since he was wounded.

THE LOSS OF THE ORIENTAL.

The Investigation Opened at St. Kitts—Summary of the Evidence.

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 20.—On Monday afternoon S. R. Risley, Esq., Government Inspector, opened an equiry into the loss of the coal-laden barge Oriental with all hands, a few miles east of Port Dalhousie on Oct. 24. Mr. J. S. Carey was the first witness called. He said he was Secretary of the Welland Canal Branch Seamen's Union. He was on board the Oriental in August last and had a conversation with Captain Stewart. He observed as the vessel was passing through the canal that the crew were awkward in handling their mud-lines, also that the vessel was rotten and unseaworthy in many parts. He stuck his knife in between several planks and they were very bad. The covering board was also a patched affair. He told the captain that the vessel was unseaworthy. The captain said he knew it, but what could he do, as he was lame. The captain further said they would have to trust to luck. The barge was also deficient in sails and appeared worse when he last saw her in Toronto.

L. Reno, a ship carpenter of St. Catharines, gave evidence as to the unseaworthiness of the Oriental.

The investigation will be continued to-morrow.

More Trouble for Bankier Taylor.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Five additional warrants were executed against Henry Taylor by the Chief of Police to-day. The informations were laid on Saturday and set forth that on Dec. 1, 1881, he stole $4000 of the Ontario Investment Association's money; on Feb. 25, 1882, $10,000; on March 14, 1882, $5000; on Oct. 2, $6000, and on April 5, 1885, $8400. It is stated that these warrants have been executed in consequence of an order from the Government that no compromise will be allowed in this case.

Hangs on Like Grim Death.

OTTAWA, Dec. 20.—Enquiry among the officials of the House of Commons shows that Mr. Baird, the Queen's County usurper, has not resigned his seat, although it was reported that he had done so. The story that Mr. Desaulniers, M.P. for St. Maurice, has resigned, is also unfounded.

SUDDEN DEPARTURE OF THE DUKE OF NORFOLK FROM ROME.

A Deputation Waits on Mr. Balfour—League Meeting in Dublin—The Establishment of a Ring—Churchill's Visit to Russia.

LONDON, Dec. 20.—Chief Secretary Balfour was waited on by a deputation at Dublin yesterday. He was asked to urge the Government to take measures to develop industries and national resources in Ireland. The deputation also suggested the advisability of establishing a department of industry similar to that of Wurtemburg. In reply Mr. Balfour said that the Government was spending a sum nearly equal to the expenditure of the Wurtemburg department for industrial and agricultural training schools. It was a great misfortune that Ireland's sole industry was agriculture. If the energies of the people were divided into other industries, many existing difficulties would be overcome. The Government, he promised, would consider the proposals of the deputation.

Dan Doherty, who killed George Graham of Rochester, N.Y., was sentenced to-day to penal servitude for life.

At a league meeting in Dublin to-day, Mr. Clancy, M.P., alluded to the reports that it was the intention of the Government to try to soothe the Irish by granting them a Catholic University, instead of Home Rule, and said that the Irish spurned such bribes, and that no mess of pottage could ever induce them to abandon their birth-right as a nation.

The Paris Gaulois says the reason of the sudden departure of the Duke of Norfolk from Rome whither he had gone to convey the Queen's congratulations to the Pope on the occasion of his jubilee, was the absolute refusal of the latter to further interfere in the relations between the clergy of Ireland and people. The secretary of the Pope informed the Duke that His Holiness had already used his influence with the clergy, but he could not ask the the priests to cease to be patriots without running the risk of raising a rebellion among a section of the clergy, and the loss of the hold of the church upon the people.

Prince Krapotkin delivered a lecture in Paris to-night on "The Moral Influence of Prisons." He argued in favor of suppressing prisons and of leaving crimes to be committed at will, his opinion being that the only safeguard of society was the curing of diseases of the brain, heart and stomach, from which, it is said, all criminals suffered.

Lord Salisbury's remarks on emigration yesterday at Derby have much gratified the advocates of State-aided emigration. They are regarded as the most important expression of opinion the Premier has ever made on the subject. Even Radical circles approve Lord Salisbury's view that emigration should involve all classes of the community. It is doubtful whether people are justified in inferring from the speech that the Government is at all prepared to give financial support to any large scheme of state aid. The Salvation Army Case in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Dec. 19.—In the test case here against the Salvation Army the Police Judge decided that there was sufficient evidence to put the accused Salvationists upon their trial for the offence of creating a public nuisance by their parades. They were accordingly arraigned and pleaded not guilty. They were then asked whether they would take a summary trial before the Police Court or leave their case to a jury at the Queen's Bench in April. Their counsel requested delay to consider, and the case was accordingly adjourned to Dec. 28.

Cornish Again in Limbo.

BUFFALO, Dec. 20.—George Gant, alias Louis Cornish, the negro thief who was arrested Saturday and released because there was no charge preferred against him, is once more in limbo. There is now a definite complaint against him, the complainant being Hon. Oliver Mowat, Attorney-General of Ontario, who has telegraphed asking that the prisoner be held until a formal charge can be preferred against him. The charge will be for the offence of assault with intent to kill, and the extradition of Cornish will be demanded.

WM. HAMMOND RUN DOWN

AN ALL-ROUND CONFIDENCE WORKER IN JAIL AT LAST.

His Career as a Preacher, Doctor, Lawyer, Dead Beat and Bigamist—How he Swindled Secret Societies—The Scoundrel's Record in Canada.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—"Rev." William Hammond, one of the cleverest and most notorious confidence workers in the country, has been arrested in Marietta, Pa. Hammond is known all over the United States and Canada. He is alternately a preacher, doctor, lawyer, dead beat, bigamist and all-round confidence man and has been guilty of much more serious crimes, as will appear. He has belonged to the Masons, Oddfellows, Knights of Pythias and Sons of Temperance. He has been expelled from all of them. He has been a preacher in the Methodist, Presbyterian and Unitarian Churches, a Catholic and a drunkard.

He got $1000 out of Mr. Jackson of Savannah, Ga., by playing Mason and Oddfellow. It was for a piece of land that Jackson soon discovered had no existence. He lived in California a few years ago, where he was a preacher. There he married a member of his church, placed $1000 insurance on her life and soon after found her dead in bed one morning. She had retired well and hearty. Hammond collected the insurance money and skipped out. He married a woman in Indian Valley, Ind., and had her life insured. She died easily and the bereaved husband raked in the insurance money. His home also accommodatingly burned down at the same time. The insurance on this was collected and the swindler left suddenly.

Hammond next went to New Hampshire and married Mrs. Dr. Brockway. He enticed her out of a large sum of money. The poison he gave her did not take effect, and she lived to get her money back. It had been given to him in the form of checks, the payment of which was stopped in time.

The fellow next went to Montreal and Ottawa, and obtained employment with the aid of forged letters. His record became known and he again disappeared, only to be heard from again to-day as being under arrest. He is wanted in Florida by the Government for violating the revenue laws.

A BRIDEGROOM WITHOUT A BRIDE.

David Grady Takes Legal Proceedings to Get Possession of His Young Wife.

BERLIN, Ont., Dec. 20.—David Grady, a young man of German parentage, was indicted at the General Sessions last week for unlawfully taking Magdalena, otherwise called Martha Kensel, an unmarried girl under the age of 16 years, out of the possession and against the will of her father, Daniel Kensel of Wellesley village, and marrying her at Stratford in October last. This was a runaway marriage, the lovers having, unknown to the girl's parents, gone to Stratford and been married by a Presbyterian minister. They were pursued by a local constable to Nithburg in North Easthope, where, at his father's house, the bridegroom was arrested on the above charge, and the bride taken home by her angry parent. Soon after his preliminary trial Grady instructed his solicitor, Mr. King, Berlin, to commence proceedings to compel his wife's father to deliver up his (G.'s) wife—a writ of habeas corpus having been issued for that purpose. The Grand Jury found "No Bill," and the bridegroom went home as happy as a bridegroom can be who has a bride, and, at the same time, hasn't her.

Incendiary Fires at Irish Creek.

BROCKVILLE, Dec. 20.—The village of Irish Creek and farmers in the near vicinity have, during the past two or three months, suffered from ten fires. The last two destroyed Hunt's carriage factory with a lot of finished cutters on Dec. 15, and the barns and outbuildings of a farmer named Lesson on Dec. 17. The suspicious actions of Joseph Briand, William Lee, jr., and Hugh McDonald in connection with these fires led to their arrest. One of them has turned Queen's evidence and says that he was forced to set fire to Lesson's buildings under penalty of being shot if he refused. There are signs that the vicinity has suffered from the acts of a regularly organized gang of firebugs.

Used Government Stamps Twice.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—A seizure has just been made on the premises of Mr. W. E. Pagets, tobacco manufacturer, St. Paul-street. The seizure was effected by the Inland Revenue Department. The ground alleged, according to one of the officials, is that the firm has been using the Government stamps a second time. The report of appraisers will be forwarded to Ottawa. Mr. Paget stated this evening that there had been some irregularities, but entirely unknown to him. His man had denied all knowledge of using the same stamps twice.

Death in a Sleeping Car.

MONTREAL, Dec. 20.—Miss Lyman, sister of Theodore Lyman, of the Ætna Insurance Company, who had been a patient at the Hydropathic Institute at Elmira, N.Y., died suddenly on board a Wagner car on her way to this city. The cause of death is a mystery, as she had been greatly benefited by her stay at Elmira. An inquest will be held.

Suffering in a Convent.

ELIZABETHPORT, N.J., Dec. 20.—It is stated that the nuns in the Dominican Convent here have been on the verge of starvation for some time and that they have suffered from the cold on account of the lack of fuel. For several days they have had no food but a crust of bread and a cup of coffee. The only income they have is what they receive from a few pupils. Years ago they had a large number of pupils, but the attendance has been decreasing during the past few years owing to the withdrawl of many Catholic children who are now sent to the parochial school.

The Town Elections for 1888.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD No. 3:

A very few days more will decide who shall be your representatives for the coming year. So far there are the names of four candidates before you, Mr. Edward Sutton being the only new man. He is a worthy mechanic and I presume he is known to the most of you. He has been nominated by the temperance people so that, if elected, he may take his stand in the Council by the side of Mr. Yelland, the other temperance candidate for this ward. You will thus have the friends and opponents of the Scott Act equally divided, but it will be for you to say which of them shall represent you in the Council for another year. A year is a long time and many things may happen and much good or harm may be done in that time. You must bear in mind that when you make your choice of councillors you will be bound by it until the year 1889. Some of you, no doubt, will never live to see the year 1889, but others will live to see it, and to them the acts of the Council for the coming year will be of very great importance in more ways than one. If you want to have the quiet and good order of the town increased you must not only say so, but you must do all you can to secure them. And remember that you can't secure them by voting for candidates who are opposed to your views on temperance, and who will not help you in this matter. And besides being good temperance men Mr. Yelland and Mr. Sutton are possessed of

GOOD, SOUND, PRACTICAL JUDGMENTS,

and are plain, sound, practical men, quite able in every sense to administer the business of the town properly and satisfactorily. Now, if there is any truth in the professions of the temperance voters of your ward, and if the women are what they say they are, and if they want to keep their sons and husbands and their relatives and neighbours peaceful and steady and orderly, they, the women and the men, will work hard to secure the success of Messrs. Yelland and Sutton at the coming elections. And every woman who has a vote will go to the polls on election day and vote for the men who, when in the Council, will do all they can to help them, and to make themselves and their families and homes good and peaceful and happy. And to secure these blessings the women must do their part and they must go out and vote. If they will not and if they do not, then let them take what comes, and let them not complain, for the fault will be all their own. I am sure there are enough women voters in Ward No. 3 to turn the election and to secure temperance men in the Council. And I say to them again, vote! Now, the choice of a third councillor lies at present between Messrs. Douglass and Moore. Mr. Douglass is a moderate anti-Scott Act man, and Mr. Moore is its strong and wily and open opponent. There is this difference between Mr. Douglass and Mr. Moore, that the former is not as able and sharp and persuasive a man as the latter, and if they were to the Scott Act the latter man would be by far the most dangerous and the most successful in his opposition to it. He is a lawyer and he is trained to make the worst look the better side, and with no other lawyer in the council in opposition to him and to expose his fallacies, he would have pretty much his own way and the Scott Act people would stand a poor chance with him. And the result would be, if Mr. Moore were elected, to place a barrier in the way of all temperance legislation in the council and to leave things just where they are now. Do the majority of the voters of the third ward want this? And is it possible that the temperance voters, and especially the women voters, want another long year to pass over as the last one has been, and another year of sorrow, and confusion and trouble? If they do not then let them vote for Mr. Douglass. He is a sound but rough, plain, outspoken man, and he is truthful and honest. And he is open to conviction, which Mr. Moore is not, and besides he is not an irreconcilable opponent of temperance, and he says he would like to see a law passed to abolish liquor from the whole Dominion. Such a man as that is open to conviction and is far preferable to one who thinks no one can teach him anything and who feels no sympathy with the people. It is an old and a true saying that between two evils we should always choose the least. And so, between Messrs. Douglass and Moore you should elect the man

BOTH EQUAL IN THEIR OPPOSITION

WHO WOULD DO THE LEAST HARM.

And between this and election day you must be on guard against the soft words and persuasions of Mr. Moore, for if you are not, ten to one you will be caught by him, and then away goes all your promises and expectations for another year. And it will be no excuse for you to say that you gave your promise hastily or thoughtlessly, for you had no business to do it, you ought to have known better. Mr. Douglass is a man of the people and the people can approach him and talk and reason with him. But Mr. Moore is the opposite of all these, and what suits him must also suit the common people. Mr. Moore is a public man and I am speaking of him as a public man, as I have a right to do. And about matters in which you are interested. Mr. Moore has no reason to feel displeased at what any one says of him as a public man. On the contrary, he ought to be satisfied, and he ought to court the strictest investigation into his acts as a public man. You, the electors, have the matter in your own hands and you must decide upon the fitness of those who come before you. Mr. Moore would have it understood that it is greatly owing to his interference and ability that the town taxes are not higher. Whereas the truth is that the wants of the town are not as great as they were last year and because there was a large surplus over from the year before. And no one in particular is entitled to any credit therefor. And he would have the electors think that to him is due the principal credit for securing the Scott Act fines for the use of the town, whereas I assert without fear of successful contradiction, that it was entirely owing to the exertions of Mr. Stevenson that the Government gave these fines to the town. Mr. Moore would also have you believe that he is a friend of the Scott Act, because, as he properly says, it is the law, and it is his duty to obey the law. But his obeying the law, when he cannot help himself, is not a very satisfactory way of proving that he is a friend of that law. He has to obey the law, but will he pledge himself to support and enforce it? I am quite sure he will not. Obeying the law and upholding and supporting it are two very different things. And the electors of Ward No. 3 will take a note of this accordingly.

Sanitary Survey of the Town.

The Medical Health Officer's Annual Report—The Town's Health Record Last Season.

At the meeting of the Board of Health Friday evening, Dr. Clarke, medical health officer, submitted his annual report as follows :—

To the Chairman and members of the Peterborough Board of Health.

GENTLEMEN,

In presenting the fourth annual report of the Medical Health Officer, I am proud to say that the town, during the past year, shows a lessening death-rate, a freedom from outside epidemics, and a lower ratio of infectious diseases than the majority of towns in the Province. The amount of sanitary work done has been large, and it is only fair to assume that this has contributed to a great extent in producing so gratifying a state of affairs. The principal points demanding our attention are the following :—

SLAUGHTER HOUSES. — Two slaughter houses have been removed outside the town limits during the present season. Frequent inspections of those still remaining have been made, and have shown that a great deal of pains is taken to keep things up to the standard. If an occasional bad odor is found, it is generally from unavoidable rather than from avoidable causes. The infrequency of complaints as to slaughter-houses is in marked contrast to the state of things two or three years ago.

HOG PENS.—This year, as in other years, it has been necessary to order the removal of a good many. It often seems a hard step to those who have much kitchen refuse, but the development of scavenging has helped greatly in disposing of the latter. We may hope that before long, within the town limits during the summer, the genus hog will be practically extinct.

REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND EXCRETA.—In no other division of the sanitary work of the year is so much improvement seen as in this. When the first Board of Health was inaugurated it was with difficulty that one man could be got to attend to this work. Now twelve or fifteen are engaged in it, and as a natural result, it is pretty well done. A lot was obtained at the lower end of the town for the deposit of all kinds of refuse and has been made good use of. Indeed much harmless matter has been put there, that might as well have been used in filling up Spaulding's Bay. Clippings of glass, tin, and zinc, and ashes and such material would answer admirably for that purpose; but the difficulty is that occasionally a dead cat or rat is found in the heap, and, when exposed to putrefactive influences, tells some sensitive nostril that the town is in an alarmingly unhealthy condition. Hence it has been found advisable to prohibit almost all kinds of refuse from being deposited there.

WELLS.—I have analysed more than seventy samples of water during the present year. As a rule there was less organic matter than heretofore, but some wells were very bad and had to be closed. I should recommend filters to be used in every house. Good and cheap ones can now be easily obtained, and are a great protection from the impurities which find their way into the best water.

COMPLAINTS.—Hundreds have been sent to me throughout the year, the great majority having reference to the throwing of slops by families at their neighbor's doors. A good system of sewerage would, of course, remedy this and the necessity for such a system becomes apparent yearly. A bad state of things is found at the rear of the stores in spring from this cause. Snow accumulates, and, mixed with the slops periodically thrown out, is converted into a mass of ice several feet in thickness, which shaded from the sun, does not melt away till June July and makes spring cleaning impossible till then. Complaints as to offensive premises are much less frequent this year, owing, no doubt, to more efficient scavenging. All complaints have been remedied as promptly as possible. Acting-Chief Adams being the only Inspector on duty during the day had his hands full, still we managed to get through the work of the year pretty well.

TYPHOID FEVER. — When two or three well known persons are attacked with this disease, the many rumors connected therewith lead the public to suppose that hundreds of cases exist around them. The truth is that in Peterborough this year we have had very little more than our ordinary share of typhoid and much less proportional than many towns in Ontario. An intensely hot July is probably accountable for the slight increase. Three deaths have occurred from typhoid and three from typhoid-malarial throughout the year.

DIPHTHERIA.—From 1st December 1886 to 1st December 1887 eight deaths have occurred from this disease, five of which were in last December. There have been no cases reported during the latter summer and fall, but within the last week or so a few have occurred. The greatest care is taken by means of placarding, isolation and disinfection to prevent any communication. The proportion of cases is a good deal less than in the majority of towns during the year.

SCARLET FEVER.—Very few cases have occurred and only one death.

DEATH RATE.—In 1886 there were 149 deaths to a population of 8,423. In 1887, 144 deaths to a population of 8,663. In other words, last year the death rate was 17.6 per thousand, while this year it is only 16.6 per thousand, the lowest on record in Peterborough. The registrar-general of England fixed upon 17 per thousand as a kind of standard to be aimed at by sanitarians. In coming below even that, we have much reason for gratification.

MILK SUPPLY.—I have lately received circulars from the Provincial Board referring to this question. It is proposed to take comprehensive measures next year to ensure the purity of so important an article of diet. Your officers notified several of the milk-vendors that their places might soon come under inspection. I may say that no complaints have been made as to impurity of milk sold in the town.

Appended is a synopsis of sanitary work done during the last year.

J. CLARKE, M.D.,
Medical Health Officer.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough :

GENTLEMEN,—Contrary to my own wishes and interests, and at the solicitation of a number of ratepayers, I again offer myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor for the year 1888, and respectfully solicit your support.

I have been associated with the interests and progress of the Town for the past thirty years and during that period I have endeavoured to the best of my ability to promote its welfare. If I have in these endeavours met with any degree of success worthy of recognition by the ratepayers of the town, or if I have, in my capacity as Mayor for half a dozen terms, looked after the interests of the Town to the satisfaction of the Public, I can with confidence claim a renewal of your support at the coming Election.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
J. STEVENSON.

FACTS, Sir; Nothing But Facts!

GOUGH

Is hard up and must raise the wind—he has too many Overcoats on hand, and he must, like the Waggon-Maker who has too many Sleighs on hand in an open Winter, sell them at any price.

Lots of other fellows have got the Stomach Ache—because GOUGH sells so cheap. Witness how the Dry Goods tumbled when the Wonderful Cheap Man took a hand in—One Chap over in the wholesale Fish District, has his ads written in Penntown, where the sewers run on top of the Street. He feels so bad he don't know how to describe it, so says: "He's crippled in Price;" we don't doubt it. Then there is another one he is tied up to Crowbar Bros. of Gotham—these fellows are as stiff on their prices as a Crowbar, and squeeze 50 per cent, profit out of their poor victims, but the victims are under the thumb of Crowbar Bros. an can't help themselves—Then there is the fellow who cannot advertise, It makes him nervous, he uses a whole quart of Camphor a day, and tells customers, "GOUGH is selling so Cheap, it is perfectly demoralizing to trade; I don't know how all this is coming out"—It merely comes out that the customer steers straight for the Wonderful Cheap Man--Then there is another fellow, if he sees one of GOUGH'S men on the street he yells "give aways;" he knows GOUGH gives away more than the high-priced fellows sell.

In the interest of the public I want $10,000 and I must have it. I am after a big Bankrupt Stock the biggest yet, and it requires the cash to get it. Therefore I will from now unti January 1st, give ON OVERCOATS AND SUITS A DISCOUNT OF 20 PER CENT. on my former low prices. This brings my $1 95 Overcoats that other people advertise worth $3.62 down to $1.56; my $2.95 one to $2.36, advertised by others to be worth $6.00; my $3.75 one to $3.00, advertised by others to be worth $7.50, etc., etc., and yet this advertiser says he will save you money on an Overcoat to buy a suit. Talk about poking fun at the public but this big drive in Overcoats bought at 33⅓ Cents on the Dollar is the biggest lie on earth. GOUGH placed an order yesterday for 33 hundred Suits, and 22 hundred pairs of pants extra. This is more clothing in one order than those delusive advertisers will sell for the next ten years. If you want to see the Goods to back an advertisement up go to—

GOUGH, the Modern Clothier and Wonderful Cheap Man.

Suspicious Death of a Young Girl—The Licenses By-Law Case—County Court Judgments.

TORONTO, Dec. 21.

The death of Lizzie Bray, a girl of 18, under circumstances rather peculiar, will form the subject of an inquest by Coroner Powell at 7 o'clock this evening. Lizzie Bray was employed at the Crompton Corset Company's works and boarded with her aunt, Mrs. M. A. Parsons, at 69 Walton-street. As charged in an anonymous letter received by the Detective Department yesterday, and as believed by the girl's friends, there are indications that John Gamble, a varnisher employed at Williams' piano factory, Hayter-street, knows something of the causes leading to her death.

Gamble boarded at Mrs. Parsons's until six weeks ago and became intimate with the girl. It was understood he was a married man, separated from his wife. When he quit Mrs. Parsons' house he went to board at 11 Gerrard-street west, just above Walton-street. It is believed that he frequently met Lizzie clandestinely, and it is alleged that she was away with him for two nights in succession.

A week ago the girl quit work and gave signs of pregnancy, although she denied that Gamble was her seducer. She became very ill on Thursday and was seen that day, Friday and Saturday by Dr. Ferguson, who found evidence of something being wrong. The girl died on Monday. It is now alleged that the cause of death was the taking of abortive drugs supplied by Gamble.

Enquiry at 11 Gerrard-street west last night elicited the fact that Gamble had left there on Monday stating that he was not well, and that he was going to the house of a relative until he became better. It is generally believed, however, that he is out of the city. The funeral has been advertised to take place at 3 o'clock to day, but it is not likely that it can take place till after the inquest has begun.

Dennis v. Temple was tried before Judge McDougall in the County Court yesterday. The action was to collect a promissory note for $270 and $94 interest made by defendant, a North Dorchester farmer. The note is in ordinary form, but at the time it was made by defendant a peculiar bond was signed by him agreeing to sell 36 bushels of Red Lyon wheat and acknowledging the receipt of 18 bushels of similar wheat from the Ontario Grain and Seed Company, and further agreeing to allow the said company 25½ per cent. on all notes taken for all wheat sold at $15 per bushel. The payment of the note was disputed by defendant on account of the Ontario Grain and Seed Company failing to carry out its word with him, though it had supplied the wheat. Temple set up that plaintiff was not the holder of the note, but took the same with notice of fraud and conspiracy. Judgment was given against defendant for the full amount.

The cases of Oakville v. Wales and Oakville v. Johnson were partly tried and laid over till next court.

Alfred Allen v. John Jose, an action on a builder's contract, was brought to recover $139 for work and material. Defendant claims he is not liable on account of a breach of agreement by plaintiff and a counter account of $309 for re-imbursement on account of defective work done by Allen. The case will be continued to-day.

The hearing of the argument in the application of Robert Davies to have the city of Toronto and the special License Bylaw Committee, consisting of Ald. Boustead, Gillespie and Fleming, restrained from submitting the bylaws at the forthcoming municipal election, did not come off yesterday. The case was mentioned before Mr. Justice MacMahon yesterday and was allowed to stand till Friday in order that the defendants may put in affidavits. The affidavits are to be filed and served by 10 o'clock to-morrow, and if the plaintiff desires it the defendants are to be examined before Mr. Bruce that afternoon.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and Mr. W. M. Douglas appeared on behalf of Mr. Robert Davies; Mr. W. A. Foster, Q.C., and City Solicitor McWilliams for the city, and Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., for the other defendants.

The Dominion Grange began its annual meeting in Temperance Hall yesterday afternoon, 60 members being in attendance. The business transacted was of a routine character, including the appointment of committees. The Grange will resume at 10 o'clock this morning.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Chas. E. H. Arnold assistant cashier of S. A. Kean & Co.'s banking house, who was held for embezzlement yesterday, has made a written confession. In it he says he will waive examination and plead guilty to any indictment charging him with stealing $2500, which amount he says will cover everything. He is 55 years old. He had no bad habits, and was trusted implicitly by the firm, but his household expenses have been very heavy on account of the long sickness of his wife. For twelve or fourteen years she has been a confirmed invalid.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

POKING FUN.

The public are at the moment, somewhat amused. They say the tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the whole general community are taken for idiots;—that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the public, dumb like, will take it all in, and believe every word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ Cents! = 33⅓ Cents! = 33⅓ Cents!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash, and comprises largely, just such goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, : SHAKING, : CRASHING, : SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this, if merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost, to compete with SHEPPARD'S Prices, which he is realising a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARDS MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this is how he will do it:—

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an All Wool Coat, well made and Sheppard's price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, Sheppard's price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the Man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a Pure Wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suites really nice and lot of them $1.95 and an Overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, Shoddy Goods, Sheppard is not in that business.

LOT THREE.— Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, Sheppard's price 99 cents, Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, Sheppard's price 50 cents, Satchels cheap—in fact all Christmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Now don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

The Great Cheapside SHEPPARD Over the Town Clock.

THE MAYORALTY FOR 1888.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a large number of ratepayers who have promised me their support, I am before you as a candidate for the Mayoralty for 1888. I beg to ask you to give me your support, therefor, on the following platform:

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

If length of public service is deserving of recognition, I may modestly claim your consideration. During the eighteen or twenty years which I have sat at your Council board, I have endeavored to faithfully advance the best interests of the Town; I have spared neither time nor work to consistently carry out my pledge to my supporters, and have worked to the best of my ability for the general good—if I have erred, I have done so unknowingly.

I offer myself as, in particular, the Workingman's Candidate. I hope to receive a solid Workingman's support. I consider I am fairly entitled to it. I am a workingman myself, and, if elected, will endeavor to repay their confidence by advancing their interests in every honest way.

I may say that, in taking the field, I am not actuated by any feeling of rivalry with the present occupant of the Mayor's chair, but I feel that, with the many demands on his time and services, the position is not sought for. Should I prove correct in my inference, you cannot fairly overlook the claim that years of service have on your consideration.

I recognize thoroughly what the necessities of the town demand. Thorough economy is all departments of municipal expenditure must be the rule, a liberal policy to encourage the establishment and growth of new and existing industries. In this regard I am opposed to any money bonus being granted but in favor of exemption from taxes and, possibly, free sites, under proper restrictions.

I shall—if elected—give particular attention to matters as outlined above.

Possibly one of the most prominent questions that will come before the ratepayers next year will be in connection with the enforcement of the Scott Act. I will maintain in this regard the position relative to temperance which I have held for the last twenty-five years. So long as the Scott Act remains in force, I will, to the extent of my ability and office, see that the law is strictly enforced, and that, too, through the proper officers of the town.

Such, gentlemen, are the grounds on which I ask your support. I may not have the opportunity of personally soliciting your favor, but venture to hope that the above statement of my views will meet with your approval.

Trusting that I may have your hearty support on the basis of

ECONOMY,
TEMPERANCE,
MUNICIPAL PROGRESS.

I am, gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

A. RUTHERFORD.
